Local Plans for Michigan Week Progressing

Plans for the annual observance of Michigan week in Charlevoix are rapidly taking shape according to John Makel, local chairman, who met Monday night at the city hall with committee chairmen and others interested in promoting the special week.

Mr. Makel said that he felt Michigan week was a time to focus attention on the city of Charlevoix and the state of Michigan as a whole as well as on their resources, heritage, culture and boundless opportunities and for citizens to increase their knowledge of the city and state in which they live.

The Michigan Conservation Department has offered the use of a display featuring the wildlife of the state.

Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff, in charge of Our Heritage Day, is promoting an exhibit of art, writings and material about authors of this area.

These two displays will be played in the Birnkrant building. Charlevoix's Boy Scouts will assist in setting up the displays.

Mrs. Ralph Hamilton is arranging an exhibit of cultural items; the City Council will be in charge of hospitality; special plans are being made for Our Livelihood day; Spiritual Foundation Day will be in charge of the Charlevoix Ministerial Day; plans of Education Day are also developing satisfactorily under the chairmanship of Leonard Burns; Don Brown of the Jaycees has suggested a parade to climax the week; Ralph S. Hamilton has volunteered to handle the agricultural display and Robert Lieberman will head a committee to handle special retail promotions during Michigan Week.

All committees will present written reports to Mr. Makel on the program of the work by May 1.

White Shoals light station located on the south side of the Straits of Mackinac marks the entry to Grays Reef Passage and the 'inside' shipping lane.

When the light crew was taken to the station last week by the Cutter Sundew they found proof that ice conditions were as severe as all surveys indicated. The cutter found it necessary to moor along the windrowed ice a quarter of a mile from the station. The light crew was joined by the crew of the Sundew in carrying supplies and gear over the rough ice. In the foreground can be seen the ropes of the Sundew gangplank.

Light station crews reported this week that the ice in the vicinity of the lighthouses was not being moved by the current or wind.

Fishing Tales

Fisherman hooks fisherman's glasses.

That, in a small capsule, is what happened Sunday when John Norton, fishing through the ice of Elk Lake, hooked a pair of glasses lost through the same hole in the ice by another local fisherman, Laverne Heise, late in January.

Mr. Heise was trying to pull in a fish when the glasses slipped out of his pocket and into 30 feet of water nearly three months ago. Certain that he would never recover them he ordered another pair. When Mr. Norton called him Sunday evening to tell him he had recovered what he thought was Mr. Heise's glasses, the latter thought at first it was a practical joke. However, later in the evening Mr. Norton produced the glasses which Mr. Heise recognized as his.

Work Ship and Crew to Start Bradley Search

A 10-ton catamaran, known as the Blue Chip, which was launched at Bay City Monday is expected here within the week to begin its search for the freighter Carl D. Bradley which sank off Gull Island in northern Lake Michigan Nov. 18 with the loss of 33 lives.

The Blue Chip was built at Flint for the Aquatic Development Engineering Co. headed by James Sawtelle, a former local resident and well known diver. It is 47 ft. long, has a 14½ ft. beam and has twin hulls made of 40 ft. cylinders which have compartments every six feet. The compartments are used to carry gasoline and for ballast. It is powered with two Scott 60 hp. twin engines and will travel up to 15 miles an hour. The vessel will be brought here thru the Straits of Mackinac.

The vessel and a second similar one will be equipped with sonar equipment which will be used to try to locate the sunken Bradley. Closed circuit television cameras equipped with special lenses will be used to take pictures of the wreck if it is located.

The project is being sponsored by the International Seafarers Union to find the cause of the Bradley sinking.

Mr. Sawtelle said the Blue Chip and other vessels to be used in the search would probably be brought here. However, it is the hope of the company that they will be able to operate from one of the islands in the area once the search is started in order to cut down on time traveling to and from the site.

County Snow Removal Cost $1,000 per Inch

Snow removal cost the Charlevoix county road commission more than $1,000 an inch during the first three months of 1959 and an average of $953.34 for a period extending from Nov. 25, 1953 through March of this year according to a report compiled by Ralph S. Hamilton, clerk of the road commission. The actual cost per inch during the first three months of 1959 was $1,124.20.

The entire snow removal project cost an impressive total of $169,783.84 with $116,916.88 being spent during the first three months of this year.

The official weather station report reveals that 178 inches or 14 ft. 10 in of snow fell during the winter months of 1958-59.

Of the total amount spent on snow removal, $72,841.66 was spent on township roads, $47,806.28 on primary or county roads and $49,135.90 on state highways.

The road commission is allowed a budget for snow removal on state highways. This year the commission overran the budget by $24,217.58

A total of 44.622 man hours were devoted to snow removal or a monthly average of 248 hours per man.

Shirley M. Perron Succumbs After Long Illness

Shirley May Perron, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Perron, died Tuesday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient for two weeks. She had been in ill health for several years.

Funeral services will be held at the Winchester funeral home at 2 p.m. Thursday with the Rev. T. B. Thodeson officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix Nov. 3, 1938, Shirley was graduated from the Charlevoix high school in 1957. Since then she had been employed as a bookkeeper at the Old Kent Bank and Trust Co. in Grand Rapids. While in high school she was a member of the Girls Glee Club. She also was a member of the Assembly of God church.

Besides her parents, she is survived by three sisters, Eva May, Judy Ann and Sheri Lynn and four brothers, Simeon jr., Edward G., Leon R. and David L., all at home; her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Hannah Greiner of Charlevoix and her maternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs. Earl VanZant of Sparta.

Coast Guardsmen Open Lighthouses For Navigation

Springtime on the Great Lakes means the opening of the navigation season. This, in turn, means the manning of light stations which serve as guardians of ships which sail among the shoals and reefs that line the shipping lanes of northern Lake Michigan.

Last week the U. S. Cutter Sundew transported light crews to the three remaining manned stations in the area.

These men will operate the radio beacons, fog signals, lights and other aids to navigation at White Shoals, Gray's Reef and Lansing Shoals light stations which mark the shipping lanes at the western end of the Straits of Mackinac and Gray's Reef sage.

These men lead lonely lives, spending 21 days at their stations with six days ashore from the time navigation opens in the spring until the season ends in mid-December. They must do their own cooking and housekeeping on these little concrete islands in addition to manning the lights which guide countless ships loaded with countless tons of materials so important to the economy of the midwest

Do you have a prize-winning recipe using maple syrup? A contest will be held in Charlevoix in conjunction with the Maple Syrup Festival at 10 am. on Saturday, April 18, according to Clare Brown, county extension agent in home economics. Bring a product using maple syrup as an ingredient with the recipe.

All entries must be in place by 10 a.m. Judging will take place, weather permitting, in downtown Charlevoix across the street from the evaporator. In case of bad weather the judging will take place at the community room of the City Building.

Prizes will he awarded the top three entries. This contest is open to everyone. Can any of you men cook better than your wives?

Restaurant to Open Under New Management

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dixon of Petoskey have leased the Norton restaurant at 117 Antrim st., Mrs. John Norton who operated the business last year has announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon plan to open the popular eating place this weekend. They plan to serve the same fine food for which the restaurant has become known. They will change the name of the business to Dixon's restaurant.

Mr Dixon is a former local resident. He and his wife have lived in Boyne City and for the past two years have operated the Baby Grand restaurant in Petoskey.

City Council Adopts Budget of $181,405; $13,295 Increase

The Charlevoix city council adopted a budget of $181,405.00 at its regular meeting Monday night.

The 1959-60 budget is an increase of $13,275.56 over the 1958-59 budget of $168,129.44.

A 17-mill tax spread on the city's current assessed valuation of $5,106,850 will raise $86,816.45 toward the new budget. Another $89,520 will come from other sources such as Motor Vehicle Highway tax, Sales Tax Diversion, weight and gas tax refund, business licenses, rental incomes and other miscellaneous sources. The remaining $5,068.55 will be paid from funds on hand.

This year's assessed valuation is a $48,200 increase over the 1958 valuation of $5,058,650.

The council voted to allocate 2.3 mills to the interest and sinking fund; two mills to the street district fund and the remaining 12.7 mills to the general fund.

Approval also was given to Mayor E. James Hiller's re-appointment of appointive city officers. They are: city superintendent, Hal M. Hill; city attorney, Norman D. Ance; street commissioner Leo Allard; Chief of Police, Joseph L. Smith; Fire Chief, John Curtis; assistant fire chief, Patrick Martin; city assessor, J. L. Feindt; airport manager, Joseph McPhillips; city surveyor, Mary Feindt and health officer, Robert G. Martin M.D.

The mayor and the city clerk were authorized to renew a lease with the Sinclair Refining Co. for a portion of their bulk plant premises located on Ferry ave.

The council also voted to include the USCG cutter Sundew in their contract No. TCG 1489 dated April 8, 1952, for furnishing electric and water service to the same. The council also voted to renew its lease with the cutter Sundew for mooring facilities at the city dock beginning July 1, 1959, and continuing until July 1, 1960. The clerk was authorized to execute these leases in behalf of the city.

Clifford G. Riley, deputy city clerk, was designated to handle the city's transactions with the State Highway Department.

Approval was given bills amounting to $20,029.90 which were ordered paid.

Emergency Food Supplies Sent to Beaver Island

Emergency food supplies, fuel oil and gasoline were transported to Beaver Island Tuesday by the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Acacia, according to CWO Joseph Etienne who said that assistance was given the residents of the island when supplies ran short after regular ferry service to the island was postponed because of severe ice conditions in northern Lake Michigan.

Mr. Etienne said that approximately one and one-half tons of food supplies and 15 barrels each of fuel oil and gasoline were taken to the island by the cutter Acacia which Sunday had broken ice in the harbor at St. James.

The Beaver Island Ferry, Emerald Isle, which usually begins its regular schedule early in April is at its berth here as the result of ice conditions.

Last week the residents of the island, located 32 miles northwest of here in Lake Michigan, were given permission to use supplies of gasoline and fuel oil stored there by the U. S. Coast Guard.

S.S. North American To Visit Charlevoix

The Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce has included Charlevoix as a port of call during its annual cruise in June according to officials of the Chicago Duluth and Georgian Bay Transit Co.

The cruise will be made aboard the S. S. North American which will dock here from 1 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 17.

The S. S. South American of the same line is scheduled to dock here from 8 am to 1 p.m. June 9 with the Lansing Chamber of Commerce and June 13 with the Bay City Chamber of Commerce.

Supervisors Elect Curtis Chairman

He succeeds Barney Milstein of East Jordan who served as chairman in 1958.

Mr. Curtis' first act was to name committees for the year. These committees are now in session.

The board was scheduled to hear reports from departments receiving funds from the county Wednesday and Thursday.

Later in the week the board will adopt the tentative budget for 1960.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

NOTICED THE other day that spring flowers are pushing their [illegible] out. Saw some the other day at the Lifeboat station that were sticking up through the snow. As one of the fellows said, "That's what I call persistence."

*

OUR PAPER BOY told us he was out looking for smelt the other day but didn't find any, which is no wonder when you notice the ice on all our lakes including Michigan.

We called the Road Commission office and asked when the Ironton ferry would start operating. The answer? When the ice in the South Arm breaks up and [illegible] still plenty thick and, with these cold nights, it's not melting much. So you people who use the ferry will have to take the long way 'round for a while yet.

* *

BUT WE UNDERSTAND that one of the Coast Guard cutters made its way into the harbor at Beaver Island where there was 18 inches of ice last week and made a path through it to the docks. So one of these fine days you'll be hearing a blast from the whistle of the Emerald Isle as it starts its regular schedule.

What with the sun shining and few days where the temperatures hit 40 degrees (out of the sun, that is) things are looking up. Why, when you go down town these days you see all sorts of people you haven't laid eyes on since winter set in back in November. And believe us, it's a good feelin'.

* * *

WE'VE AN AX to grind about a tree. A tree, we're told that was eighty some years old, a tree that stood on a side street, a good vantage point, and watched Charlevoix grow from a tough logging and fishing town to one of the most beautiful summer resorts you'll ever see. And it was trees such as this that has kept it beautiful. Now we've no argument about trees that stand in the way of progress. We've seen many of them chopped down in their prime. But to our way of thinking there wasn't much reason for this one to be cut down. It's left a great big blank where it stood. We mean the big tree that stood directly in front of the postoffice.

* *

GOT QUITE A surprise Sunday morning while listening to a Chicago radio station to hear the announcer say "Our sermon this morning will be by Dr. George Buttrick of Harvard University." Couldn't believe our ears because we certainly didn't expect him to be in the midwest. But there he was. We wonder if any of you were up early enough to hear him. As you know, he's one of our summer visitors at Sequanota and has often spoken in our local churches through the years.

* *

IT'S HARD TO believe but the school year is nearing its end. Another six weeks and we'll all be [illegible] to graduation. Does it seem possible? But we'd like to add a little note to some of [illegible] who will be [illegible]. Many of you would like to [illegible] of but we wonder if all of you are taking advantage of the scholarship offers that are being made. For instance, we hear that no one has applied for the one reserved for a local student at the Emmet Community College. So it isn't Michigan State, but isn't it a place to start. We think that small colleges have a great deal to offer and we also think kids are only hurting themselves when they fail to take advantage of these opportunities.

* * *

OUR LITTLE OLE band, all 64 of 'em, will be taking off Friday for southern Michigan where they'll participate in the band festival (Class C) at Battle Creek. Our bands have had a fair share of First Division ratings through the years. We hope they'll come home next Saturday night with their eighth top rating in 12 years. And we're sure they will if they play as they're capable of playing and mind their director Ole Olmark.

* * *

A LOW BOW TO the Marine Club for the fine show at the city hall the other night. This is one organization that we're happy to see real active again. We've always credited them with the success of the Venetian Boat Parade through the years. There are a few staunch members who have worked on it for years. We hope these few will get a much needed assist from the new members they are recruiting. As for the shoes, they're [illegible] [illegible] England [illegible] more beautiful than a boat in full sail.

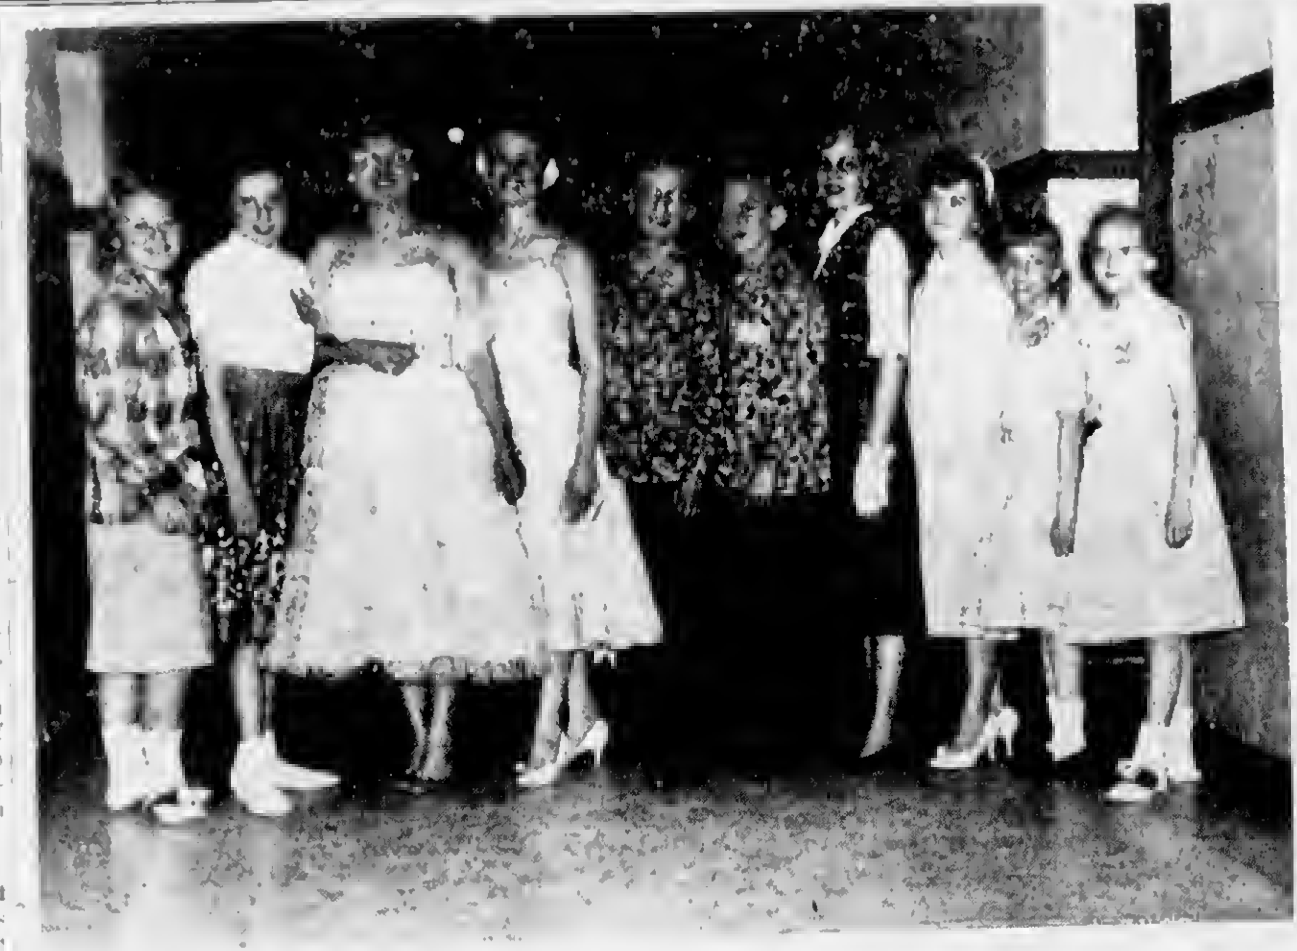
HAD THE NICEST note the other day from Mr. Ogden sr. who has been spending the winter in Ashville, N C with his son, Dean. He wrote to tell us that he thought of this column as a weekly letter from home, which pleased us no end because there are times that we wonder if it's worth the effort that goes into it. He also writes that he'll soon be back at Ironton working in his own flower garden.



Charlevoix county 4-H club dress revue winners pictured modeling the garments which won them recognition at the annual Achievement Day show held here last Friday. With them is Peter Brock, the only boy in the county who participated in the sewing program this year, and his brother Aaron, modeling the matching shirts Peter had made.

Barbara, who will graduate from the East Jordan high school in May, will represent Charlevoix county at 4-H Club week at Michigan State University where she will compete with contestants from other counties.

Approximately 250 4-H club members exhibited more than 300 articles at the show. Judges were Rueb Kaarre, 4-H club agent at Kalkaska, Miss Julia Sturgeon, Home agent of Otsego county, Dallas Alsup of Traverse City and Elfred Rosen of Boyne City, farm service advisors for area power companies and Mrs. Alsop, home agent at Traverse City.

Eight girls were selected as Dress revue winners. Besides the top winners, Barbara Nielsen and Judy Gerrie are Sharon Abfalter and Karen Heeres of the Charlevoix club, Gail Kelly of the Marion-Phelps club, Carol Klooster of the Norwood club, Karen Gould and Susan Rebman of the Boyne City club.

Several items were selected for display at the State 4-H show at Michigan State University in August. These include: Kenneth Richardson and Rodney Richardson, Norwood club, handicraft; Sybil Cole of Murray Musketeers bird study and Harvey Washburn, Boyne City club, photography.

Two acts of several that were presented during the dress revue were selected to participate in the district roundup at Petoskey July 1. Marcella Brown of East Jordan who presented a monologue from the play "The King and I," will present the county as will a vocal group, the Norwood Hymnsters, composed of Marian Kay Richardson, Gene McBride, Rodney Richardson, Dale Parsons, Janice Stutzman and Roy Whitley. Mrs. Carl Lockwood accompanied the group.

Mrs. Glenn Rose Entert ins Past Noble Grand Club

Mrs. Glenn Rose entertained 10 members of the Past Noble Grand club at a cooperative dinner and business meeting Thursday evening.

Mrs. Robert Mitchell presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Fred Southwood presented the devotions. Mrs. Southwood then presented the club with a birthday bank in which members will deposit pennies for each birthday anniversary. At the end of the year the bank will be opened and the money used for the [illegible] of the club.

Mrs. Floyd Evans won the gift provided by the hostess, Mrs. Rose.

A social hour and games followed the business session. Prizes were won by Mrs. George [illegible], Mrs. Ikens, Mrs. Luther Hannah, Mrs. Fred Gill, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Ray Seymour. Mrs. William Ager was the tenth member present.

Guild Members to Attend State Meet

Mrs. E. D Hawley left Wednesday for Lansing to attend a meeting of the board of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries.

Last week Mrs. Hawley, Mrs. Karl Schultz, Mrs. Jeff Novotny, Mrs. Gordon Freedman and Mrs. Floyd Brown were in Cheboygan for a district workship.

WANTED: Hungry people to eat pancakes and sausage Saturday night at the Methodist church 5:30 to 8 p.m., by the Charlevoix Jaycees.

Observe Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clare White, well known Hayes township residents, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Saturday.

An open house at the Maple Grove Grange hall from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday will mark the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. White were married at the First Methodist church in Boyne City April 18, 1909. The Rev. Frank Taylor officiated at the wedding.

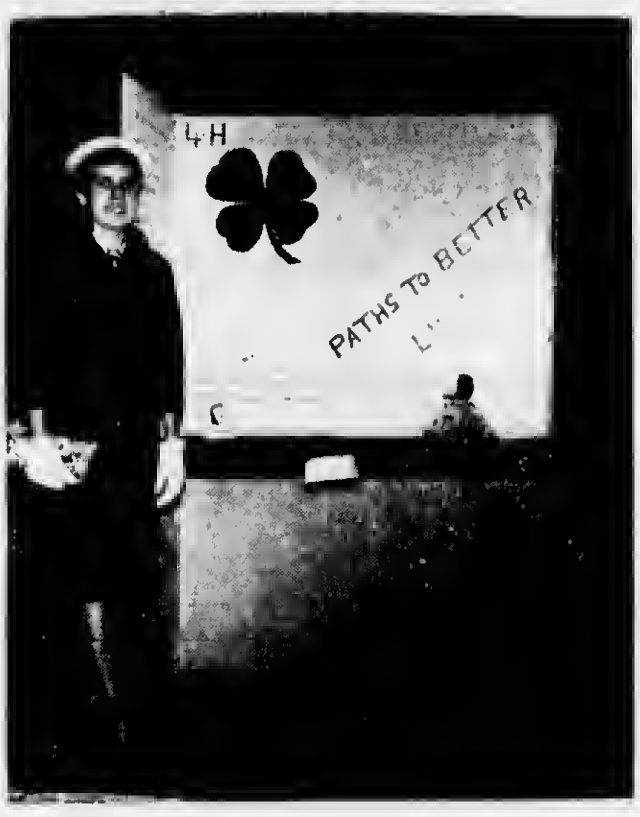
Following their marriage they made their home in Bay township and then lived in Boyne City a short time before moving to their present home on the Pincherry road in Hayes township.

Mr. White is a native of the area where he has always made his home. He was born at Horton Bay May 20, 1889. Mrs. White, the former Ethel McLellan, was born at Caro Jan. 26, 1888 and came to North Bay with her parents at the age of 14 years. Both are in fair health and are able to take care of their own home.

Among those joining them in the observance of their anniversary will be their seven children, Quinton S. White and Mrs. Oliver (Pauline) Garver of RR 3 Charlevoix, Mrs. Carl (Naomi) Bacon of Traverse City, Mrs. Kenneth (Ida) Jefferson and Mrs. Mark (Lynetta) Treadwell, both of Royal Oak, Mrs. Jerome (Marion) Kimble of Detroit and Mrs. William (Clarice) Hair of Lake Orion.

Others will be 20 of their 24 grandchildren and their nine great-grandchildren. The four grandchildren who will be unable to attend live in distant states or are serving in the armed services.

Booth Portrays 4-H Projects



Marilou VerWys, Charlevoix high school junior who has completed seven years of 4-H club work, is pictured with the 4-H Achievement booth she made. The booth will be displayed at the State 4-H show later this year.

The booth is a record of her 4-H accomplishments which are listed on each side of the booth. Besides portraying the 4-H motif, the pins and other awards she has received are on the middle section of the booth.

Marilou has completed four years in the Food Preparation section and has been a county honor member in this project; six years in the clothing program, has been named to this county honor roll, received the girls' Home Economics award, served two years as a junior leader in this project, been named a county honor member in junior leadership and received a leadership award; has had one year in crafts and two years as a leader in the Food Preparation section.

Marilou is the first 4-H club member to make an Achievement booth in more than 15 years. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe VerWys, she is pictured modeling the navy wool suit she entered in this year's clothing project.

Mrs. Winnick Hosts Extension Club

The Burgess Extension club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Peter Winnick for a cooperative luncheon and meeting.

Mrs. Winnick and Mrs. Gerald Burke gave an interesting lesson on "Property Rights." Ten members were present for the meeting.

Wm. H. Supernaw Has 89th Anniversary

William H. Supernaw, one of Charlevoix's oldest residents, observed his eighty-ninth birthday anniversary April 8.

He celebrated the anniversary by walking to the store for the first time this spring.

HOW MUCH Is It Worth?

Measured by relief from pain or swift recovery from illness — prescribed medicine is priceless. Measured by our policy of charging only for the cost of the ingredients plus a nominal fee for professional service, prescribed medicine is the biggest bargain money can buy. Nothing worth so much to you costs so little as prescribed medicine when you have your prescriptions filled here.

Funeral Services Held Thursday for Mrs. A. Supernaw

Funeral services for Mrs. Adolpus Supernaw, 96, sister of Benjamin Yettaw, who died Tuesday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. Robert Armstrong in Harbor Springs, were held at the Armstrong residence Thursday. Burial was in Brookside cemetery here.

Born in Ellenburg, N. Y., March 24, 1863, the former Mary Jane Yettaw came to Charlevoix county at the age of 10 years with her parents who settled in the Norwood area. In 1900 she was married to William Glasgow and moved to Harbor Springs to live. She remained in Harbor Springs until 1930 when she married Mr. Supernaw and moved to Flint where she resided until Mr. Supernaw's death in 1947. Since then she has lived in Harbor Springs with her daughter, Mrs. Armstrong.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Clement Denomy of Harbor Springs; two grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren and a brother, Mr. Yettaw of this city.

Bruce Barber Has New Assignment

Bruce Barber has gone to the west coast where he is serving as a missile field technician at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

Mrs. Barber and their three children plan to join him later. They are presently living in Ferndale.

Mr. Barber is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barber, local residents who are spending the winter months in Florida.

To prevent flavor loss in eggs they should be kept in the refrigerator and removed only immediately before use. If eggs are left at room temperature for any length of time, flavor loss takes place.

Former Student Named Delegate To Boys' State

Dick Shores, a former local resident has been elected one of three delegates from Port Washington (Wisc.) high school to attend the eighteenth annual Badger Boys State at Ripon College June 13-20.

The event is sponsored by the American Legion to bring to the youth of the state a knowledge of fundamental principles of American government. The boys are chosen on a point system based on scholarship, extra-curricular activities and adaptibility to the Boys' State program('leadership and character.)

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shores, former residents now living in Port Washington and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Shores and Mrs. John Knudsen of this city.

Barber Shoppers Entertained by Boyne City Group

Thirteen members of the Charlevoix chapter of SPEBSQSA enjoyed the hospitality of the Boyne City chapter Monday evening. The occasion was a get-together of Barber Shoppers from northern Michigan to meet with Floyd Connett, district representative of the state organization.

Instruction in chorus and quartet sing was a feature of the evening's entertainment, lead by Mr. Connett.

MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

April 6, 1959

Present: Martin, Boss, Lieberman, Smith, and Bennett, Supt.

Absent: Freedman

The meeting was called to order at 8:05 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of March 23 were read and approved, as were those of a special meeting held March 26.

It was moved by Martin and supported by Smith that the Charlevoix State Savings Bank be named depository of the Building and Site Funds. Motion carried: 1-0.

Moved by Martin supported by Lieberman, that bills in the amount of $1,378.57, payable from General Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Carried; 1-0.

Moved by [illegible] supported by Martin, that bills in the amount of $12,136.13, payable from the Building and Site Fund be approved and ordered paid. Carried; 1-0.

[illegible] program [illegible] without a deficit.

It was decided to replace the playground [illegible] because of its worn condition.

The plans for the B. I. E. day were completed and the date of Tuesday, May 5, was approved.

The report of the T. V. Educational Program for Northern Michigan from Central Michigan College was discussed at length and Mr. Bingham, high school principal, was requested to attend a final meeting on April 9. Dr. Stoddard of the Ford Foundation will be present to outline a program for the coming year.

A report was made on the special meeting of the Executive Committee of the PTA, and others on a committee, to study youth problems. Also, the PTA program on this subject was discussed at length.

The budget for the coming year was briefly discussed with the hope that Legislative action on the new State Aid bill could be reached before the final action of the Allocation Board for Charlevoix County.

The meeting adjjurned at 9:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT H. SMITH, Secretary

Bowling News

BY DES

Neff Groceries once again took over sole possession of first place in the Charlevoix Men's Bowling League. Moonlight Gardens and Freedman No. 2 are close behind though and with just 12 points remaining in the second half.

The Grocery boys moved into first place by virtue — I mean virtue of their 3-1 victory over Brown Motors. I think Brown Motors may have been trying to get back in the cellar — but we fooled 'em — we lost 3 points too. They've got a rough road to hoe if they think they can beat us out of that position. For Neff's though, it was Gordo himself coming through in fine style as he led his team with a big 574 series including a 209 game. Bernie Ward also helped the cause with his 505. Somebody wasn't helping your cause "Big" — they had you down for a 449 — you had a whole 20 pins more than that. I see now that Neffs had a break — Browns only had 3 men — too bad too because Kenny Balch hit over a 100 everytime and came in high with a 454.

* * *

Moonlight stayed right in the running — still one point back but now in 2nd place as they passed Freedman's. The Garden boys put the pressure on Browes as they had 3 men in the 500's. First of all was Dick Edwards— Dick Edwards??? — wait a minute — let me check the card again — yeah it was Dick alright— I wonder what he had to eat! Dick is low average man on the team with 147 and his lowest game was 175 as he came home with a big 556 (Simple game isn't it Dick? — That's what I was saying the first half) Lyle Miles was next high as he had a real nice 541 series and then Jim Lawyer with the high game on the squad 209 in his 535 series. For the losers it was Ted Browe missing the mark by 4 — 496— but still high.

* * *

Freedman No. 2 lost a little ground but still stayed right in the thick of the race only 2 points back. Puffs was the team to do the damage as they won 3 points with Puffer leading the way with 535 series. Ed Lemcke followed up with a 502. For Freedmans, [illegible] couldn't get anything started after the first game. Bob [illegible] was high with a 457.

* * *

[illegible] 625 Ken started out with 182 [illegible] 222 and 221. M[illegible] was next with a 201 game 535 [illegible] followed by Tap with 521 and the Bob Miller and his 502. Poor Louie was draggin again although he did come through to help them in that high game of 937. Victims of this onslaught was Lake Construction. The Lakers had 3 games in the 800's and ended up with a respectable 2503 — but lost 4 — just ain't no justice is there boys? Mike Black was high for the losers with his 488.

* * *

Freedman No. 1 moved up a notch in the standings (they're now in 9th position) by winning 3 points from the team they passed — Swanson's Gravel. John Swanson was the only man with anything big for Freedman's with his 530 — Pat Curtis had all three games in 3 figures tho and that's not bad considering his average only has 2. For Stub's squad, who couldn't quite get going, Bob Fergi was high with a 489.

* * *

And here we are again — this time it was Hess Furniture who took advantage of us. We're trying not to be partial — we'd like to see everybody get at least 3 — and that's just what they got. Jesse James Penn & Cha-Cha Charlie Bennett tied for high honors with 499 apiece. Jesse beat Cha-Cha out of high [illegible] though 218-209. Kenny [illegible] of Hess [illegible]

Community Concert Kick-off Membership Campaign Monday

The annual membership campaign of the Northern Michigan Community Concert Association will be launched Monday according to Ross W. Stoakes jr. of Petoskey, association president.

A dinner at the Dilworth Hotel in Boyne City at 7 p.m. Monday for all association officers and workers will officially open the 1959 membership drive. Mrs Lois Holler, field representative for Community Concerts Inc. will attend the dinner meeting and spend the week in Petoskey assisting during the campaign.

The Artists Selection committee headed by C. A. Odmark has announced that a 'hold' date has been put on the Viennese extravaganza, Vienna on Parade, a company of artists featuring folk dancers, a chorus and a Deutschmeister band under the direction of Captain Julius Hermann. This attraction has been imported and booked by the association for several years. It has been much in demand and Mr. Odmark said that the Northern Michigan Association was indeed fortunate to secure a booking for this season.

The cost of memberships will remain the same as in the past and assures the holder attendance a distinguished series of four concerts by some of the world's finest artists.

The concerts are held at the Petoskey high school auditorium between October and April and admittance is by membership only.

Campaign headquarters this year will be at 216 Howard st. in Petoskey where inquiries may be directed.

In Charlevoix local workers will be Mrs. Odmark, Mrs. Leonard Burns, Mrs. Charles Bellinger, Mrs. Lee Moerland and Fran Martin.

CARD OF THANKS

Would like to thank all who remembered me with gifts, flowers and cards during my stay at the hospital. John Wolf.

For the Inn — well Sough's had 113 — I mean 202 — the 113 was his first game and I had a 531. As long as I have room I might as well mention that Nick had [illegible] — one more man that I won't [illegible] anymore about a 395 from.

Be sure to be on hand next [illegible] chapter 14 of our current [illegible] "The Inn of 12th Happiness."

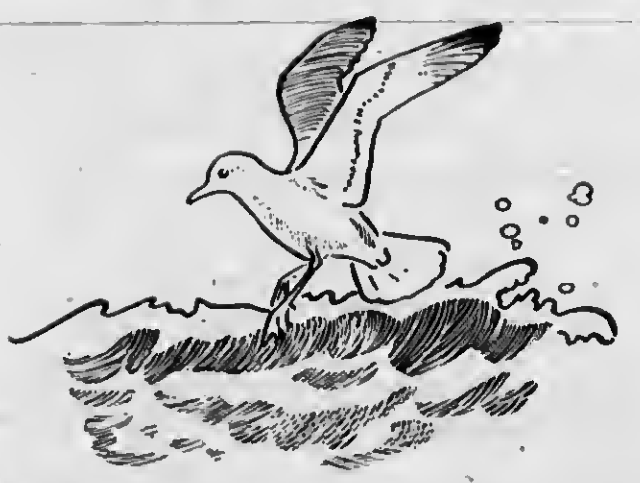
Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Some Thoughts on Seeing a Gull



The herring gulls have returned to our bay, now that the ice is disappearing. With slow, determined strokes they come and mew and cry above these waters. Now they dip and slide upon the winds, and gingerly test the water's temperature. They alight upon gently tossing waves, and effortlessly float with elegant poise over the amber shallows and out over the green depths. With mincing steps they playfully wade near the shore, and then with sudden, serious decision they rise on beating wings and plunge for fish in deeper water near the pilings. Herring gulls are creatures both of the shallows and the depths.

Gulls are like our human inclination toward wondering. A mind that is alive is prone to deal with the mysteries that stretch in all directions all about us like the great waters beneath a herring gull's wings. Sometimes we deal with the unknown lightly, playfully, and again solemnly. We often say "I wonder" half jokingly and with a smile, and again with the catch of troubled ignorance and regret in our throats.

Some wondering is merely fanciful, whimsical and not intended to plumb the depths of life's dim obscurities. It is not a plunge into life's mysteries, but wading and splashing in the shallows. One romp with such questions is:

* Why is the newspaper being read by your neighbor on the bus or train always more interesting than the one you hold in your hand?

* Why is it that many who brush their teeth each night before retiring, seldom bother to [illegible] their minds to remove all [illegible] thoughts?"

* Why is it that winter vacations in the South are more enjoyable when we know the people back home are cold and plagued with snow shoveling and keeping their balance on slippery sidewalks?

* Why do those who try too hard to be sweet usually succeed in being merely sickening?

* Why does this generation pay the most attention to those whom it will soonest forget — such as idols of the entertainment field?

* Why are we more flattered by praise of our secondary traits than by appreciation for our primary gifts — so that a brilliantly intellectual woman prefers to be told she is attractive, and the attractive woman wants to be told she is brilliant, and a resident may be prouder of his outdoor cooking than of his administrative abilities?

* Why is it that by the time you're wealthy enough to sleep in late you are so old that you wake up early?

* Why is it that so few people ever tell the dentist the real reason for cancelling tomorrow's appointment?

* Why is it easier to drive six miles to hear a sermon than to spend fifteen minutes meditating upon it when you get home?

* Why is it so difficult to find a woman who will admit she can "do something" with her hair?

* Why doesn't the chronic doubter spend more time and thought doubting his doubts?

* Why is it that when men deliberately destroy the works of man we call them vandals, but when they destroy the works of God we call them sportsmen?

* Why is it that a college education is about the only thing people are willing to pay for and not get?

* Why is it that when men discipline themselves and suffer risks for trophies — (like in the Memorial Day Races at the Indianapolis Speedway) we adore them as heroes, but if they sacrifice their lives for God we call them religious fanatics and fools?

* Why do we say that one in four marriages fails, when it is just as true and far more hopeful to declare that three out of four marriages succeed?"

Then again the mind moves out beyond wading depth, to where diving deep is possible and swimming is necessary. This is where the more significant quetions lie — the problems of character and the meaning of the world and of God.

* Why are we so quick to remove something that hurts an eye and so slow to get rid of anything that injures character?

* Why are we so much stronger in our oppositions than we are in our support, louder in condemning what we oppose than we are in praising what we favor?

* Why did the Creator make destruction so easy and creativity so difficult, so that it is easier to blame, than to help., easier to bomb a cathedral than to build a tool shed?

* Why are some old debauched rascals allowed to live on and on while some great servants of the world die before their work is half done?

* Why is God so slow in bringing about peace, if peace is one of His goals and if He is Almighty?

* Why is there so much senseless suffering in the world, if God is good?

It was among such profundities that the minds of many Bible characters plunged. Job asked

"Canst thou by searching find out God?
Canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?
It is high as heaven; what canst
thou do?
Deeper than Sheol; what canst
thou know?"

Even the doctrines of the Church do not solve the deep mysteries. They hover about them and dip into them as the gulls of our bay poise above the water on beating wings, but they know as little of the greater meanings as herring gulls know of the chemical composition of the water, or the anatomical structure of the fishes that swim here, or the ecological relationships that bind all creatures of the lake together with a chain of interdependence.

Children often resent mystery. They demand immediate answers to their questions. Every "Why" should be paired with a satisfying "Because — ." What are grownups for, if not to solve the mysteries, and pronto? The recognition of our intellectual limitations is a sign of maturity. We still send our curiosities on exciting adventures into the Unknown, but we do not expect them to return laden with complete answers to our deepest questionings concerning the nature of the universe, and man, and God. Rather our inquisitiveness will venture forth like a geologist into a mountain range, and will bring back chips from the rocks. It will not return with the mountain!

Our knowledge is fragmentary, [illegible] of pieces, a slice of this and [illegible] of that, bits of facts [illegible] put together never [illegible] whole picture. Always a piece is missing, so that no matter how much we know, mystery remains. It is now known how many times a black-capped chickadee's heart beats per minute when the bird is asleep (400 times a minute) and the heart beat of an excited canary has been counted (more than 1,000 beats per minute). The breathing rates of common pigeons have been tabulated (450 times a minute in flight, 180 times a minute when walking and 29 times a minute when resting.) Every year hosts of additional facts are discovered about the nature of the world and its inhabitants. But as knowledge advances, mystery deepens. We discover the heart beat frequency for a bird, but does anyone know why the bird was created at all? Our faith may say "Because God willed it," but that is faith, not knowledge. We know more about disease than ever, but why do we have disease at all? The answer to that question is but conjecture, perhaps reverent guesswork, but guesswork nevertheless.

Concerning the little matters of life we can know a great deal, but about the greatest matters we instinctively feel we know very little. Only fools and the insane are sure about everything. One measure of wisdom and sanity is ones confession of ignorance It was one of the most scholarly and observant entomologists of all time, Henri Fabre, who said "Human knowledge will be erased from the archives of the world before we possess the last word about even a gnat." And the wise chinese scholar of the seventh century, Laotze, declared "The way that can be expressed is not the Eternal Way. The name that can be expressed is not the Eternal Name."

What, then, should be our attitude toward life's mysteries?

FIRST we should be grateful for them. Would you want to live in a world so small you could fully comprehend it? Would you want foreknowledge so that nothing came as a surprise? Would you wish a world so superficial and shallow that when you saw the surface you saw everything, like a lake only a fraction of an inch deep? That kind of a lake isn't worthy of the name. It is not even a decent puddle! Be grateful for a world deep enough for the mind to swim in!

SECONDLY, regard the mysterious world as sacramental, pointing to a sacred truth, that God's answers are always more wonderful than our best guesses. The earth is not flat as man first guessed, but round. It does not stand upon a giant turtle's back as man once thought, but is held by invisible forces in its orbit around the sun. Fossils are not bones planted by the devil to confuse men as our forefathers once declared, but rather indications of an animal kingdom much vaster than we had thought and a world history reaching back farther than men's wildest surmises. The stars are not small lights a few paltry miles beyond man's reach as the ancients believed, but enormous torches of burning gases in boundlessly distant heavens, the nearest being 25 trillion miles away. When answers to the riddles of the universe have been found, they have always been more incredibly wonderful than men had dared to guess. Doesn't that raise a hope that the [illegible] unknown answers [illegible]

THIRDLY, [illegible] the Highest, not more information but more loyalty.

FOURTHLY, remember that the life of faith is not distinguished by a super-abundance of knowledge about many things, but by a great confidence in a Person. It readily admits, "I do not know" and hastens to add, "But it is known! God knows!"

Tax Allocation Board to Organize At Monday Meeting

Serving on the board will be the three members appointed earlier by Probate Judge William T. Downs. They are: Albert H. Smith of Charlevoix, Harlan Rubach of Boyne City and Clarence Healey of East Jordan.

Other members of the board, by virtue of their offices, are Lillis M. Flanders, county treasurer; Charles A. Robinson, county superintendent of schools and Clarence F. Rabach chairman of the finance committee of the board of supervisors.

Bradley Owners Start Search For Ship

er in size but like equipment used by the U. S. Navy on its latest submarines and other vessels. This equipment has been used succesfully on this and other vessels to locate sunken ships. The cruiser also is equipped with ship to shore radio, radar and direction finder

The Panmanta will be under the command of Francis LaWay of Cheboygan, a fisherman who is familiar with the waters to be searched.

Directing the efforts for the company will be Capt. Donald T. Nauts, Bradley master and fleet captain on temporary relief from his command of the company's flagship, the Steamer John G. Munson, largest self-unloader on the lakes.

The Penmanta will be launched at Charlevoix this week.

An electronics expert, an associate of the inventor of the Sea Scaner, will fly here from Seattle, Wash., to test the electronic equipment this weekend.

The actual search will begin nex week, ice conditions and weather permitting.

Working with him will be Frank Sager, an electronics technician employed by Central Radio Telegraph Co. to operate radio communications equipment and to service the equipment of Bradley line vessels as well as other vessels using the Calcite port. Sager will operate the Sea Scaner during the hunt for the Bradley.

The key to the earch for the sunken vessel, believed to be broken in two, is the sonar device with which the Penmanta is equipped. This unit, developed by Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., has a revolutionary engineering feature that permits it to scan back and forth under water like a sweeping searchlight.

Appropriately called the Sea Scaner, the device operates by firing bursts of high frequency sound waves into the underwater depths.

In principle, it is similar to the well-known depth sounders. However, unlike depth sounders which look only in one direction usually straight down from the boat — the Sea Scaner automatically sweeps back and forth at any desired depth, peering ahead and to the sides and giving a panoramic view of everything within its range.

The scanning eye can see out into the water for more than a quarter of a mile — 1600 ft. — but also operates at 800 and 400 foot ranges.

It can scan the entire 180 degree area from port to starboard, or, if desired, can be pin-pointed to sweep a 90 or 45 degree area. The scanning can be done at any depth from the surface of the water to the bottom.

Whatever the instrument sees —whether it be fish, underwater obstructions, a sunken vessel or the contours of the bottom — is shown on a radar-type screen mounted in the pilot house. In addition, the Sea Scaner has an audio feature that enables the presence of underwater objects to be identified by variations in the sound quality of returning echoes.

The screen also will indicate the bearing and distance of the object sighted by the scanner.

Company officials, while hopeful of finding the sunken vessel, report that at least one marine expert has expressed the opinion that locating the Bradley will be an extremely difficult task.

He bases his opinion on the fact that the bottom of Lake Michigan - the Boulder reef-Gull Island area — is irregular and strewn with huge boulders.

Further, it is pointed out, a number of vessels have gone down in Lake Michigan, some in this area, and it will be difficult to determine if the vessel found is the Bradley or another ship.

The question of making photographs of the wreckage, if a finding is made, or of sending either a conventional diver or a skin diver down to the wreckage will depend on the location of the vessel and the depth at which it is found, the company said.

For more than two months the company has been investigating methods of locating the vessel and believes the equipment and men now assembling at Charlevoix are the best available for the dificult job.

This is not the company's first effort to find the vessel. Shortly after the Bradley was lost last November, a motor launch was sent to the area to begin a search. However, weather conditions at that time of year made it impossible to carry on the operations and the search was halted for the winter.

The company and the U. S. Coast Guard also conducted an exhaustive search last fall for the bodies of the 15 men still missing.

The U. S. Corps of Engineers Lake Survey told the company today that its survey boat, the motorship Williams, will leave Detroit April 21 and will begin sweeping the Boulder reef area on or about April 27. The Lake Survey had announced during the winter that it would re-check its charts of the area in which the Bradley went down.

It is understood that the Coast Guard will conduct its own search for the Bradley but will not begin until later when it has completed the early spring work of ice breaking and setting out aids to navigation.

Hatchery Supplies Trout Planting

John G. Wege, (right) manager of the local Fish and Wildlife Service fisheries station supervises the weighing of Mackinaw trout which were transported to Higgins and Crystal lakes by special tank trucks.

The hearts of sports fishermen were gladdened recently with the announcement that 15,000 Mackinaw or lake trout had been planted in two of Michigan's large inland lakes, Crystal and Higgins lakes.

The announcement was made by John G. Wege, manager of the Fish and Wildlife Service Fisheries Station here where the fish were reared for the state of Michigan.

The fish were of fingerling size, measuring from seven to 11 inches in length and weighing approximately eight to the pound. They were approximately 16 months old.

Another 7,000 the same size and age are being taken to Pendleton Creek on Whitefish Bay in the upper peninsula where they will be fin-clipped and planted in Lake Superior.

These fingerling were among the first reared at the local station following an extensive remodeling project which was complete last March. Long raceways make it possible to rear many more fish at the local station than had been possible before.

The fingerlings now being planted, however, are only a small part of the 659,000 fish of various sizes being reared at the station. Among them are 95,000 six-months old fry supplied by the state of Illinois which are earmarked for planting in Lake Michigan as a part of Illinois' contribution to the re-stocking program planned for the Great Lakes.

In an effort to obtain the best possible fish for its re-stocking program, the federal government is experimenting with strains from various areas. A major part of them are from Lake Superior while others have come from the Federal hatchery at Manchester, Iowa, and from Torch, Higgins, Crystal and Elk lakes, while still others have been imported from Ontario, Mr. Wege explained.

As these fish develop records will be kept in an effort to obtain the best strains for the program. "Our aim, of course, is to develop a hardy, fast growing strain which will mature early for use in our re-stocking program," Mr. Wege continued. "If we can accomplish this it will set our program ahead several years.

The fry, as they are called after the eggs are hatched, are fed a highly concentrated diet containing all the proper foods. The fish are weighed regularly and changes in the diet made as they grow.

Because it takes lake trout up to seven years to mature and reproduce the local project is of major importance to the re-stocking program.

At the present time a study of the habits of the lake trout is being made. "It has been determined that lake trout migrate to various areas in the lake. Right now we are trying to establish where a lake trout lives at a given time in his development. We will then plant the fish in these areas. By doing this we feel that the fish will have an even greater chance of survival and normal growth," Mr. Wege added.

Mr. Wege has been at the local station since December. He came here from Manchester, Iowa, and is a veteran of 14 years in the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Keepers of the Lights

Dasovich, who has been in charge of the White Shoals light station since July 1957, is a veteran of 14 years in the Coast Guard. A native of Chicago, he has served aboard the East Wind on the East coast, the Sweetbriar in Alaskan water and the Accacia based in Detroit among other assignments.

Brizendine who was assigned as officer in charge of Grays' Reef recently has served 13½ years in the service. His service [illegible] three years in the U. S. [illegible] during World War II. He has served aboard the cutter Rockaway out of New York, at the Racine, Wis., Lifeboat Station, the Thunder Bay light station on Lake Huron and the Charlevoix Lifeboat station.

Miller is a veteran of 25 years having come into the Coast Guard through the Lighthouse Service which became a part of the Coast Guard in the late 1930's. He has been at Lansing Shoals for 12 full seasons. He will acquaint his successor, Chief Smith, with the facilities at Lansing Shoals before reporting for duty at Munising.

Smith is a veteran of 15½ years service with the Coast Guard. He served aboard the Acacia at Detroit before coming to his present assignment as officer in charge of the White Shoals light station.

Monday was a busy time as crewmen toted their gear and supplies aboard the Sundew for transportation to the light stations. These men order food stuffs by the case with the exception of fresh meats which are taken out to the stations by small boats from the Lifeboat station here.

Carl Dasovich BM1 is the officer in charge at White Shoals light station located along the south side of the Straits at the entrance to Grays Reef Passage. With him are Robert Vance Fn and Arnold Mosier En3. A fourth crewmen will be assigned later.

Sundew Reports

We had a busy week. We started out by putting the light keepers on Greys' Reef, White Shoals and Lansing Shoals light stations. We encountered heavy ice around White Shoals making it necessary for the keepers to carry their food and equipment about 300 yards over the ice.

We moored at Port Inland, Mich., Monday night and then broke out the mooring basin there on Tuesday morning. After finishing we headed toward Charlevoix but en route had a change of orders. The Steamer Conneaut needed assistance going into Grand Traverse Bay. We finally did reach Charlevoix but not until late in the evening.

While in port all day Wednesday we took aboard a small boat for delivery at Poe's Reef light station near Cheboygan. We got underway at 4 a.m. Thursday in order to meet the Steamer Conneaut near White Shoals Light to escort her through the Sraits area. After putting the small boat off at Poe's Reef light we picked up two small buoys that were off station because of the ice.

In the evening we were relieved of duty in the Straits area and proceeded to the Escanaba area, arriving early in the morning. We spent all day Friday breaking out the ore docks in Escanaba and numerous other docks in the Little Bay deNoc area. We also assisted two of the giant steamers of the lakes, the Wilfred Sykes and the L. E. Block, as they made their first trip south with loads of iron ore.

On Saturday, after assisting another ore boat, we put the light keepers on Minneapolis Shoals light which guards the entrance to Little Bay deNoc. We returned to Escanaba and continued to widen the tracks through the ice before mooring for the night at the city dock in Escanaba.

After breaking and widening ice paths on Sunday morning we left just afternoon for Sturgeon Bay, Wisc., in order to be of assistance to any ships in the Green Bay area.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

We tied up alongside a beautiful park in Escanaba. The balls, gloves and hats were broken out and a good pepper game was held until darkness called a halt. The weather has opened many of the ice field but it is still thick in the northern areas and in Green Bay. For some of the crew members Sturgeon Bay was like a second home as bull sessions went on far into the night with men from the Hollynock and Arundel swapping stories, for the Wisconsin men aboard, Sturgeon Bay was familiar ground. Dewie, our mascot, is getting smarter by the day. She now runs to the galley door when dinner is piped.

Funeral Rites Held For Arthur A. Sage

Funeral service were held Friday at St. Mary's church for Arthur A. Sage who died Tuesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Goldie Roof of Boyne City. The Rev. E Francis Denay officiated at the service Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Born in Greenville Nov. 29, 1906, Mr. Sage came to Charlevoix county as a child and except for a 10 year period between 1946 and 1956 when he lived in Detroit, he had resided in the county. He had lived here for the past three years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Florence Rickerd whom he married in 1939; three stepsons, Raymond Frye of Grand Rapids, Julius Frye of Detroit and Gerald Frye who lives in the south; three sisters, Mrs. Roof, Mrs. Tony Leone of Kankakee, Ill., and Mrs. Martha Townsend of Ypsilanti and a brother, Milton Sage, of Pontiac.

Local Kroger Employees Win First Place in Area Contest

Jack Bone, Kroger vice-president, announced today that the local Kroger store had been a winner in a recent company customer service contest. In a visit to the local store, Mr. Bone presented Max Moore, the local manager, and his store personnel with a handsome trophy appropriately engraved.

This award, entitled "Our Customer Award," was an idea conceived by a group of store managers in the Western Michigan area, who serve on a special advisory committee.

The whole idea was based on the objective of giving better service to customers in Kroger stores. The contest was based on store friendliness, store cleanliness, personnel appearances, and freshness and variety of product.

The local Kroger store placed first in competition with other Kroger stores in this area. In addition to the trophy award, all store employees will be honored at a special dinner meeting.

The People's Choice!

The trucks you see operating over the streets and highways of Michigan are there because the people want the swift, dependable transportation service they provide. People who operate factories, run farms, own retail business — they rely on trucks to stock their enterprises and to ship their finished products. And the people who buy these products —their needs, too, are served for the most part by trucks. It's a service they've grown used to, a service which has become a vital part of the American way of life . . . Yes, motor transport is the people's choice, a service and convenience that serves them night and day!

3rd STRAIGHT YEAR! PLYMOUTH V-8 WINS ITS CLASS IN MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN!

OTHERS TALK ECONOMY—PLYMOUTH DELIVERS IT!

Other cars have talked economy this year. But a Plymouth V-8 has just proved it can give better gas mileage than Ford or Chevrolet V-8s. Plymouth did it by winning its class for the 3rd straight year in America's recognized competitive test for economy. Plymouth's score: 21.15 miles per gal.

HERE ARE MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN FACTS:

- A Plymouth V-8 has just won its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run for the third year in a row. Ford and Chevrolet both finished behind Plymouth. Plymouth scored 21.15 miles per gallon.
- Winning Plymouth was a Belvedere 2-door hardtop, equipped with standard Fury V-800 engine and automatic transmission.
- Run was sanctioned by United States Auto Club.

HERE ARE WHAT THESE FACTS MEAN TO YOU:

- As a Plymouth owner, you can expect economical operation in everyday driving.
- As a Plymouth owner, you're driving the car that gave better gas mileage than Ford or Chevrolet in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.
- As a Plymouth owner, you can also expect top performance (Plymouth's winning V-8 is the biggest standard engine in its class).

Plymouth's low prices, low upkeep, high resale value and proven gas economy make it the year's best economy buy in its class. And Plymouth delivers the Big Difference in style, ride, performance, features and comfort, too! A "Two-Mile Try-Out" will prove it, so take yours today!

Cancer Crusade Workers Ready To Start Drive

Cancer Crusade workers have their material and are poised for the fund campaign scheduled to open this week the Rev. Robert J. Yonkman, campaign chairman, said this week.

In announcing the start of the drive the Rev. Yonkman said that there would be no drive in the business district. He urged that all persons living in the residential district be prepared for the visit from the workers who are volunteering their services in this humane project.

"Cancer is listed among the top 'public enemies' of health. Its extermination should become a personal challenge to every individual for, as a killer, cancer can strike any one in any community at any time

Hold Youths For Damaging Boyne School

Two Boyne City youths, James C F. Watson, 21, and Massen Martin, 19, appeared in justice court here Saturday, charged with breaking and entering the Boyne City high school the night of April 7.

Both waived examination and were bound over to the next term of circuit court. They were returned to the county jail when they failed to furnish bonds of $5,000 each as set by Justice John Connolly.

The pair and a 16-year old were arrested late Friday following an investigation by the Boyne City police, sheriff's officers and state police from the Petoskey post placed them at the high school at the time of the breaking and entering. Sheriff Rose reports the pair signed statements admitting they broke into files in the offices of the superintendent and principal and did extensive damage to records. They also broke eggs on the floor and in the hallways.

A hearing at which the minor 16 year old has been ordered to appear will be held in the office of Probate Judge William T. Downs at 2 p.m. Friday to determine if jurisdiction will be waived to circuit court.

The day after the breaking and entering was discovered, school officials at Boyne City received an anonymous telephone call stating that a bomb had been planted in the school. Classes were dismissed and thorough search made by police officials. However, no bomb was found.

On Friday three minors, two 14 years old and a 15 year old were questioned about the ficticious bomb report and later admitted making it.

On Saturday Thomas Boris, 17, of Boyne City, was brought into justice court here where he pleaded not guilty to the charge of making a ficticious report regarding the bomb. Bond was set at $100 by Justice John Connolly. He was remanded to the county jail to await a hearing to be held at a later date after failing to furnish bond.

A hearing for the three minors involved in the bomb scare charge will be held at a later date Judge Downs said.

Local Barber Shop Chapter Elects Officers

Paul Kohler was elected president of the Charlevoix chapter of SPEBSQSA at the annual election held last week Wednesday evening. He succeeds K. Byron Wright, who served as the first president of the re-organized chapter last year.

Other officers elected are: vice-president, Des Milligan; secretary treasurer, John Makel; directors, Dean Davenport and Henry Ingalls; music director, C. A. Odmark; district delegate, Dean Davenport.

Rehearsals and a social hour of the Barber Shoppers will be held every Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the rehearsal room in the Dr. Martin building, Mr. Kohler announced. C. A. Odmark, director of music in the Charlevoix high school, will direct the chorus signing each Wednesday evening.

Membership in the Barber Shoppers is not limited to men with trained voices, Mr. Kohler points out. Any man who enjoys barber shop harmony, regardless of his singing ability, is invited to belong to the organization and enjoy its sociability.

Former Resident Dies in Atlanta

Mrs. William H. Taylor, 71, former local resident who has lived at Atlanta for the past six years died Sunday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient since April 1. She had been in failing health for several months.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Winchester Funeral Home here with the Rev. L. L. McPherson of Atlanta officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born at Wakely, Mich., Feb. 18, 1888, the former Perthana Bixby was married to Mr. Taylor at Cadillac in 1911. They made their home in Battle Creek until 1921 when they came to Charlevoix. They were among the first resort operators in the area and operated Taylor's Cabins on Carpenter ave. and Bridge st. until retiring six years ago. Since then they have lived at Atlanta where she was a member of the Full Gospel church, the Rebekah lodge, the Encampment of the IOOF and the Sportsmen's club.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one brother, Vandorn Bixby of Elberta, Michigan.

Junior Class Play, "The Unguided Miss" To Be April 25

The three act comedy, "The Unguided Miss" by William Davidson, will be presented at the Charlevoix high school auditorium Saturday, April 25, by the Junior class of the local high school.

The play, directed by Mrs. Robert G. Martin, tells the story of an Italian exchange student in this country, Lucia Ferrari, played by Vicki Miller, and the many problems she faces while living with a typical American family, Clint and Madge Bryce (Bruce Kroll and Julie Hubble) and their children, Susan, a misguided miss (Sandra Zipp) and her kid sister, Buzzie, (Sally Weidman).

The complication, the exchange of ideas, the romance and humor combine here in a thoroughly enjoyable play which promises to entertain the entire family.

Mrs. Martin is being assisted by Mrs. Harry Stewart. Kay Ulrich is the student director

Visions of 50 Years Ago

Maple Sugar House
MAXBAUER'S DAIRY

This common sight of 50 years ago was a big attraction on the streets of Charlevoix during the Maple Syrup Festival last weekend. The vehicle first appeared on Charlevoix streets when Nat Burns purchased it new in 1909 to deliver milk to his customers. It was later used, about 1912, by theWithor's Dairy. After being discarded by Withers it disappeared.

John Boss, manager of Maxbauer's Creamery, found it stored over near East Jordan last year and returned it to Charlevoix as a prize possession.

Dick Lyons furnished the pony for the one-horsepower exhibition Friday and Saturday. Driver was Albert Sharrow who has had experience as a driver on Mackinac Island.

Supervisors Raise County Valuations

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors set the county's assessed valuation for 1959 and adopted a tentative budget for 1960 before adjourning their 91st annual spring meeting Saturday.

The county valuation was set at $22,359,703, an increase of $509,698 over last year's valuation of $21,850,005. The new valuation figure includes $296,257 in new properties.

Hudson, Norwood and St. James townships and the city of Boyne City were in the only taxing units in the county to receive cuts. Most of these were due to minus adjustments. The decrease in St. James township was due to the loss of High Island to the state of Michigan.

The tentative budget for 1960 was set at $289,441 as compared with the adopted budget of $226,272 for 1959. The tentative budget includes a deficit of $19,453.

Probate Judge William T. Downs appeared before the board to outline the drastic need for a juvenile detention facility and suggested that a suitable licensed boarding home be designated as such a facility. The board gave its approval to this and allowed $50.00 per month as a retainer fee for such a home for a period of one year.

The board also approved a resolution submitted by the county welfare commission headed by Percy Penfold of East Jordan. According to the action, all able-bodied persons now receiving aid will be dropped from the welfare rolls May 1. During the forthcoming months they must, in addition to making an effort to obtain jobs, make provisions to set aside food by having gardens, canning fruits and vegetables and a fuel supply for next winter. They must not spend their income during the summer for alcoholic beverages and must make an effort to set aside funds for another winter.

Another resolution asking the board of supervisors to petition the State Legislature to provide means of purchasing lands now owned by the Conservation Department by land owners in the area for use as pasture for livestock was approved.

A committee to plan the dedication of the new county building was named by Russell Curtis, chairman of the board. Serving on this committee are Clarence Rabach, Charles A. Robinson, Robert F. Barnett of East Jordan, Lewis Davis of Boyne City and Fenton R. Bulow.

The following unit taxing valuation were approved.

$267,495 Budget Approved by Charlevoix School Directors

The Charlevoix board of education approved a budget of $267,495 for 1959-60 at its regular meeting Monday night.

The budget for next year is $14,680 over the 1958-59 budget of $252,815.

The budget is based on anticipated membership of 915 students, 15 less than were enrolled during the third week of school last fall when official membership is counted.

The increased membership plus the normal increase in the salary schedules for teachers and principals and the cost of operation are main reasons for the increase.

The salary of the superintendent, R. G. Bennet, will be in accordance with the budget rather than the salary scale.

In announcing the needs for the coming year, a spokesman for the board said that if State Aid to schools, which in the case of the Charlevoix schools is $190 per student with 2¾ mills deductable, remains the same the school district must have 8.62 mills from the county to meet budget needs. However, if the new State Aid bill is approved and the school receives $210 with 3½ mills deductable the needs can be met by 8.01 mills.

At the same meeting the board gave its approval to a proposal presented by representatives of the Kiwanis club, Frank Bird, Kit Carson, John Uhrlck and Ralph S. Hamilton.

The delegation met with the board to ask if the school would accept a swimming pool if the Kiwanis Club would underwrite the cost of the pool and its installation. The board gave its approval with the understanding that it meet with state health law and regulations.

Sailing Squadron To Hold Third Tri-Sail Race

The Grand Traverse Sailing Squadron will hold its third annual Storm, Tri-Sail race from Traverse City to Charlevoix and back over the Memorial Day weekend according to William Amendt, race chairman.

Boats will leave Darrow's Marine base at Traverse City at 6 p.m. Friday, May 29, for Charlevoix. The sailors will make the return trip Sunday, leaving Charlevoix at 8 a.m.

Past entries expected to participate again this season include Gus Rogers' 49 ft. yawl, 'Cynthia;' John Norton's 26 ft. yawl, 'Seabird'; Ben Taylor's sloop 'Hizzoner'; Ernie Isaacson's sloop, 'Escape' and Roger Allen's sloop 'Spook.' A new entry will be Doc Newland's 38 ft. yawl.

Other sailboat owners have been invited to participate in this popular event. Any seaworthy boat capable of making the 50-mile course and having proper safety equipment can qualify. Sailors interested should contact Mr. Amendt, race chairman, at Cherry Growers Inc. at Traverse City.

The boats will be racing for the Ray Darrow Storm Tri-Sail cup.

John Timmer, 64 Businessman at Ellsworth Dies

Ellsworth — John Timmer, 64, local businessman and former Charlevoix Courier correspondent, died early Sunday at Little Traverse hospital in Petoskey where he had been a patient since Thursday.

Funeral services were held Thursday at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church with the Rev. Henry Zwaanstra officiating. Burial was in the Ellsworth cemetery.

A native of Zeeland where he was born April 5, 1895, Mr. Timmer came to this area with his parents in 1902. During World War II he served with the U. S. Army. From 1920 to '23 he was manager of the Phelps Marketing Association and from 1923 to '31 managed the Ellsworth Farmers Exchange. In 1931 he entered into a partnership with the late Isaac H. Horrenga in a business known as the Ellsworth Feed Co. In 1936 the partnership was dissolved and the business became known as the John Timmer Feed Store, which he operated until his death.

Mr. Timmer was a lifelong member of the Christian Reformed church and served as organist and deacon in the church. He also was a member of the local American Legion post and had served as city assessor since 1955.

He is survived by his wife, the former Elsie Horrenga Boes whom he married in 1923; a son, James and a grandson, Franklin John, of Ellsworth; three brothers, Peter H. Timmer of Charlevoix and Jacob and Ben of Ellsworth and four sisters, Mrs. Carl TerHaar of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Richard Oosterbaan, Mrs. John Oosterbaan and Miss Kathryn Timmer, all of Ellsworth.

Dr. L. Jerome Fink To Speak Friday At P. T. A. Meet

"Adolescent Problems in Relation to the Parent and the Community" will be the subject of Dr. L. Jerome Fink's talk at the regular meeting of the Charlevoix Parent Teacher Association scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at the high school auditorium.

Dr. Fink is a well known Pontiac psychiatrist who is on the staffs of Pontiac General and St. Joseph Hospitals in Pontiac and the Haven in Rochester.

A native of Connecticut, Dr. Fink received his early and medical training in Detroit, graduating from the Wayne University College of Medicine. During World War II he served with the Army Medical Corps. He was assistant medical superintendent of Pontiac General Hospital from the time of his discharge from the army until 1958 when he entered private practice.

Mrs. E. D. Hawley, president of the PTA, has issued an invitation to all parents and to those people who work with the youth of the community to hear Dr. Fink speak Friday night.

Annual Mother-Daughter Banquet Is Wednesday Eve

Mrs. Earl A. Young will give the toast to the daughters and her daughters, Mrs. Robert Gill and Mrs. Paul Olson will respond with toasts to the mothers at the annual Mother and Daughter banquet to be held at Friendship hall of the First Congregational church at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Harold E. Kohn will give the devotions.

Mrs. Jack Rader, who last year gave the toast to the daughters, will open the program and then turn it over to Mrs. Young.

An entertaining program which will remain a surprise until Wednesday evening, has been planned by the program committee headed by Mrs. Gordon L. Freedman. Members of her committee are Mrs. Darrell Dinwiddie, Mrs. Olson and Miss Frances Milner.

Mrs. Young is in charge of decorations; Mrs. Russell Curtis heads the dining room committee and Mrs. Arthur Ranger the kitchen committee.

Workers Start Canvassing for Cancer Funds

A corps of volunteer workers are canvassing the Charlevoix area this week to accept contributions to the annual Cancer Crusade, the Rev. Robert J. Yonkman, local chairman has announced.

"These workers are contributing their time to this effort to raise funds for the American Cancer Society and I know they would appreciate your cooperation by having your contribution waiting for them," the Rev. Yonkman said.

"You, as a possible victim of cancer which strikes in one out of every three families, stand to gain by your contribution to this worthy organization which thru its research program is working constantly to find a cure for the greatest menace to health. Keep this in mind when you are considering the size of your contribution" Rev. Yonkman continued.

Workers are asked to canvas their assigned areas at the earliest possible date and report the reults to their area chairmen.

District M. U. C. C. To Hold Spring Meet at Bellaire

The spring meeting of District 16, United Conservation Clubs, will be held at 8 p.m., May 7, at Bud's Grill in Bellaire, District Chairman Robert Hills has announced.

One director to represent the district on the Michigan United Conservation Club board for a three year term will be elected at the business meeting. The entertainment program is being arranged by Syd Harris.

Members of all clubs in the district are invited and officers are especially urged to be present by Mr. Hills.

Starting Ground Search To Investigate Objects Spotted Near Beavers

A ground search of small islands located west of Beaver Island was scheduled to get underway Wednesday to investigate a bright orange object on Trout Island sighted from the air Tuesday and a life jacket spotted earlier on High Island by Joseph McPhillips of McPhillips Flying Service here to determine if either were from the steamer Carl D. Bradley which broke up and went down in a storm on Lake Michigan Nov. 18 with the loss of 33 lives.

The ground search was being organized by Richard Allgire, a representative of the Bradley Transportation Co. which is resuming its search for the Bradley in the Boulder Reef-Gull Island area as soon as ice and weather conditions permit.

The search party will make the trip from Beaver Island to the smaller islands, a distance approximately five miles, by small boat. They will also search Whiskey and Squaw islands.

Two search parties who hope to find the location of the hull of the 615 ft. Bradley are here and ready to start the search as soon as the ice moves out of the area between Charlevoix and the Boulder Reef-Gull Island area approximately 42 miles northwest of here.

The 38 ft. cruiser Penmanta of Cheboygan, engaged by the Bradley Transportation Co., to make the search was brought here Thursday from Cheboygan via truck and placed in the water at Browe Marina. Over the weekend the special sonar equipment including a Sea Scaner was checked by Larry Ross who flew here from Seattle, Wash., for this purpose. Capt. Donald T. Nauts, master of the Bradley fleet and skipper of the flagship, Munson, will direct the search for the company. Francis LeWay of Cheboygan, a commercial fisherman, will operate the boat. Other Bradley line personnel will assist.

A second search party headed by James Sawtelle, former local resident, arrived Monday from Bay City with two catamarans (double-hull vessels) which also were placed in Round Lake at Browe Marina. The larger of the two, the Blue Chip, was built at Flint for use in this search which is being conducted by the Seafarers International Union. This boat is also equipped with the finest of sonar equipment as well as special closed circuit television cameras which will be lowered to take pictures of the hull in the event it is located. A second vessel 27 ft. in length will also be utilized.

Heavy ice fields between here and the area to be searched have kept both search parties, which

They are Carolyn A. Kohn who was named valedictorian with a perfect 4 point average and Ronald L. Koteskey, with an average of 3.80 was named salutatorian.

In addition to excelling in the academic field, both have been active in extra-curricular activities.

She plans to attend the University of Michigan.

Ronald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Koteskey, Sr., was vice president of the class as a freshman. He also is a member of the local chapter of the National Honor Society, the high school chorus and the Rayder staff. He plans to attend Asbury College at Wilmore, Ky.

Others among the top 10 in the class of 61 members are Eilene Arnold, John Bingham, Cynthia Curtis, Jill Davis, Ethel Elliott, JoAnn Geer, Janice Stutzman and Kaye Ward.

Organizations Give Funds for New Park Stage

The Park Stage Fund got a shot in the arm this week with prospects bright as more organizations make plans to help the project.

Last week the Garden Club presented a $50 check to the fund, Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary-treasurer reports. Another check for $10 was received from the Guild of Lutheran Women. Mrs. Pete Bennett, acting treasurer of the Ironton Ladies Aid has presented a $10 contribution from that organization to Mrs. Carson.

Reports come from other organizations which have raised a purse for the Park Stage. The Dickens Study club voted a $50 contribution at its last meeting. The three circles of the Women's Society of Christian Service have voted contributions according to reports from the chairmen; Mrs. Lila Arvilla of the Etha Nagler circle, Mrs. Raymond Seymour of the Isabella Thoburn circle, and Mrs. Emerald Chew of the Susanna Wesley circle.

Elsewhere in the Courier is a coupon which may be used for mailing contributions by persons wishing to help sponsor the new park stage.

Allocation Board Names Chairman

Lillis M. Flanders was re-elected chairman of the Charlevoix county tax allocation board at an organizational meeting held at the county building here Monday.

The tentative tax rate will be set at a second meeting scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday.

At Monday's meeting all township budgets were checked by the board.

Other members of the board are Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, Clarence F. Rabach, chairman of the finance committee of the board of supervisors, Harlan Rubach of Boyne City, Clarence Healey of East Jordan and Albert H. Smith. The latter three were named to the board by Probate Judge William T. Downs.

Plan Bake Sale To Raise Funds for New Park Stage

A bake asle announced for 10 a.m. Friday will be sponsored by the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club Auxiliary will be one of the first public projects held for the benefit of the Park Stage Fund. The sale will be held at the Murdick Fudge Kitchen, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton president of the Auxiliary announced.

Other organizations in the area are also planning benefits for the fund, according to Dean Davenport who is serving as co-ordinator of the various activities to finance the proposed new Park Stage in East Park.

MEETING FRIDAY

A meeting of the Venetian Festival program committee will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the city hall to start plans for the summer event. Secretary C. T. Symons jr. states that it is important to have all members present.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

IF YOU WERE watching television Sunday night you saw one of the grandest guys who ever caught a baseball. Of course we mean Roy Campenella who, to our way of thinking, does as much for baseball and the world from his wheelchair as he did on the diamond. As you know he's been a paraplegic now for more than a year as the result of an auto accident. Just seeing him on the screen is an inspiration. So many people could and would have tossed in the sponge.

* * *

YOU KNOW, there was a day last week when we thought spring was more than a promise but it didn't last for the wind shifted to the northwest and icy winds blew off that white stuff that's still floating around in Lake Michigan and it wasn't warm anymore. But perhaps, if you'll be patient, it just might be spring again another day.

* * *

WE'VE NOTICED that there are some things that just don't know the difference, like the martins that return each spring on a given date in April to northern Michigan after spending the winter as far away as South America and the brave little daffodils that are a bright spot on an otherwise dull horizon.

* * *

WE WERE WISHING that we had been one of the judges in the maple syrup recipe contest, that is, the contest held in connection with the Maple Syrup Festival. Residents of the area were asked to enter the contest by making whatever they could with maple syrup. We saw some of the most tempting cakes, candies and what have you that we ever hope to see, but no one offered us a sample. Next year we're going to try to be named to the tasting committee. And, if you're smart you will apply too.

* * *

WHATEVER HAPPENED to that ship, the Sundew, that once was stationed here? We're kidding? What makes you think so? We swear the ship hasn't spent as much time in the local harbor as it did when it was stationed in Sturgeon Bay. We'll bet there are more than a few Coast Guard wives that will back us up.

* * *

WE'D LIKE TO SAY 'thank you' to a couple members of the crew of the Sundew, Doc Toussaint and Emil Leistokow, who took those heautiful pictures of the lighhouses for us. Since we've never seen the lighthouses we really appreciated it.

* * *

IF YOU CAN'T find any of your fishing friends around, come this weekend, don't be too surprised for April 25 marks the opening of trout season. Now we think it's too cold for any self respecting trout to snap at any kind of bait, but then, we could be wrong. Those fishermen will never stay home regardless of the weather. We hope they catch lots of nice rainbow and speckled and brown trout.

* * *

NOW'S THE TIME to bundle up and take off for Kipke field to see our Rayders in action on the track. Our kids did alright at Cheboygan last week and should continue to make out OK with a little effort.

Many people say they don't care for track. We find it a most interesting spectator sport and we're sure you would too if you'd take the time to investigate it. Irish Coleman is a wonderful teacher as well as track coach in the event you're willing to learn about it. Never saw anyone who could remember track times like that man can. Give him a try some day and you'll see what we mean.

Courier Letter Box

Dear Editor:

A few people besides Fran Martin have taken us to task for removing the tree in front of the post office. However, they talked to us personally giving us an opportunity to explain why it was necessary to remove it. We would have liked it better if Fran had done so too. To intimate that we had it removed without a good reason is, of course, ridiculous!

When the building was erected in 1956 the matter of removing this tree was considered, but no action was taken as the city and the owners could not agree whose duty it was to remove it. Since that time it has been necessary to keep pruning out the dead branches, and picking up the fallen limbs after every wind-storm, until all that was left of the tree was the trunk and a few main branches extending over the street and sidewalk. Would Fran, and other critics, leave the tree stand until it fell over of itself, constantly endangering property and the very lives and limbs of our citizens? Removing the tree was not our personal whim, but had the approval of the city officials and of the owners of the property.

It might be well to add that plans are underway to black top a portion of the area between the sidewalk and curb it front of the post office — where we have been trying to grow some grass, without success, except for a stray blade here and there. It won't look as nice as a velvety green lawn, but it has proved impracticable to try and grown grass where there is a constant patter of little and big feet. With this project in view, it was necessary to remove this tree this year, which otherwise might possibly have been spared for another year.

It is agreed that these are fine old trees, but we are not agreed that they should be left standing without due regard for the safety of life, limb and property. Our critics might well take a look at those trees still standing, and see how full they are of dead wood — and stay from under them when the wind is blowing. Trees, like humans, grow old; some gracefully and some not so gracefully. I think it would be better to remove the ones that need removing and replace them with new ones, so that the future generations can also be proud of living in "Charlevoix the Beautiful."

Three Youths Arraigned in Circuit Court

Three Boyne City youths charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime were arraigned before Judge Charles L. Brown at Belloire late Tuesday.

They are James Watson, 21, Massen Martin, 19, and Charles Schroeder, 16, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Boyne City high school the night of April 8 and doing extensive damage to files and school records .Their cases were referred to the probation officer for investigation. They will be sentenced at o later date. Bonds were continued at $5,000 each. They were returned to the county jail here.

Sheriff Glenn E. Rose and Harvey C. Varnum, county prosecutor, took the trio before Judge Brown who was holding a special term of circuit court at Bellaire.

nre operating independently of each other, in the local harbor. It is understood that the Bradley party will operate out of Beaver Island once the search gets underway.

Mr. Sawtelle said that his equipment can be beached and that his party plans to operate from one of the small islands in the area, weather permitting. Otherwise they may also operate out of St. James.

The Bradley of the Bradley Transportation Co. of Rogers City went down in a Sou'wester last Nov. 18 with a loss of 33 lives. Two men, First Mate Elmer Fleming and Frank Mays, a deck hand, survived the ordeal after clinging to a life raft for more than 15 hours. Eighteen bodies were recovered the following day. Fifteen are still missing.

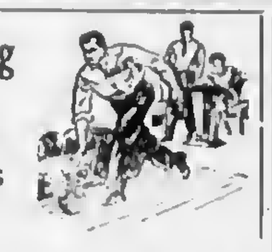
Bowling News

BY DES



This week it was Moonlight Gardens who stole the show — and they got the whole kit 'n kaboodle. Doc Ance finally got the ants out of his pants and rolled high game and series of the evening and his buddies joined in as they rolled high team gome and series of the evening. And for their reward in accomplishing all these feats they took over first place in the standings.

Moonlight had 3 men over the mark as they won all 4 points from Hess Furniture. I know what you're thinking — who couldn't win 4 points from o 3 or 4 man team—well this time they had 5 — honest. Here's something funny though — they only have 4 names written down. I guess they're just not used to writing that fifth name in there. I've heard of getting in ruts before, but this tokes the cake—Anyhow—Lyle had a big 243 game in his 589 series. Jim Lawyer came in with 538 and L. V. with a 504. For Hess' it was Herb Moore coming in with a third game of 190 to lead the team with a 410.

Freedman No. 1 jumped from 9th to 7th position and pulled Neffs down into second while doing so. Freedman's took the Neff boys for three points mostly because of John Swanson's 604 series including a 224 game. Don Towbridge also helped the cause by rolling 70 pins over his average. For Neffs it was "Big" Bergman again leading the way with his 504.

• • •

Freedman No. 2 remained in 3rd place, 3 points out by splitting 2-2 with the Airport. 2 points might not sound like much to you, but to us it was enough to get us past Browns and out of the cellar. We only won one game and that was on Hank's 223 but we stayed close enough behind in the other 2 games so we took total. Hank ended up with a 547 and Andy filling in for the ailing Soupie rolled a 507. For the LOSERS (gimme a break — this is the closest chance I've had to say that in weeks—months!) Happy Hary Pearsol found range in the last two games and came home with a 540. Besides that, there wasn't to much except Jack Niswander was 52 pins over his average. Jack says all you have to do is hit that spot.

• • •

Browe Electric stayed in the running by trouncing last weeks champs Sinclair Oil. Browe wasn't too far behind Moonlight either — in the team department —only 8 points on game and 17 on total. They did all this without the help of one 500 series. The 102 spot made up for it. Ted was high on his team with a 499. For the Oilers who weren't as sharp as usual, Kenny Cel had a 519 for top honors. Tip O'Rile was next with a 509 and then Donald B. with a 502. And Louie don't worry, I won't say a thing about you this week — I hate to say anything about anybody unless I can say something good.

• • •

Puffs is the 5th and last team in the standings which still has a mathematical chance of winning the 2nd half. They stayed in the running by winning 3 points from Lake Construction. The card indicates that this was a very quiet match with no extra excitement involved. Everybody was right around their average, some a little over, some a little under. Puff was high on his squad with a 533 while Mike Black led the Lakers with a 485. Oh,oh, my mistake, Terry Rice rolled over his average every game — that would cause excitement anytime.

• • •

Oh—and here's our buddies—the Browns—I should say Swansons as Stubs crew took all 4 points. And guess where that puts Browns—one point hehind us — if you can imagine it. I know its kind of hard. Bob Fergi was high with a 504. Bob had a nice triplicate going of 561 until that 3rd game. Now you can oll have something to work on the next few minutes and find out what 3 games he rolled. For Browns it was Pete Withers leading the way (first time this year, I think) with his 453.

To Hold Funeral Rites Today for Mrs. Fred Cartier

Mrs. Fred E .Cartier, 78, resident .of this community for 58 years, died Tuesday at the Howard convalescent home where she had been a patient for two months. She had been in failing health for several years.

·Funeral services will be held at the Winchester Funeral home at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) with the Rev. A. R. Gold officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Chatham, Ont., Sept. 1, 1880, the former Hannah Scafe was married to Mr. Cartier at Adrian, Michigan, on Feb. 25, 1899 and lived in Chatham until coming here in 1901. Mr. Cartier, retired businessman and local civic leader, died March 5.

She was a member of the First Congregational church and its Margaret Parker circle and the Garden club.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Willis A. Cross jr. of Grand Haven; three sons, Harold of New York and Dover, N. J., Dr. W. Claire of Grand Rapids and Stanley of Atlanta, Ga., 12 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren and six half-sisters.

Minutes of School Board Meeting

April 20, 1959

Present: Boss, Freedman, Lieberman, Martin, Smith and Bennett, Supt. Absent: None.

The meeting was called to order at 8:17 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of April 6 were read and approved.

It was moved by Martin and supported by Freedman that bills in the amount of $629.82 be approved and ordered paid. Motion carried: 4-0.

A committee consisting of Frank Bird, Kit Carson, John Uhrick and Ralph Hamilton, representing the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix, came to discuss the presentation of a swimming pool to become a part of the elementary school building and to be for the youth of Charlevoix. It was moved by Freedman, supported by Lieberman, that the Board accept this offer with gratitude, with the provision that State health laws and regulations are met. Motion carried: 4-0.

The possibility of a Board member attending the Foods and Equipment demonstration for school hot lunch and cafeteria programs at East Lansing, April 24 and 25, was studied.

Mr. Smith arrived at this time.

It was moved by Freedman, supported by Martin, that the note in the amount of $15,000.00 due the Charlevoix State Savings Bank on May 1, 1959, plus interest, be paid at that time. Carried: 5-0.

It was moved by Freedman and supported by Smith that Mr. Bennett discuss with the Banks, and other agencies, the most practical way to invest the building funds until such time as they are needed. Motion carried: 5-0.

The Budget for 1959-60 was discussed at length, as was the increased costs and the anticipated new State Aid legislation. A final budget of $267,495.00 was presented and discussed. This is an increase over the current budget, which is $252,815.00. Much of the increased budget is the result of the increased membership of the current year, which had not been anticipated when the 1958-59 budget was adopted. If the State Aid would remain as at present the school requirement would be 8.62 mills. If however the State Aid bill is adopted as currently expected the millage requirement would be 8.01 mills. This is anticipating a membership of 915. It was moved by Smith, supported by Freedman, that the budget be adopted as presented. Carried: 5-0.

Teachers' salaries were considered and the following motion was made by Martin, supported by Freedman: that teachers' salaries be increased to the amount as provided in the salary schedule adopted in 1957. Motion carried 5-0.

It was moved by Freedman and supported by Martin that the salary of the Superintendent, Roy G. Bennett, be increased for the year 1959-60 in accordance with the budget. Carried: 5-0.

Moved by Smith, supported by Martin, that the elementary and high school principals be given increases for the year 1959-60 as provided in the salary schedule. Carried: 5-0.

The meeting adjourned at 11:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT H. SMITH, Secretary

Band Misses Top Rating at State Festival

The Charlevoix high school band and its director, C. A. Odmark, returned early Sunday from Battle Creek where the band participated in the annual State Band and Orchestra Festival sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

The band, participating in state competition for the twelfth time in 13 years, was given a second division rating by all four judges of the festival. Chief criticism of the band was its intonation. Each judge, however, stressed the fact that the Charlevoix band was a very good one with minor deficencies (mostly playing in time) This kept the band from getting a top rating.

Mr. Odmark said that he was very satisfied with the performance of the band but added that it was not up to the standard set by the two hands which preceded the Charlevoix band on the program. As a result the deficiencies noted gave the local group a second division rating.

Judges for the event were Norman Dietz of Central Michigan College, Harry Begian of Cass Tech high school in Detroit, Richard Ecker of Bowling Green State University and Oscar Stover of Michigan State University.

The band left here early Friday and stayed overnight Friday at the Porter Hotel in Lansing. Included in the trip this year was a tour of the State Capitol building in Lansing. The tour included a visit to the House and Senate Chambers, the Supreme Court Room and the Governor's private office.

Accompanying the band were Miss Frances Milner, Mrs. Dorothy McRae and H. E. Bingham, Martin Elzinga and Bruce Henley were the bus drivers.

St. Mary's Parish Sponsors Spring Fair at School

St. Mary's parish will sponsor a spring fair at the school hall Saturday, May 2.

Funds derived from the event will be used to purchase books for the school.

The event will begin at 5 p.m. and will feature a food hooth, baked goods, candy, a variety of games, a fish pond, country store and a dance beginning at 8:30 p.m. sponsored by the high school students. A cake walk will be a feature of the dance.

A clock radio will be given away during the evening.

Mrs. Libbie Brock Dies Following Heart Attack

Mrs. Libbie Brock, 82, passed away Monday morning, April 13, in Charlevoix. She was admitted Sunday following a heart attack suffered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Hoffman of Central Lake R1.

Mrs. Brock was born February 23, 1877 in the Netherlands and came to the United States with her parents in 1881. They lived in Jamestown, Michigan briefly before moving to this area where she has since made her home.

In 1898 she was united in marriage to Frank Brock who preceeded her in death in 1945.

The surviving children are Hiarm of East Jordan R1, Minert of Southfield City, Michigan, Mrs. Jennie VanPollen of Marion, Jacob of Flint, John of East Jordan, Jim of Lincoln Park, Mrs. Alice McClanathan of Charlevoix, Arron of Charlevoix, Mrs. Lucy Hoffman of Central Lake R1, Harry of Atwood and Mrs. Elizabeth Farrell of Charlevoix; also surviving her are four brothers: Harm, John, Henry and Richard Potter of Charlevoix and one sister Mrs. Albert Klooster also of the Charlevoix area.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 15, in the Barnard Reformed Church at 2 p.m. with Rev. Charles Stoepels and Rev. Douglas VanGessel officiating. Burial followed in Atwood cemetery.

Volunteers Fill May Draft Quota

Five Charlevoix county draft registrants, all volunteers, will report May 5 for induction into the armed services Mrs. Mary Bourgoin, clerk of the draft board reported following a meeting of the board Tuesday night.

They are Lyle I. Crawford of East Jordan, Louie O. Dixon, Nelson P. Napont, Levi W. Wanegeshik, and Alvin John Jr., all of Charlevoix.

Two others were ordered to report for pre-induction physical examinations May 13. They are Cleo J. Massey of Boyne Falls and Guy W. Washburn of Boyne City.

Marine Club Offers Plans for Launching Ramp

The Charlevoix Marine Club has presented a proposal for an outboard motorboat launching ramp to be constructed on Round Lake between the Model Laundry and the city dock, it was announced Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the organization.

The proposal was referred to the docks and harbor committee for study and the committee was instructed to make a report along with estimated costs at the next meeting of the city council. City Superintendent Hal Hill was also asked to contact the State Waterways commission to ascertain if here was a possibility of getting state participation in the costs.

Construction of the ramp presents problems other than cost, Mayor E. James Hiller points out. He cites the limited parking space in the area as one of the major obstacles. However, there seems to be no other available site on Round Lake for a ramp and those interested in the project think locations on Lake Charlevoix will prove less satisfactory.

Mrs. P. D. Campbell Named President Of Dickens Club

Mrs. P. D. Campbell was elected president of the Dickens Study club at the final meeting of the club year held Monday.

Other new officers are: first vice president, Mrs. Charles A. Duerr; second vice president, Mrs. Arthur Ranger; secretary, Mrs. Harold Totten and treasurer, Mrs. Andrew Essenburg jr.

The election was held at a business meeting which followed a co-operative luncheon held Monday at the home of Mrs. L. E. Grate and attended by 24 members.

The club voted to contribute $50.00 to the Park Stage fund.

Mrs. R. G. Bennett, chairman of the book committee, reported that books had been given to each of the elementary grade library tables and that two had been donated to the junior high classes. She also reported that two books have heen ordered for St. Mary's school. The books were selected from lists compiled hy the teachers in the various grades.

Mrs. Duerr read a paper prepared by Mrs. Cora Coulter on the life of Charles Dickens.

Rites Held for Mrs. Wm. Ricksgers. Island Resident

St. James—Mrs. William Ricksgers, 76, a native of Beaver Island, died Wednesday at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where she had been a patient since Feb. 28.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Holy Cross church with Rev. Fr. Alexis officiating. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Born here Aug. 28, 1882, the former Bridget Gallagher was married to Mr. Ricksgers and spent her entire life here. She was a member of Holy Name church and the Third Order of St. Francis.

She is survived by her husband; three sons, Francis and Joseph of Detroit and James of Traverse City; several grandchildren, a brother, William Gallagher of Long Beach, Wash. and a sister, Mrs. Anna Rinehart of Wilmette, Ill.

Funeral Services Held Tuesday for M. Starkstein

News of the death of a summer resident, Morris Starkstein, 80, of Detroit, has been received here.

Mr. Starkstein, a retired Detroit businessman, died Friday in Miami. Funeral services were held at the Ira Kaufman Chapel in Detroit Tuesday. Burial was in Clover Hill cemetery.

A native of Warsaw, Poland, Mr. Starkstein had been a resident of Detroit for 48 years. He owned the General Tobacco and Grocery Co. until his retirement 13 years ago. He was a life member of Congregation Shaarey Zedek. He had been a summer resident here for more than 10 years and lived at 411 Michigan ave.

He is survived by his wife, Dora, and two sons, Jack and William.

● Mr. and Mrs. James Warren are expected to arrive from Cleveland Friday to spend the weekend here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Weldman.

● Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wagner and daughter, Jan. of Midland spent the weekend with Mrs. Wagner's mother, Mrs. A. C. Belding and other relatives.

Hospital Offers Scholarship to Area Students

The Charlevoix Hospital is again sponsoring a $500.00 scholarship to seniors and graduates of high schools in the area served by the hospital who are interested in entering the field of professional nursing, Miss Anne Baumgartner, Superintendent of the hospital, has announced.

The scholarship is open to any high school senior or graduate who resides in the area served by the Charlevoix Hospital. The applicant must have applied for admittance to an accredited school of professional nursing before applying for the scholarship and must be financially worthy. The scholarship is paid at the rate of $200.00 upon her entrance into a school of nursing, $200.00 the second year and $100.00 the third year on the anniversary of the date of entrance.

The scholarship will not be awarded until all applicants have been informed of their acceptance or rejection by the school of nursing where they have applied. Applicants accepting other scholarships will not be eligible for this scholarship.

Application blanks may be obtained at principal's offices in the area served by the Charlevoix Hospital. Deadline for filing applications is May 15.

Fire Dept. Issues Fire Warnings

The Charlevoix fire department has issued a warning regarding grass fires.

During the past week, ending at noon Wednesday, the department has answered 11 calls to extinguish grass fires which had gotten out of control.

On Tuesday a grass fire which started from an unattended trash fire threatened several buildings in Charlevoix township on US 31 South before it was extinguished. Both fire trucks were called to the scene to fight the stubborn fire fanned by a stiff wind.

Woods and fields are tinder dry and it does not take long for the smallest fire to run out of control, Fire Chief John Curtis said in warning residents of the area that they must obtain a fire permit before burning grass or brush.

Kathy Haggard Has Birthday Party

A lighted birthday cake decorated in a circus motif was a feature of the party which was enjoyed by Jimmy and Laurie Bradley, Steve, Nita and Kathy Martin, Mark and Michael Meier, Susan Hamilton and Carol Haggard.

School Students See Solar Energy Demonstration

C. Lester Johnson of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co was at the Charlevoix schools Tuesday to demonstrate the Silicon Solar Energy Converter to the students of the upper elementary and junior high classes and senior high school students interested in science.

According to Mr. Johnson, as the result of the outgrowth of transistor research in 1954, the Bell Telephone Laboratories discovered they would reach conversion efficiencies of 6 per cent by using silicon junction devices. A year later they announced n conversion efficiency of about 10 per cent. Since then there are approximately 1000 watts of solar power on every square yard of area on which sun shines, a power output of about 100 watts became possible. Solar converters thus became with considering for practical use.

Mr. Johnson demonstrated the use of solar energy to run a small motor, a telephone relay system, switch controls and a model of a Vanguard satelite which carries instruments operated by silicon solar convertors. The silicon solar convertors have powered one of the Vanguard satellite's radio transmitters since its launching in March 1958. It is believed that with the passage of time many other applications will be discovered for the silicon convertors.

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Nearly Blind; Almost Deaf

We human beings walk about the earth nearly blind, almost deaf, and with other senses greatly dulled. Comparatively speaking this is so. No known human being can see nearly as well as most birds do. Birds can far more rapidly change the focus of their eyes than can man, seeing both at longer and shorter distances as if they were equipped with built-in microscopes and telescopes. Ornithologists rate the sparrow hawk's vision as eight times better than man's, and declare that an owl can see ten times more clearly in dim light than can a human being. An eagle, watched with powerful binoculars, has been seen to sight a small fish and to plunge directly on it over a distance of three miles. Besides this telescopic vision of birds, their microscopic abilities enable them to notice and define what is far too small to engage man's attention.

When compared with many of the other creatures of earth human beings appear to have "a cold in the head and can't smell a thing." Go for a walk with a dog and see how he seems almost oblivious of you and wholly preoccupied with smells that drift through his consciousness. He runs with his nose to the ground, savoring odors f which humans are entirely unaware. This scent tells him a squirrel has recently loped over the trail. Another odor brings the news that a toad sits hidden under yonder fern. The dog's twitching nose investigates trees and stumps, holes in the earth that might be dens, and scouts every vagrant breeze. His olfactory lobes, the smelling patches that pick up scent, if spread out flat would have forty times he area of a man's, which means that a human's smell perception is a trifling thing compared to that of a dog.

Still more wondrous than a dog's smell sensitivity is the scent awareness of some insects. If you hold a big female moth an inch from your nose you will smell nothing. But place her on the inside of your window screen and she will attract male moths from all over the countryside. Henri Fabre, experimenting with peacock moths, proved that a female's scent will draw males from a distance of nearly a mile. And that is not all. A male moth can detect from a great distance by his remarkable sense organs wheher or not a female has mated!

Compared to dogs and moths our capacity to perceive odors and fragrances is a dim, dull thing.

The human sense organs for hearing, too, are weak when compared with those of other creatures. A dog can hear his master's footsteps long before human ears are aware of them. Moreover, among the noises of many shuffling feet the dog can discern his master's own peculiar step. Bats, while in flight, emit squeaks pitched so high that no human ear can detect them, and use their non-stop squeakings to guide them in their nightime aerial journeys. The sound waves of the bat's squeaks are echoed back from the objects lying in their path, and bats can judge by the time it takes for an echo to return to them just how far off the obstacles are. Thus they dodge dangers they never see.

During World War II hydrophones were developed for detecting the sounds made by enemy submarines. With these instruments faint, distant noises were picked up, amplified and interpreted. Many time sailors operating the hydrophones were alarmed by sounds they thought spelled disaster, only to discover the vibrations were made by noisy schools of fishes communicating with each other through odd grunts and squeaks. It is now believed that certain fishes send through the water vibrations sensed by others of their kind, and that these messages help keep schools of fishes together much as the constant calling of migrating flocks of warblers maintains the unity of the flock. Yet these vibrations cannot be detected by human beings without the aid of instruments.

Robins are thought to detect soft sounds of earthworms crawling through the soil. Virtually sightless moles can hear the tiniest thud of an insect falling in a distant room of its tunnel, and rush to the newly discovered meal. The natural world is crammed with sounds beyond our narrow range of perception.

It may be a great mercy that our senses are no sharper than they are. Judged by the high incidence of mental disturbances, human minds seem to be burdened as much as they can stand now with the information gathered by our dull receptors. The clamor of this Age of Noise, assaulting the mind with a confusing blast of automobile horns, ambulance and fire-engine sirens, the din of radio and television, the whine of caterwauling sentimental songsters singing of lost loves, is enough to test our reason. What intolerable trouble would assail us if the aperture of sound awareness were enlarged so that in addition to present noises ultrasonic waves reached our consciousness!

Not long ago students experimenting with sound vibration in a university laboratory placed a boll weevil, gnawing on a cotton leaf near a sensitive microphone, and then amplified the sound of the weevil's chewing. Soon the amplification reached such dimensions that the racket brought the police from their station several blocks away. Small noises, like an insect's chewing, are carried on the air constantly. The dimness of our hearing spares us the sound.

Radio waves are spread all around us. How fortunate we are that we need special equipment to catch them, convert them into a current variation and thence back into sound waves. If our natural senses were enough to do this work the din ringing in our brains would be beyond endurance. Or again, let us suppose we were born with readymade television equipment in our heads, as we have eyes, and pictures of far-off performances and events constantly danced in our brains. How we would pray for a moment's respite! Yet those pictures are flashing through the world. But our receptors are weak or non-existent, and we are mercifully spared by nature from the muddle that man-made receivers often bring us. Mercifully the Creator has exempted us from the extension of senses some of our fellow creatures possess. There is blessing in our deprivation and mercy in our dullness.

The real tragedy of dim human awarenes is not found so much in our limited capacities as in our non-employment of such consciousness as we possess. Here lies our real poverty. Our souls are poor not because of what we cannot see, or hear, but because of what we could sense, but do not. The beauty if here, the goodness and glory are spread all about us, awaiting our perception and enjoyment.

Open the Bible almost anywhere and you will find a sentence beginning "Behold—." The spiritual leaders of the race have always said that: "See! Look! Something vital and exciting is going on. Don't miss it. Behold!" No one can read the New Testament without being impressed with the way Jesus used his eyes. He saw what others missed. He noticed a poor widow casting her mite into an alms box while His disciples were absorbed in the bigness of the temple. He was attentive to little children who were being ignored by other adults. Jesus was aware of lilies growing in the fields, or flocks of sheep grazing on the hillside, of nesting birds in the trees, and of these little events He made unforgettable parables, bidding people, "Behold, the lilies! Behold the birds of the air!" Behold! Look at what is going on. And see what it means.

Jesus shared the same environment thousands of others daily experienced. But what a difference in what He saw and how He interpreted it! Everything was more than an object. Everything was a revelation of what God is like and what God is doing in this world.

Well, I'm not through, but I'm quitting. You can apply this principle of using such senses as you already have to your own experience as I intend to do with mine. Right now, I'm forsaking the use of this pen to step ouside and use my eyes and ears.

Band Candy Sale Proves Success

The annual candy sale sponsored by the Charlevoix Band Parents association proved most successful to date according to Versal Seymour, president of the sponsoring organization.

The annual candy sale was launched a week ago when approximately 60 members of the junior and senior bands canvassed the community. By the end of the week 90 per cent of shipment had been sold.

Approximately $300 will be realized from the candy sale. The proceeds will go to the uniform fund.

In announcing the results of the sale to date, Mr. Seymour expressed the gratitude of the band parents to the people of the community for their untiring support of the band and its project.

He added that anyone desiring more candy is asked to call him as soon as possible for the supply on hand is rapidly being depleted.

Larry Ross, Seattle, Wash., expert in the use of electronic search equipment, demonstrates the newest kind of underwater search device—the Sea Scaner — to Ray Allenen, Michigan Limestone Division engineer from Rogers City. Ross, brother of the inventor of the Sea Scanar, has used it successfully in locating sunken vessels in the waters of Puget Sound, Wash. Allenen is one of the search team assembled by Michigan Limestone's Bradley Transportation Line to hunt for the Str. Carl D. Bradley, lost in the northern waters of Lake Michigan last November. Both are on board the "Penmanta," search vessel for the Bradley Line, as it was put through the paces in pre-search tests here.

Launching the Penmanta, 38 foot cruiser equipped with modern sonar and radar instruments, which will be used in the search for the Steamer Carl S. Bradley freighter which sank in northern Lake Michigan last Nov. 18. Capt. Donald T. Nauts, fleet captain of the Bradley Transportation Line, will command the search. Operating the Sea Scaner will be Frank Sager, electronics technician of Rogers City.

REMEMBER HOW awkward you felt because you needed to make a Long Distance call from a friend's house? They wouldn't take your money and that only made it worse. Then there was that time in the public booth. You emptied all your pockets but you were still one nickel short, and nobody but nobody had the right change. A telephone credit card is what you need. With a Michigan Bell Telephone Company Credit Card, all your calls, anywhere, can be added to your home phone bill. And the card itself costs nothing. Call our Business Office about it.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. James W. Gallagher

Mrs. Dorothy McGregnr made a business trip to Charlevoix, Petoskey and Traverse City Monday returning Thursday.

James W. Gallagher left Monday for Charlevoix where he will be employed as dock manager. James will replace Jnseph Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson spent two weeks visiting their children in Illinois.

Miss Gale Dillingham returned home from a three weeks vacation in Detroit. Gale is a modern little Miss of four years making the trip to and from here to Charlevoix without her parents.

Mrs. Mary Martin returned home after spending the winter in Grand Haven with her daughter, Mrs. Catherine Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Donnell returned home after spending the winter in Muskegon and Chicago.

Funeral services for Mrs. William Ricksgers were held at Holy Cross Church Saturday morning. Rev. Father Alexis officiated. Members of Altar Society, carrying lighted candles were in the funeral procession. Mrs. Ricksgers as a Third Order of St. Francis Member was attired in a Third Order Robe for her burial.

Those from out of town attending the funeral of Mrs. William Ricksgers were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ricksgers of Detroit, Joseph Ricksgers of Cleveland and Harold Ricksgers of Grand Rapids.

Joseph McDonough (Bud) is on the mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McDonough are being transferred from Ludington to Charlevoix where he will be employed at the Kroger Store.

Have you noticed the smile on poor Milt's face? The reason we think is, he was elected Judge of St. James Township by a landslide.

Island Prepares To Accommodate Summer Visitors

Beaver Island is a more or less isolated community throughout the winter months where the year-around residents play and work with little distraction from the outside world. With the arrival of spring, however, there's a hustle and bustle making preparations for the arrival of summer residents and vacationers who are intrigued with America's Emerald Isle.

Plans for the coming season began to take shape at the annual meeting of the Beaver Island Civic association last Thursday evening and reports indicate the individual enterprises are well on the way to readiness for the summer visitors.

The Beaver Lodge will have a new manager. A graduate of Michigan State University. He is thoroughly acquainted with hotel management and we understand will do all in his power to make Beaver Lodge a very pleasant place to stay.

The King Strang hotel together with the Isle Haven Tourist Court, McDonoughs Cabins, Allens Cabins will all be ready for the tourists this summer.

Tee Pee Washum (Laundry) will open about the second week in May. The miniature golf course will also be opened in May.

Larry's Stables will be ready for business between the 1st and 10th of June.

Charlie Martin's Fishing Guide Service will be ready anytime anyone desires to fish.

Holy Cross Catholic Church will have services every day and Masses on Sunday as advertised in the Beaver Island Courtesy Guide. St. James Episcopal Mission will have regular Sunday services conducted by visiting clergy.

Killarney Inn, The Villa, Beachcomber and the Shamrock will be open and operating daily.

B. I. Telephone Company is busy installing new phones and this service will be available to summer tourists desiring a phone.

Roads are being repaired and graded to make traveling about the Island as pleasant as possible.

Open daily will be the Garage, grocery stores, post office and the power plant.

The Emerald Isle will begin sailing when the weather permits. It is ready at the present time.

The Coast Guard Station will be opened in the very near future. Also on the job is the new conservation officer, Vernon Fitzpatrick.

Sundew Reports

Underway early Monday morning for a short trip to the Sturgeon Bay Lifeboat station to pick up the personnel going to the Green Bay Harbor entrance light. We put them on the light just after noon breaking a track thru the ice for the tanker vessel Clark Milwaukee.

We moored in Green Bay in late afternoon and while some of the men left on liberty immediately, others played some ball in the huge parking lot next to the dock.

After taking food and other supplies, we departed on Tuesday for the Escanaha area once again but on the way broke out the harbor at Gills Rock, Wis., where the ferry ties up from Washington Island. We reached Escanaba by evening.

All day Wednesday was spent in re-opening the closed track in the ice and assisting several ore boats in and out of the Escanaba area. Heavy southwest winds helped to break up the ice but also closed all leads.

Started for Green Bay on Thursday but had to turn back because some of the vessels were having trouble negotiating the passage into Escanaha. Friday was much the same as the rest of the week, keep the tracks open, assist vessels, keep breaking up the ice so any shift in the wind would blow it out of the area.

Saturday we made one last swing up the bay, breaking out the fuel docks at Gladstone and Kipling and then left for Sturgeon Bay to pick up fuel. Loaded the fuel on Sunday morning and departed after dinner for Charlevoix. A brisk wind from the northeast caused a slight roll which was actually welcomed after weeks of scraping, pushing and hammering away at nothing but ice.

We were delayed about 15 minutes by ice outside the Charlevoix harbor Sunday night.

Though we did manage to keep a track open where ever we were this past week, the real help came from the sun and the high temperatures and some rain for about two days. Nothing rots the ice as fast as these last factors.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

Had a big ball game at Escanaba Saturday morning but the winter stiffness still isn't out of the shoulders and legs . . . Congratulations to Jerry Wyant. He returned from leave with a box of cigars announcing the arrival of a baby girl . . . More cigars coming up soon. Ernie Pelon was advanced to Damage Controlman third . . . Dewie (our mascot) has a new bunk out of canvas and wood. She gets smarter by the day. Goes to mooring stations on the quarter deck though she has been sleeping in late because of escapades in some of the cities we were in recently.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Magic—Easy Does It

Little Pinky Roberts was so fond of her two baby rabbits Easy didn't have the heart to tell her they had run away.

"Just had to replace those rabbits before Pinky came home from school," Easy said. "Trouble was the only two available were full grown.

"I figured they'd have to do," he went on, "so I just hoped for the best. Then, when Pinky saw the rabbits she ran into the house, yelling, 'Wait'll you see my rabbits! Those vitamins made them twice as big!'"

From where I sit, children see things as they'd "like them to be," but adults ought to see things as they are. For instance, we can't close our eyes to intolerance and call ourselves "good neighbors." If I don't respect your choice of tea or coffee and you don't respect mine for beer, that's intolerance and no excuses. On the other hand, tolerance makes good friends "multiply."

Spring Tonic for Sportsmen

For many sportsmen, winter's sting will soon be erased by the opening of trout season. As one of Michigan's most popular outdoor sports, trout fishing annually attracts more than 225,000 anglers. Fishermen have more than 36,000 miles of streams and rivers to chose from during the April 25-September 13 season this year. Conservation Department workers restocked public waters with approximately 2,500,000 trout last year to enhance fishing prospects for the coming season.

Sign Members For North Mich. Concert Series

This is Community Concert week throughout northern Michigan according to Ross Stoakes jr., president of the Northern Michigan Community Concert Association.

The purpose of this year's drive, as in the past, is to accept renewal memberships from current subscribers and to enroll new members for a series of concerts to be given at the Petoskey high school where association members from 20 area communities have heard top-flight artists during the past 12 seasons.

The Northern Michigan Association has presented such attractions as the Denver Symphony, Detroit Symphony, Guard Republican band of Paris, Vienna Choir Boys and the Boston Pops Orchestra to mention a few and such individual artists as Alec Templeton, Eleanor Steber, William Warfield, Dorothy Kirsten and Eugene Conly and many others. The programs have all been of highest caliber and it is the plan of the Association to continue its fine record. During the 1959-60 season association members will be treated to same quality music and entertainment. Thus far the Association has announced a 'hold' on 'Vienna on Parade," a company of singers and dancers representing the cream of the world's most charming city, Vienna. The group boasts the famed Deutschmeister band under the baton of Captain Julius Herrmann. This group is much in demand and the association is fortunate to be able to book them, Mr. Stoakes said.

Attendance is by membership only, according to Mrs. Allen McCune, membership chairman. Headquarters in the Flora Ottimer shop in Petoskey will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily this week.

In Charlevoix Mrs. C. A. Odmark, Mrs. Leonard Burns, Mrs. Charles Bellinger, Mrs. Lee Moerland and Fran Martin will serve on the membership committee. Anyone wishing a new membership may call the Petoskey headquarters, DI 7-4777 or any of the local committee members.

Maya Indians regarded the passage of time as life's most absorbing interest. They worshiped the days as living gods and erected stelae to mark the end of significant time periods, National Geographic says. From this consuming interests came a crowning intellectual achievement: a chronology as accurate as the Old World's Gregorian calendar, which was devised centuries later.

Ferry Service to Beavers Opened By Emerald Isle

The motorship, Emerald Isle, of the Beaver Island Boat Co., made its initial trip of the 1959 season to Beaver Island Tuesday.

Last year the ferry made its first trip on April 2.

Heavy ice in northern Lake Michigan has kept the motorship at its berth here.

When the boat left the harbor Tuesday it was escorted through an ice field outside the piers by the Coast Guard cutter Sundew which also opened a path for five fish tugs departing from the local harbor.

Earlier the cutter Acacia transported emergency food supplies, gasoline and fuel to Beaver Island whose only contact with the mainland since Dec. 31 has been via plane.

Until May 1 the Emerald Isle will make three trips weekly, weather and ice conditions permitting, with mail, supplies and passengers. Effective May 1 the boat will make trips daily except Sunday.

Mail Schedules Change Monday

A change in the train schedule which will find the C & O train arriving from the south at 2 p.m. daily except Sunday effective Monday has necessitated a change in the deadline for northbound letters and parcels and of all mail deliveries to the north side and part of the valley route, according to Postmaster Peter H. Timmer.

Beginning Monday the train will arrive from the south at 2 p.m. instead of 1:35 p.m. There will be no change in the time the southbound train leaves Charlevoix.

Effective Monday northbound mail must be deposited in the postoffice at 1 p.m. There will be a second northbound dispatch at 5 p.m.

The deadline for southbound mail will remain the same, 12 noon, 3:15 and 5 p.m. The best connections for Chicago and the west are with the mail going out at 3:15 p.m. Mr. Timmer said.

Due to the late arrival of the mail train from the south, there will be a change in city mail delivery to the north side, Clinton st., Park ave. and Palmer st.

Beginning Monday the carrier will leave the post office at 1 p.m. with mail for the north side. Service will be approximately two hours earlier than in the past. However, it will not include the mail arriving on the afternoon train.

After returning from the north side route, the carrier will then serve the business district at about 3:45 p.m. The patrons living in the Clinton St.-Park ave.-Palmer st. area will receive their mail at a later time. However, they will benefit by receiving all mail from the afternoon train.

Capt. Alfred Brow (dark jacket) lowers the 10-ton catamaran, Blue Chip, into Round Lake at Brow Marina for the Aquatic Development Engineering Co, preparatory to a search for the freighter Carl D. Bradley which sank in the vicinity of Boulder Reef last November. A smaller vessel of similar design will also be used in the search headed by James Sawtelle, former local resident.

This search, sponsored by the International Seafarers Union, will operate independent of the searching party organized by the Bradley Transportation Line. The two catamarans were transported from Bay City here Monday because ice conditions blocked a water route via the Straits of Mackinac as originally planned.

The Blue Chip is powered by two 60 horsepower outboard motors. Both catamarans are equipped with sonar instruments to detect objects on the lake bottom.

Girl Scout Father and Daughter Banquet Is Popular Event

The ninth annual Girl Scout Father and Daughter banquet held Wednesday at the high school gymnasium was the most successful to date with 446 Girl Scout, Brownie Scouts, their respective guests, leaders and Council members and their respective guests, leaders and Council members and their respective husband in attendance according to Mrs. Robert O. Bergmann, Council president.

Tables were decorated in a variety of motifs planned and made by the 13 troops.

At the brief program which followed Mrs. Bergmann welcomed the guests and in her brief talk said "In Charlevoix Scouting is more than a word, it is a way of life. The excellent response to this banquet is proof of that." She went on to outline the aims of the Girl Scout program and said that its chief aim was to mold future citizens. "With so many fine people giving of their time and talents as leaders, council members and resource people, Charlevoix can well be proud of its Girl Scout program" she concluded. She then introduced the members of the Council who are: first vice president, Mrs. Ray Wood; second vice president, Mrs. Clifford Riley; secretary, Mrs. Frank Bourgoin; treasurer, Mrs. Leonard Burns; registrar, Mrs. Gordon Freedman; troop organization chairman, Mrs. Herbert Campbell; program chairman, Lester Smith who planned the banquet; training chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Arnold; finance chairman, Mrs. James Gallagher; Juliet Low chairman, Mrs. Harry Stewart; camping chairman, Mrs. Robert Pearl; nominating chairman, Mrs. Orlin Cunningham and her committee, Mrs. William Bergmann, Mrs. Joseph Etienne, Mrs. John Schroeder and Mrs. Robert Richards; publicity chairman, Fran Martin; Leaders club representative, Mrs. Jack Rader.

Mrs. Campbell, organization chairman, introduced the leaders, assistant leaders and senior scout who are aids. They are: Mrs. Louis Hooper and Mrs. Russell Dohm, Troop 5; Mrs. T. R. Weidman and Mrs. Warren Toussaint, Troop 7; Mrs. Robert Yonkman and Mrs. Eugene Curtis, Troop 16; Mrs. C. A. Odmark and Mrs. Eugene Bergmann, Troop 17; Mrs. Gerald Lakies and Mrs. Frank Gallagher, Troop 15; Mrs. Jack Rader and Mrs. Richard Edwards, Troop 2; Mrs. Danford Gallagher, Troop 4; Mrs. Lloyd Arnold and Mrs. Lyla Arvilla, Troop 3; Mrs. Robert Pearl, Troop 13; Mrs. Ray Wood, Troop 8; Mrs. James Gallagher and Mrs. Carlton Ikens, Troop 11; Mrs. Clifford Riley, Troop 10; Mrs. John Schmidt, Troop 1.

First Class Scouts introduced were Sharon Abfalter, Marlene Chew, Susan deCastro, Susie Helms, Virginia Hamlin, Judy Ikens, Kathy Gallagher, Jeanette Novak, Maureen Sanford and Lorraine Heise.

Girls who had earned the Curved Bar award, the highest award in the program, are: Eilene Arnold. Julie Schofield, Frances Hayes, Karen Pierce, Janet Schmidt, and Nancy Staley.

Mrs. James Gallagher, cookie chairman, reported that Girl Scouts sold 1502 boxes of cookies. Mrs. Rader's Troop sold 371 boxes and Virginia Russell of that troop sold a total of 81 boxes. We expressed her appreciation to the leaders, Scouts and parents for their fine cooperation.

Mrs. Robert Pearl, camping chairman, reported that Brownie Day Camp would be held at the Rod and Gun club June 8 thru 12 with Mrs. Chester Belfy as camp director. Girl Scout troop camp will be held at Camp Sea Gull at the same time.

Mrs. Lester Smith, program chairman, spoke briefly, thanking everyone for helping to make the banquet a success.

Mrs. Ralph S. Hamilton was toastmistress, Mr. Odmark lead group singing with Mrs. Leonard Burns at the piano. The Rev. A. R. Gold gave the invocation.

School Athletes Entertained at Annual Dinner

The Charlevoix high school football squad, All State Class C and Conference champions as well as basketball and track athletes were honored Monday at an All-Sports banquet given at the VFW post home by the VFW and Knights of Pythias and attended by more than 120 sports fans.

Danny Rose, athletic director at Central Michigan College, was the guest speaker. He spoke to the athletes telling them the importance of clean living, parental discipline and supervision and religious training. Leo Wisnieski, assistant football coach, spoke briefly and showed a film of the Central Michigan Homecoming and game.

Mr. Davenport then presented Coach Carey with a plaque honoring the Charlevoix high school all-state team. The names of the 1958 team were engraved on the plaque along with those of the coaches. The plaque was presented by the sponsoring groups, the VFW and the KP's.

The Rev. Robert J. Yonkman gave the invocation and the benediction.

Students Try Hand At City Government

Charlevoix's city government was in the hands of its youth Monday as students assumed the role of elective and appointive offices in observance of Student Government Day.

Monday marked the fifth annual observance of Student Government Day, the purpose of which is to better acquaint future citizens with the operation of city government and management of its utilities.

Students who were elected to the various offices in an election at the Charlevoix high school spent the entire day with their counterparts in the various offices, visiting all the city offices, departments and utilities.

The Kiwanis club entertained the students and city officials at a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Later the students attended a regular meeting of the city council and participated in the discussions and various decisions made during the meeting.

Elective offices were held by the following students: mayor, Stephen Wells; city clerk, Carolyn Kohn; treasurer, Nancy Cook; justice of the peace, William Morrow; aldermen: first ward, Judy Ingalls and Larry Minch; second ward, Joe Beaudoin and Sandra Richardson and third ward, Mary Jean Campbell and James Dennis.

Serving in appointive offices for the day were: Charles Coleman, city attorney; Ronald Koteskey, city superintendent; Ronald Vandenberg, police chief; James VerWys, fire chief; John Bingham, street commissioner; Richard Muma, superintendent of utilities; Douglas Bergmann, supervisor of the sanitary department and JoAnn Geer, deputy city clerk.

Allocation Board Sets Tentative Rate at 6.5 Mills

The final rate will be adopted at a meeting scheduled for May 28.

The tentative rate allows 6.5 mills to the county for operational costs; one-half mill to all townships with the exception of Hayes township which did not submit a budget and Norwood township whose budget did not show a need and eight mills to all schools in the county with the exception of those in Hayes township, i. e., Bay Shore fractional and Murray, which will receive 8.5 mills.

This is the first time since 1947 that the allocation board has had a full 15 mills to work with. From 1948 through '50 two of the 15 mills were allocated to the court house sinking fund as voted and for the next seven years one of the 15 mills was earmarked for the fund which was used to finance the recently completed county building.

St. Mary's Parish To Stage Spring Fair at School

Hi! Ho! Come to the fair!

That is the invitation issued this week by the members of St. Mary's parish to the residents of the area as plans for the first annual spring fair sponsored by the parish near completion.

The fair will be staged at St. Mary's school beginning at 5 p.m. Saturday. Features of the event will be games of all kinds, food booths, cake walk, baked goods, and a dance, the latter sponsored by the high school students.

At the close of the evening a clock radio will be given away.

Call Meeting of Groups Planning Venetian Booths

All groups and organizations planning to have booths during the Venetian night festival in July are asked to attend a meeting at the community room of the city hall at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 7.

Byron Wright, chairman of the booth committee, has called the meeting to discuss various phases of the project in preparation for the festival.

Retailers Plan Promotions for Michigan Week

The Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce will promote Michigan Week by offering 'specials' on goods grown or manufactured in Michigan, according to Robert G. Lieberman, chairman of the group.

The action was taken at a special meeting of the group held Friday night. "If we are going to observe Michigan Week than we feel we should promote Michigan products," Mr. Lieberman said. As a result all members will offer special prices on Michigan products during Michigan Week

Fourth Book by Harold E. Kohn Now in Book Stores

The Rev. Harold E. Kohn's fourth book, entitled "Thoughts Afeild" made its initial appearance in book shops throughout western Michigan this week.

The book, a collection of 40 essays attractively illustrated with brush and ink drawings, by the author, was published by William B. Eerdmans Publishing Co. in Grand Rapids.

The Rev. Mr. Kohn, whose other books are "Through the Valley," "Feeling Low?" and "Pathways to Understanding" is the pastor of the First Congregational church here. His earlier books were highly popular and all three were chosen as book club selections.

A reception honoring the Rev. Mr. Kohn as author of the new publication will be held at Friendship hall of the church following the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

The Women's Fellowship of the church has extended an invitation to members of the church and friends in the community to join them in honoring their pastor.

Fire Damages Joseph Gengle Farm Residence

Fire believed to have started from a defective chimney did extensive damage to the interior of the two-story frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gengle Thursday morning according to Patrick Martin, assistant fire chief of the local fire department which was called to extinguish the fire.

The Gengle home is located 2½ miles south of Charlevoix a short distance off US31.

The attic was severely damaged by the fire and the lower floors suffered water damage as firemen fought to extinguish the flames which threatened to level the building because of a high wind.

The fire was discovered by a cattle buyer who had stopped at the Gengle farm to look at some cattle that were for sale. Mrs. Gengle was home alone at the time. Mr. Gengle had been taken to the hospital two days earlier for treatment of a heart condition.

More Contributions Received to Build New Park Stage

This past week brought more response to the fund drive for the new park stage, Mrs. Carson, secretary-treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce park stage committe, reported Wednesday.

Courier coupons were received this week from Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Belfy sr. in memory of their son, Robert, a former band member; Dr. and Mrs. George Buttrick, Ironton summer residents; and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Smith of Route 3, Charlevoix.

Contributions received in the past few weeks is building up the high hopes of the committee that there will be sufficient funds to have the stage built for use this summer.

Heavy Seas Retard Search For Sunken Ship

High winds resulting in heavy seas on Lake Michigan have temporarily halted the search for the hull of the steamer Carl D. Bradley which went down in the Boulder Reef-Gull island area last Nov. 18 with the loss of 33 lives.

The cruiser Penmanta left Charlevoix to set up headquarters on Beaver Island last Thursday and have spent one full day in the search area southwest of Beaver island. The cruiser is conducting the search in behalf of the Bradley Transportation Line, owner of the sunken vessel.

The search being conducted by the Seafarers International Union by an expedition headed by James Sawtelle of Flint, a former local resident, has not yet started. The company's two catamarans, the 47 ft. Blue Chip and the 26 ft See Hear left the local Harbor enroute to St. James late last Friday. The Blue Chip developed motor trouble about half way to the island and the two crafts drifted to the Aux Ile Galet (Skillagalee) area. The smaller craft then towed the Blue Chips to Cross Village for repairs. The two vessels left the mainland for Beaver island Sunday.

Since then the weather has kept both search parties in the harbor at St. James.

In a telephone conversation Wednesday, Victor G. Hanson, Detroit attorney representing the Seafarers International Union, said that the expedition representing the union would begin the search as soon as possible. He gave no credence to the rumor that the SIU was calling off its search.

Representatives of the Bradley Line said its boat would continue the search at the earliest possible time. The spokesman also said that the rumor that the Bradley carried $100,000 in cash at time it was lost was strictly a rumor. The payroll was paid by check and at the most only a few hundred dollars would be carried aboard the steamer, he added.

Richard A. Lomas Hospital Worker Dies Suddenly

Richard A. Lomas, 54, orderly at the Charlevoix hospital for the past nine years, died unexpectedly at his home on May st. Sunday afternoon.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Winchester funeral home with the Rev. Robert J. Yonkman officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in England, Jan. 8, 1905, Mr Lomas had come to the United States as a young man. He had come to Charlevoix during the summer for several years prior to his marriage to the former Mrs. Della Jeffery at Baltimore, Md., in 1945. They had made their home here since then. He had been on the staff of the Charlevoix hospital for more than nine years. He was a member of Christ Episcopal church.

Besides his wife he is survived by a step-daughter, Mrs. Carrie Berandt of Marquette; a step-son, Theo Jeffery of East Jordan and his mother and sister in England."

Frontier Days To Be Event of Michigan Week

The Charlevoix JayCees who have been asked to take charge of Frontier Days of Michigan Week have announced tentative plans for the event scheduled for May 23.

In announcing the plans for the special day, David Fowler, who has been named chairman by JayCee president Don Brown, said that the JayCees were also asking the cooperation of the community in order to make the day a success.

At the present time the JayCees are planning a parade which will feature the new in contrast to the old. For instance, modern day costumes in contrast to the styles of the roaring '20's or earlier; antique cars and modern day vehicles.

The needs at the present time are old costumes and persons who will participate in the parade.

All business places are extended an invitation to participate.

The parade will be led by an honor guard from the 310th Ordnance Co. with headquarters here. Invitations have been extended to antique car owners to participate. More details of the event will be announced later.

Further information regarding the plans may be obtained from Mr. Fowler or Mr. Brown.

Ellsworth Firm Offers Prize in Fishing Contest

Ellsworth — One of the top prizes offered in the annual fishing contest sponsored by Mort Neff on his television program, Michigan Outdoors, is a 16 ft. deluxe model Fawn travel trailer manufactured by the Ellsworth Coach Company, division of Morweld Steel Products Corp.

The house trailer is offered by the company as first prize for the largest Northern Pike entered in the contest. Jack Van Loo, salesmanager for the company, appeared on the announcement program to exhibit the deluxe model which sleeps five persons. It is equipped with gas range, refrigerator, lights, floor heat and electric brakes.

The Fawn models are on display at the Ellsworth plant and will be on display periodically at Leonard gas stations, sponsors of the Michigan Outdoors program.

School's Mixed Chorus to Sing at Festival Saturday

The recently organized Charlevoix high school mixed chorus will travel to Mancelona Saturday to participate in the annual Northern Area Choral Festival.

This is the first year that Charlevoix has had a mixed group. Until recently the Girls Glee club participated in the festival. However, in recent weeks male voices have been added to the group to make it a mixed chorus, C. A. Odmark, director of the group, said.

The choral festival is for completely massed groups and does not include individual performances.

The festival will get underway at approximately 9:30 a.m. Saturday when approximately 12 vocal groups from throughout the area totaling more than 700 voices begin rehearsal for the concert to be presented later in the day. Mr. Smith will work with three groups, the girls, mixed and the boys' groups, rehearsing each group in the selections they had already learned prior to the festival.

Climax of the festival will be the massed concert to be presented at 2:30 p.m. Also featured in the concert will be several individual groups which have been invited to sing.

The entire program is open to the public at no charge.

The afternoon concert scheduled for 2:30 p.m. is a spectacle that must be heard to be appreciated, Mr. Odmark said in urging parents and friends to hear the concert in which Charlevoix's 90 voice group will participate

City Offers Aid to Residents in Annual Spring Clean-up

The week of May 11 through 16 has been designated as Clean-up Week by the Charlevoix city council.

During the week of May 11 city street department workmen will pick up all rubbish placed at the curb in containers which are in good condition so they can be handled.

In announcing the dates of annual Clean-up Week, Mayor James Hiller urged all residents of the community to not only clean up but fix up their property in an effort to keep Charlevoix beautiful.

In addition to setting the dates of Clean-up week, the council handed down decisions on a number of issues on the agenda at the meeting which was attended by Charlevoix high school students participating in the fifth annual Student Government Day.

Lake Construction Co. was given a 30-day extension on the completion of harbor and dock repairs because of the delay resulting from the severe winter and late spring. The completion date is now fixed for June 1.

In an effort to facilitate the movement of traffic at the junction of Bridge st. and Belvedere ave., the council voted to post No Parking signs on the west side of Bridge st. from Antrim st. to Hurlbut ave. effective June 15 until fall.

Parking meters will be placed in use June 15 and Dixon ave. from Michigan ave. to Meech st. will be made a one-way street with traffic moving from west to east from June 1 through September 14 according to resolutions adopted by the council.

The purchase of a strip of land 10 ft. wide and 16 ft. deep on the west shore of Round Lake from Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kane was approved.

The city superintendent was authorized to purchase 44 aluminum signs at a cost of $2.90 each for use on the city docks.

Approval also was given to a brochure publicizing Charlevoix as presented by the Chamber of Commerce. The Council gave its unanimous support to the project.

A resolution objecting to the construction of a fixed highway bridge over the entrance to Spring Lake harbor was approved on the grounds that it would indirectly effect traffic in the local yacht basin. Approximately 250 pleasure craft now use the Spring Lake facilities and approximately 500 boats are stored there during the winter

Funeral Services Held for Father Of Dr. L. E. Grate

Funeral services for Alvin Grate, 69, father of Dr. Lawrence E. Grate, were held at the Sharpe-Goyette funeral home in Clarkston Saturday with burial in a Clarkston cemetery.

Mr. Grate died last Wednesday at the Goodrich hospital where he had been a patient for two days.

Mr. Grate had been a resident of Clarkston for 39 years. His wife preceded him in death 18 months ago.

Besides Dr. Grate, he is survived by three other sons, Peter of Clarkston, Ralph of Holly and Kenneth of Ortonville; a daughter, Mrs. James Aner of Detroit and five grandchildren.

Dr. and Mrs. Grate were in Clarkston from Wednesday until Sunday.

Ouderkirk Takes Over Car Repair

The partnership which formerly operated Charlevoix Motors, auto repair and body shop, has been dissolved and is now operating as an individual enterprise according to Howard Ouderkirk who is now operating the business.

Mr. Ouderkirk will continue to handle the body repair work and states he has an experienced mechanic engaged to handle the auto repair service.

Bud Kloostei, former partner, has taken a position as an aviation pilot

To Hold Massed Band Festival At East Jordan

The Charlevoix high school band will go to East Jordan Wednesday to participate in the annual massed band festival, C. A. Odmark, band director, has announced.

Because of the increased interest in the festival and the large number of bands participating, it has become necessary to divide the festival into three sections. This year the first festival will be held at Cheboygan Tuesday with nine bands participating, at East Jordan Wednesday and at Frankfort on Thursday with eight bands participating. All are under the sponsorship of District 11 of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

Guest conductor for the entire festival will be Graham T. Overgard, director of instrumental music at Wayne State University in Detroit. Mr. Overgard is widely known, not only as a conductor, but as a critic and composer. He perhaps is best known for his work as coordinator for the Detroit Lions halftime football shows seen regularly in this area.

Among the nine bands participating in the East Jordan festival will be bands from Bellaire, Boyne City, Kalkaska, Mancelona, East Jordan, the Petoskey junior and senior bands and the Charlevoix band.

The schedule calls for the festival to get underway at noon with each band playing a march and selected number of its own choice for criticism and comment by Mr. Overgard.

Following the individual performances at the high school, there will be a band parade thru the business district between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Immediately following the parade, all bands will gather at the high school for a massed band rehearsal under the direction of Mr. Overgard in preparation for the evening concert which will feature 364 young musicians. The hour-long evening concert is scheduled for 7:45 p.m.

The public is invited to any or all of the events. A small admission charge will be made with one ticket good for all the events, individual performances by each band, massed rehearsal and the evening concert.

Bands participating in the Cheboygan festival Tuesday will be Grayling, Gaylord, Mackinaw City, Rogers City, Pellston, Alanson, Harbor Springs, Onaway and Cheboygan.

Name Honor Roll Students

Students whose names appeared on the honor roll for the second six-weeks marking period of the second semester have been announced by H. E. Bingham, high school principal.

In making the announcement Mr. Bingham said that marks in regular academic subjects are the basis for determining a six-weeks honor roll average. Marks in music, physical education, the school paper or annual staff and similar projects are not used as part of the marking system in determining honor roll listings. Other recognition methods such as special medals, letters and other award are used for these extra-curricular subjects.

Mr. Bingham went on to say that a student must have an average of a full B or better, not a B minus, in at least four academic subjects to be listed among those eligible for the honor roll.

Those named to the honor roll at this time are:

BY FRAN MARTIN

DID YOU GET your limit on opening day? We understand that not too many people did but bright and early Saturday we saw a perfectly beautiful string of trout — 15 in all which Cecil Drost and his boys caught in the opening hours of the season. He wouldn't tell us where he caught 'em, and we can't blame him any, but if we were a fisherman, we'd sure try finding out. We hear, too, that in some places fish did bite Saturday but wouldn't nibble at even the rarest of bait-Sunday.

* * *

AND IF TROUT isn't your fish perhaps it's smelt. We hear that they started to run over the week end. It seems too cold for them but guess they're getting impatient so are coming in despite the weather. They'll probably hit their peak this weekend. We love the silvery fish but they're such horrid things to clean that we don't have many of 'em.

* * *

EVEN THE PERCH run is late. We remember last year at this time it was pretty well underway as we marched toward the first of May but we haven't heard too much about them to date, except, of course, that a few are being caught at Ironton. But it shouldn't be too long before Round Lake should be well dotted with the brave fishermen who defy the cold to fish for the lucious perch. We've an invitation to go fishing for these and we're thinking seriously of accepting it, but it's so hard keeping your mouth shut so long; at least, we find it so.

* * *

WILL THEY OR won't they? That's the big argument that's making the rounds at the moment as two groups search for the remains of the steamer Carl D. Bradley which went down last fall in the worst lake disaster of our day. Lake Michigan's a big lake, it's deep and it has a way of having its way when it comes to things like this. Commercial fishermen tell us that's mighty deep where the Bradley's supposed to have gone down. Added to that the lake is full of mammoth holes that were gouged out by the glaciers centuries ago and on the bottom are massive boulders dropped along the way as the glaciers inched over this area. Lake Michigan has for many a year failed to give up a great many things, as all of you can remember. It will be interesting to find out if the great inventions of modern day science will be able to accomplish what mere man has failed to do through the years. Perhaps by the time you read this the mystery of where the Bradley rests will no longer exist. And perhaps as you read this we'll have been proven wrong but we're betting that it won't be found. What do you think?

* * *

AND WHILE WE'RE on the subject of ships we'd like to mention the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway. As you know it will be formally opened in June with a great ceremony in which the Queen of England and our President will participate. But shipping knows no protocol and Saturday the great seaway was opened as vessels from many lands made their way through the canals. We can remember, way back when we were in high school, of debating on the subject of the St. Lawrence Seaway and if it should be constructed. Well, it has been regardless of what our sentiments were on the subject at the time. (To be honest we don't remember) And now we'll be seeing vessels flying the flags of nations around the world passing our very door. They'll be entering harbors along the Great Lakes that once never dreamed of foreign vessels at their docks. It should be a great thing for the entire midwest. And won't it be great fun to stand at the Straits and count the flags of various countries as we once counted the license plates of other states. Of course they won't be traveling as fast but it will be someching to see.

* * *

IN ANTICIPATION of the increased traffic in the area, especially those from other lands, there are several new special buoys being placed along the shipping lanes at the Straits. We understand that they're of special construction so they can be more readily picked up on radar then the old type buoys with which we're all familiar. So let's hope they serve their purpose and no one takes out a hunk of our bridge.

* * *

HOW ABOUT all that ice in Round Lake the other day. Seems the wind brought the big cakes into the Bay in Lake Michigan and the current brought almost enough ice in to fill Round Lake. Of course, it soon turned the ice cakes around and took them out but for a while it was great fun to watch.

After seeing all that ice we no longer wonder why there's no April showers to bring May flowers. Chances are if anything came down it would be that white stuff we were all so happy to have gone. We know the English isn't perfect but we're sure you get the idea.

Ulrika Dorothy Kohler Becomes Bride Of Carl Walter Schmidt in New York

Historic First Presbyterian church in New York City was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Ulrika Dorothy Kohler and Carl Walter Schmidt.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Paul Kohler of this city. Mr Schmidt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henry Schmidt of Ho-Ho-Kus, N J.

Dr. John O. Mellin officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white peau de soie fashioned with a fitted bodice, sabrina neckline and long sleeves trimmed with re-embroidered Alencon lace. A Juliet cap of matching lace and blusher veil of illusion comeleted the bride's wedding ensemble. She carried a boquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by two of her former Duke University classmates, Nancy Beeson of Greensboro, N. C., maid of honor, and Lee Crane Newth of Cambridge, Mass., bridesmaid. They wore identical ballerina length gowns of water Nile silk organza and small crowns of fresh baby daisies and yellow roses. Their old-fashioned houquets were of yellow and white spring flowers.

Mr. Schmidt served as his son's best man. Ushers were Bruce I. Gregory of Ho-Ho-Kus, N. J., Richard R. Forsberg of Cambridge, Mass., Paul F. Schmidt of Minneapolis, Minn., and Robert K. Creasy of Tuckahoe, N. Y.

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

A Springtime Prayer

Everlasting God, in the midst of springtime bear my thanks for every memento of Thy providential care.

For the unerring return of wayfaring warblers, without chart or compass, across vast expanses of land and sea,

For the protective shawl of green now being draped upon the shoulders of the earth, the ridges and the hills,

For the joyful, swelling chorus of all singing things arising from marsh and meadow, from woods and shore.

For all free things, now released from cramping prisons, sprouts from their seeds, leaves from their buds, birds from their eggs,

For impartial warmth and unbiased rain that fall alike on countryside and busy city, on garden of saint and of sinner,

For all clean, newly-washed things of earth, for shining roof and rain-rinsed street, for emerald field and rippled beach, for dripping trees and jeweled grasses,

For the eager readiness of the world for spring, the thawing furrows waiting for the plough and disk, this year's nests prepared for coming eggs and fledglings,

For all the signs the world is in loving hands, I give Thee thanks, O God.

Now may springtime come to me and within me.

God of brightness, may I live all my days openly before Thee and before my fellowmen, as a field in spring fearlessly exposes its face to the sun.

God of all weathers, when troubles come and like April showers, drench my days, teach me to be as patient and submissive as the earth, knowing that some sleeping good within me awaits the touch of rain.

God of all seasons, if at last Thou shouldst bless me with some fruitfulness, then let the fruit make me humble, bending me in lowliness as the modest wheat stalk at harvest inclines to the ground and as limbs of the fruit tree in autumn bow earthward, heavy with their yield.

Amen.

CARD OF THANKS

Words fail to express our gratitude to our relatives, neighbors and friends, for their many acts of kindness shown during our recent bereavement, in the loss of our beloved husband, father and grandfather. The prayers offered, personal expressions of sympathy, floral tributes, food brought in our home and monetary gifts. The help given in our sad hour was greatly appreciated. Many thanks to all. Mrs. John Timmer, James C. Timmer.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all the Blood donors, my friends and neighbors who remembered me with flowers, cards and other gifts while I was a patient in the hospital. Mrs. Floyd Gamble.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for the nice cards, flowers and gifts, I received as a patient in the Charlevoix hospital. Delia Lyon. 19c

RESOLUTION
WELFARE DEPARTMENT

April 17, 1959

WHEREAS, it is the feeling of the Charlevoix County Department of Social Welfare that the welfare rolls of this county are overloaded with persons who are able bodied,

AND WHEREAS, the Welfare Commission is desirous of doing something constructive to cut down the number of aid recipients on said rolls of the Welfare Department,

NOW THEREFORE, be it resolved by the Charlevoix County Welfare Department that, as of May 1, 1959, all able bodied persons still on the welfare department rolls shall be dropped from the said rolls, and shall not be again eligible for such relief in the fall unless they shall prove that they have, during the summer months, done all in their power to lay up food, fuel and other supplies, by gardening and canning the produce thereof, and by either laying up a wood supply themselves or by paying in advance for fuel for the winter. They must also establish to the department satisfaction that they did not spend what earnings they may have made during the summer for alcoholic beverages.

Percy Penfold, Chairman
Frank F. Bird, Member
Roy A. Scott, Member

Motion by Barnett, supported by Davis that the above Resolutions be adopted and that the same be published in all three newspapers of the county at least once. Motion carried.

Bowling News

BY DES

Well, the, big news Tuesday night was the fight for the cellar — and Browns won. They didn't have any pushover though because they bowled the Airport Inn and we've been trying for that position all second half. Browns didn't play hall though —they only brought 4 men over. They wound up losing all 4 points — and therefore cinched last place. For the winners it was Norm Empey the only one going strong. Norm came in with a 537 to lead the pack. The Inn had 3 men over the 500 mark — not by much —but over. Soupie was high with a tremendous 521. Dick Harju was second with a 505 and I was right behind, pushing all the way with my 503.

* * *

Moonlight maintained their grip on first place by winning 3 points from Lake Construction. There was nothing too outstanding done on either team, although Jim Lawyer did put together a couple of fair games to lead his team with a 518. For the Lakers it was George Bergmann leading the way with a 469.

* * *

Freedman No. 2 stayed in the running still 3 points back tho— by winning 3 from the Sinclair clan. Sinclair took the first game by 23 and that was it. Freedman won the next game by 14, the third game by 25 and total by ? (you figure it out) For Freedman it was "Happy" Harry Pearsol high with a 481. The Oilers had 3 men over the mark, but two of them were like us — Kenny Cell with a 507 & Tip with a 511. Meg went strong with his 209 game and came home with a 574 —high for the night. I see you weren't draggin, Louie! — Gill should of stayed in retirement.

* * *

Browe Electric also stayed in the running as they won all 4 points. They picked up a point on the leaders and moved into a tie for second 3 points back. Ted Browe was high for his team with a 484 but I think it was Max Moore who helped the most by rolling 70 pins over his average. Not that they needed much help because Swanson's — the losers — didn't have too much. Bob Ferguson was high and that was only with a 438.

* * *

Freedman No. 1 walloped Puffs for 4 points but both teams stayed just the same in the standings. Jnhn Swanson led the way for Freedman's with a 201 game in a 573 series but Robert "O" came through with high game of the evening, a 224. Bob ended up with a 537. Cal Peters also helped the cause with a nice 535. For Puffs it was 'Puffer' himself high with his 531. Puff added a new addition to his team Ron Wojan. Ron came through with a 516 and that was about it.

* * *

Neff and Hess didn't roll but Neffs rolled scores and Hess will roll their's sometime this weekend. Neffs could move to within one point of first — or drop back to fourth — time will tell.

CHARLEVOIX CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
-INFORMATION

Cecil Drost, local sports fisherman pictured here with his limit of brook trout caught during the opening hours of the trout season Saturday.

The largest of the catch was 15 inches in length and weighed 1¼ pounds.

Pictured with him are his sons, Jerry (left) and Cecil jr. who accompanied their father on the fishing expedition. The fish were caught 'somewhere' in the eastern section of the county. The trio had filled their licenses and returned home by 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

Just in the way of encouragement to the many luckless trout fishermen of last weekend, Barney Englehart displays his catch of Rainbow trout. They were taken from Lake No. 133L depending on where the count starts. The large trout in the center measured 16 inches. He said these trout had a yen for spinner and worms.

SUNDEW REPORTS

There was little activity Monday as we sort of rested after 10 days on the go.

However, Tuesday we were underway at 8 a.m. Many of the local residents were able to see us operate as we cleared the harbor for five fishing boats and the Beaver Island ferry, Emerald Isle, as the latter started its 1959 operations. After weeks of an almost daily reports on our movements we carried out a typical day here in the Charlevoix area. We returned and moored at the Lifeboat station until after noon when we headed toward Little Traverse Bay to assist the John Galster into Harbor Springs. In some places the ice was still 36 inches thick. We moored at Charlevoix Tuesday night.

After assisting the tanker vessel Taurus on Wednesday morning we moored at the buoy depot and got underway just after noon in order to set the South Fox island and Boulder Reef lighted buoys. We were able to set the South Fox buoy but high winds forced postponement of the latter so we anchored near Garden island for the night.

Departed Garden island for the Soo Thursday. The ice in the Straits area has all but disappeared and the steamers were having no trouble operating in the area. Reached the Soo just before supper time and moored at the Coast Guard base there.

Spent all day Friday on-loading buoys and equipment related to them. We were delayed in our departure from the Soo until an engine part could be replaced. The engineers worked all night to put us in readiness.

Late Saturday morning we moved down the St. Mary's river and set the Crab island buoy at its mouth. This buoy together with the Detour Reef Light mark the beginning of the passage up St. Mary's river.

We made a brief stop at Martins Reef light to off-load some equipment and then moored at Mackinac island where we transferred fuel. Though our stay was brief we enjoyed a visit with three former shipmates who are now stationed there. We departed at midnight in order to reach the Boulder Reef area by daylight.

A beautiful, calm sun-filled morning made the chore of setting the Boulder Reef buoy easy. We arrived in Charlevoix later Sunday morning and moored at the city dock. The cutter Woodbine was moored at the buoy depot as she took on necessary equipment to close the South Fox and Ile Aux Galet light stations.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

Dick Selissen spent a few days in the Charlevoix hospital but returned to the ship when we moored here Sunday. The Soo locks are off to a fast start this year. Shipping is heavier than usual. Whenever we went this past week the water was clear of ice. The most ice was right here in the Charlevoix harbor.

Saladin Shrine Band to Play at Traverse May 9

The Saladin Temple Shrine band of Grand Rapids will present its annual spring concert at 8 p.m. May 9 in the St. Francis gymnasium, Traverse City.

High schools from northwest Michigan will be guests of the Shriners at this concert. A feature of the evenings program will be the presentation of these groups in a massed band which will play a few selected numbers.

The Shrine band accompanied by the Saladin men's chorus, Oriental band and patrol team gave a spectacular program in Charlevoix last summer. Proceeds from the Shriners many public entertainment projects are used to support various hospital and crippled children's benefits.

Tickets for the Traverse City concert are available from local Shriners and may also be obtained at the door.

Spring Concert to Be Presented at School May 14

The annual spring music concert presented by the music department of the Charlevoix high school has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday, May 14, according to C. A. Odmark, director of the musical groups.

Participating in this popular concert will be the sixth and seventh grade bands, the Reserve band composed of eighth and ninth grade students, the Senior Band, the Girls Glee club and the recently organized mixed chorus of some 90 voices.

Membership in these groups totals 250. The concert will feature the results of this year's work presented primarily for the enjoyment of parents and friends .

County Agent Is Guest Speaker At Garden Club

Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent, was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Garden club held at the home of Mrs. T. R. Miller.

Mr. Rebman gave the members many tips on gardening including information on mulches, fertilizers and lawn care as well as sprays and dusts to control plant diseases and pests.

P.T.A. Delegates Attend Annual State Meeting

The annual state convention of the Michigan Division of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers was held in Bay City Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. James Coleman, 1959-60 president of the local PTA and Mrs. Charles A. Duerr were delegates to the conference.

The delegates will vote on nine different legislative issues.

Highlight of the meeting was an address by Dr. Lawrence Heskew, dean of the College of Education at the University of Texas who spoke on the subject 'Freedom Is for the Brave."

In addition to the regular business sessions there was a panel discussion on "Michigan School Study and the Local PTA" in which a panel of experts on education participated and a discussion of the forthcoming 1960 White House Conference on Education.

Dr. Lynn Bartlett, Superintendent of Public Instruction, welcomed the delegates and gave the keynote address.

Mrs. Joseph Schmidt Guest of Honor At Stork Shower

Mrs. Joseph Schmidt was guest of honor at a stork shower given Thursday evening by Mrs. Clara Walker and Mrs. Erwin Belfy jr. at the latter's home.

Thirty guests including several from Conway, Petoskey, Bay Shore and East Jordan gathered for a social hour followed by refreshments served at a table centered with a clever bootie tree. The honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Walter Howe, presided at the refreshment table.

Late in the evening Mrs. Schmidt opened the many lovely gifts.

Legion Auxiliary To Sponsor Poppy Sale May 21-23

The annual American Legion poppy sale sponsored by the Auxiliary of the organization will be held May 21, 22 and 23 Mrs. Emerson Hull, Poppy chairman for 1959, announced at the regular meeting of the Auxiliary held Monday at the home of Mrs. Mary Howe.

Mrs. Hull said that the poppies had arrived here.

It also was announced that Mother's Day cards and handkerchiefs had been sent to the Veterans' hospital gift shop at Battle Creek.

The group gave its approval to the Park Stage fund and voted to support it in some manner to be decided at a later date.

A social evening refreshments followed the business session.

Five members of the group, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Kenneth Forbes, Mrs. Ted Browe, Mrs. Edgar Smith and Mrs. Leo Allard were in East Jordan Tuesday to attend a Civil Defense school being conducted over a four week period by Mrs. Joseph Wilkins of East Jordan, departmental Civil Defense chairman.

School Sponsors B. I. E. Program Here Tuesday

Plans for the observance of Business - Industry - Education Day in Charlevoix Tuesday have been announced by a committee headed by Supt. of Schools R. G. Bennett.

The general aim of the special day in which the three groups participate is a better understanding between business, industry and education that will help the community in developing youth to contribute more efficiently to the economy of the community and to develop a common spirit in all community efforts that the American Way of Life may be perpetuated, Mr. Bennett said in announcing the plans.

As in the past group visitations will be made to various businesses and indutries in the community. The visitations are to be made between 1:20 and 3:30 with an hour at each place. Visitations will be made by Group I to Paul Reed Inc., Will-Flow Corp. and Central Drug store; Group II, Charlevoix State Savings Bank and Freedman Artcraft Engineering Corp.; Group III, Neff Brothers and American Mold; Group IV, Charlevoix hospital and Municipal light and power plant; Group V, Charlevoix Lumber Co., Charlevoix hospital and Will-Flow Corp.

A dinner at the Weathervane Inn at 6:30 p.m. will climax the event. William VanRaaphorst of American Mold will serve as chairman, introducing guests and speakers.

Robert J. Cook of the Charlevoix public school faculty, will present the teacher analysis of the visits to places of business and industry. Gordon Freedman of Freedman Artcraft and a member of the board of education will speak briefly on Charlevoix industry and the schools.

Carl Hown of Michigan State University will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting. His topic will be B. I. E. Day and its aims.

The Rev. Fred W. McNeil will give the invocation at the dinner to which all businessmen in the community are invited. Reservations may be made by calling the school office, LI 7-6583.

In announcing the places to be visited, Mr. Bennett said that it was regretable that all business places would not be visited every year. However, by rotating the places over a period of time all places will eventually be visited.

The Charlevoix Public and St. Mary's parochial schools will be closed so the faculty can participate in the B.I.E. program.

The 1959 Cancer Crusade to raise funds to carry on the work of the American Cancer Society reached the $513 mark this week, the Rev. Robert J. Yonkman, campaign chiarman announced Wednesday.

In making the announcement of the progress of the drive he said that two major areas, the second and third wards in Charlevoix, remained to be heard from.

City Offers Aid To Residents

If a fixed bridge is constructed to replace the present jack-knife structure, the economy of all ports along the west shore of Michigan would be strangled because access to the land-locked harbor would be limited, the resolution stated.

Bills amounting to $10,254 were approved and ordered paid.

Charlevoix Clean-up Week Begins Monday

Monday marks the beginning of Clean-up week in Charlevoix. It is a five day program designated by the city council when all of us can get together on one big drive to keep "Charlevoix-the-beautiful."

With city street department trucks making daily pickups of trash and rubbish, residents are relieved of much of the labor and expense of disposing of unsightly junk that has a way of accumulating about property. Residents are asked by the street department to have their trash collected and placed on the curbs as early as possible each morning. Trash should be placed in containers which will be returned if they are marked "Save." Ashes will not be hauled by the city and barrels are not to be used for trash containers.

Clean-up week is only the beginning of beautifying the city. After the trash is removed there will be repairs needed, remodeling jobs, wash jobs and paint jobs. The pay-off will come in the personal satisfaction we get and in hearing visitors glorify Charlevoix-the-beautiful.

Plans Progress For Observing Michigan Week

Plans for Michigan week May 17 to 23 are progressing satisfactorily according to John Makel, city chairman for the event.

For the first time since Michigan week began Charlevoix will have a full week of interesting events for the various days designated as a part of the program which [illegible] to promote Michigan [illegible] state in which to live.

[illegible] will open the week's [illegible] services [illegible] Founders Day.

On Monday Mayor E. James Hilty and City Superintendent will travel to Ubly while Charlevoix hosts Francis A. Hund, Ubly village president and a member of his council.

Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith and Sheriff Glenn E. Rose are in charge of hospitality day event; Our Livelihood Day Wednesday will find retail merchants featuring specials on Michigan made or Michigan grown products; a special program at school will highlight Education Day Thursday; Exhibits of Music, Literature and Art will point up Our Heritage Day and the JayCees will present a parade highlighting Frontiers, Old and New, during Frontier Day Saturday.

Businessmen And Educators Observe BIE Days

Business, industry and education benefits when all pool their knowledge, experience and ideas, Carl Horn, Michigan State University speaker told a capacity crowd at the B.I.E. dinner Tuesday evening at the Weathervane Inn.

The banquet and program climaxed B.I.E. (Business, Industry, Education) Day in Charlevoix. Earlier in the day Charlevoix school faculty members made group tours of local business and industrial firms to exchange ideas and get first hand knowledge of the various operations. Business and industrial firms selected for this year's visit included: Paul-Reed, Inc., Will-Flow Corp., Central Drug Store, Neff Bros., American Mold Engineering Co., Charlevoix State Savings Bank, Freedman Artcraft Engineering Corp., Charlevoix Hospital, City Light & Power plant and Charlevoix Lumber Co.

William VanRaaphorst, manager of American Mold Engineering Co., introduced the speakers and summarized the benefits to industry from the day's program. Chester Maltby substituted for Robert Cook with a summary for the educators. The invocation was given by the Rev. Fred W. McNeil, pastor of the First Methodist church

Staley and Mol Display Prize Trout Catch

Seven speckled trout, ranging in weight from one to three and a half pounds, were stopping passers-by at the Staley Hardware Co window Monday.

They were caught by Clare Staley and John Mol who returned Sunday from a four day fishing trip to isolated lakes in Canada.

Children's Book Records Legends Of Green Sky Hill

A children's book of Indian legends written by a former local resident will be published this month by William B. Eerdmanns Publishing Co. of Grand Rapids.

The book is entitled "The Legends of Green Sky Hill" and is written by Louise Jean Walker, associate professor of English at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo and the daughter of the Rev. Quinton Walker, minister of the First Methodist church here from 1912 to 1919.

Miss Walker, a graduate of Albion College with a master's degree from Columbia University, has become widely known as a writer having had 175 articles and stories published in the past three years. Her works have been published in school magazines, children's publications and in newspapers and journals. She has made two film strips from Indian legends for Detroit and New York companies.

Her father served the Greensky Mission while in Charlevoix. After leaving here in 1919 he served the Methodist church in St. Joseph for two years before going to Battle Creek where he was minister of the First Methodist church until his death

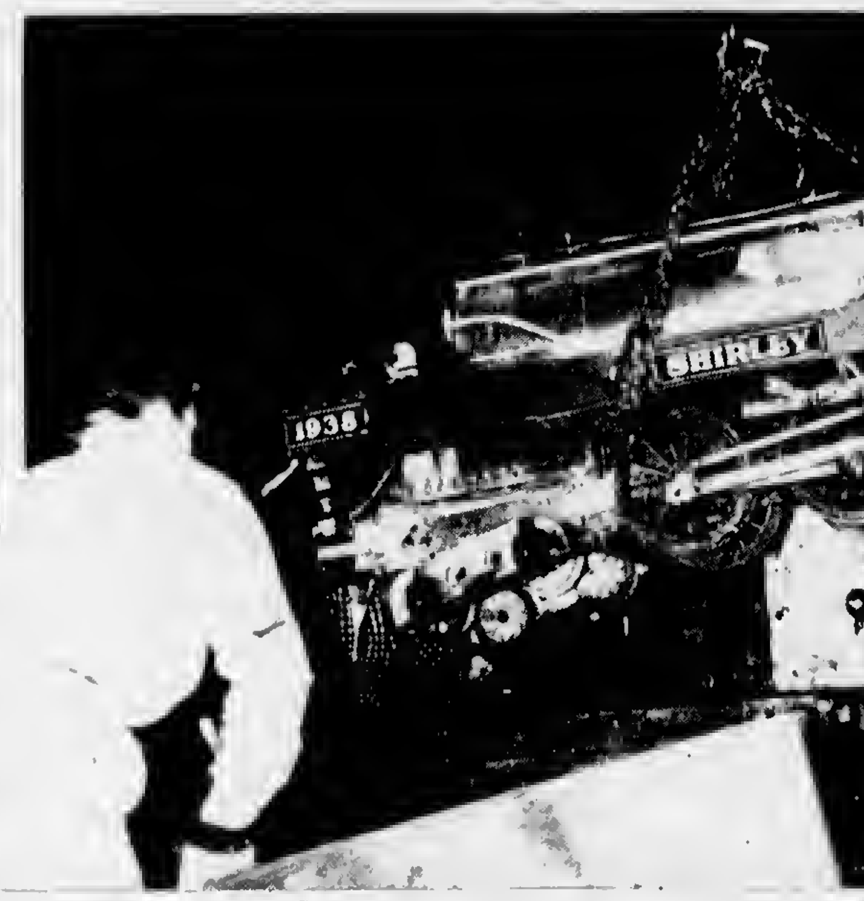
The Charlevoix Express Arrives



Suspended in mid-air by a hoist, a miniature locomotive is being unloaded from a semi-trailer at US-31 and Stover rd. where it soon will be puffing, chugging and tooting to the delight of the passengers it will serve.

★ ★

Charlevoix is to have a new attraction feature in the near future [illegible] a miniature railroad with two coaches for passengers and [illegible] an locomotive.

The equipment [illegible] and [illegible] arrived from [illegible] Saturday [illegible] at the corner of US-31 and Stover rd. Charlevoix's new railroad is owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Penn, parents of [illegible] Penn who operates the Great Lakes Fabrication firm here.

The laying of tracks was started this week and Mr. Penn plans to have the railroad in operation by the last of the month. Operating on narrow gauge track, laid out in an oval 1250 feet in circumference, the miniature train will provide exciting rides for both adults and children. Each coach seats 12 adults. The little engine No. 1938, has sufficient power to pull a 20-ton load

Mr. Penn has operated the railroad at Burr Oak, near Sturgis for the last four years where it has been a popular attraction. Mr. and Mrs. Penn are residing at the Bird's Nest on Antrim st.

Perch Run On In Local Area

The perch are running!

That's the word that's going round now that a number of excellent catches have been reported since the run got underway late Saturday.

The perch run is approximately 10 days later than last year because of the late spring.

However, since it has started the run has produced sizable catches in Round Lake, Lake Charlevoix and Ironton

The run at Beaver Island started about 24 hours before it did here and since then many pounds of the fish have been brought to the mainland.

Public Invited To Visit Local Hospital Tuesday

In observance of National Hospital Week (May 10 to 16) the Charlevoix area hospital has designated Tuesday as Hospital Day, Supt. Ann Baumgartner has announced. Tuesday was appropriately selected because it marks the birthdate anniversary of Florence Nightingale.

Throughout Hospital Day, visitors will be welcome to make a tour of the local hospital and become better acquainted with the modern facilities available in the community. Refreshments will be served to visitors, Miss Baumgartner announced.

Start 'Sponsors Group' to Help Finance Stage

The new Park Stage may well be a living memorial to groups, an organization, a family or an individual under a plan adopted by the Park Stage committee, Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary-treasurer, announced this week.

An invitation has been issued to the people of the community to become Park Stage Sponsors. When the stage is completed a plaque listing the sponsors will be appropriately placed, indicating the desire of the community to build living memorials.

Sponsor contributions will be $100 or more. Contributions previously made may be increased to be included on the sponsor list, Mrs. Carson said.

Two contribution have been reported by the secretary this week. The contributors are Mrs. Cora Coulter and a contribution to the Kiwanis club in memory of the late Fred Bancroft which the club designated for the Park Stage fund.

Names of those joining the Sponsors Group will be released for publication each week.

Trackmen Out To Capture Class C Field Meet

The Charlevoix Rayder thinclads coached by S. E. 'Irish' Coleman will travel to Petoskey Monday to compete in the 1959 Northern Michigan Class C track and field meet.

Boyne City is the defending champion.

The meet will begin at 2 p.m. when field events and preliminaries will be run off.

Beginning at 7 p.m. Monday the finals in the track events will be staged.

All eight teams of the loop are expected to enter the meet.

The Rayders will be out to capture the title which they lost to the Ramblers by a single point last season when they go into the meet Monday.

With three victories in the past week to their credit, the Rayders stand a good chance to re-capture the title they have held so many times in the past.

On Friday of this week the Rayders will go to Gaylord for a triangular meet.

At the Soo Saturday the Rayders racked up $63\frac{1}{2}$ points to take the meet over eight other contenders. Pickford, the defending title holder, placed second with $47\frac{1}{2}$ points; the host team placed third with 37 points; Detour had 24; Soo Loretto 11; Cheboygan 10; and Cedarville eight. Enydine and Brimley did not score.

In a dual meet with Cheboygan here Monday Charlevoix scored 83 points to 26 for the visitors.

Two Registrants To Fill Quota

Two Charlevoix county draft registrants will be called next month to fill the county's June draft quota Mrs. Mary Bourgoin, clerk of the board, has announced.

Four others will be called for pre-induction physical examinations.

The dates of the calls will be announced at a later date.

Four men left Tuesday to fill the May draft quota. Two others will report May 13 for physical examinations.

Music Students to Appear In Annual Spring Concert

The annual Spring Music Concert to be presented at the Charlevoix high school auditorium next Thursday will feature all students enrolled in the various music groups according to C. A. Odmark, music department director.

The six groups have an enrollment of 287 students in the sixth through the twelfth grades.

The program will open with a brief presentation by the 50-piece sixth grade beginners' band which was not scheduled to appear in the concert because of its inexperience as a result of its late start this year. However, after noting their disappointment, Mr. Odmark decided to present them publicly.

They will be followed by the 34 piece seventh grade band playing a group of selections designed to show their progress since their initial appearance one year ago.

The 54-piece Reserve band which regularly appears at pep rallies and other events will present a group of numbers selected by the band members. This band, composed of eighth and ninth grade students, is a feeder group for the Senior band but also operates as a separate unit.

Adding color to the concert will be the 66-voice Girls Glee Club, wearing formal gowns in flower gardens colors, singing a group of selections.

This year the girls will be joined by 25 boys to form a mixed chorus. This group will sing the numbers presented during the choral festival at Mancelona Saturday.

The program will conclude with the appearance of the 64-piece Charlevoix high school Senior band presenting a group of well-loved band compositions.

Despite the large number of groups participating, Mr. Odmark has planned the program to last no more than 90 minutes.

There will be no admission charge. However, the Charlevoix Park Stage will be promoted and a collection will be taken for this worthwhile project.

Dean Davenport Takes Coaching Job at Grant

The school is a Class C school a little larger than the Charlevoix school system and has an excellent record in league competition.

He will also teach physical education, speech and English.

Mr. Davenport has served on the faculty of the Petoskey high school for the past two years. He was assistant football and track coach and had charge of the J-V basketball program.

He is a 1957 graduate of Central Michigan College where he won three letters in Varsity basketball.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Davenport sr. He is married to the former Joyce Cunningham. They have two children.

Carolyn A. Kohn Is On Exchange Student List

Carolyn A. Kohn, valedictorian [illegible] 1959 [illegible] Charlevoix [illegible] Kohn [illegible] program [illegible] Michigan-Ann Arbor-Washtenaw County Council [illegible] Church.

[illegible] Carolyn would go to Europe this summer [illegible] part in the program [illegible] following an interview with Arthur Delamater, executive director of the sponsoring organization.

Under the program Carolyn will leave here late in June and fly to Amsterdam, Holland, with other young people participating in the exchange program. Tho she has not been informed, it is likely that she will go to Germany to spend the summer with a German family. She will become a member of the family, living as they do and assisting with the household as their own children would. She will return home about Sept. 1 in time to begin her studies at the University of Michigan.

Charlevoix became acquainted with the exchange student plan last fall when Ruby Saunders of Bangor, Ireland, came to live with Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall. American exchange students, however, go to Europe only during the summer months because of the language barrier.

Carolyn only recently was named valedictorian of her class with a perfect record during her high school academic career.

This week she was informed that she had been awarded a Regent-Alumni Scholarship at the University of Michigan.

Carolyn has diversified interests which should serve her well during her trip abroad. Besides being an outstanding student, she has worked on the staffs of the school publication and the annual, assisted with the direction of the Junior play, served as a class officer and is a member of the Student Council and the National Honor Society. She was named earlier to receive the DAR Good Citizenship award and at holiday time was selected as queen of the Christmas ball.

Bradley Hull Believed Found By Penmanta

A sonar finding which may be the hull of the steamer Carl D. Bradley which went down in a storm on Lake Michigan Nov. 18 was reported by the search vessel Penmanta last Thursday.

The announcement regarding the Penmanta's findings came at 9 p.m. Thursday after the search craft engaged by the Bradley Transportation Line, owner of the sunken ship had been in the Boulder Reef-Gull Islands area only at scattered intervals during the week. The wreckage was found $5\frac{3}{4}$ miles northwest of Boulder Reef.

The following day the U. S. Lake Survey tug, the Williams, which was working the area, verified the Penmanta's finding of a hull in 370 ft of water.

The Bradley Transportation Co. is currently investigating the possibility of sending divers down or taking pictures of the wreckage to determine if it is that of the Bradley.

Meanwhile the Blue Chip, engaged by the Seafarers International Union to search for the Bradley, went aground on the [illegible] shore of Gull Island. The 40 [illegible] from the [illegible] in St. [illegible] search repairs were [illegible] early this week.

[illegible] have kept all search vessels [illegible] to date.

[illegible] the Blue Chip and the smaller Sea Hear equipped with closed circuit television and photographic equipment will attempt to photograph the wreckage in an effort to determine if it is that of the Bradley and if it is, what caused the 615 ft. ship to break up and sink with the loss of 33 lives.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

WASN'T OUR HARBOR a busy little place Saturday what with fish tugs coming and going, the small patrol boat being put thru a trial run, outboard motor boats cruising around and over-anxious fishermen in both outboard and row boats tossing out their lines. That, added to the lake survey tug Williams and the freighter Mackinac Islander tied to the dock and the activities in the many boat yards along the south shore of the lake makes one realize that spring is here. And it's certainly a long awaited and pleasant sound — the sound of spring on the waterfront.

WAS INVITED to a meeting the other night at which a Waterfront Fair was planned. We think it's going to be one of the nicest events of the summer that's coming up. It will be held in East Park and will feature the works of artists, writers and other craftsmen. Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff's general chairman and is full of ideas for this event. Can't you just see displays by all these clever people who make pottery, ceramic and hand-woven articles. Sure hope they bring their potter's wheels, kilns and looms and we also hope that some of our artists will set up their easels and show us poor people who know nothing about such wonderful things how it's done. This is one event you're going to be hearing lots more about if we have anything to do with it 'cause we're real excited about it and we think lots of other people will be too.

* * *

THERE'S SOMETHING else coming up too that you're going to hear a lot about before you see it. That's the results of the plans John Makel has for Michigan week. We all know about Michigan week with its plump little robin singing the praises of our beautiful state but this year more is going to be done about it because we're fortunate to have a chairman who has taken his assignment to heart. There's to be something on all the days from the opening Sunday with Spiritual Life Day through the following Saturday when the JayCees will climax a full week with Frontier Days, Old and New, with a parade in which just scads of things will be exhibited. We hope you'll plan now to see all the special exhibits and other events which are being planned for this special week.

THE SATURDAY before this, May 16, will be Armed Forces Day. The Charlevoix Lifeboat Station is already busy with plans. We hope other service organizations will also be doing something special. Must look into that.

THE CONGRATULATIONS of the entire Courier staff to Harold E. Kohn whose newest book, Thoughts Afield, has been published. We're real proud of him because he's not only a pretty wonderful person but the Courier carried his writings before they appeared in book form. So if we are all bustin' our buttons it's because we think we have a right to.

WHEN THE Maple Syrup festival was underway recently, a visitor to our community noticed that a member of the police force, driving a truck, was being chased by a bunch of kids. It aroused his curosity so he inquired about it. He was told that the police officer was Bob Sommerville, advisor to the Sea Scouts who were busy gathering sap which they were emptying into a tank on the truck driven by the advisor. After hearing the story he made this observation: It's a novelty to see kids chasing the cop instead of the cop chasing the kids, as is usually the case. Charlevoix should be mighty proud of their youngsters.

REMEMBER NOT too long ago when Round Lake was filled with huge ice cakes that had drifted in from Lake Michigan(we know it seems like a century ago but it's only been two weeks). Anyway, Jerry Murdick, from his place of business, had sighted what looked like a dog on one of the cakes of ice off the foot of Antrim st. The first fellow to go by happened to be Doug Way so Jerry told him about it and asked if he'd give the pooch an assist in getting to shore. Doug said 'sure' and went down to the water front where he noted that whatever was on the ice definitely was not a dog. He whistled at the animal, which looked him over and then slid into the water. He described it as being 18 to 20 inches long, with slick, shiny fur and a tail (definitely not bushy or flat). After a while he noticed that it had come up near the dock where he was standing, snorting as it raised its cute little face (which had long whiskers) from the water. It seemed real curious and looked the situation over before swimming to another spot and again sticking its head out of the water, snorting as it did. After playing around a while it swam under a boathouse and disappeared. Doug said he'd never seen anything like it. We knew it wasn't a mink, beaver or muskrat so he went home and got out the encyclopedia and after some time discovered that it looked more like an otter than anything else. Having never seen one around here, he's wondering now if it could have been. Have any ideas on the subject?

DON BROWN who left the Courier staff this week to accept a position with Morweld Steel in Ellsworth found the following in a recent issue of a magazine. We thought it pretty clever so [illegible] it for you here. A [illegible]

[illegible] and efforts were made to get its picture but just about that time it decided to disappear and didn't come around til it was dark so no luck in that department. Still don't know where he came from but we're told that there's a pair of otter in a little lake in the eastern section of the county. Maybe this guy is an offspring with a bit of gypsy in his soul. It will be interesting to see if any more come around and if he stays.

Bulletin On Landscaping Available

Making some plans for landscaping your home this spring? Or maybe your planning a new patio for that backyard or a new driveway?

A new Extension bulletin has just arrived at the Charlevoix county extension office that has a lot of help for those who are planning such improvements around their home this spring. It's called "Landscape Paving for the Home Grounds." A copy is free for the asking at the extension office located at Boyne City, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Included in the bulletin is information on drainage, grading and types of paving, materials. Types of material discussed include asphalt, brick, concrete, flagstone aggregates, tile and wood. Each material has advantages and disadvantages and the bulletin points out these to the home owner. There are also some guides to using the materials and tips on designs.

If you're interested, stop in at the office and ask for Cirucular E-6. It's published by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Attend Food Meet At East Lansing

The annual meeting of the Michigan School Food Services Association was held at the Civic Center in Lansing last weekend.

In Lansing for the meeting were Mrs. C. A. Olmark, homemaking teacher and Mrs. Marie Elliott and Mrs. H. E. Cummings, home hot lunch cooks at the Charlevoix high school.

C & O Devises New Combination Rail-Highway Vehicle

Chesapeake and Ohio Railway on May 7 will launch mail and express service on "Railvan" its own dual-wheeled combination rail-highway vehicle, on passenger trains between Grand Rapids and Petoskey.

The announcement was made Tuesday by [illegible] Clarke, C & O's president, in an address in [illegible] at Grand Rapids.

Initially, Mr. Clarke said, "C & O will use the Railvans on passenger trains transporting mail and express between two cities. The Railvans will move on highways between post offices and express offices. Four more Railvans will be added in June.

"If this proves as successful in the movement of mail and express as we feel confident it will," he said, "it may be extended eventually to the movement of less than carload freight."

Railvan is described as a combination vehicle equipped with retractable rubber and steel wheels for operation on either highways or rails. It has both rear and side doors and standard railroad couplings as well as truck saddle.

It is reported a special ramp is being constructed at Traverse City for de-railing and re-railing the Railvan on the Grand Rapids-Petoskey division of C & O. There is no indication as yet that a ramp is to be built at Petoskey. This would indicate that the Railvans will be operated for the present between Grand Rapids and Traverse City.

- Mrs. Malcolm MacDowell returned Sunday from San Carlos, Calif., where she was called by the death of her mother, Mrs. L. E. Cook. Mrs. Cook had visited at the MacDowell home here and had made many friends in the community during her stay here.
- Mrs. Roger Postmus who has been in Goose Bay, Labrador, with her husband, Dr. Postmus who is stationed there with the U. S. Air Force arrived home Sunday for an indefinite visit with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. H. E. Paddock. She had been in Labrador since October.

Mrs. Douglas Ross, Former Resident Dies in Detroit

Mrs. Douglas Ross, 57, former resident, who has been living in Royal Oak, died Tuesday at Mt. Carmel hospital in Detroit where she had been a patient for two months.

Funeral services were held Friday at Gramer funeral home in Clawson. Burial was in White Chapel cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix Dec. 7, 1901, the former Nita Shearer was graduated from the Charlevoix high school and the Charlevoix county Normal school. She taught in rural schools in Charlevoix and Emmet county and continued her education at Michigan Normal College in Ypsilanti from where she received her degree. Following her marriage to Mr. Ross she lived in Washington and later in Indiana before returning to southern Michigan in 1957.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one brother, Emmett Shearer of Pontiac.

Calls Sponsors to Plan Softball Summer Program

An important meeting of Class A softball sponsors, managers and umpires has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the community room of the city hall by Dean Davenport, city softball director.

Other persons interested in the softball program also are invited to attend this meeting at which plans for the 1959 season will be discussed.

In announcing the meeting Mr. Davenport said that he is hopeful this year's program will surpass the 1958 season which was the most successful in the history of the program.

Meetings will be called shortly he said to make plans for the Class B and the Peanut League.

- Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gallagher and [illegible] of St. James have been spending some time here with Mr. Gallagher.

Funeral Services Held Monday for Joseph A. Gengle

Joseph A. Gengle, 83, resident of Charlevoix township for the past 40 years, died Friday at the Charlevoix hospital where he had been a patient for eight days. He had been in failing health for some time.

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's Church Monday with the Rev. E. Francis Denay officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. The Rosary was recited at the Winchester funeral home Sunday.

Born in Austria March 15, 1876, Mr. Gengle came to this country as a young man and lived in Chicago where he was married to the former Mary Hanacek in 1918. The following year they came to Charlevoix township where he operated a farm until he retired. He was a member of St. Mary's Church.

Besides his wife, Mary, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George (Mary) Richardson of Grand Rapids; four sons, Edward of Melvindale, William of Chicago, Anthony of Petoskey and Frank of Charlevoix; five stepsons, Joseph, John and Sam Sarna of Chicago, Steve and Thomas of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. John Euola of Fairpoint, Ohio; 21 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Name Officers for Cub Scout Pack

James Whitley was named Cub Master of the Charlevoix Cub Scout Pack at a meeting of the Cub Scout committee held last week.

M. J. Foster will be the assistant Cub Master.

Other officers and chairmen are: treasurer, Ted Bergmann; secretary, Louis R Hooper; publicity chairman, Herbert Marme; activities chairman, Walter Russell; advancement chairman, Uno Suomela; institutional representative, Jack Grubaugh.

Other members of the committee are George Hutchinson, Gerald Goss and Carl Johnson. Harvey Griswold of Petoskey, northern district field representative, also was present.

Beaver Island Coast Guard Station Opened

The Beaver Island Mooring Station was opened Monday when a crew of four headed by Ronald Hoosen BM2 was transported to St. James, according to Joseph Etienne CWO, commanding officer of Coast Guard Group Charlevoix.

Duties of the mooring station which will remain open from May until fall will be search and rescue, law enforcement and logistic support to outlying light stations in northern Lake Michigan.

Until the close of navigation last December, the Beaver Island facility had the status of a lifeboat station and was manned throughout the year.

As a mooring station the Beaver Island facility will be a sub-unit of the Charlevoix Lifeboat Station.

Students Apply For Admission To Emmet College

Forty-six persons have submitted applications for admission to Emmet Community College in Petoskey this fall, according to A. D. Shankland, dean of the new college, who went on to say that this figure represents 61 per cent of the anticipated enrollment. In making the announcement said that he was somewhat surprised at receiving this large number of applications at this time. At this rate the anticipated enrollment may surpass the 75 full-time students predicted for the fall term.

Mr. Shankland said that the calibre of students applying had been exceptionally high. To date 32 per cent of the students who have applied are in the upper half of their graduating class, 36 per cent in the upper one-third and 30 per cent in the upper 10 per cent of the class.

Students from 11 northern Michigan communities including Harbor Springs, Alanson, Pellston, Boyne City, Boyne Falls, Indian River, Mackinaw City, East Jordan, Gaylord and Petoskey have enrolled.

Students interested in receiving more information about the college may contact Mr. Shankland at his temporary office at the Petoskey high school.

School Schedules Visiting for Fall Kindergartners

Because of the abnormally large enrollment in the present kindergarten class, it has become necessary to discontinue the annual visiting day program for youngsters who would attend kindergarten in the fall.

However, to compensate for the loss of this event, Mrs. Dorothy McRae, kindergarten teacher, has arranged to meet with prospective kindergarten pupils and their mothers between 3 and 4 p.m. daily, beginning Monday, for the next two weeks. This will give the children an opportunity to see the kindergarten facilities. It will also give mothers a chance to enroll their children in school.

In announcing the change in program Mrs. McRae said she regreted the need to discontinue the visiting days but with each kindergarten class numbering 50 or more pupils there was not enough space or equipment to handle the visitors.

All parents are urged to bring their pre-school children who will enroll in kindergarten next fall to school between 3 and 4 p.m. any day, beginning Monday, until the project is discontinued May 22.

Girl Scout troop 2 met Monday afternoon in the city hall. We finished our notebooks and learned to make some new knots. Also we planned to entertain a troop of Traverse City Girl Scouts. Susan Freedman, scribe

SUNDEW REPORTS

We remained at the city dock from Monday until Wednesday last week.

The Woodbine took on necessary equipment at the buoy depot for the change over of South Fox and Ile Aux Galets lights. Rough weather prevented her from getting underway before Wednesday morning.

After we shifted moorings to the buoy depot on Wednesday we loaded buoys for the area around White Shoals and Grays Reef Lights. While in those areas we took off the keepers from the lights who were going ashore for compensatory leave and put them ashore at Mackinaw City where we moored for the night.

After setting four buoys on Thursday, we also re-charged the St. Helena light near the Mackinac Bridge.

All day Friday we spent changing batteries and putting new tanks of acetylene in the buoys in the Mackinaw City area that needed them. We also had to change the colors of the buoys because the pattern of red and black buoys has been switched due to the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Late Saturday morning we got underway to start the job of setting buoys in the Straits area. After putting down two, the weather turned bad so we moored at Mackinac Island. The heavy weather continued through Sunday, making it necessary for us to remain at the island.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

We welcomed a new officers steward aboard this past week. Buenaventura Dela Cruz who came to us from USCG Base, Terminal Island, San Pedro, Calif. His wife and family are in the Philippines Islands. He has previously served aboard the cutter Pontchatrain in the Pacific. Dew[illegible] is on sick leave. She entered the hospital on Monday with pneumonia. Can hardly wait un[illegible] turn. Not much to do on Mackinac Island over the week end. Some of the hotels and business places are just beginning to clean up in preparation for the [illegible] season.

Guild Notes . . .

May is going to be a busy month for the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital for a number of reasons but mainly because, for the first time, it will mark the end of the organization's fiscal year.

The slate of officers will be presented at the May meeting scheduled for Tuesday. A week later there'll be the annual meeting with reports, a program and a sip of tea.

But between now and then there's Mother's Day and the Guild would like to remind those looking for something a little different that's there's always the lucious candy that it offers for sale. Give Mrs. James Hiller a ring if you're really interested.

One of these days the trays at the hospital will boast lovely new dishes which the Guild is buying. The purpose of the Guild is to raise funds to purchase needed equipment for the hospital. As a result the new dish project has been adopted and fund raising projects are currently underway.

Chief among these is a series of card parties or luncheons sponsored by active members with the proceeds going to the Guild treasury to underwrite the cost of the dishes.

The planters at the x-ray department at the hospital have taken on a spring look with the addition of lovely pink geraniums to give the spot a bit of color.

Members are reminded that it's dues time. Letters will not be sent to local members so this is to serve as a reminder to plan to pay your dues at the next meeting.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Call it— "Helping Bud to Blossom"

When his wife left on a visit, Bud Harper promised to take care of her potted plants. He moved them out to the porch where he'd be sure to see them —and then forgot them.

Week later, Mrs. Harper asked about the plants in a letter. Bud rushed out, expecting to find them dead. But they were in perfect shape — even the pots had been rearranged.

Naturally, Bud was mystified. Then he found a note on one of the plants: "We'll lose this one unless you put Ammonium Sulphate on it. Pete." (He's the milkman.)

From where I sit, "neighborliness" is a wonderful thing, particularly when it's put into practice every day. This week, for example, why not have some neighbors in for a glass of beer or a cup of coffee? (Serving them their preference in beverages—that's "neighborliness" too.)

Name Manager For Beaver Lodge On Beaver Isle

Appointment of George VanBuren as manager of Beaver Lodge on Beaver Island has been announced by Dr. John P. Ludwick, co-owner of the resort.

VanBuren, a native of Lansing, was graduated from the Michigan State University school of hotel administration in 1956. Since his graduation he has worked in the accommodations field in Dowagiac and Chicago.

Beaver Lodge, an American plan resort overlooking Lake Michigan, will open its 1959 season this weekend in advance of the Island's annual spring perch run.

The lodge previously has closed after the state's November deer hunting season but with expansion of the island's airfield facilities and increase in the tourist activities the resort may be expanded into a year-round [illegible]

Boy Scouts to Hold Camporee Near Gaylord

The 1959 Scenic Trails Boy Scout Council Camporee will be held at Camp Sancta Maria near Gaylord May 22, 23 and 24 according to George Schraut executive director of the Council.

The Camporee will be held on the site of this private camp which is located six miles west of Gaylord on M-32.

The Camporee, which last year was held in Charlevoix, has come to mean a demonstration of the camping skills of the Scout troops and Explorer units of the Scenic Trails Council which set up their own camp for a weekend of fun and good fellowship, the opportunity to learn more about camping from each other, using the patrol system as a basis for troop camping.

Charlevoix's Boy Scout troop and Explorer unit along with adult leaders are planning to attend this annual event which has become one of the highlights of the Scouting program.

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

When Little Things Touch the Heart

[illegible] spring [illegible] time of charm, [illegible] touch the heart. [illegible] world will be full of [illegible]. Already newly hatched [illegible] struggle valiantly against the current of the brook. Downy ducklings will soon swim contentedly in the bay. Along the marsh's edge frog's eggs are hatching into moving polka-dot clusters of tiny tadpoles, and in secret glens of the forest the first fawns of spring are delivered, wide-eyed, into a wondrous world. In spring the earth is a world of little things.

The little things of earth have an abiding attraction for human hearts. Judged by the number of ceramic figurines of baby deer I [illegible] homes spotted fawns must [illegible] by everyone. I've known [illegible] people who do not share [illegible] for dogs, but I've [illegible] person who wasn't [illegible] by a month old puppy. [illegible] person who hates cats [illegible]. We can put up our [illegible] guard against the big [illegible] but the little ones crawl [illegible] any crevices and chinks and creep into our hearts.

It is that way with little deeds. We may be too proud to ask for much help when we need it, or to accept it when it is offered. But barricade ourselves, as we will, behind our stout independence, little deeds of helpfulness somehow manage to get through. Someone's simple act of merely being near, bringing with him a quiet kind of caring, someone else's occasional word of encouragement, another's warm, firm hand clasp, or a thank you note, finds a hospitable reception where pride might reject a greater favor. Or someone moves a mountain of trouble for us by carrying away a few small stones once a week. An elderly lady told me a while ago of the great goodness many people demonstrated when her husband passed away. But the kindness she dwelt on most and found impossible to forget was that of her nephew's wife, who wrote her a cheerful, thoughtful letter every week for many months. Those weekly letters, gentle reminders of another's care, were small things, but they made a great difference, knocking a hole in the darkness and letting a little radiance shine in.

John Henry Jowett once told of George Gissing, who was walking along a road one day when he saw a poor little lad crying as if his heart would break. He had been sent to pay a debt of sixpence and had lost the money. [illegible] thought of the boy's family who sorely needed the money to pay the obligation, and of their wretchedness when they discovered its loss, and he put his hand in his pocket "and wrought sixpennyworth of miracle."

How many lives around us could be changed without a colossal upheaval! "A sixpenny worth of miracle" would turn the trick.

Isn't this the kind of miracle-performing service Jesus honored when He said that even a cup of cold water given in the name of a disciple would be rewarded? What a wonder a refreshment a drink of cold water can bring to a tired traveller or a perspiring field worker, or a feverish patient. And a small thing like a cup of cold water does more than quench a thirst, it stirs the heart with gratitude. It is one of the little things that touch the heart.

If I were privileged to build a team of people to help God rebuild his world, I'd be happy to trade a few folks who dream about moving mountains for a good many who were willing to carry stones, because the world is moved, as the heart is, by little people who do little things in a willing, loving way.

Courtesey Driver Award Presented To John Ritsema

Ellsworth — The "Courteous Driving Award" of the American Automobile association was presented to John Ritsema by Floyd Webb at the annual safety meeting held Friday evening in the high school gym.

The program included a talk by Trooper Tubbs of the Traverse City State Police post, movies shown by Mr. Webb and entertainment by Jerry McSafety and his companion, Wayne Ferielous. Gerrit John Drenth was master of ceremonies.

Door prizes were presented to Mrs. Nick Tornga, Minor Koster, Dwayne Drenth and Walter Harty. Donuts, coffee and ice cream were served for lunch.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

To the Editor:

It would appear that Pete T[illegible] covered a lot of ground to tell us the tree was in the way in front of the Postoffice, and that the consensus of thinking of the owners, the city fathers, and Pete was that it should be removed.

However, we should remember that the beauty of Charlevoix is in a large part due to its fine maple trees which some imaginative and foresighted persons planted nearly a century ago, that all the taxpayers of Charlevoix have a vested interest in the trees on Charlevoix streets, and that for our part we should do all possible to preserve them.

There is an activity known as tree surgery. If the limbs of the trees are as dangerous to the limbs of people as Pete indicated then the city should enter on a program to take care of the trees.

To cut a tree down because it naturally has some dead limbs is like saying that a person should be liquidated because of a mal-functioning gland, and no doubt Pete would be one of the first to protest this.

Ted R. Miller

To "A Softball Fan":

It is not the policy of the Charlevoix Courier to acknowledge or answer unsigned letters. Generally the unsigned letters we receive are of such a nature that the writer may well be ashamed to disclose his identity.

Your letter, however, does not run true to form. You asked for information which may be of interest to may softball fans and you did it in a courteous, straight forward manner.

It will be necessary to relocate the lighted softball diamond to make room for the new school when construction is started. I was present at a meeting last fall when the relocation of the diamond was discussed. A number of suitable sites are available but I doubt if a definite selection has been made although officials recently investigated possible locations. One official recently told me plans are underway to relocate the field either before or after the summer softball season if it is possible. Much will depend on the date that construction work can actually be started on the new school.

If you have occasion to write [illegible] again [illegible] sign [illegible] welcome [illegible] please [illegible]

New Bookkeeping Machine Installed At Savings Bank

The Charlevoix State Savings Bank has installed a new Burroughs Sensimatic bank bookkeeping machine, Robert B. Livingston, cashier, announced.

This modern equipment is designed to speed up posting of statements and eliminates possibility of errors. It also provides an automatic check count for patrons. Mr. Livingston says the installation will improve service to bank customers and increase the efficiency of banking operations.

Vocal Students Join Chorus in Massed Concert

Seventy-eight members of the Charlevoix high school mixed chorus joined with vocalists from 14 other area schools to present the annual Northern Michigan Choral Festival at Mancelona.

After rehearsals during the morning and early afternoon a mixed chorus of 625 voices presented a massed concert at 3:15 p.m.

Special Mother's Day Sunday Service

The traditional Mother's Day Service will be observed at Charlevoix's First Congregational Church on Sunday, May 10th. Mothers present will receive a floral token from the Women's Fellowship of the church. The Youth Choir, under the direction of Clarence Odmark, and the Cherub Choir of little tots under the direction of Esther Hawley, will sing.

A floral gift will be presented to the oldest and youngest mother present.

Scholarship Awarded to Three 1959 Graduates

Three members of the 1959 graduating class of the Charlevoix high school have been notified that they have been awarded scholarships.

Carolyn A. Kohn and John Bingham have been given Regents Alumni scholarships to the University of Michigan. Carolyn, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Harold E. Kohn, will attend the College of Literature Science and Arts and John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bingham, will attend the School of Engineering.

The third member of the class to receive a scholarship is Jill Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Davis, who has been awarded the Michigan State University Entrance scholarship.

Both scholarships carry a stipend equivalent to semester fees for the 1959-60 freshman year and are renewable for the normal length of the undergraduate degree program in which the student enrolls, provided his or her academic record justifies renewal.

Other scholarship winners will be announced as they are notified.

Cancer Fund Drive At $800 Mark

The 1959 Cancer Crusade neared the $900.00 mark in the Charlevoix area this week as all but a few volunteer workers reported final figures to Rev. Robert J. Yonkman, city fund chairman.

On Tuesday night captains and area chairmen reported $882.48 contributed in the area and said that additional funds promised would put the final figure well over the $900 mark.

The results of the drive to date and the chairmen follow: first ward, Mrs. Eugene Bergmann, $130.15; second ward, Mrs. William Carey, $236.83; third ward, Mrs. Louis McKenzie, $116.15; North Point, Julius Elzinga, $21.; Bay Shore, Mrs. James Johnson, $30.30; Burgess, Mrs. Lloyd Kuebler, $22.50; Boyne City road, Mrs. Arthur Geer, $35.50.

U. S. 31 South, Mrs. John Fratrick, $24.00; Norwood and Norwood township, Mrs. Charles Weisler and Mrs. Orville, $44.00; Barnard area, Mrs. Carlton Smith, $67.00; Phelps area, Mrs. Earl Balch, $16.40; Loeb School road, Mrs. Harold Towsley, $16.20; Ironton, Mrs. Edward Lemcke, $44.00; Beaver Island, Mrs. Lloyd McDonough, $114.15.

In announcing the results of the 1959 drive, Rev. Yonkman paid special tribute to the volunteer workers who solicited the funds and to the residents of the entire area for their generosity to the Cancer Crusade, a most worthwhile cause. Funds contributed will be used for research, education and service.

Charlevoix county became the third county in the state to go over the top in the 1959 fund drive.

Lutheran Women Hold Spring Rally

The annual spring rally of the northern zone of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League of the Lutheran church Missouri Synod was held at Onaway Sunday.

Highlight of the meeting was a talk by Miss Lorraine Behling of Boyne City, missionary to China for the past 11 years.

Representing the Bethany Lutheran church at the meeting were Mrs. Gordon Moeller, Mrs. Carl Korth and Mrs. Karl Schultz.

Report More Contributions For Park Stage

The Park Stage Fund continued to increase voluntarily during the past week with more contributors and more sponsors, Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Park Stage committee, reported Wednesday.

Contributions were received this week from the McGeach Farm Bureau group, Hilda Nettleton of Manton, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and U. S. Consul Edwin J. Madill of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, in memory of his mother Mrs. E. Josephine Madill.

Six individuals or organizations have now become members of the "Sponsor" group with contributions of $100 or more. These include the original donor, a summer visitor from Wisconsin who has asked that his name be withheld, the group of Negro summer people who gave a benefit concert last summer, Mr. and Mrs. Kit Carson, Gordon L. Freedman in memory of Alvin Goldman, Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church, and the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix.

The Park Stage committee recently voted to provide an appropriate bronze plaque on the park stage when completed, bearing the names of groups or individuals who have contributed $100 or more in their own name or in memory of, or in honor of another.

Persons wishing to help build the attractive park stage pictured recently in the Courier should send their contributions to Mrs. Kit Carson, Secretary of Park Stage Committee, Charlevoix, Michigan.

Coast Guard Invites Visitors Armed Forces Day

Armed Forces Day 1959 will be observed at U. S. Coast Guard facilities here Saturday.

The U. S. Coast Guard Lifeboat Station on Palmer st. will welcome visitors from 1 to 4 p.m. according to D. L. Reynolds BMC commanding officer of the unit.

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew, which is spending its first Armed Forces Day in Charlevoix, will hold open house aboard the ship from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. if the cutter is in port according to Lt Harold D. Muth, skipper of the vessel. The ship will be moored at the buoy depot and visitors may drive to the area.

Crewmen at both the lifeboat station and aboard the ship will be on hand to escort visitors thru the facilities and to explain the work of he U. S. Coast Guard.

Commanding officers of both units and Joseph Etienne, commanding officer of Coast Guard Group Charlevoix have extended an invitation to the residents of the area to visit Coast Guard units on Armed Forces Day Saturday.

Rayders Capture Class C Track And Field Title

The Charlevoix Rayders coached by S. E. 'Irish' Coleman captured the 1959 Northern Michigan Class A track and field title Monday night when they racked up a total of 74 11/30 points in the meet held at the Petoskey athletic field.

Three new track records were set in the meet.

Rayder Ron Vandenberg clipped 1/10th of a second off the record for the low hurdles when he ran the event in 21.4 seconds. The former record of 21.5 was set by Ken Balch of Charlevoix in 1955.

Jim Spence, East Jordan junior, set a new record for the mile which he ran in 4:50.8, cutting 2 1 seconds off the record set by Bill Alder of Mancelona in 1957.

The record of 2:46 for the medley relay set by a Charlevoix team in 1948 when the event was first held was smashed by a Gaylord team composed of Roger Walker, John Johnson, Dave Raah and Bob King who ran the event in 2:40.8 or 5.8 seconds less than the old record.

The Rayders took nine firsts in the meet plus a number of other places to de-throne the Boyne City Ramblers who edged the local thinclads by one point last sesaon.

First places taken by the Rayders follow: low hurdles, Van-

To Start Work on Launching Ramp For Outboards

A launching ramp for outboard motor boats and other small craft will be constructed on Lake Charlevoix south of the Ferry ave. beach at the end of Stover Road.

Work on the project sponsored by the Charlevoix Marine Club and the city will begin Sunday with a work bee at which the ground work for the ramp will be laid.

Volunteers are needed for the project to which Lake Construction Co. will loan the use of two trucks, a bull-dozer and a loader, the Swanson Gravel Co. and the city street department trucks and loaders. E. K. Shanahan is donating all field stone needed for the project.

Phil Lawrence, commodore of the local Marine club, has issued a plea for volunteers to assist in the project in order to complete the much needed ramp. "With more and more people taking to the lakes with small craft we must have a launching ramp if we are to attract them to our community." Mr. Lawrence said in asking for assistance, not only from Marine club members but anyone in the community interested in the project.

Anyone wishing information regarding the work bee Sunday is asked to call Mr. Lawrence at LI 7-6553.

Final plans for the bee will be made at the regular monthly meeting of the club to be held at the community room of the city hall at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday). All members are urged to attend this important meeting. Prospective members are also encouraged to attend.

A brief program to be presented by Dick Fochtman and Bob Hamilton will follow.

New Beauty Salon To Open Monday In Weathervane

The Weathervane Beauty Salon located on the lower level of the Weathervane Inn will open Monday under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lagerman who will come here from Traverse City to operate the new shop.

Mr. Lagerman, a former local resident, recently ,completed training at the Dodgson's Beauty school in Grand Rapids. His wife, Sally, has been operating beauty salons in Grand Rapids, Traverse City and Cadillac for a number of years.

There will be a grand opeoing Monday with door prizes for all those visiting the shop. During the first three weeks grand prizes will be given away each week. The first week a $35 cold wave will be given, the second week a wrist watch and the final week a portable television.

During the opening weeks the shop will feature style hair cutting at a nominal fee.

Three expert hair stylists will be ready to serve the public.

The shop will be open daily until 9 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Lagerman plan to operate the shop the year around

Seniors Leave Wednesday for Annual Trip

The 1959 graduating class of the Charlevoix high school will depart early next Wednesday on a senior class trip to Niagara Falls.

Forty-one members of the class of 61 will make the trip, leaving here via school bus at 6 a.m. Wednesday for Detroit where they board the cruise ship S. S. South American at 2:30 p.m. and leave there an hour later.

The cruise ship will dock at Port Colburn Ont., the following morning. Buses will take the students to Niagara Falls and other points of interest. They will leave Port Colburn that evening for the return trip to Detroit, arriving at 9 a.m. Friday.

The Charlevoix students will leave for home a short time later.

They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Kipke as chaperones.

The 20 students not making the trip are not going out of choice and not for lack of funds, school officials said Wednesday.

Fire Destroys Dairy Barn and Young Cattle

Fire of undetermined origin Monday afternoon completely destroyed the dairy barn on the farm of Norbert Nachazel, in Eveline township. Lost in the blaze were 17 head of young cattle, a milch cow and calf along with a quantity of hay, grain and most of the dairy equipment.

The blaze, discovered by a neighbor who called the East Jordan fire department, was out of control before fire trucks arrived. Insurance was carried on the property but the extent of the loss had not been determined Wednesday by Mr. Nachazel.

Mr. Nachazel has operated the farm since 1945 and is one of the milk producers supplying the Maxbauer Dairy here.

Mayor Appoints S. E. Coleman Harbor Master

The Charlevoix city council, at its regular meeting Monday night approved the appointment of S. E. 'Irish' Coleman as harbor master, effective June 21.

Mayor E. James Hiller appointed Mr. Coleman to the post to succeed King Saunders who had served as harbor master last summer but who did not seek re-appointment.

The Charlevoix JayCees were given permission for a parade to be held from 2 to 3 p.m. Saturday, May 23, as a part of the observance of Michigan Week's Frontiers Day. A request to close Bridge st. from Park ave. south to Garfield ave. from 2 to 3 p.m. on that date has been forwarded to the Michigan State Highway Department.

A Civil Defense ordinance opening the way for a Civil Defense program for the city was approved. Under the ordinance the mayor will have the right to declare an emergency in the event of a disaster.

The finance committee approved bills amounting to $19,993.75. The figure includes payment for the Chevrolet pick-up truck purchased recently for use by the water department and a payment of $4,680 for dock and harbor improvements.

New T-V Station Opens Saturday At Cheboygan

The new Cheboygan television broadcasting station, WTOM-TV, Channel 4, is scheduled to go on the air at 6:45 p.m. Saturday. Les Biederman, president of the Northwestern Broadcasting Co. has announced.

The initial broadcast will include a test pattern from 6:45 to 7 p.m., followed by the introduction of the management and visiting guests. From 7:30 to 10:30 the station will carry the National Broadcasting Co. schedule. The Jack Paar show will be broadcast Monday through Friday.

Peanut League Managers to Meet

Peanut league softball managers are asked to meet at the community room of the city hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 21, to make plans for the forthcoming season.

Dean Davenport, director of the softball program, has called the meeting at which player needs and other important issues will be discussed.

Students to Present Annual Spring Concert

The entire music department of the Charlevoix public school, numbering more than 200 students in the sixth through the twelfth grades, will present the annual Spring Music Fesival at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday).

C. A. Odmark will direct all groups participating in the concert which is scheduled to begin promptly at 8 p.m. There will be no admission charge but everyone will be given an opportunity to contribute to the Charlevoix Park Stage Fund.

Opening the program will be the Charlevoix Girls Glee Club of 65 voices presenting a group of light, tuneful numbers suited to the season. They will include "Three Little Maids," Elliott; "Can't You Dance the Polka;" A Sea Chanty and "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You," Meredith Willson.

The sixth grade beginners' band, with a record enrollment of 52, will then participate in an 'open -rehearsal' during which they will show the point at which students begin their instrumental training.

They will be followed by the seventh grade band of 34 pieces who will present two numbers, "Honor Guard March" and "Independence," a two-part invention designed to show the progress made by the group in the past year.

The newest musical organization, the 25 voice Boys Glee club who will sing the well-known "Aura Lee" and the spriitual, "Dry Bones."

The boys' group will then be joined by the Girls' Glee club to form a 90-voice mixed choir singing "Gloria in Excelsio" by Mozart and Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Both of these numbers were sung at the recent Choral Festival at Mancelona.

The Charlevoix Reserve Band, composed of 54 eighth and ninth grade students, will continue the program with a group of selections including 'Festival Parade March," Mesang; "Villa", Lehar; "An American Scene," Grundman and the march, "Queen City," Boorn.

Concluding the program will be the 64-piece Charlevoix high school senior band playing "A Santa Cecelia," a march by Radaclli; Selections from "Maytime" by Romberg and Walters' "Prairie Lament," a clever treatment of a favorite country tune. The program will conclude with the playing of the Sousa march "Stars and Stripes Forever," the march of marches written by the March King.

The program will last for 90 minutes.

The public is invited to this program planned for the enjoyment of everyone in the community.

Announce Final Report on Cancer Fund Campaign

A total of $953.18 was contributed to the 1959 Cancer Crusade in the Charlevoix area the Rev. Robert J. Yonkman, chairman of the current fund drive said Wednesday in making a final report on the campaign.

Elsewhere in the county Boyne City area raised $1,053.31 and the East Jordan area $1,021.70 for a total of $3,028.19 in the county.

Charlevoix county was the third county in the state to go over the top in the recent fund drive. In a telegram to the Charlevoix county unit volunteers John Maynard, state chairman, offered his congratulations for the excellent job in putting the county over the top early in the drive.

Extensive Program Planned for Annual Michigan Week

Charlevoix will host city officials from the village of Ubly in the Thumb area Monday during the sixth annual Mayor's Exchange Day of Michigan Week.

Village president Francis A. Hund and Mrs. Hund and Councilman Ellsworth Dunlap and Mrs. Dunlap are scheduled to arrive at the city hall here at 10 a.m. Monday where they will be greeted by Harry Gebeau, third ward alderman and chairman of the Mayors' Exchange committee.

Mayor E. James Hiller and City Superintendent Hal M. Hill, in the mean time, will be welcomed at Ubly.

The Mayors' Exchange Day will be one of the highlights of Michigan Week which is being observed here for the first time with a full program for the entire week planned by Michigan Week chairman, John Makel, who has been assisted by many local groups and individuals.

The observance of Spiritual Foundations Day on Sunday by all churches in the community will officially open Michigan Week.

Many churches are planning special events in observance of this day. Others are featuring buest speakers. Roger Wood of Olivet College will speak on the subject of "Michigan Christian Colleges" at the First Congregational church; Rev. George K. White of Lincoln Park will speak at the Community Church of God and a guest pastor will fill the pulpit at the First Methodist church while the pastor, Rev. Frederick McNeil, and a group of local young people visit College.

During Mayors Exchange Day, the visiting officials will be taken on a tour of city facilities and to the Charlevoix hospital, new county building and other points of interest by Mr. Gebeau and his committee.

A luncheon at the Grey Gables Inn at noon honoring the visitors will be attended by city councilmen and their respective wives.

Hospitality Day Tuesday will be in charge of Sheriff Glenn E. Rose and Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith. Special attention will be given to visitors to the community on this day.

Michigan products made or grown in the state will be featured in all retail stores on Our Livelihood Day Wednesday. Under the sponsorship of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Robert G. Lieberman, all retail stores will offer specials on Michigan made

Merchants Team To Be Drafted For Softball

A fifth local softball team to be known as the Charlevoix Merchants will be drafted at a meeting of officials of the league at the city hall at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday Dean Davenport, director of the softball program has announced.

It was decided to form a fifth team here when the Ellsworth squad informed the local league that they would not be able to participate this season.

All prospective players who did not play with a Class A team last season are asked to contact one of the league officers before the time of the meeting next Tuesday so their names may be placed in a player pool.

At a meeting held last Tuesday John Swanson was elected president of the league to succeed Fritz Puffpaff. Other officers are Jim Alger, first vice-president; Harvey Cole, second vice president and Mr. Davenport secretary-treasurer.

The 1959 season is tentatively scheduled to open June 11.

Church Circle to Present 'The Robe'

The Mary Burns circle of the First Congregational church will present the full length movie, "The Robe," at the Charlevoix high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Andrew Essenberg, president of the sponsoring group, has announced.

The feature length film in color portrays the story written by Lloyd Douglas.

Tickets for the film may be purchased from Mrs. Henry Ingalls or from any member of the sponsoring church circle.

Time Deposits to Pay 3 Per Cent Interest Rate

A time certificate of deposit plan which will draw three per cent interest was inaugerated today by the Charlevoix County State Bank, according to Robert Bridge, president.

Time certificates of deposit are accepted in amount of $500 or more in multiples of $100 for periods of no less than six months at the higher rate of interest. Interest payment checks will be made to the depositor at the end of each six months periods and the deposit automatically extended for another six months unless otherwise directed by the depositor.

Depositors do, however, have the option of withdrawing their deposit by giving the bank 30 day notice and accepting a lower interest rate for the current interest period.

We're Proud of Michigan

There never was a more appropriate time for the citizens of our state to get up and shout "We're Proud of Michigan." It could have some counter effect on the adverse national publicity aimed at the financial mess of our state government. Be that as it may, Michigan Week is an occasion when individuals and communities can tell the world there are plenty of reasons to be proud of Michigan despite what goes on in Lansing.

Michigan has been aptly called the Inland Empire of the Eighth Sea. And where is there a state or nation that could be more self-sufficient than Michigan/ Here we have mineral resources that could closely approach our needs if necessary. Agriculture could adequately supply our food and fiber. Industry could meet our needs of manufactured materials. We have the natural resources and our citizens have developed them to serve man-kind. We can be justly proud of what we have done with Michigan.

Census reports show we have more than 1,200 factories, many of which are outstanding examples of engineering skill and industrial know-how. Employees in Michigan represent 81 per cent of all the skills found in the nation and the state ranks first in the value of goods produced per worker.

Our agriculture, too, is a sizeable operation, producing a variety of foods and fiber to meet our necessities. Few states can produce fruits and vegetables that compare to ours in flavor and nutrition.

Michigan ranks fourth place in the nation as a vacation state and attracts more than nine million tourists annually who contribute $650 million to our economy. Many of these visitors are attracted by our 11,000 inland lakes, the 36,350 miles of beautiful streams, the 3,120 miles of Great Lakes shore line and the nine million acres of state and natural forest.

In our observance of Michigan week let us not forget that Charlevoix is a part of Michigan. We in Charlevoix contribute to the welfare of the state when we work objectively for the betterment of community and perpetuate it as a good place to work, a good place to live, and a good place to be proud of.

Milk Tastes Just Great!

Especially Maxbauers

WHY?

Because it's fresher with full-bodied richness.

Plain or flavored, with meals or snacks, they just can't get enough of it's refreshing goodness. Best part is that it's as nutritious as it is delicious.

Serve it often!

CAN IT BE that spring is here. Spring, that is, that thus far has featured temperatures well in the 80's for several days. We find it hard to believe but the old thermometer doesn't lie. As a result everything is jumpin' but good—the flowers, leaves, kids, fish, bugs, name it and it's in the spirit of the season. Spotted a backyard full of the purtiest red and yellow flowers in Mrs. Floyd Supp's backyard the other day. It won't be long before all the leaves are out (that is, if Sunday's weather holds). Kids of all sizes are running around in all types of attire, or should we say as little attire as they can get away with. The perch were biting over the weekend we saw 'em with our own eyes. There were so many boats on Round Lake Saturday morning we couldn't understand how the fish could get between 'em, and need we say anything about the bugs other then that they're with us.

* * *

WE'RE TOLD that the rain and warm weather have brought out scads of mushrooms too, if you know where to find them. Now we haven't seen any yet but we are hopin'.

* * *

EVERYBODY'S got the fishin' fever. Last week John Wojan who's activities have been limited as the result of a heart attack decided he'd try a hand at it so went out to the Barnard pond. He took with him his daughter, Noreen and a couple of her friends, Mary Mitchell and Shirley Gibson. He left the kids in one spot and made his way along the pond when the kids spotted the biggest "trout" they'd ever seen. Norene took off for her dad (tearing the seat out of her slacks enroute) while Shirley and Mary stayed to keep an eye on the fish. When it looked as tho' the fish was going to get away Shirley jumped into the pond and scooped him out with her hands because, after all, you just can't lose a fish that big. When Mr. W. arrived he found the fish — a huge sucker. But the kids had to bring their catch home to show it before it was buried in someone's garden plot.

* * *

THE YOUNGSTERS on the north side decided Saturday that something should be done in honor of Mother's Day — that is, something special — so they banded together and made plans for a concert to which they sold tickets at one cent apiece. Among the ticket holders were Dr. and Mrs. Russell E. Palmer who made the trip around the block only to find themselves the only concert-goers. But the youngsters, Charlotte and Annette Stanek, Sherri Meier, Elen and Erin Arvilla, gave their all and tossed in a berry box filled with daffodils and arbutus as a special attraction. Everyone had a fine time and felt it was all worth the effort.

* * *

SPEAKING OF arbutus, it was lovely this year. We had a couple bouquets of it and loved it. Many thanks.

FROM MRS. CHARLES Krulik in Lansing a note and a clipping from the Lansing State Journal about the daughter of the Warren Shapton's. She was given a Teen Salute which the newspaper features and after reading about her we could understand why. She's Bonnie Shapton who spends a great deal of time here during the summer when she visits her grandparents, the Earl Shapton's and the Bonnie Nickersons. She's a student at Pattingill junior high and as a freshman does any number of things. We're very proud to call her one of Charlevoix's youngsters.

MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT ENDORSES AMAZING NEW HEARING INVENTION

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has now joined other prominent Americans and people from all walks of life in praising a revolutionary new hearing device called "The Listener." "It certainly heralds a new day for the hard of hearing," said Mrs. Roosevelt recently.

Continuing, she added: "If people only knew what a revelation and a joy The LISTENER is, they would not for a moment hesitate to wear one. This is the first hearing aid that exactly fits my needs. I didn't realize a hearing aid could be as good as this."

So widespread is the interest in this remarkable new electronic hearing achievement, the makers have prepared an illustrated booklet giving full details. Those interested may obtain a free copy from:

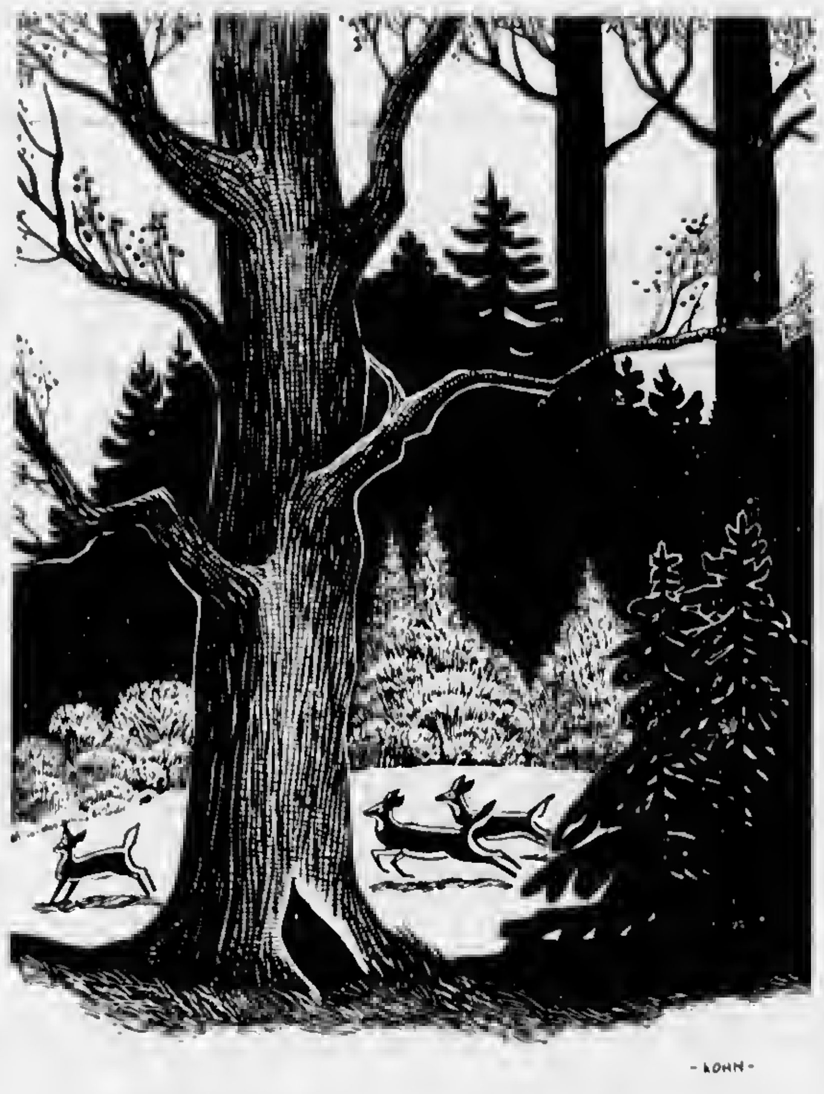
Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn



The Great Hunger

While driving into Hidden Brook a few evenings ago we were treated to a sight that for us was most unusual — a large whitetail doe lying near the trail and watching us with casual interest. Not until I opened the car door and started in her direction did she leap to her feet and bound away through the grove of budding birches. On very rare occasions we have noticed deer resting in adjoining meadows and fields as we have approached our gate but usually when we see them, the deer are running, or at least walking — on their way to satisfy one of their great hungers. It may be the tissue's demand for energy-giving fuel which will be appeased with maple browsings at the wood's edge. Or it might be a deep-seated, pressing yearning for water, and, when the day is spent and darkness shrouds the North, the fretful urgency will be quieted at a peaceful pool where the brook lingers, dawdling briefly on its way to nearby Lake Charlevoix. Or the body's aching for rest will be supplied in the cool, comforting shade of yonder lacy cedar tree. Nearly always the graceful animals are going somewhere, on some errand of satisfaction of a bodily need.

Human nature has this in common with all our kindred of the wild: we are creatures of restless urgencies and gnawing hungers, and when we see people active it is usually when they are satisfying one of life's basic needs. They are at their place of employment earning the wherewithal to purchase food and shelter, or they are found at play seeking relaxation and rest, or they are at home with mate and family fulfilling an inner craving for fulfillment and perpetuation of their kind and seeking the security of being among those who care.

Even the evils men do reveal their warped ways of attempting to gratify deep desire and end an inner famine. And when evil fastens upon a person he will use any situation to tame the inward urge. Hatred is an example. Hatred is one of life's most perverted, insistent and greedy cravings, once it gets a grip on a peron.

Dr. Walter Bowie has pointed out that hatred is like alcoholism. When a man is controlled by alcohol he will drink anything, not just whiskey or gin, but if these are not available wood alcohol will do. Compulsive hatred is like that. Once it seizes a man he is bound to hate, not only the things that are hate-worthy, such as disease, cruelty, abject poverty or war, but when these are temporarily out of stock, or out of mind, he finds something else to hate. It may be Jews or Germans, Negroes or Mongoloids, Catholics or Protestants, Republicans or Democrats. Hatred is a thirst that consumes whatever is near at hand.

Fault-finding is another evidence of perverted appetite. The chronic criticizers do not need devils and wretches to flay and reprove. Anyone will do. A member of a certain church in a Michigan city (Thank heaven, not my own!) has been opposed to every pastor she had in the past twenty-five years. One preached too loudly. Another was so homely she couldn't thoroughly enjoy his preaching. The next one joked too much, and the next was a hypocrite, so she thought. Now she has one of the finest pastors in the state, a man who serves on many of his denomination's boards and committees, many meetings each year, and he must attend. "Why doesn't he stay at home where he belongs?" she asks. Each time she has become acquainted with her minister she has found some fault and has pled for a change, but when the change has come she didn't like the next one either. So far the big change has not occurred —a change in herself. Most churches have one or two of these habitual fault-finders. The preacher speaks too long so that people get restless, or so briefly that he must not have prepared well, and "it was hardly worth coming to hear." He makes too many pastoral calls so that he does not spend enough time studying, or he spends too much time studying and therefore doesn't call enough. He is not enough interested in the young people, or he spends too much time with the young people and pays no attention to the older folks. He is too progressive, always starting something new and keeping thing in an uproar, or he's an old fogey and has no new ideas. He is too strict or too lenient, too dogmatic or "he has no convictions." He calls too many committee meetings so that "You never have a night at home" or he runs a "one-man show" and doesn't know how to delegate authority. I've been singularly fortunate. In twenty years of public ministry I've never run into a nest of these habitual fault-finders, but I have a profound pity for some of my fellow ministers and their congregations who are afflicted with them.

Faultiness can be detected in all human nature, just as alcohol can be found in some form or other in nearly every town and village, but the habitual fault-finder, like the alcoholic, possesses a compulsion for seeking it out, in husband or wife, in children and neighbor, in club president or community leader, or fellow church member, in employer and employee. Once he has found the fault, he seizes upon it, tastes of it with wild-eyed fervor, swallows it in great gulps and gets spiritually sick on it so that he can't see straight or walk uprightly.

Alcoholism has two components — the presence of alcohol in the world, making it available, and the alcoholic's psychological need of liquor to help him either escape from the world or to make him feel temporarily adequate to the world's demands. Just so, fault-finding is compounded of two factors — the fact that everyone is faulty at some point or another, and the fault-finder's inner need to criticize (to lower others that he might feel higher, to find sin in others so that he can feel more righteous, or to develop a feeling of power because he knows that by the strategic use of a few choice words he can hurt, maim, or destroy another's pride or reputation.) Fault-finding is one of the world's perverted hungers.

Two many imperfect people are demanding perfect homes, and blaming husbands, wives, children and parents for not living up to their expectations. They would agree with the common sense reasoning that to be human means to make mistakes and to have faults, but in practice they don't want those near them to make any particularly blunders. Theoretically they can be imperfect, but in practice they must have reached perfection, since whatever fault a husband, wife or child possesses is precisely the one that cannot be tolerated.

So with daily labor, any work looks good but the work you are doing. Any town is attractive but the town you live in. Any neighbors could be enjoyed but the neighbors you have. Any woman or man would be better than the one you married. We may seldom give a thought to improving ourselves as workers rather than changing jobs, becoming better citizens rather than moving to another town, being better neighbors or mates rather than insisting they change. One reason for Hollywood-type serial marriage in America is that too many are looking for the "right" mate, and too few are trying to be the right mate.

The kind of fault-finding that is productive of the most good is dissatisfaction with oneself.

The best people as well as the worst are driven by deep hungers, and whenever you see them they are apt to be seeking satisfaction for their intense urges. Some desire to identify themselves with the world's hurt and downtrodden. Walt Whitman, who nursed wounded soldiers back to health and comforted the dying during the Civil War, once said: "I do not ask the wounded person how he feels. I myself become the wounded person." That is compassion of the highest order, arising from a craving of the holiest kind.

Alexander Pope was one of the most hideously deformed men of all Great Britain, and one of its best poets. We owe much to his search for aesthetic beauty thru poetic expression and his hungry ambition to be the best poet possible. He once said to himself, "If my person be crooked, my verses shall be straight." And they were.

There is a glory in doing well whatever you are doing, in doing it better than you ever have before. And there's a grandeur in being better than you were the year or day before. We want the best mates, the best children, the best friends, teachers, ministers, and civic leaders. But more important is the desire to be the best kind of a marriage partner, the best sort of a parent, friend, scholar, churchman and citizen.

The great hunger is the craving to become the best we can be.

Bible Baptists To Hold Seven Day Revival

Special revival meetings will be held at the Bible Baptist church at 904 May st. beginning Monday and continuing through May 24, according to the Rev. James Lugibihl, pastor of the church.

The Rev. Roy Green, pastor of the First Baptist church of Nashville, will conduct the meetings at the church nightly at 7:30 p.m.

The theme of his preachings will be 'Sin, Salvation and the Second Coming of Jesus Christ." There also will be special music each evening.

A graduate of the Bible Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, Tex., the Rev. Mr. Green pastored churches in northern Michigan including Boyne City and in Georgia before coming to Nashville.

The public is invited to all services.

Extensive Program For Michigan Week

items or Michigan grown products.

A special ceremony at the Charlevoix Elementary school will open the Education Day observance, Leonard Burns, Education Day Chairman, said. Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts will raise the American and Michigan flags in the presence of the student body. The official Michigan song will be sung and Supt. R. G. Bennett will speak briefly on Michigan.

"It's Great to Live in Michigan" will be the theme of themes, essays and poems to be written by students in all the elementary grades.

Seventh grade students who have been studying Michigan history will visit classrooms and speak briefly on Michigan. Display vases in the school will feature Michigan displays.

Mrs. Robert Wexstaff, chairman of Our Heritage Day on Friday has planned a display depicting the spiritual, music, literature and art phases of 'our heritage.' The display may be seen in the window of the Birnkrant building.

"Everyone loves a parade" is the consensus of the Charlevoix JayCees who are planning a parade for New Frontiers Day on Saturday.

The parade will begin at 2 p.m. behind the Charlevoix high school band. The line of march will take it through the business district.

Youngsters in the community are asked to enter their decorated bicycles in the parade. Prizes will be offered for the best decorated vehicles.

Dave Fowler is general chairman of Frontiers Day. He is being assisted by Charles Cross, Albert Clark jr., Robert Ouderkirk, Don Brown and Richard Donaldson. William Carey will serve as master of ceremonies.

In addition to these special events there will be a number of displays which will be exhibited throughout the week. A coin collection belonging to Mrs. John Cross will be shown. Mrs. Ralph Hamiltn has arranged a display of arts and crafts made by adults at Lieberman's as a part of the cultural activity of the community. Mrs. H. E. Paddock has planned a display of painting in the Polly Kay shop as a part of the same cultural exhibit.

Books on Michigan will be displayed in the public library during the week.

The Conservation exhibit of Michigan furs, trapping equipment, fire fighting equipment and other items will be displayed in a window of the Birnkrant building.

Sundew Reports

Good weather on Monday allowed us to continue to set buoys in the Straits area. Some painters came down to Mackinaw City from the Coast Guard base at Sault Ste. Marie to speed up the job of changing the colors on buoys.

The bridge buoys are some of the largest we have and in order to handle them safely we take only two at a time on the buoy deck. By Tuesday evening all the buoys in that area were set so we loaded several that had to be placed in the Les Cheaneaux area.

We moored at Port Dolomite on Wednesday evening and got underway early the next morning for the Soo to take on some smaller buoys. After spending Thursday evening in the Soo we were underway early clearing St. Mary's by 7 a.m. to begin one of our longest runs to set four buoys. After going to False Detour Passage we drooped down to Adams Point and then up to Cordwood Point and the setting of another buoy near Cheboygan. Finally we moored at Mackinaw City for the night before getting underway early Saturday. No one minded about the hour, however, because the destination was Charlevoix. Enroute we dropped two small buoys near Grays Reef light and Dahlia Shoal. We spent the weekend in Charlevoix.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

We had the editor of the Mackinaw City weekly as our guest for a few hours as we completed setting buoys there. We invite the public to be our guests on Saturday, Armed Forces Day. The baseball team is shaping up. We are looking forward to games in the area. Dewie is back from the hospital, playful as ever.

Rayders Capture 21st Track Title

Summer Program At Camp Dagget Begins June 15

Plans for the summer program at Camp Daggett on Walloon Lake which is scheduled to open June 15 have been announced by Bob Woodruff of Petoskey.

Danny Rose, athletic director at Central Michigan College, will be program director for the first five weeks when the camp will be host to the boys of the area. Mr Rose is widely known thruout the area, having played basketball at Rogers City as a youth and later at the University of Michigan. He was the speaker at the recent All-Sports banquet here.

The camp will open June 15 for five weeks of camping for boys. The girls' session will open July 20 and continue for five weeks. The first sesion July 20 to Aug. 1 is now full. However, there are vacancies remaining during the remainder of the camp period.

Activities include archery, riflery, swimming instruction, boating, crafts, nature study, fishing, athletics, movies and campfire programs.

Last season when riflery was introduced at the camp, a Charlevoix camper, David Rader, was the only camper to post a perfect score.

An outdoor chapel is presently under construction. Plans are being made for a recreation building.

Additional information or application blanks may be obtained by calling Bob Woodruff in Petoskey.

Michigan Week Displays Available

A variety of printed material for Michigan Week is now available to member of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, at the office, Secretary Tom Symons has announced.

The material includes streamers ,pins and counter displays designed for the promotion of Michigan Week.

Ellsworth Honor Students

Susan Verone Lather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Lather, has been named Valedictorian of the Class of 1959. Patricia Ann McPherson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McPherson, has been named Salutatorian.

Susan has earned a scholastic record of 3.50 out of a possible 4 points. During her high school career she was elected to the office of secretary of her Freshman and Sophomore Class. She played the alto-saxaphone in the high school band for three years. She has also had important parts in the Junior and Senior Plays. Sue has been a member of the girls basketball squad for four years. The last two years, she has played an important part as guard on the Girl's Championship team of the Snowland Conference. She served as a member of the Yearbook staff for 1957. In the summer of 1958 she attended Wolverine Girl's State, at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Susan has been accepted and awarded a full scholarship at Norwegian-American hospital, Chicago, Illinois, for nurses training beginning August 28, 1959.

Patricia has earned a scholastic record of 3.29 out of a possible 4 points. During her high school career she has played the clarinet in the high school band. She was a member of a clarinet ensemble that attended and won a "2" rating in the State Music Festival in 1957 at Ann Arbor. Patricia played an important part in the Senior Play. Patricia has worked as a librarian's aid for the past three years, and as a cadet teacher in the third grade for three years. Patricia has been accepted for September enrollment at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, where she plans to receive her training to become an elementary teacher.

Community Choir To Hold First Rehearsal

The first rehearsal of the Charlevoix Community Choir will be held at the high school band room at 8 p.m. tomorrow night (Friday) according to C. A. Odmark who directs the group.

An outstanding feature of the annual Baccalaureate service for the graduating class of the Charlevoix high school, the choir will hold three rehearsals in preparation for its role in the service scheduled for Sunday, May 31.

Rehearsal dates will be set tomorrow night Mr. Odmark said.

All former members of the choir as well as anyone else interested in joining the choir is invited to the rehearsal at 8 p.m. Friday. If you would like to sing with the group but cannot attend the first meeting you are asked to call Mr. Odmark either at school or his home.

Capacity Audience Attends Massed Band Festival

One of the most successful massed band festivals in recent year was held in East Jordan last Wednesday according to C. A. Odmark, director of the Charlevoix Senior band, one of nine bands which took part in the event.

Though rain upset the schedule, all events did take place including the parade through the business district.

A capacity crowd filled the auditorium Wednesday evening for the concert by the 410 piece massed band directed by Graham T. Overgard of Wayne State University of Detroit.

Mr. Overgard was well pleased with the caliber of the bands which participated in the festival and with the preparation of the festival music by the various groups. During the concert he introduced guest conductors who led the massed band. They were Mr. Odmark retiring chairman of District 11 of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association which sponsored the festival, Walter Williams of Elk Rapids chairman elect of the district and Emil Acitelli of East Jordan, host director of the festival.

Similar festivals held at Cheboygan and Frankfort were equally as successful as the East Jordan festival, Mr. Odmark said.

Real Estate Firm Increases Staff

Two salesmen, Roger W. Carlisle of St. James, Beaver Island, and Clyde B. Cross of East Jordan, have joined the sales staff of the Scheid real estate business according to Irma L. Scheid, realtor, who heads the firm.

Mr. Carlisle, who comes from Indianapolis, Ind., has been a resident of Beaver Island for the past 10 years. Mr. Cross, a native of Maine, has resided in northern Michigan for several years. Both are qualified salesmen.

Mrs. Scheid is widely known in real estate circles. She has been associated with the business for the past seven years. She has operated her own business for the past three years and has been a realtor for the past year. Her husband, Alfred Scheid, is associated with her as a salesman.

The couple also announced the construction of a new office and home to be located at 1004 South Bridge st. across from the block occupied by St. Mary's church and school. The structure, being built by C. C. Fiedler, will be completed between June 15 and July 1. At that time Mrs. Scheid said they will move their office from Ironton to the new location. The lot on which it is being built was purchased from Kit Carson.

Minutes of School Board Meeting

May 4, 1959

Present: Martin, Lieberman, Boss Smith and Bennett, Supt.

Absent: Freedman

The meeting was called to order at 8:15 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of April 20 were read and approved.

It was moved by Martin and supported by Lieberman that bills in the amount of $1,719.90, payable from General Fund, and in the amount of $2,455.04 payable from the Building and Site Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Carried: 4-0.

It was moved by Lieberman, supported by Martin, that the President and/or Secretary of the Board be authorized to go to Chicago to sign the Building Bonds of $995,000.00. Motion carried: 4-0.

The investment of funds from the building bonds was discussed and agreement reached that if it could be arranged practically the money would be invested in United States Treasury Notes.

The Mayor, members of the City Council, the City Clerk and City Superintendent met with the Board and plans for the removal of the City Garage were discussed at length. It was agreed that it was a mutual problem and all possibilities for the most practical solution must be considered.

The Board was pleased to hear that Dr. Victor F. Spathelf, President of Ferris Institute, will give the commencement address for the Class of 1959, on June 3rd. Robert Lieberman was appointed by President Boss to present the diplomas.

The progress of the architect's plans for the new school was studied and Mr. Cornwell was asked to be present Wednesday afternoon, May 6, at 1:30 for a study of the Science Department.

Plans were discussed for the moving of the soft ball diamond from the site of the new high school, but no definite plans were completed.

Census takers for this year were discussed and Mr. Bennett was instructed to secure them so that they may start work immediately.

The meeting adjourned at 10:40 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT H. SMITH, Secretary

Church Youths To Stage Bake Sale Saturday

The Congre-Teens and the Youth Choir of the First Congregational church have announced plans for a bake sale to be held at the Brown Motors Bldg. beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Proceeds from the project will be presented to Carolyn Kohn, a member of both groups, who last week was named as an exchange student to spend the summer months in Europe.

A group of local residents are interested in establishing a sustained program for these students. The bake sale planned for Saturday is the first event planned to raise funds for this project.

Charlevoix became eligible to send a student abroad when Ruby Saunders, an Irish exchange student, came to the community last fall to spend the school year with Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall. Foreign students visiting this country are sponsored by the Council of Chistian Churches.

However, American students participating in the program must pay their own way.

It is hoped that a fund can be established to send a student abroad each year as long as Charlevoix is eligible to participate in the program.

Purpose of the exchange program is to promote a better understanding between the United States and the countries of Europe.

JayCees Name Committee for Frontier Day

Reports on various activities sponsored by the Charlevoix JayCees highlighted a meeting of the organization held Monday at the city hall.

Fritz Puffpaff volunteered to serve as chairman of a committee to select a Venetian Festival Queen. Serving with him will be David Fowler, Fritz Allard, Robert Ouderkirk and Louis McKenzie.

Mr. Fowler reported on the progress of plans for New Frontier Day Saturday, May 23. Bill Carey was named to serve as master of ceremonies. A committee composed of Charles Cross, Albert Clark jr., Mr. Ouderkirk, Don Brown and Dick Donaldson was named to assist Mr. Fowler with the arrangements.

Mr. Carey reported on the sale of tickets of the JayCee boat. Mr. Brown, president of the organization, reported on the district dinner meeting held at Traverse City recently.

Marion See, 86, Pioneer Resident Dies at Grandvue

Marion See, 86, resident of this community since 1937, died Wednesday at Grandvue Medical Care Facility near East Jordan where he had been a patient since January.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church at 9 a.m. Friday with the Rev. E. Francis Denay officiating. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at the Winchester funeral home at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Born in Antrim county July 16, 1872, Mr. See had lived in Norwood township from 1893 until coming to Charlevoix in 1937. For many years he made his home with the late Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Gennett. He never married. He was a member of St. Mary's Church.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Clara Willmarth of Central Lake.

Funeral Services Held Wednesday For Mrs. E. Hofman

Ellsworth — Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Atwood Christian Reformed church for Mrs. Elden Hofman who died Monday in Charlevoix hospital following an extended illness.

The former Anita Dorothy Nyland was born in Kalamazoo January 30, 1911 and came to this community with her parents at the age of eight years. She was survived by her husband, a son Russell of East Jordan; three brothers, Harold Nyland of Central Lake, Howard Nyland of East Jordan and Robert Nyland of Kalamazoo; two sisters, Mrs. Gloria Holt of Grand Rapids and Lois Nyland of Kalamazoo; and three grandchildren.

Traverse Girl Scouts to Visit Here Saturday

Charlevoix's Intermediate Girl Scouts will entertain a group of Scouts and six leaders from Traverse City Saturday afternoon according to Mrs. Robert Bergmann, president of the local Council.

The group, headed by Mrs. George Schraut will arrive on the train at 1:32 p.m. Saturday 33 Girl Scouts and Brownie and will be met at the station by girls from troops 2, 4 and 15 and their leaders, Mrs. Gerald Lakies, Mrs. Marion Arbuckle, Mrs. Jack Rader, Mrs. Richard Edwards, Mrs. Danford Gallagher and Mrs. Bergmann and Mrs. Lloyd Arnold of the council.

They will be taken via bus on a tour of the community with a visit to the fish hatchery as a side trip. They will return to the station for the return trip at 4:32 p.m. All visitors will receive souviners made by the local Scouts.

A picnic at the depot beach is also planned. It will be held at the cafeteria in the event of inclement weather.

Plan Work Bee at Norwood Cemetery

The annual spring work-bee to beautify the Norwood Cemetery will be held Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m., according to William Parson, secretary.

The bee will be an all day session with a pot-luck lunch served in the township hall at noon by the ladies of the community.

Construction of Launching Ramp On Lake Charlevoix for Outboards

Construction of a launching ramp on Lake Charlevoix south of the Ferry ave. beach was started at a work bee Sunday by members of the Charlevoix Marine club and other volunteers interested in the project. The ramp is to be used for launching outboard motor boats and other small craft.

Work on the ramp will be continued Sunday when another work bee will be held at the ramp site according to Phil Lawrence, commodore of the Charlevoix Marine Club, which is sponsoring the project. Volunteers are asked to gather again Sunday to complete the second phase of the work.

At the first work bee 109 truck loads of rock which was donated by E. K. Shaffman of Birchwood ranch and gravel donated by Frank Boss of the Lake Terrace trailer park was trucked to the shore of Lake Charlevoix. Most of the rock was handled by hand.

The ramp will extend some distance into the water but the exact distance has not been determined at this time Mr. Lawrence said. The water level is very low at this time and this will determine how far the ramp must extend into the lake, he added.

The ramp slopes upward 35 ft. from the road to the water's edge and extends another 50 feet into the water as it is now constructed. How much longer it must be as it slopes outward from the beach will depend on the depth of the water.

Club members who worked on the project were Lee Moerland, Bob Wexstaff, Bob Hamilton, Cliff Gregory, Jim Barnt, Jack Mol, Glenn Pemberton, Ted Bergmann and Dick Fochtman.

Al Smith and Dale Bolser drove the trucks, Bob Sarasin the bulldozer and Clayton Sarasin the loader supplied by Lake Construction; Jim Martin and Joe Armstrong drove the trucks supplied by the city and Larry Swanson and Evart Pease drove the trucks, Medrick Waffle the loader and Dick Fochtman the bulldozer supplied by the Swanson Gravel Co.

In announcing the progress of the work, Mr. Lawrence expressed his appreciation as well as that of the club for the fine cooperation of everyone in getting this project started. "With the limited funds available it would not be possible without the generous help of the city and the local construction companies as well as the men who are giving their time to this worthwhile project" Mr. Lawrence said.

Sentence Two for Ransacking Boyne City Schools

Two young Boyne City men who pleaded guilty earlier to breaking and entering the Boyne City high school in March and doing extensive damage to equipment and files were sentenced to Southern Michigan prison by Judge Charles L. Brown during the opening day of the May term of circuit court here Monday.

They are Massen Martin, 19, who was sentenced to three to 15 years and James C. Franklin Watson, 21, who was sentenced to 28 months to 15 years on the charge. A third youth, Charles F. Schroeder involved in the crime, will be sentenced later this week.

Two other men who were being arraigned on other charges pleaded not guilty to the crimes with which they were charged. Donald W. Davison, 20, of Boyne City pleaded not guilty to larceny from an automobile and two charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime and demanded a jury trial. Richard D. Bowen, 26, of Grand Rapids stood mute when charged with larceny by conversion and the court entered a plea of not guilty in his behalf. The court also named Norman D. Ance as his attorney. Both cases will be heard later. Both men were remanded to the county jail.

Five others pleaded guilty to various charges when arraigned and their cases referred to the probation officer for investigation. They will be sentenced later. They are: Jesse Lawton, 58, of Ellsworth, morals charge; Purl Simmons, 24, of Boyne City, breaking and entering; Raymond Crandall, breaking and entering in the nighttime and Jack Imel, 34, and his wife, Marjorie, both of East Jordan, receiving funds from the Bureau of Social Aid fraudulently. All were returned to the county jail with the exception of the Imels who furnished bonds of $100 each at the time of their initial appearance in justice court.

Plan Babe Ruth Baseball Team

Plans for the formation of a Babe Ruth baseball team which will play in the Petoskey league have been announced.

Boys in the 13 through 15 year age group are eligible to play on the team which will hold its first practice session at the baseball diamond east of the football field at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The team will be sponsored by the Charlevoix Merchants and will participate in the Petoskey league.

Pete Burns will manage the team. Coaches will be Ken Cellner, Rev. Fred McNeil and Orlin Cunningham.

All boys interested in playing baseball with the team are requested to attend the first practice session Tuesday.

Tax Allocation Board to Meet

The Charlevoix county tax allocation board will meet at the county building at 10 a.m. Thursday, May 28, to set the final tax rate for the year.

At a meeting held earlier the tentative rate was set at 6.5 mills to the county for operational costs; one-half mill to all townships with the exception of Hayes and Norwood and eight mills to all school districts with the exception of those in Hayes township, Murray and Bay Shore fractional, which will receive 8.5 mills.

Mayor Proclaims Saturday Annual Poppy Day Here

Saturday has been named Poppy Day and all citizens have been urged to observe the day by wearing memorial poppies in tribute to the nation's war dead in a proclamation issued this week by Mayor E. James Hiller. The Proclamation stated:

"Rememberance of those who gave their lives in defense of our country and its freedom being an inspiring part of our American heritage, and all of us having personal memories of young men from our city who died in war service, it is fitting that we keep those memories bright by wearing on one day each year the Memorial Poppy. I therefore am proclaiming Saturday, May 23, 1959, to be Poppy Day in the city of Charlevoix and urging all citizens to observe the day by wearing the Memorial Poppy."

Both the American Legion Auxiliary and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will conduct their annual poppy sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Profits from the sale are used by the local organizations to help finance their various welfare programs. The poppies are made by disabled veterans in the veterans' facilities throughout the country.

B. C. Mellencamp Former County Agent Retires

B. C. Mellencamp, popular Isabella County Cooperative Extension Director, will retire June 1 after 35 years with the Extension Service.

Sunday, May 24 at 1:30 p.m. a program will take place at the Mt. Pleasant High School honoring B. C. Mellencamp's many years of untiring efforts in serving the farmers of Michigan. Paul Miller, Michigan State University, Vice President will be the featured testimonial speaker. Everyone, anywhere in Michigan knowing B. C. Mellencamp is urged to attend this program.

B. C. Mellencamp served twenty-one of the thirty-five years in Charlevoix County and many old friends from this area are expected to attend.

Maria's Re-opens Saturday at Susan Lake for Season

Maria's Susan Lake Inn, located four miles north of Charlevoix on the Boyne City road, will re-open Saturday under the management of the owner, William George.

The popular eating place which features steaks, chops, chicken and sea foods has been closed for the past two years during the construction of a new highway.

Mr. George and son, Eric, arrived here recently from Hollywood, Fla. They also spent some time in California and on the Marshall Islands during their absence.

The Inn will be open from 5 to 9 p.m. daily for dinner. After July 1 hours will be 5 to 10 p.m. Other meals will be by appointment.

Set Regulations For Concessions At Venetian Event

A new policy for organizations having booths during the annual Venetian Festival was approved at a meeting called Friday night by Byron Wright, booth chairman for the event.

Under the new policy, organizations wishing to have booths in East Park during the festival will pay an 'entry' fee of $10 for space in the park. They will also be required to pay a fee of 10 per cent of gross sales to the Chamber of Commerce for the privilege of having a booth in the park during the festival. The original $10.00 entry fee will be applied to the percentage fee.

Organizations participating were assured that there would be no more than two booths of a kind allowed in the park. This applies to all booths with the exception of food booths where different types of food will be offered in different locations.

Revenue derived from this source will be placed in a special fund to be used only for the betterment of the Venetian Festival.

Representatives of some 12 local organizations interested in having booths in the park were present for the meeting.

June 1 was set as the deadline for entering booths in the festival. All requests for space along with the $10 fee must be filed with the Chamber of Commerce by this date. Space will then be allotted at a meeting called for the following week.

In adopting the new policy, Mr. Wright said the committee felt it was only fair to ask participating organizations to help underwrite the cost of the festival since they were profiting from the event. He added that it was to their advantage to make the festival bigger and better each year.

Robt. Vratanina Naned oo Staff at Emmet College

Robert Vratanina, former local reident and graduate of Michigan State University, has been named to the staff of Emmet Community College in Petoskey according to an announcement from the Board of Trustees.

He will teach in the Political Science and History Departments.

A 1943 graduate of the Charlevoix high school, Mr. Vratanina is a veteran of nine years in the U. S. Army including two years in Korea with the Transportation Corps and another three years with Military Intelligence in Germany.

While in Europe with the Intelligence Corps he taught classes to military personnel and supervised military personnel as a commanding officer. He acted as a laison officer to British, French and German Intelligence personnel. He was a captain at the time of separation.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vratanina of this city.

Contributions Add To Park Stage Fund

The fund for the new Park Stage increased again this week, Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Park Stage committee announced.

Receipts from the Charlevoix high school spring music festival held last Thursday evening have been contributed to the fund. This amounted to $79.14. Mrs. Carson also reports a contribution from the Women's Auxiliary Guild of Christ Episcopal church.

State Savings Bank Offers Certificates At 3 p. c. Interest

Time certificates of deposit, paying three percent interest are now available at the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, Archie L. Livingston, executive vice president announced this week.

The certificates are issued in the amount of $500 or more in multiples of $100 for a period of not less than six months and are automatically extended each six months unless withdrawal is requested by the depositor. Interest checks are mailed to depositors at the end of each six month period.

Former Student Gets Film Part

Charlevoixians will have a new interest in the filming of Justice John D. Voelker's book, "Anatomy of a Murder" at Ishpeming and Marquette with the announcement that a local resident who is attending Northern Michigan College will be seen in a 'rock and roll' scene in the film.

He is Joe Etienne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Etienne sr. and a student at Northern where he is also a member of the golf team.

Dr. V. F. Spathelf Named Speaker For Commencement

Victor F. Spathelf, president of Ferris Institute, will deliver the Commencement address at the exercises honoring the 1959 graduating class of the Charlevoix high school, on June 3, Supt. R. G. Bennett announced this week.

A native of Michigan, Dr. Spathelf has served as president of one of Michigan's fastest growing colleges since 1952.

Prior to his appointment as president of Ferris Institute, he served with Wayne University in Detroit where he was appointed Counselor of Men in 1941 and progressively assigned as coordinator of University War Related Programs, Acting Director of the Division of Student Personnel and finally Dean of Student Affairs of Wayne University.

He received his early education in the public schools of Indiana and Michigan and did his undergraduate work at colleges in Detroit. His graduate work in educational administration was done at Wayne University and the University of Michigan.

At one time he was employed as a social agency boys' worker in Metropolitan Detroit and subsequently a teacher, athletic director, high school principal and school superintendent in Oakland county; assistant superintendent of the Highland Park Public Schools; director of the summer school workshop in school administration at Purdue University.

To Open 25-Unit Laundromat Here

Plans are underway to open a 25-unit Laundromat the last week in June at 802 South Bridge St., former location of Puff's Appliance Center, according to R. J. McClelland of Bellaire who will operate the new business.

Esuipped with 20 Westinghouse automatic washers and five dryers, the units will be coin operated and self-servicing. The Laundromat will be open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, Mr. McClelland said. This will afford patrons an opportunity to avail themselves of the service at their own convenience.

The business will be operated under the name of "Best Way Laundromat," featuring 30 minute laundry service. Mr. McClelland plans a comfortable lounge area for the patrons while waiting for their laundry. He says, also, there will be adequate parking space adjacent to the building.

Before making his permanent residence in Bellaire, Mr. McClelland lived in Chicago and summered in this area. Definite date for the opening of the Laundromat in Charlevoix will be announced later.

Frontiers' Day Parade To Climax Michigan Week Events Saturday

Michigan Week in Charlevoix will be climaxed with a Frontiers' Day parade sponsored by the Charlevoix Jay-Cees according to John Makel, Michigan week chairman in the community.

The parade will form at the softball field at 1:30 p.m. and begin its march from Garfield ave. through the business district to Park ave. at 2 p.m.

Theme of the parade will be "Parade of Progress" featuring the old in contrast with the new according to David Fowler, general chairman. Among the things entered will be a milk wagon of 50 years ago and a modern day tank truck and milk truck; tandem bicycle of long ago and a new bicycle; a horse-drawn covered wagon, a modern tractor and an old plow; a new fire truck and one of 1909 vintage entered by the East Jordan fire department; a horse-drawn wagon entered by Barney Englehart of Camp Charlevoix bearing girls wearing costumes of yester-year followed by a new truck and girls in modern-day formal gowns; modern day trailers entered by the Trailer division of Morweld Steel of Ellsworth; cars, old and new, entered by local car dealers.

In addition there will be more than 40 boys and girls in costume riding decorated bicycles. Prizes will be offered for this event. Judges will be Mrs. Fritz Puffpaff, Mrs. Richard Donaldson and Mrs. Albert Clark jr. who will judge the entries in the park following the parade.

Cub Scouts and Girl Scouts will also participate, entering the event as a community project.

The parade will be led by an honor guard from the 310th Ordnance Co. located here. Equipment from the local armory will also be shown in the parade.

Music for marching will be by the Charlevoix high school band directed by C. A. Odmark. The group will present a concert in East Park immediately following the parade. A free-will offering will be accepted for the Park Stage fund.

Bill Carey, who will be located on the south end of the business district, will serve as master of ceremonies. He will announce the various entries in the parade over a public address system.

Displays by northern Michigan industries will be featured in East Park. Among the companies sponsoring displays will be Freedman Artcraft, American Mold, Paul-Reed Inc., Wojan Lumber, Great Lakes Fabrication, Will-Flow Corp., N. & R. Products, Stream-Eze which also will enter a float in the parade, East Jordan Canning Co., Howe Leather Co. of Boyne City, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and

President of Ubly Guest of City in Mayor Exchange

Charlevoix entertained Village President Francis A. Hund and Mrs. Hund and Councilman E. L. Dunlap and Mrs. Dunlap of Ubly here Monday during the annual observance of Mayors' Exchange Day of Michigan Week.

While Village President Hund and his party were in Charlevoix Mayor E. James Hiller and City Superintendent Hal M. Hill were being feted by the officials of Ubly, located in the Thumb district of the state.

Third ward alderman Harry Gebeau headed a committee which greeted the visitors from Ubly when they arrived in Charlevoix Monday morning. While the aldermen took the visitors on a tour of the city utility plants, county building, Charlevoix hospital and local industries the wives of the aldermen entertained the wives of the visiting officals.

A luncheon at the Grey Gables Inn at noon honored the vsiting officials and their guests. Others who attended were Charlevoix aldermen and officials, their wives and John Makel, local Michigan week chairman. The visitors were presented with gifts of maple syrup at the brief program which followed the luncheon.

After a tour of other places of interest, the visitors departed for Ubly via Mackinaw City to see the Mackinac Bridge while in northern Michigan.

Baptists Invite Veterans Group to Memorial Service

Sunday, May 24, has been designated as Memorial Day Sunday.

All members of the Charlevoix VFW post No. 1153 and its Auxiliary and the Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion and its Auxiliary as well as all other veterans in the community are invited to attend the 11 a.m. worship service at the First Baptist church on this day. All veterans and auxiliary members planning to attend are requested to meet at the church at 10:45 a.m. and enter the church in a body. They also are asked to wear their caps.

Plans for the annual Memorial Day parade and program are now being formulated by a committee from each of the veterans organizations.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

CHARLEVOIX'S perch run was on in a big way over the weekend as the elusive little critters were biting for everyone but us. We practically took out homestead rights on the dock but nary a nibble did we get. One old experienced fisherman asked if we'd spit on the hook but it didn't do a bit of good. But everyone in the boats seemed to be hauling in their fair share so really, we can't complain too much. The majority of those people came quite some distance to fish. Though it's discouraging, we really don't mind too much, but will admit it would be nice to get enough for a meal.

* * *

CONGRATULATIONS to our All' ole Rayder track team and their coach, Irish Coleman. Last week they picked off the Class C Conference title at Petoskey and on Saturday the regional title at Traverse City. Tuesday they will take on the Petoskey Relays before going to Mt. Pleasant for the State meet on Saturday. Sure hope they come through there 'cause it's been a long time since we've boasted a State title.

* * *

HOW ABOUT all those people in town Saturday? The place was jumpin' with people here for the perch fishing. Armed Forces Day and heaven knows what else. Anyway there were a lot of visitors here and, thank goodness, the Weatherman cooperated and tho' it wasn't real warm it was bright and sunny. Sure hope they continue to come around.

* * *

THE ORCHID of the week to the Marine club and all those people who joined forces to put in a launching ramp on Lake Charlevoix. There was a work bee Sunday and scads of people turned out to help. It's something we've needed for a long time if we're going to attract the boatman who totes his outboard and whatever with him and stays awhile at the place where he can get it in the water. Another week or so and the ramp will be done so we hope everyone turns to when more assistance is needed.

* * *

MOST PEOPLE in the area have been watching with interest the accounts of the picture "Anatomy of a Murder" which is being made in Ishpeming and Marquette. After all, it isn't every day that our state is the site of a movie. But now Charlevoixans particularly will have another reason for wanting to see it when it's released. One of our hometown boys is making his debut in it. He's none other than Joe Etienne jr., a student at Northern Michigan College who was an extra in a 'rock and roll' scene in the film. Can't you just see him in that kind of role?

* * *

EVERYONE HEARD the news the other night of the dust storm which started in Nebraska and some of the other plain states. However, we're certain that no one expected the dust to 'rain' down on northern Michigan but that's exactly what happened. Except for those who were up to see it no one realized for a while what had happened when they found their cars covered with mud spatters one morning last week. Simple: it just rained mud. Everyone's grateful it didn't last longer.

* * *

IT GETS BETTER every year if that is possible. We mean the spring music concert presented by the high school music department. All units from the beginners in the sixth grade to the big kids in the senior band get to perform and when the latter takes off with its rendition of Sousa's "Stars and Sripes Forever" — Wow! But it's the mixed choir that has everyone talking. For years the Girls Glee club has been singing but this year something new was added, boys. When the 90-voice group sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" it was terrific to say the least. We sincerely hope that after hearing that, more and more boys will join the glee club.

* * *

CHARLEVOIX was host Saturday to a group of V.I.P.'s who with Les Biederman of the Paul Bunyan network were enroute to Cheboygan for the opening of the new television station. They'd been invited by Tom Symons fo the Chamber of Commerce to stop off for a cup of coffee which they thoroughly enjoyed while asking a million questions or so about our fair town. The many many small boats on Round Lake caught their fancy and most of them were ready to stop right here and go fishing. Later Mr. Biederman spoke kind words about Charlevoix during the initial broadcast from the new station whose call letters are WTOM, the latter three coming from 'Top of Michigan.'

* * *

AFTER A WINTER that seemed to last forever, spring is just whizzing by and if you don't believe us we'd like to mention that in less than 10 days it will be Memorial Day. We don't know about you but to us holiday week ends mean lots of traffic which in turn reminds us of the increased possibility of accidents. We'd like this to serve as a warning if you're on the highway over the forthcoming holiday weekend. Won't you please be careful. You're all real nice people and we'd like you to stay around for a while and not cut your all-too-brief stay in this world short as the result of an automobile accident.

Evoking memories and dramatizing progress

Many still living can remember when water came by the bucket instead of by faucet. Within the span of a single lifetime, our way of living has been completely transformed in this and innumerable other respects. Banking has kept pace with this ever accelerating progress; has indeed been an integral part of it. This bank, for instance, has constantly expanded the scope of its services and improved its techniques to meet the needs of clients in today's fastmoving world.

Noreen Cross Weds Richard Selissen In Solemn Nuptial Mass at St. Mary's

St. Mary's church was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Mary Noreen Cross and Richard Lee Selissen.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Marcus H. Cross and Mrs. Hubert Selissen of Green Bay, Wisc., and the late Mr. Selissen.

The Rev. Fr. E. Francis Denay, assisted by the Rev. Fr. Bernard Scheid of Chicago and the Rev. Fr. Victor Gallagher of Reed City, cousins of the bride, officiated at the double ring service during the Solemn Nuptial High Mass in the presence of 200 guests. Arrangements of white carnations and red gladioli decorated the altar. A choir composed of friends of the bride sang the Mass. Patricia Belfy was the soloist and Mrs. Nicholas Hamilton the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a ballerina length gown of lace and net over satin for her wedding. The gown, fashioned with a lace bodice with a sweetheart neckline and long tapered sleeves, had a full skirt of net with lace inserts over satin. A crown of lace and seedpearls secure her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and ivy. She wore heirloom jewelry belonging to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Edward Gallagher.

Sallie E. Cross, sister of the bride as maid of honor wore a ballerina length gown of white starched nylon embossed with pink and blue flowers over taffeta fashioned with a scoop neckline and large pink bow and streamers in the back. She wore a headband of pink flowers and net and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and blue painted daisies.

Mary Janice Supernaw, as bridesmaid, wore a gown identical to the honor attendant with a blue bow and streamers, a blue headdress and colonial bouquet of pink and white painted daisies.

Julie Supernaw, as flower girl, wore a white nylon gown and a headband of pink and blue flowers and carried a basket of painted daisies. Jimmy John Lederman was ring bearer.

Edmund Selissen of Green Bay, Wis., assisted his brother as best man. Mark Cross Jr., brother of the bride was groomsman. Warren J. Toussaint and Wayne Rosecinki seated the guests.

Mrs. Cross chose a beige nylon sheath with light blue satin accents and light blue accessories. Mrs. Selissen, mother of the bridegroom, wore a light blue suit and white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at St. Mary's school hall.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. For traveling the bride wore a cocoa brown dress with beige and white accessories and a white carnation corsage. They will make their home at 108 East Garfield ave.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom attended the Green Bay high school and is a veteran of two years in the U. S. Coast Guard. He is currently stationed aboard the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew.

Among those from out of town who attended the wedding were Mrs. Edmund Selissen of Green Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Del Belfy of Detroit, Mrs. Joseph Left and Mrs. Des Currier of Birmingham, Mrs. Fred Zalsky and Mr. William Schumky of Ludington, Mr. and Mrs. Richard O'Donnell, Robert Delaney and Glenn McDonough of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gallagher and Joseph LaFreniere of St. James, Mrs. John Peternard of Chicago, Edward Schubrat and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gattle of Petoskey, Mr. and Mrs. James Burns of Ecorse, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rosie of Holland, Difford Lone of Tennessee, Mrs. Joseph Gallagher of Manitowoc, Wis., Karen Dau of Denmark.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon N. Neff have announced the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Marilyn, to Michael A. Gibbons.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Gibbons.

The wedding will be an event of early June at St. Mary's church here.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and attended Highland Park General Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Gibbons, also a graduate of the local high school, is a veteran of two years service in the U. S. Army, most of which was spent in Germany. He is presently enrolled at the University of Detroit.

Past Noble Grand Club Guests of Mrs. Fred Gill

Mrs. Fred Gill entertained the members of the Past Noble Grand club at a 6:30 co-operative dinner at her home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Robert Mitchell presided at the monthly business meeting which followed. Mrs. W. E. Goss was in charge of devotions.

The group voted to send a donation to the Rebekah home in Jackson in memory of the late Mrs. E. E. Stroud.

Mrs. Floyd Ikens furnished the 'gypsy' which was won by Mrs. Glenn Rose.

At the social hour which followed prizes were won by Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. Raymond Seymour, Mrs. Goss, Mrs. Earl Blood and Mrs. Grace Geneit. Other members present were Mrs. Fred Southwood, Mrs. William Ager and Mrs. Rasmus Hendrickson.

Meguzee Elects Officers at Annual District Meeting

Mrs. Melvin Plum, former worthy matron of Charlevoix Chapter No. 72, OES, was named secretary-treasurer of the Meguzee District Association at the 55th annual meeting of the organization held last week at Bellaire.

Other new officers for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Edward Eggler jr. of Northport who was named to succeed Mrs. D. C. Maltby of Bellaire and Charlevoix; first vice president, Mrs. Richard Lapeer of Pellston; second vice president, Mrs. Jerrie Rockwell of Harbor Springs; chaplain, Mrs. Beulah Garey of Acme; marshall, Mrs. Catherine Letherby of Acme; organist, Miss Beatrice Hamilton of Traverse City and Sunshone chairman, Mrs. Nellie Budd of Northport.

Mrs. Harry Gebeau, chaplain, and Mrs. Leonard Burns, organist, participated in the meeting last week.

Others attending the meeting were Mrs. Glenn Ingalls, Mrs. Kenneth Sweet and Mrs. Plum who with Mrs. Belding were delegates, Mr. Sweet, worthy patron of the Charlevoix chapter, Mrs. Charles Bellinger, Mrs. James Hiller and Mrs. Sarah McNeal, all past Meguzee presidents; Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. John Witte, Mrs. S. E. Coleman and Mrs. John Geer.

Guild Notes . . .

The annual meeting of the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital will be held at the solarium of the hospital at 8 p.m. next Tuesday. At that time a slate of officers will be presented for approval. They will then assume their duties as Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall retires as Guild president.

Miss Ann Baumgartner, superintendent of the hospital, has extended an invitation to all members and prospective members to attend this meeting. Mrs. Saltonstall added her invitation to that of Miss Baumgartner. The Guild raises funds with which it purchases equipment for the hospital. In addition it operates a library cart supplies tray favors for holidays and does countless other chores that help to make the Charlevoix hospital a better hospital.

Mrs. Gordon Freedman, chairman of the library cart committee, reports a new 'pusher' for Wednesday. She is Mrs. Charles Bellinger. Mrs. Darrell Dinwiddie takes care of this chore on Monday and Mrs. Harry Gebeau on Friday. At other times the cart is left at the nurses' station where reading material and Sundries may be obtained at all times.

Mrs. C. Bice reported at last week's meeting that seven applications for the nursing scholarship offered by the Guild have been received. The recipient will be named later after all applications have been accepted by the training school to which they have applied.

Also at the recent meeting Mrs. James Hiller, candy chairman, presented samples of new candies. All members 'sampled' the goodies. It was decided to sell the candie on hand before ordering a new supply.

Girl Scouts to Receive Badges At Court of Honor

The annual Girl Scout Court of Awards will be held at the community room at the City Hall at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday) according to Mrs. Robert O. Bergmann, Council president.

Girl Scout troop 11 whose leader is Mrs. James Gallagher will be in charge of the event.

All Intermediate and Senior Scouts are requested to attend.

Parents and friends of the Scouting program are invited to attend the Court of Awards at which Girl Scouts will be presented with badges they have earned during the year.

It's wonderful to feel cared for Johnny lost his tonsils last week. But he learned something new. Little boys don't have to be afraid of doctors. That's kid stuff. And Johnny's folks don't have to be afraid of the doctor's bill. Blue Shield's new, broader "M-75" medical plan will take care of most of it . . . maybe all of it, since over 4,000 Michigan doctors participate in Blue Shield. And Blue Cross protection is broader and more flexible than ever, too! Do you have Blue Cross and Blue Shield for your "Johnny"? If not, why not call us now?

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Charlevoix in said County, on the 13th day of May, 1959.

Present, Hon. William T. Downs, Judge of Probate

In the Matter of the Estate of Georgette F Meyers, deceased.

Melville Meyers, husband and beneficiary of said deceased, having filed his petition praying that an instrument, duly admitted to Probate in the State of Ohio, be admitted to probate and recorded in Michigan and that administration with Will annexed of said estate be granted to C. Meredith Bice, or some other suitable person. And having filed all exemplified copies required by statute.

It is Ordered, That the 8th day of June, 1959, at 10 A.M., at said Probate Office is hereby appointed for hearing said petition; and that the heirs of said deceased be determined at that time;

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, once in each week, for three weeks consecutively, previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Betrothed

The engagement of Ann Lagerman to Loren G. Hatfield of Chicago has been announced by the bride-elect's father, Edward J. Lagerman, former resident now living in Chicago.

A fall wedding is planned by the couple.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school. Both are presently employed in the offices of the Northwestern Railroad Co. in Chicago.

Beth Ann Pomfret Betrothal Revealed

The engagement of Beth Ann Pomfret to John Edward LaBlance has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jones of Ironton.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George LaBlance.

The wedding will be an event of June 27 at St. Mary's church here.

- Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clark and daughter, Lonnie and son, Jerry and his guest, Eleanor Gustafson arrived Wednesday from Erie, Pa., to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bassett. They plan to return home Sunday. Mrs. Basset and daughter, Kathy Jo, will return with them for an extended visit.

May Prosecute For Tampering With Certificates

Altered draft registration certificates may now result in immediate induction of registrants or their prosecution by U. S. attorneys as draft delinquents under amended Selective Service regulations according to Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state director.

Draft registrants in many instances have been changing their registration certificates to indicate an age of 21 or over to represent falsely that they are eligible to purchase liquor or to be admitted to places forbidden by law to persons under the age of 21. Selective Service has been working closely with Liquor Control and police officials in an attempt to curb these practices.

Possession of altered registration certificates has always been considered a violation of the Selective Service Act but it has been difficult to prosecute such cases successfully in the absence of intent to evade service or to defraud

All registrants with altered draft certificates are urged to obtain new certificates from local boards prior to July 1. Local boards have been directed to issue new certificates to registrants who turn in altered certificates. After July 1 draft boards will apply the stringent new procedure to registrants found to have altered draft certificates.

Brownie Scouts Need Uniforms

There is a great need for Brownie Scout uniforms, according to Mrs. Robert Bergmann, president of the Charlevoix Girl Scout Council.

Fashion Expert Is Extension Speaker

Miss Janie Scott, fashion authority for the Simplicity Pattern Company, will be the speaker at the Charlevoix County Extension Club' Achievement Day which will be held at the East Jordan Grade School Gym on Wednesday, May 27, at 1 p.m.

Miss Scott's talk will encompass all aspects of being well dressed — including good grooming, correct foundations, proper fit, suitable accessories, and knowledge of the styles, colors and fabric best suited to a woman' needs and personality. She explains how these factors can be applied to all figure types. Miss Scott, is, herself, an excellent example of the half size figure type.

Courter Products of Boyne City. The latter display will be in a downtown window location. This has been arranged by Charles Cross and Albert Clark jr.

Various business places along Bridge st. will have side-walk displays in front of their stores featuring the old and the new.

The sale of Michigan made and M[illegible] products sponsored by the Retail D[illegible] of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce [illegible].

[illegible] Frontier Day, will be [illegible] each Saturday Robert G. [illegible], chairman of the event, said Wednesday.

In announcing the plans for the parade, Mr. Fowler said there would also be a number of surprise entries.

The students in the local schools will observe Education Day today (Thursday). A brief program outside the elementary school will open the special day for the students. Later they will devote their efforts to themes, essays and poems on the subject "It's Great to Live in Michigan." Leonard Burns is general chairman.

Heritage Day, Friday, is being observed with an attractive display in a window at the Birnkrant building reminding everyone of their heritage in the fields of music, art, literature and religion. Focal point of the display is a replica of Father Charlevoix, an early French missionary, from whom the city received its name. Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff, assisted by Mrs. John Cross, arranged this diplay.

The Conservation Department has sponsored a display of Michigan furs, traps and other equipment in another window of the same building. Cub Scouts assisted with this display.

The cultural aspects of the community are told in a display of art in the Polly Kay shop arranged by Mrs. H. E. Paddock.

An exhibit of arts and crafts by adults in the community is displayed in the window at Lieberman's. Mrs. Ralph Hamilton arranged this display.

Peanut League to Set up Schedule

Managers of all peanut league teams are scheduled to meet in the basement of the city hall at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday) to discuss the 1959 schedule, player needs and other problems.

Dean Davenport, softball director, will meet with the managers.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil R. Suomela of St. Clair Shores are the parents of a daughter, Sandra Kay, born May 3.

Bowling News

BY DES

As most everybody knows by now the Moonlight Gardens won the championship for the Charlevoix Mens Bowling League. Moonlight, winner of the second half, won the three game, total pin match from the winners of the first half, Nefl's Groceries. I never did get the card to see who did what in the rolloff, but I understand L. V. Miles was the [illegible] in the 500's.

* * *

As far as individual games and [illegible] concerned, Ken Cellner [illegible] high for series with his 625. Bob Livingston took the honors for high single game, a nice 258. For the team events, Swanson Gravel was high with their series of 2760. Neffs rolled the high single team game of 988.

* * *

Puff finished up as high average man in the league with his 180. Meg was second with a 178 avg. and John Swanson close behind in third spot with his 177.

* * *

* * *

And so another bowling season comes to an end. I'd like to congratulate the Moonlight team on their victory. They came thru in that second half and did some nice bowling when they really had to. As far as a team group you couldn't find nicer bunch of bananas — I mean fellows — kidding aside though, there's not a nicer bunch that I'd rather beat! All in all I think it was a very successful season and everybody had a good time. It got a little long towards the end of the season for us —and one week too long in the first half — but wait til next year. See you all then.

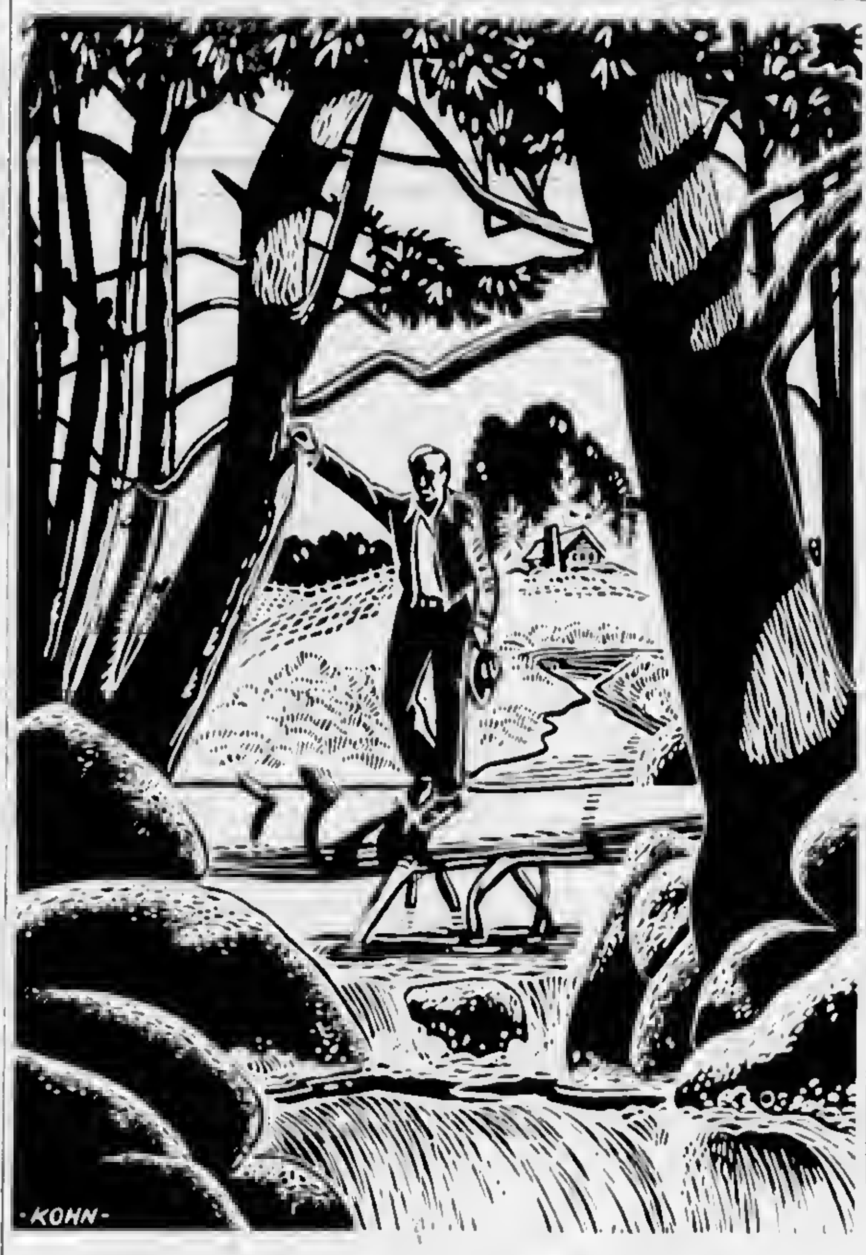
Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn



Thriving on Turbulance

Looked at superficially life seems woefully frail. Our brief span of existence is readily exhausted, and the delicate balances are easily upset. A slight rise in body temperature and life's fitful fever is over. A minor change in metabolism and all struggling energies die. An unseasonal plunge in outside temperature and thousands of plants in the garden succumb to the cold. And the gardner himself may perish of lockjaw from an unattended scratch on his finger.

But living creatures are not delicate, through and through. There is a hard core of tenacity in living things, a stubborn capacity for powerfully gripping on to existence. At the heart, life is tough, and holds on in spite of appalling difficulties. In the brook the places of peace, the quiet pools, are not where one finds life most abundant. Look in the places of disturbance, at the foot of the waterfall, or where the stream bends and persistently cuts into the mossy bank. Observe the turbulence where water runs over rocks. It is amidst the froth of troubled water and in the turbulence of eddies and whirlpools that life is most plentiful. There can be found darters and minnows, the swift-water snails, two-lined salamanders, and on the underside of stones the nymphs of stoneflies and mayflies. There the water mosses grow, cranefly larvae, mayfly nymphts and crustaeans prosper. And it is from the swiftly flowing, body-battering areas of the stream that we take our best brook trout.

One of the most hazardous areas on earth for any form of life is the seashore. There a creature is subjected to cruel poundings by storms and exposed to constant change. Nevertheless, the rocks of the seashore are covered with mussels, barnacles and an amazing variety of other creatures. Seaweed grows there in wild profusion. Snails, starfish and sea urchins crawl about, and fish occur in rich abundance. The seashore is one of earth's most highly populated habitats. Creatures that avoid calm pools thrive on the hazards they find in this perpetually upset environment.

In the realm of the spirit, life flourishes best amidst difficulties. It is there that courage and patience, strength and integrity prayer and faith and all the virtues we honor most develop. Like the organisms that thrive amidst turbulence, we become adapted to a tough environment by an increase of power. What we cannot change, changes us.

Most of life's difficulties do not dim our zest, but brighten it. They increase the power and the glory of living, proving our mettle, showing us what we are. As skillful pilots of ships prove their abilities and build their reputation, not from sailing in calm seas, but in storms, we know and show what we are when life is troublesome.

The most miserable people I know have "nothing to worry about" and have nearly all their problems solved, excepting the big one — finding something to hold on to for dear life, something to fight for, to live for, and if necessary to die for.

Our secret of exciting and joyous living is finding tough situations, [illegible] with problems, and [illegible] in the midst of [illegible], letting extra trials make [illegible] extra strength.

Hats Off To Michigan!

Michigan Week — May 17-23 — with its emphasis on all of the things for which this great state of ours is famous, is a good time to consider the vital importance of the motor truck . . . Here is a servant of the people which does indeed serve everyone: the farmer, the business man, the retailer, the housewife, the vacationer, the boy or girl at school.

Everything you eat, wear, or use travels all or part of the way to you by truck. Yes, trucks are as much a part of Michigan as its vast productive capacity, its beautiful scenery, its great educational facilities, its fine people.

SUNDEW REPORTS

The ship remained in Charlevoix on Sunday because the commanding officers, Lt. Cmdr. Harold D Muth and Lt. John Deardon to take part in promotion examinations.

On Tuesday we got underway to site buoys in northern Lake Michigan. However, the wind came up and rough weather called a halt to the buoy setting. We went to Beaver Island to take on some equipment and then anchored in the harbor waiting for a possible lessening of wind velocity. By afternoon, with no apparent abating of the wind in sight, we weighed anchor and returned to Charlevoix arriving in the afternoon.

On Wednesday the weather was still too rough to set buoys so we remained moored at the buoy depot dock. By Thursday morning, however, the wind had decreased enough for us to return to northern Lake Michigan and set Garden Island School, Simmons Reef and Squaw Island buoys. We then commissioned the buoy at Beaver Island and returned to Charlevoix.

Then came the big weekend. The first one we'd spent in Charlevoix from Friday until Monday since mid-February. Only a few more trips remain to commission all buoys. This should give us more time in the Charlevoix area.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

A good time was had by all at the Cross-Seltsen wedding Saturday. All the crew extends their best wishes to the newlyweds. Looks as though this wedding started some of the other men thinking. There will be several more weddings before the summer is gone. Mike Eardly returned to the Public Health hospital in Detroit and wrote that Sam Novak, former crewman who was transferred to the Mackinac Island Lifeboat Station, is also in the hospital there for treatment of injuries received in an automobile accident. From all signs it appears there will be several new Dewies aboard in a few months.

Coffee Klatch in Charlevoix

Charlevoix was host at a 'coffee klatch' at the Weathervane Inn Saturday afternoon honoring officials of the National Broadcasting Co. who were enroute from Traverse City to Cheboygan for the opening of the new television station, WTOM-TV on Channel 4.

Heading the group was Les Biederman (kneeling center) owner and manager of the Paul Bunyan network. With him were Ruth Jones of New York, associate media director of a well-known advertising agency, Elizabeth Beckjordan of New York, special representative of the Paul Bunyan network, Jackie DaCosta, research director of an advertising agency, Lou Kennedy of New York, advertising agency representative, John Myers of Cleveland, representing Radin Corporation of America, and Mrs. Myers, Alfred C. Cordan of Washington, D. C., an F.C.C. official; Jules Herbuneux of Chicago, NBC vice president; E. T. Griffith of Camden, N. J., representing the Radio Corporation of America; Hal Holman, of Chicago, Midwestern Broadcasting Co. attorney and Mrs. Holman, Robert Detwiler of Traverse City, Paul Bunyan network official, Mrs. Biederman and son, Larry, who is pictured holding his dog, 'Tennessee,' a gift from 'Tennessee Ernie' Ford.

Grange Reviews Proposed Changes In State Statutes

The Grangers reviewed proposed legislation and went on record as: opposing the raising of the 15-mill tax limitation which was established everal years ago; favoring a bill to permit school districts to organize on the high school level only and allowing the districts to retain elementary schools and opposing a bill which would end driving training in the high schools.

Other issues will be discussed at the next Pomona Grange meeting to be held at the Peninsula Grange June 20.

• Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martini have as their guests the former's sister, Mrs. Thomas Richardson and her daughter, Mrs. Alfred LeBell of Forest Park, Ill.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

MICHIGAN'S eight million citizens proudly threw out their chests this week in observance of Michigan Week.

When all of the reports are in, this year's Michigan Week promises to be the most successful celebration in the six-year history of the unique event.

• • •

MICHIGAN is the only state in the U. S. that sets aside one week each year to tell the rest of the world about its past, present and future wonders.

Republicans and Democrats, labor and management, farmers and residents of our cities join hands in a common effort to promote the state and its unlimited advantages and resources.

In all, more than 5,000 persons from all walks of life are taking an active part in the planning of Michigan Week programs in the state's 83 counties.

This is proof that the people of Michigan can and will work together for the common good of their state.

• • •

MICHIGAN WEEK is unique in other ways, too. It is financed, for instance by voluntary contributions from civic, business and labor organizations.

In this day of so-called "government handouts," it is refreshing to see an event of this scope financed entirely by private funds.

The state legislature could appropriate money to finance Michigan Week. Other states use tax money to help foot the bill for their "spectaculars." But not Michigan.

The per capita cost of Michigan Week is less than one-half of one cent.

• • •

THERE'S NO WAY to estimate the "return" on each dollar spent to promote Michigan Week. But it probably would seem unbelievable if it were known.

The state receives literally millions of dollars worth of free publicity each year as a result of Michigan Week.

In addition, it receives hundreds of thousands of dollars of donated time from the 5,000 citizens, including many top executives, who offer their services to make and execute Michigan Week plans.

• • •

OFFICIALS OF Greater Michigan, Inc., a non-profit corporation that sponsors Michigan Week, consider the annual celebration a long-range investment in the state's future.

As a result, a great deal of emphasis is placed on the observance of Michigan Week by school children ..... tomorrow's leaders.

School officials say boys and girls graduating from high school today know more about Michigan and its colorful history than graduates of just a few years ago, thanks to Michigan Week.

"It has been the most amazing thing I have ever seen," a veteran Lansing teacher said.

"The interest in Michigan and its history in the last four or five years has even resulted in the publication of half of dozen new books about Michigan and we are using several of them as text books."

The same teacher, a history major, said he believes Michigan Week has created a demand for historical novels about Michigan.

"We have been so busy growing that no one has taken the time to write these novels," he said. "But more authors are using the many plots available for colorful historical novels about the state because there is a market for these books."

• • •

ACTIVITIES IN MANY of the state's schools have almost become a part of the curriculum. Teachers plan activities in the fall and students work on them through the winter and spring.

In many cases, Michigan Week activities in schools involve the entire community or school district.

But for those of us who are not in school, Michigan Week is a refresher course to prepare us so that we can "sell" Michigan to our friends and neighbors in the other 49 states for the next 51 weeks of the year.

In the end, the "return" on each dollar invested and the thousands of hours donated by citizens throughout the state will be even greater than it has been in the past.

Dan Karn, president of Consumers Power Co., said recently that Michigan's future is brighter than any of us can imagine.

"Don't let anyone tell you Michigan's future is behind it," Karn said. Our state, like every other, may have its ups and downs, but it has not even begun to realize its full potential. With the natural advantages we have and the kind of people we have, Michigan will go on to heights of achievement and prosperity which we can only dimly imagine today."

RECORD OF THE COUNCIL

May 11, 1959

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date with Mayor Hiller presiding. Aldermen present: Moerland, Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, and Kipke. Aldermen absent: None.

The minutes of the April 27, 1959 meeting were read and approved.

Alderman Moerland excused.

Alderman Donaldson offered the following resolution and moved its adoption supported by Alderman Kipke.

RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix that the Junior Chamber of Commerce be given permission to hold a parade on Bridge Street between the hours of 2:00 P.M. and 3:00 P.M. on May 23, 1959; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Common council request permission from the Michigan State Highway Department to close Bridge Street from Garfield Avenue to Park Avenue during said hours; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the City Clerk be directed to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the Michigan State Highway Department at Lansing, Michigan.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, and Kipke. NAYS: None. ABSENT: Alderman Moerland.

Moved by Alderman Gebeau and supported by Alderman Hansen that the Mayor's appointment of S. E. Coleman as Harbormaster at a salary of $ 750.00 annually, payable at a rate of $ 75.00 per week for a ten (10) week period commencing June 21, 1959 be approved.

Motion adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen and Kipke. NAYS: None. ABSENT: Alderman Moerland.

Alderman Donaldson offered the following ordinance and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Hansen.

ORDINANCE NO. 279

AN ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH A DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL DEFENSE AND TO PROVIDE FOR THE EXERCISE OF NECESSARY POWERS DURING EMERGENCIES.

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS: -

SECTION 1. DEFINITIONS.

A. "Civil Defense" shall mean the preparation for and the carrying out of all emergency functions, other than functions for which the military forces are primarily responsible, for protection against and to minimize and repair injury and damage resulting from enemy attack, sabotage, or other hostile action, or by natural disaster.

B. "Natural Disaster" shall mean any condition seriously affecting or threatening public health, welfare, or security as a result of severe fire, explosion, flood, tornado, hurricane, or similar natural or accidental cause and which is beyond the control of public or private agencies ordinarily responsible for the control or relief of such conditions. Riots, strikes, insurrections, or other civil disturbances shall not be included within the meaning of "Natural Disaster."

C. "Emergency" shall mean a condition resulting from enemy attack or natural disaster which cannot be handled by normal operating personnel and facilities.

D. "Civil Defense Volunteer" shall mean any person who serves without compensation in the civil defense organization.

SECTION 2. DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL DEFENSE.

A department of Civil Defense is hereby created utilizing to the fullest extent personnel and facilities of existing city departments and agencies. The Mayor shall be responsible for its organization, administration, and operation. The organization shall consist of the following:

A. A Department of Civil Defense within the executive Department of the City government. There shall be an executive head of the Department of Civil Defense, appointed in the manner provided in the charter for the appointment of the majority of administrative officials specifically enumerated in the charter, who shall be known as the Director of Civil Defense, and such assistants, clerical help, other employees and civil defense volunteers as are deemed necessary to the proper functioning of the organization.

B. Five Deputy Directors with responsibility for Financial Services, Law Enforcement, Fire Control, Engineering Services, and Health and Medical Services, appointed by the Mayor. These shall, so far as possible, be additional duty assignments to existing personnel, and it is the intent of this ordinance that civil defense and disaster assignments shall as nearly as possible be consistent with normal duty assignments.

C. The employees, equipment, and facilities of all City departments, and agencies suitable for, or adaptable to civil defense and designated by the Mayor to participate in the civil defense activity.

D. Civil Defense Volunteers, including persons and private agencies or governmental units offering services to the organization.

SECTION 3. POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE MAYOR

A. The powers and duties of the Mayor pertaining to civil defense in time of normal city operations are to maintain general supervision over the planning and administration for the civil defense organization and the execution of the civil defense and disaster plans. He shall coordinate the civil defense activities and make emergency assignments of civil defense duties and civil defense forces in order to meet situations not covered in the normal duties of such forces.

B. The Mayor may take all necessary action to conduct tests of the civil defense and natural disaster plans.

C. In the event of actual or threatened enemy attack or natural disaster, the Mayor, or in his absence or inability to serve, the Mayor Pro Tem, as conservator of the peace, shall:

1. Declare a state of emergency within the City thereby placing in effect the civil defense and disaster control plan required by this ordinance.
2. As soon as may be thereafter, convene the City Council to perform its legislative and administrative functions as the situation may demand. The Council shall have the power to terminate the state of emergency.
3. When a state of emergency has been declared, the Mayor shall assemble and utilize civil defense forces and prescribe the manner and condition of their use.
4. Request the State, its agencies or political subdivisions to send aid if the situation is beyond the control of the regular and emergency city forces.
5. Have the power to command services and the use of equipment and facilities for such work and duties as the City may require to aid the regular volunteer forces in time of emergency.
6. Promulgate such emergency regulations as may be deemed necessary to protect life and property and conserve critical resources, and such regulations may be invoked when necessary for tests of civil defense and disaster plans. All such regulations shall be subject to approval of the Council as soon as practicable subsequent to promulgation.

D. The Mayor shall designate a line of succession among the department heads to exercise the powers and duties of the Director of Civil Defense in event of the absence or inability of the Director to serve.

E. The Mayor, or in his absence or inability to serve, the Mayor Pro Tem, shall have the power to order civil defense forces to the aid of the state or political subdivisions thereof subject to Council review as soon as practicable.

SECTION 4. POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE DIRECTOR OF CIVIL DEFENSE.

A. The Director shall be executive head of the Department of Civil Defense, and shall have the responsibility for the organization, administration, and operation of the civil defense and disaster control organizations subject to the direction and control of the Mayor.

B. The Director of Civil Defense shall be responsible for public relations, information, and education regarding all phases of civil defense.

C. The Director shall be responsible for the development of a civil defense and disaster control plan, and upon adoption, shall be responsible for such implementation and revision of the plan as to maintain it on a current state of readiness at all times.

D. The Director shall coordinate all activities for civil defense and disaster control, and shall maintain liaison and cooperate with all other interested and affected agencies, public and private.

E. The Director shall coordinate the recruitment and training of volunteer personnel and agencies to augment the personnel and facilities of the City for civil defense purposes.

F. The Director may issue proper insignia and papers for civil defense workers and other people directly concerned with civil defense.

G. The Director of Civil Defense is hereby authorized to exercise the powers granted to the Mayor in Section 3, hereof, either in the absence or inability to serve of the Mayor and Mayor Pro Tem or where delay in the exercise of such powers would be contrary to the public interest.

SECTION 5. CIVIL DEFENSE AND DISASTER CONTROL PLAN.

As soon as practicable after the enactment of this ordinance, a comprehensive civil defense and disaster control plan shall be adopted by Resolution of the Council upon the recommendation of the Mayor. In the preparation of this plan, as it pertains to city organization, it is the intent that the services, equipment, facilities and personnel of all existing departments and agencies shall be utilized to the fullest extent possible. When approved, it shall be the duty of all municipal departments and agencies to perform the functions and duties assigned by the plan and to maintain their portion of the plan in a current state of readiness at all times. All officers and employees of the City shall cooperate with and give active support to the Mayor and Director of Civil Defense in all civil defense operations, and they shall comply with all orders of the Mayor and Director of Civil Defense issued pursuant to this ordinance.

SECTION 6. CONFLICTING ORDINANCES, ORDERS, RULES AND REGULATIONS SUSPENDED.

At all times when the orders, rules and regulations made and promulgated pursuant to this ordinance shall be in effect, they shall supersede all existing ordinances, rules and regulations, and orders insofar as the latter may be inconsistent therewith.

SECTION 7. VIOLATIONS.

It shall be unlawful for any person willfully to obstruct, hinder or delay the civil defense organization in the enforcement of any rule or regulation issued pursuant to this ordinance, or to do any act forbidden by any rule or regulation issued pursuant to this authority contained in this ordinance. It shall likewise be unlawful for any person to wear, carry or display any emblem, insignia or any other means of identification as a member of the civil defense organization of the City of Charlevoix unless authority so to do has been granted to such person by the proper officials. Convictions for violations of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punishable by a fine of not more than ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS or by imprisonment in the Charlevoix County Jail for a period of not to exceed NINETY (90) DAYS or both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 8. SEPARABILITY

If any portion of this ordinance shall, for any reason, be declared invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining provisions thereof.

SECTION 9. REPEAL

All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with any of the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 10. This ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its adoption.

Ordinance No. 279 was adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, and Kipke. NAYS: None. ABSENT: Alderman Moerland.

April 27, 1959

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date with Mayor Hiller presiding. Aldermen present: Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, Kipke and Moerland. Aldermen absent: None.

The minutes of the April 13, 1959 meeting were read and approved.

The week of May 11, 1959 was designated by the Common Council as "Clean-up Week." All rubbish in adequate containers placed at the curb will be picked up by the Street Department workers during the week.

Moved by Alderman Moerland and supported by Alderman Hansen that due to the severe winter and late spring ice break-up, the Lake Construction Company be given a thirty (30) day extension for the completion of the Harbor and Dock Improvement Project, with the completion date now being fixed as June 1, 1959.

Motion adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, Kipke and Moerland. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

Alderman Hansen offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Staley.

RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix that the regulation of parking under Ordinance No. 226, which provides for the regulation of parking by the use of parking meters, be placed in effect and enforced commencing June 15, 1959.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, Kipke and Moerland. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

Moved by Alderman Gebeau and supported by Alderman Donaldson that starting June 1, 1959 and ending September 14, 1959, Dixon Avenue from Michigan Avenue to Meech Street be designated as a "One Way Street" with traffic moving from West and East.

Motion adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, Kipke and Moerland. NAYS: Alderman Staley. ABSENT: None.

The Council unanimously approved the placing of "No Parking" signs on the west side of Bridge Street from Antrim Street to Hurlbut Avenue with said signs to be in effect during the period parking is regulated by the use of parking meters.

Moved by Alderman Gebeau and supported by Alderman Moerland that the City Superintendent be authorized to purchase forty-four (44) aluminum "RESERVED" signs to be used on the City Yacht Slips at a cost of approximately $ 2.90 each.

Motion adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Alderman Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, Kipke and Moerland. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

Alderman Kipke offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Donaldson.

RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix that they approve the brochure as presented by the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce and that the Council support the printing of said brochure in its' entirety.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, Kipke and Moerland. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

Alderman Cebeau offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Hansen.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix deems it expedient and a necessary public improvement to acquire certain additional land owned by Otto Kane and Clara Kane adjacent to its' Park and Dock property on Round Lake for additions and improvements to its' Dock and Park property, and

WHEREAS the sum of Two Hundred Fifty ($250.00) Dollars has been contributed by American Mold Engineering Company and Robert Bridge to the City for the purpose of assisting in the purchase of said property;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the City of Charlevoix purchase from Otto Kane and Clara Kane for the sum of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars, plus abstract costs, that certain parcel of land situate and being in the City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix County, Michigan, described as follows:

"All that part of the following described parcel of land lying East of the Center-line of the alley described therein and including docks and riparian rights, viz: "Commencing 198 feet South of the Northwest corner of Block 4 of the original plat of the Village (Now City) of Charlevoix, Michigan, according to the recorded plat thereof; Thence South 10 feet along the East line of Bridge Street; Thence East to the shore of Round Lake; Thence North along the shore of Round Lake 10 feet; Thence West to the place of beginning; and being a part of Block 4 of the original plat of the Village (Now City) of Charlevoix, Michigan; 'SUBJECT to a public alley across the same described as follows: 'Commencing 100.3 feet East and 56 feet North of the Southwest corner of Block 4 of the original plat of the Village (now City) of Charlevoix, Michigan; Thence North 5° 47' East 10.05 feet; Thence East 16 feet; Thence South 5° 47' West 10.05 feet; Thence West 16 feet to the place of beginning'."

subject to the provision that the seller shall have the right to maintain a gas tank on the property as now located or with such other arrangements as may be mutually agreed upon between the parties.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Mayor be and he is hereby authorized to do all things necessary to complete said purchase;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix express its' thanks to Robert Bridge and the American Mold Engineering Company for their very generous contributions to the City for this project.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, Kipke and Moerland. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

Alderman Moerland offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Kipke.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, it has been brought to the attention of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix that consideration is being given to constructing a fixed bridge over the Spring Lake outlet to link M-104 with new US 31; and

WHEREAS, such a fixed bridge would adversely affect the economic interests of the City of Charlevoix and be against the best interests of the boat owners in this area because it would prevent the use of Spring Lake by the great number of yachts that ply up and down the shore of Lake Michigan and also prevent the great number of yachts that are in Spring Lake from having ready access to Lake Michigan for cruising; and

WHEREAS, an important part of the economy of Charlevoix is derived from th yachts that cruise up and down the Lake Michigan shore and it is to the best interests of the City of Charlevoix as well as to the other ports in Michigan to increase and better port facilities, rather than curtail them, to stimulate yacht cruising and boat traffic along the Michigan shore;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, that for the foregoing reasons it object to the consideration of a fixed bridge over Spring Lake outlet and that it respectfully transmit its' formal protest of the same to the Michigan State Highway Department and ask that consideration be given to making the said bridge one that would open to allow boat traffic to and from Spring Lake.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, Kipke and Moerland. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

Moved by Alderman Gebeau and supported by Alderman Moerland that the rules be suspended and Alderman Kipke be elected Mayor Pro Tempore.

Motion adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Aldermen Staley, Donaldson, Gebeau, Hansen, and Moerland. NAYS: Alderman Kipke. ABSENT: None.

This is another place Plymouth proves its...

BIG DIFFERENCE

IN ECONOMY

Plymouth, traditional economy champ, again won its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . won for the third straight year! In this recognized competitive test for economy, a Plymouth V-8 averaged 21.15 miles per gallon. Plymouth's proven high gas mileage, initial low purchase price, low maintenance cost and good resale value all add up to the Big Difference in economy!

PLYMOUTH DELIVERS BIG DIFFERENCE IN PERFORMANCE

But you don't have to sacrifice performance to enjoy Plymouth's top economy. The Fury V-800 engine that powered the Plymouth to its Mobilgas victory is the biggest standard V-8 in Plymouth's field. Its 230 horsepower packs plenty of power.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN QUALITY

We sincerely believe that the '59 Plymouth is the finest car Plymouth has ever built. Check every inch of this car. See the difference great engineering makes.

TAKE A "TWO-MILE TRY-OUT" NOW!

To be fully appreciated, must be driven...

BIG DIFFERENCE IN RIDE

Plymouth's famous Torsion-Aire Ride is the most comfortable ride on the road. It acts as a built-in road-leveller—it virtually eliminates roll or sway on turns—front end dive on stops. And it's yours at no extra cost on Plymouth.

BUT YOU DON'T PAY FOR THE DIFFERENCE

The top-selling, low-price cars are all priced about the same but only PLYMOUTH gives you the Big Difference for your money.

Gaylord to Host Area Scouts at Annual Camporee

Gaylord will be host this week end to more than 1,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and Sea Scouts and more than 200 adult leaders from the 18 northern Michigan Counties of the Scenic Trails Council who will be gathering for the 1959 Boy Scout Camporee.

The site of the Camporee this year will be Camp Sancta Maria located six miles northwest of Gaylord on M-32 between the Alba road and Elmira.

Nineteen Boy Scouts of Troop 11 accompanied by Scoutmaster Louis Edwards, Robert O. Bergmann, chairman of Boy Scout committee, Franklin Ochs and James Ladd and 10 sea scouts of Ship 211 accompanied by Skipper Robert Somerville are planning to attend the Camporee which last year was held in Charlevoix.

Scouts will begin arriving about 4 p.m. Friday at the camp site which has been platted into streets with the headquarters and trading post located on the hill overlooking the entire camping area.

During the three-day encampment the 150 patrols will live in tents, prepare their own food over open fires, care for their campsites and practice fellowship, the art of living together with the fun of competition against standards.

Patrols will engage in events and will be judged on their ability to meet given standards. No patrol will be designated as the best but every patrol can win the top ribbon if its performance is up to that standard.

The Saturday afternoon Retreat parade, led by the Gaylord high school band, of all the Scouts present will be conducted within the camporee grounds and will terminate ahead of the flag pole.

A Saturday evening campfire, which promises to be the best in years, will be one of the highlights of the weekend.

On Sunday morning Divine services for both Catholic and Protestants boys will be conducted at the camp.

Don Carey Attends Coaches' Clinic at Michigan State

Don Carey, Charlevoix high school football coach, was in East Lansing last week to assist with the annual football coaches clinic held at Michigan State University Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Carey was invited to be one of the speakers at the clinic because of his outstanding work during the 1958 football season when his Rayder squad racked up a record of eight wins without being scored on to take the Northern Michigan Class C title and to win state recognition.

Memorial Day

Lest we forget — Memorial Day was instituted as a reverent national holiday on which we honor the memory of those veterans who gave their lives to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy. The day should have a particular significance to all veterans and they should be among the first to uphold its tradition and perpetuate its intended observance.

It might be well to refresh our memories of the origin of Memorial Day. Southern women began to honor the dead from both sides of the Mason-Dixon line while the nation was still torn by the Civil War in 1863. Two years later Mrs. Sue Landon Vaughn, a descendent of John Adams, is credited with leading a group of women strewing flowers at a military cemetery in Vicksburg, Miss.

The custom spread and in 1868 Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued an order to all Grand Army posts, setting aside May 30 "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country."

Although originated as an observance of reverence in the South, the early celebrations in the North also exalted the Union armies for their victories. Time healed the wounds and the theme of victor and vanquished gradually disappeared.

As the years thinned the ranks of Union and Confederate veterans, the Spanish-American War brought on a new army of veterans to carry on the tradition. Then came the World Wars and the Korean War with an ever mounting toll of men who sacrificed their lives for the nation.

The least we can do is observe Memorial Day as a tribute to the nation's war dead.

Charlevoix School to Graduate 61 Seniors

The sixty-one members of the 1959 graduating class of the Charlevoix high school will receive their diplomas at the seventy-first annual commencement exercises at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Baccalaureate services honoring the graduates will be held in the same auditorium at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Dr. Victor F. Spathelf, president of Ferris Institute, will deliver the Commencement Address.

[illegible] G. Lieberman of the Charlevoix board of education will present the diplomas to the graduates after H. E. Bingham, high school principal, has introduced the class and presented the awards.

Supt. R. G. Bennet will introduce Dr. Spathelf.

Ronald L. Koteskey will present the salutatory and Carolyn A Kohn the Valedictory.

The Charlevoix high band directed by C. A. Odmark will play the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar and during the program will present Romberg's "Student Prince Overture." The Charlevoix high school Girls' Glee Club will sing "Graduation Day" by Sherman and "You'll Never Walk Alone" by Rodgers and the high school Mixed Chorus will sing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Wilhousky under Mr. Odmark's direction. Mrs. Leonard Burns will accompany both groups.

The program will close with the graduates singing "Alma Mater" and the band playing the National Anthem.

The Rev. Fred W. McNeil will give the invocation and the Rev. Robert J. Yonkman the benediction.

The Rev. Harold E. Kohn, whose daughter Carolyn, is a member of the graduating class, will deliver the sermon at the baccalaureate service at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Sunday. His sermon is entitled "Some Things That Matter."

The Charlevoix Community Choir directed by Mr. Odmark, will present a Choral Prelude of the following selections "Bless Thou the Lord," Ippolitov-Ivanoff; "Send Forth Thy Spirit," Schuetky and "Judge Me, O God," Mendelssohn. The choral group also will sing "The Lord's Prayer" during the program which will be concluded with the singing of Lutkin's "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

The call to worship will be given by the Rev. L. L. Lewis; the invocation by the Rev. George L. Majors; the Scripture reading by the Rev. Thode B. Thodeson; the pastoral prayer by the Rev. Charles A. Stoppels and the benediction by the Rev. James Lugibihl. The congregation will sing the hymn "Holy, Holy, Holy."

Mrs. Burns will play the processional and the recessional and accompany the community choir.

Members of the graduating class are: Eilene L. Arnold, Erik F. Arvilla, Don C. Beeman, Carol A. Belfy, Patricia K. Belfy, John D. Bingham, Judith M. Brun, Kenneth M. Case, E. Patricia Colburn, Peter J. Coleman, Nancy A. Cook, Cynthia A. Curtis, Gail A. Curtis, C. Jill Davis, Ethel J. Elliott, Jo Ann Geer, Michael J. Gentit, Floyd E. Genia

Announce Sale Of Local Motels

The sale of two well-known motels on US 31 South have been announced by former owners.

The Silver Birch Motel has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. David Jacoby who will come here this weekend from Clio to assume possession according to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boss who built the motel in 1953. The facility is located across from the airport and has eight units on the ground floor with spacious living quarters on the second level.

The Bosses, veteran resort operators, will move to the Lake Terrace Motor court north of the city this weekend. Mr. Boss is owner of the motor court which overlooks Lake Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacoby formerly operated a motel at Wolverine and in Miami before purchasing the Silver Birch motel.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Surprenant of Detroit have purchased the former Sloothaak Motel farther along the highway and have already assumed possession. They have changed the name to the Colonial Motel which has 11 units and living quarters.

They purchased the facility from John Sloothaak of Holland who built the Lighthouse Motel here several years ago.

Mr. Surprenant was formerly in the electronics field before retiring to come to northern Michigan.

City Will Observe Memorial Day With Parade and Ceremony

Charlevoix will pause Saturday to observe Memorial Day.

For a brief time the affairs of business will be set aside here, across the land and in foreign lands where Americans are stationed as tribute is paid to this country's war dead.

In Charlevoix the observance will include the traditional Memorial Day parade through the business district to Brookside cemetery where a formal program will be presented. Enroute, there will be a brief pause at Memorial Park.

The Rev. Robert J. Yonkman will deliver the Memorial Day address at Brookside Cemetery.

The program will open with the Charlevoix high school band directed by C. A. Odmark playing the anthem "America." The Rev. Charles A. Stoppels will then give the invocation.

Fenton R. Bulow, past commander of the Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion, will serve as master of ceremonies and lead the Pledge of Allegiance.

Ann Martin will deliver "The Gettysburg Address."

The floral tribute, salute and taps will follow the Memorial Day address, "The Finger Points," by the Rev. Yonkman.

The program will conclude with the playing of the National Anthem and benediction by the Rev. L. L. Lewis.

The parade will form at Park ave. at 9:30 a.m. and get underway at 10 a.m. with Don Meggison as parade marshall.

Led by the massed colors the parade will continue south on Bridge st. to Memorial Park where a wreath will be placed in memory of World War I dead.

The flag will be lowered and then raised by representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 1153 and the American Legion post as the band plays "The Star Spangled Banner."

The auxiliaries of the veterans' organizations will cast flowers on the water of Round Lake in memory of the Sailor and Marine dead, a salute will be fired, taps will be sounded by John

Extinguish Fire In Sawdust Bin

The Charlevoix fire department was called to the Wojan Lumber Co. on Stover Rd. shortly afternoon Monday to extinguish a fire in a metal sawdust bin on the south end of the main building according to Fire Chief John Curtis.

Cause of the fire which was discovered by a passer-by, Joseph Etienne, is unknown, Mr Curtis said. There was no damage to other buildings.

Cherry Growers Called to Plan Future Program

A meeting of all growers of sweet and red tart cherries in Antrim and Charlevoix counties has been called for 8 p.m. June 17 at the Kewadin town hall by Don McLachlen, director of the Michigan Association of Cherry Growers. Purpose of the meeting is to discuss problems confronting the growers.

This will be one of four regional meetings at which growers will determine what steps they wish to take to expand the Michigan cherry promotion program. Another regional meeting will be held at 8 p.m. June 12 at the Traverse City High School. Mr. McMachlan urges growers in this area to attend the Traverse City meeting if they can not attend the one at Kewadin.

Mrs. John S. Grupa Funeral Rites Held In Grand Rapids

Funeral services for Mrs. John S. Grupa, 60, former local resident who died Saturday at St. Mary's hospital in Grand Rapids, were held at Sacred Heart church in Grand Rapids Wednesday. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Mrs. Grupa, whose only son, John Grupa, was killed in an auto accident at Muskegon, April 10, had been ill for several months.

A native of Erie, Pa., the former Theresa Majchrzak came to Grand Rapids in 1922. She had lived here for several years during the early 1950's before returning to Grand Rapids. She was a member of Sacred Heart church there.

She is survived by her husband; her mother, Mrs. Anna Majchrzak, of Grand Rapids who observed her hundreth birthday anniversary last October; a daughter, Mrs. Lambert Blink of Marne; six grandchildren; two brothers and two sisters.

Atwood Child Killed When Tractor Flips

Ellsworth — Gary Lee Hoffman, five year old son of Mr and Mrs. Henry Hoffman, of Atwood, was fatally injured Monday evening when a tractor on which he was riding with his father flipped over. The father was thrown clear but the boy clung to the steering wheel and was pinned under the vehicle. The body was taken to the Hastings funeral home, Ellsworth.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday (today) in the Atwood Reformed church with Rev. Douglas VanGessel officiating. Burial will be in the Atwood cemetery.

Add Names to Sponsors List For Park Stage

Two more "sponsors" with contributions of $100 or more were added to the Park Stage Fund list this week. They were the Charlevoix Tuesday Study club and the Charlevoix State Savings Bank. Contributions were also received from the Dickens club and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club, Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary-treasurer of the Park Stage committee has announced.

A Park Stage "sponsor" is defined as an individual or group contributing $100 or more. In recognition, a plaque listing the names of sponsors will be placed on the Park Stage when completed. Sponsoring contributions are appropriate as a memorial or as recognition in honor of an individual or an organization.

Council Issues Building Permits

Two building permits were approved by City Council at its regular meeting Monday night.

William West was given a permit for the removal of the upper story and re-enforcement of the east end of the Parkside dining room over looking Round lake according to sketches on file at the office of the City Superintendent. He furthered agreed to release any easements he may have following completion of the project to the city.

George W. Lusk was given a permit for an 8 x 24 ft. addition to his property at 203 W. Hurlbut ave.

The re-location of the Oscar W. Ward taxi stand from Antrim st. to a parking space on the east side of Bridge st. across the street from the Arcade Cigar store was approved. This arrangement is to remain in effect during the time parking meters are in use.

Edwards' Florist's bid of $150 for filing 50 hanging baskets was approved. The baskets are to be placed on lamp posts throughout the business district this week.

The council went on record as approving Senate Bill 1181 regarding annexatinn. Copies of their resolution are to be forwarded to Senator Frank Andrews and Rep. C. B. Meggison requesting their support of the bill.

Bills totaling $21,371.24 were approved and ordered paid. Included in the bills was a $7,447 payments for harbor improvements and $1,926 payments on a truckload of poles for the utility department.

Big Parade Climaxes Michigan Week Event

Michigan Week activities in Charlevoix were climaxed Saturday with a Frontier Days parade sponsored by the Charlevoix JayCees headed by Don Brown.

The parade, said by many to be the finest the community has ever had, started at the athletic field and proceeded north on Bridge st. through the business district. Bill Carey was master of ceremonies and David Fowler general chairman of the parade.

The event actually was a parade of progress featuring the old and the new in cars, other modes of transportation and dress, more than 60 youngsters on decorated bikes, more than $18,000 worth of military equipment from the 310th Ordnance here, a fire truck of 1909 vintage publicizing the Swan City festival and Charlevoix's new fire truck, and other entries which the large crowd found most entertaining. The Charlevoix senior and junior bands marched in the parade. The Senior group presented a concert following the parade.

There were displays in the park and in store windows by local and area industries including Freedman Artcraft, Courter Electric of Boyne City, East Jordan Canning Co., Howe Leather Co. of Boyne City, Michigan Bell and Morwetd Steel (trailers). Several displays were withdrawn because of the rainy weather Saturday morning.

A coin collection belonging to Mrs. John Z[illegible] displayed in the Pastry shop window attracted a great deal of attention as did the exhibits of crafts, arts and others on [illegible] store windows along the street.

Education Dept. school when youngsters wrote poems and essays on the subject "It's great to live in Michigan" was most successful. Winning entries will be published during the next few weeks. Leonard Burns was general chairman.

Winners in the decorated bicycle contest were: Bruce Livingston, whose theme was "Keep Michigan Green" won first place; Larry Hutchinson with his rocket "U. S. to the Moon" placed second and Christy Hamilton, as an Indian princess won third place.

In commenting on the success of the parade Mr. Fowler paid special praise to his committee. He also thanked all those whose fine cooperation made the event the success it was.

John Makel, Michigan Week chairman, had only praise for the fine cooperation he received from everyone concerned. "This fine feeling of wanting to help made my job an easy one. The people of the community are to be commended for making Michigan Week a success in Charlevoix," he said.

1120 Boy Scouts Attend Three Day Camporee

A total of 1,120 Boy Scouts and adult leaders from the 18 counties of the Scenic Trails Council gathered at Camp Sancta Maria over the weekend for the annual Camporee.

During the three-day camp-out special recognition was given to the forty-ninth anniversary of the Boy Scout program and this country's forty-ninth state, Alaska.

Among the highlights of the camporee were Scout and patrol participation in eight events in which they competed against standards. The older group, Explorers and Sea Scouts, enjoyed mo'skeet and other special events. A huge campfire Saturday evening following the retreat parade on the camp grounds was also enjoyed by the Scouts and their leaders. During the retreat parade program the Gaylord troop represented by Ted Wertz was presented with a 49-star flag by Charles Kramsvogel of Traverse City, camporee chairman.

Confusion . . .

The more we read of Michigan's financial straights on the flood of contradictory so-called "press releases" we receive from political parties, legislators, colleges, bureaus, etc., the more we are convinced that the taxpayer is looked upon as a gullible sucker.

Michigan's payless payday had the appearance of a political farce. Why should there be a payless payday this year on April 10 when there was more than 132 million dollars in the state treasury and 14 million dollars in the general funds from which payrolls are paid? Look at the treasury figures for a year ago and you find the general fund on April 1st of a year ago was more than eight million dollars less than this year. Why wasn't there a crises last year?

Secretary of State James M. Hare was considerably upset by the Governor's determination to withhold paychecks on April 10 this year, according to our most reliable sources of information. He apparently could not justify the governor's insistence that the five million dollar payroll should not be met.

Here is more confusion as reported by Senator Lynn O. Francis on April 30: The comptroller reported $3.2 million liability for Social security — the State Treasurer reported $13 million liability in the same fund. There is nearly $10 million difference. The Treasurer said we would owe $35 million for social aid by May 15 and the Comptroller said we would not owe anything. The Treasurer said we would have a total of $49 million in anticipated revenue due before May 15. The Comptroller said we would have $77 million due on the same date.

There are more figures that seem to disagree but to list them only adds to confusion. Who is the taxpayer to believe? Press releases from the Governor's office tell us we are "held a hostages for ransom," etc., etc., but he seems to avoid giving us the straight facts. We are beginning to wonder out of which hat he pulls his figures on revenues and expenditures.

There doesn't seem to be much tax relief in site until the taxpayers demand that their elected representatives cut out appropriations to benefit the numerable groups and appropriate funds only for common sense administration of state government.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

WHERE HAVE the past two months gone? The days and weeks seemed to drag when it was winter and now that the weather's good they are whizzing by like mad. Less than a month it will be summer by the calendar, all of which is hard to believe.

But the first of our 'summer' residents are here, on the Belvedere and the Chicago clubs, proof that it's really 'that time' again.

* * *

IT'S THE TIME for graduates again too. This weekend you'll see all our seniors strutting around in caps and gowns and looking the part of young men and women about to take over in this old world of ours. They're all excited about it too. Why, we haven't been able to figure out because they're leaving the best years of their lives behind them, or at least the happiest. Now will come the decisions, the earning of their own way, added responsibilities. But like all youngsters they'll take them in their stride and come out on top. Every now and then we see a youngster we are concerned about but on the whole this so-called 'younger generation' is doing OK. For everyone who ends up in the courts there's heaven knows how many who never make the headlines. This year's senior class is composed of a good bunch of kids, most of whom we've watched grow up. We've worked with many and have gotten to know many more through athletics, plays and other school events. We're gonna miss 'em come next fall. But by then they'll be trying their own wings and we hope they'll all be flying high.

* * *

AFTER LAST WEEK'S Courier was out we had a call from Tom Symons, secretary-manager of our Chamber of Commerce, who wanted to make a correction on a statement we'd made. We'd said that Cheboygan's new call letters, WTOM, were taken from 'top of Michigan' . . . but Mr. Symons informed us that it was named for him. So we were wrong! But how many people have TV stations named for 'em.

* * *

CHARLES HAMPTON stopped in one day last week to share something he'd found with us, a look-see at the most beautiful moth we'd ever seen. It had an enormous wing spread for something so small. The delicately-formed wings were the most beautiful shade of light green, almost the color of new leaves of a birch tree bordered in a soft rich brown with a few brown circles with dots of gold in them. We're not doing a very good job of describing it but perhaps you get the idea. The most amazing things were the two little feelers that topped its head like antennae. They looked as tho' they were covered with miniature feathers. We've seen few moths but all of them have had wings of the most heavenly colors.

* * *

MRS. HARRY GEBEAU told us of an incident that happened to her family that we thought most unusual. Way back in the early 1940's, their son, Bud, like so many young men, was in the service. One of the places he was stationed was at Salt Lake City, Utah. Living in that city at the time was a couple who opened their home to servicemen, including Bud and some of his friends. They'd kept in touch with holiday greetings through the years but with little thought of seeing each other again. So last week when the Carl Letters of Salt Lake City turned up in Charlevoix everyone concerned was mighty surprised. Mr. L. is now a retired railroad man and he and his wife decided to take a little trip and visit 'their boys.' They'd already seen several when they arrived here to see Bud. Of course he's now in Rogers City but a telephone call soon brought them together and after a short visit with his parents here, they left for the eastern side of the state to spend some time with Bud and his family. A happy reunion, to say the least.

*

WE HEARD about another reunion that we'd like to tell you about. Over the weekend we happened to meet a couple boys from Philippines who were assigned to the Sundew recently. They were telling me that they'd known each other in Manila where they'd enlisted in the Coast Guard together some three years ago. They'd come to the States and Cape May for boot training and then they were separated, Benny Buenaventura De-la Cruz going to San Pedro, Calif., and Andy Candido Chainus going to Alaska. They'd kept in touch, after a fashion, through the years. Then came time for transfers and Benny arrived at his new assignment here early this month. At the time he was told that a fellow-countryman would join him aboard the ship. Last week he was in his bunk when one of the fellows awakened him to tell him his 'buddy' was here. Both boys got the surprise of their lives when they discovered who their 'buddies' were to be. They're willing to swear that it's a 'small world.' The Philippines and old friends back there have been the main topics of conversation since they got together.

* * *

WE'D LIKE TO offer our congratulations to the people who did such a good job on Michigan Week in Charlevoix this year. The exhibits up and down the street were beautifully done and enjoyed by everyone. Everyone pitched in and did what he was asked. To climax it all was the parade, one of the nicest we've seen in Charlevoix in many a day. The JayCees and especially the parade chairman, Dave Fowler, deserve a lot of credit, as does the fellow who headed the whole thing, John Makel, who in turn tells us that if it hadn't been for everyone's cooperation it would never have been a success. So, all you fine people take a bow.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Purdy.

Sharon Sue Nichols Betrothal Told

The engagement of Sharon Sue Nichols to David A. Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Clarke of Charlevoix, has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis E. Nichols of St. Louis, Mo.

The wedding will be an event of June 6 at the Church of God at Ferguson, a suburb of St. Louis.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the Ferguson high school. The prospective bridegroom was graduated from the Charlevoix high school and attended Anderson (Ind.) College for two years. He is currently employed in the Engineering Department of McDonald Aircraft Co. in St. Louis.

DAR Chapter Has Luncheon Meeting

The Petosega chapter of the DAR met Friday at Mrs. Gillum's tea room in Petoskey for a luncheon meeting.

A discussion on flag etiquette followed the luncheon. It was revealed that the American flag is placed to the right of the speaker when used on a platform and to the right of the audience when placed in a standard on the floor.

It was also brought out that everyone should stand at attention and men should remove their hats when the national anthem is played.

Attending the meeting from Charlevoix were Mrs. Clark Coulter, Mrs. Cora Coulter, Mrs. Angus Fochtman and Mrs. Earl A. Young.

Sedate Miss of the '60's

Wearing authentic dress of the 1860's little Julie Hilt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hill, sedately peddled along in the Frontiers Day parade Saturday. Although not a winner in the bicycle division, the cameraman considered her costume and poise especially appropriate to carry out the theme of the occasion. From the top of her hat to the pantaloons and shoes, she portrayed the part.

Kiwanians Given Awards for Perfect Attendance Records

Presentation of awards featured the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix at the high school cafeteria Monday evening.

Perfect attendance pins were presented to 12 members whose combined record totaled 87 years. Receiving the recognition were: Rev. Fred McNeil, one year; E. J. Edwards and Arnold Wadas, three years; John Mol, H. B. Schofield and Harold M. Totten, four years; Kit Carson, five years; Fred Willis, seven years; Roy G. Bennett, 13 years, Frank Bird 17 years, and Meyer Levinson 24 years.

The Charlevoix Sea Scouts and their "Skipper," Robert Sommerville, were guests of the club at the dinner meeting. They were recognized by E. K. Shanahan, chairman of the Maple Syrup committee, for their enthusiastic co-operation during the maple syrup season and presented with a check for $214.38, representing their share of the profits.

The program was also featured by a Boy Scout court of awards conducted by George Schraut, executive head of the Scenic Trails council. Merit badges in recognition of achievements in canoeing, swimming and rowing were presented to Sea Scouts Barry Pierce and Darrell Sommerville and Boy Scouts Robert Odmark, John Ochs and Jerry Keiser (not present). Nicky DeYoung was inducted into Scouting and awarded his Tenderfoot badge.

Harry Griswald, field executive of the northern district of Scenic Trails Council, briefly outlined the program planned for the five Charlevoix Boy Scouts who will attend the two week camp at the Boy Scout ranch at Fairmount, N. M. this summer. Charlevoix Kiwanians are helping sponsor the trip for the local Scouts.

Tuesday Study Club Completes 21st Year

The Tuesday Study club closed its twenty-first year with a dinner at the Dilworth hotel in Boyne City Monday evening.

Later the 14 members were guests of Mrs. Jay Niver and Mrs. Clinton G. Cooper at the Niver home where a business meeting was held. A social hour followed.

MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

May 25, 1959

Present: Boss, Smith, Lieberman, Martin, Freedman, Bennett, Supt. Absent: None.

The meeting was called to order at 8:10 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of May 4th were read and approved.

It was moved by Freedman and supported by Smith that bills in the amount of $3,585.10, payable from the General Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Carried: 5-0.

Moved by Smith and supported by Martin that a bill in the amount of $67.45, payable from the Building & Site Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Carried: 5-0.

The Secretary was instructed to represent the Board at the Bi-annual County School Board Election-June 1, at the County Building.

The financial report indicated sufficient funds on hand to pay the expenses through the school year and, if the State Aid payment is paid in full, there will be funds sufficient to pay the loans against next year's taxes.

Mr. Bennett was authorized to announce, through the Charlevoix Courier, that petitions for nomination of school board members for the coming Annual Election will be available at the School Office. The members whose terms expire are: Dr. Robert G. Martin and Robert G. Lieberman. Petitions are to be filed by 6 p.m., June 19.

Discussion was held regarding equipment for the science laboratories included in the proposed new high school, and plans for a study of the homemaking department, library and cafeteria were made.

The report of the Adult Education program showed for the current year less work in the vocational field and more enrolled in recreation classes. The recreation classes are to be continued during the summer and the coming year.

The meeting adjourned at 9:50 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT H. SMITH, Secretary

MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT
ENDORSES AMAZING NEW HEARING INVENTION

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has now joined other prominent Americans and people from all walks of life in praising a revolutionary new hearing device called "The Listener." "It certainly heralds a new day for the hard of hearing," said Mrs. Roosevelt recently.

Continuing, she added: "If people only knew what a revelation and a joy The LISTENER is, they would not for a moment hesitate to wear one. This is the first hearing aid that exactly fits my needs. I didn't realize a hearing aid could be as good as this."

So widespread is the interest in this remarkable new electronic hearing achievement, the makers have prepared an illustrated booklet giving full details. Those interested may obtain a free copy from:

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Circumstances Are Revealers

Along our favorite stream stand all manner of trees, of several species, of various ages, of differing conditions of health and strength, and here and there across the brook lay other trees that have recently fallen. I suppose if these great plants could reason and talk, the toppled trees would complain of the waters that loosened the soil around their roots and the winds that brought them down. But only a casual glance would reveal that water and winds did not alone vanquish them. Not outward circumstances but inner weakness of root and fiber dropped them in time of testing. When those trees fell, others stood. The same occasion of testing that proved one tree's weakness demonstrated another's strength.

Life's big occasions do not make cowards of us, or heroes. They merely show what we have secretly been all along. The storm that plunges one tree to the earth, strengthens another's sinews. The same heat that melts wax hardens clay. What the circumstances of everyday life do to us will ultimately depend upon the character they find within us.

Name the most favorable circumstances that you can think of —fame, power of high position, wealth — and you can recall unwise people who have used such good fortune to their own hurt and to the disadvantage of others. Think of the most adverse circumstances possible — humiliation, powerful moral temptation, ill-health, poverty; and there are some people who have these circumstances to their own advantage and for the world's good.

In the worst and the best villages and cities you will find both good and bad characters. In the least desirable and most fortunate financial situations, you can discover people who are inwardly poor and others who are spiritually rich. In the most backward schools and in the most advanced and stimulating educational institutions there can be found both laggards and fine scholars.

Situations, favorable and unfavorable, reveal what we are.

American Legion Auxiliary Elects

Mrs. John Johnson was re-elected president of the local American Legion Auxiliary at the annual meeting held Monday at the home of Mrs. Albert Taylor.

Others who were returned to office for another year were: first vice president, Mrs. Ted Browe; second vice president, Mrs. Emerson Hull; secretary, Mrs. W. E. Goss; treas., Mrs. Luther Hannah; chaplain, Mrs. Edgar Smith; sergeant at arms, Mrs. George Hallam and publicity chairman, Mrs. Leo Allard.

The annual poppy sale which was headed by Mrs. Emerson Hull this year was discussed.

A social hour and refreshments followed.

To Feature Film At Assembly of God

The film, "God Is My Landlord" produced by Dynamic Kernels Foundation will be featured at a family night at the Assembly of God church tonight (Thursday).

The event is a family night which will begin with a buffet potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. followed by a program during which the summer budget will be presented. The film, in sound and color, will be shown at 8:30 p.m. It will run for 45 minutes.

The film tells the story of tithing. Its main character is Perry Hayden, Tecumseh businessman in the milling industry. He started his planting with a cubic inch (360 kernels) of selected seed wheat. For the next six years the tithe was taken the remainder planted. On the harvesting of the crop the sixth year the yield was 72,150 bushels which sold for $130,000. The tithe came to $15,000, thus proving that the Bible way of tithing is very interesting and profitable to the tither.

Everyone is welcome to join the congregation in viewing the film.

The parking lot at the church has been completed thus giving off-the-street parking to members.

ROUND AND SQUARE DANCING. St. Mary's School Hall, by the Little Flower Guild. Novotny Trio. Saturday, May 30. 9 p.m. also lunch served.

Plan Retreat for Boy Scouts of Catholic Faith

Boy Scouts of Catholic Faith of the Scenic Trails Council are being invited to participate in the first annual Catholic Scout Retreat to be conduced at Camp Greilick June 12, 13 and 14.

Scouts and Explorers belonging to either Catholic-sponsored troops and posts or to non-sectarian sponsored troops are welcome to attend and to participate.

One of the Fathers from St. Joseph's Seminary, serving as retreat master, will conduct the spiritual exercises of the week-end. He will be assisted by seminarian from the Diocesan seminary in Grand Rapids. Total attendance will be limited to 100 boys.

Ample provision for recreational activities including swimming and boating with an evening campfire will be cared for by the Camp Greilick summer staff.

Rites Held for Son of Mr.-Mrs. Dale Boss

Funeral services for Thomas John Boss, one-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Boss, were held Tuesday at the Winchester Funeral Home with the Rev. Charles Stoppels officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

He was born Saturday at the Charlevoix hospital.

Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Sharon and Diane; two brothers, Dale jr. and James; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John E Boss and Mr. and Mrs. Glenroy Ikens of Brighton and his great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Boss, M. K. Chew and Mrs. Floyd Ikens.

Teacher of Retarded To Observe Program

Mrs. Robert O. Bergmann, teacher at the local Retarded Children's school, left Wednesday for Grand Rapids where she will visit the Lincoln Foundation to observe programs and sheltered work shop activities for older retarded children.

Plan Retreat for Catholic Laymen

Plans for the annual Northwestern Michigan Catholic Laymen's Retreat to be held at Leland June 5-7 and 7-9 were made at a dinner meeting in Traverse City Wednesday evening.

Attending the dinner were Ralph S. Hamilton, Arthur Heilig and Alfred Scheid.

Death Takes Father Of Mrs. R. Reinhart

John B. Fullerton, 73, father of Mrs. Rupert Reinhart, died Sunday at Little Traverse hospital in Petoskey where he had been a patient for 2½ weeks.

The body was returned to Big Run, Pa., for funeral services and burial.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Fullerton was a retired coal miner. He had come here from Big Run in March following the death of his wife, Jennie, to make his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhart.

Besides Mrs. Reinhart he is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Roy DeNeau of Wilson, N.Y., and Mrs. William Jewell of South Charleston, W. Va.; three sons, William of Cloe, Pa., Lynn of St. Abinas, W. Va., and Eric, Pa.; three brothers and two sisters.

Custom-Blended
BLUE SUNOCO
CUSTOM 220 BLEND
CUSTOM 230 BLEND
CUSTOM 210 BLEND
CUSTOM 200 BLEND
CUSTOM 240 BLEND
CUSTOM 260 BLEND

Gas stations with only 2 or 3 grades force most premium buyers today into paying for octane their cars can't use.

But Sunoco Custom-Blends your fuel to fit your engine exactly. 6 quality blends… 6 octane strengths…6 different prices! You save up to 4¢ a gallon on premiums!

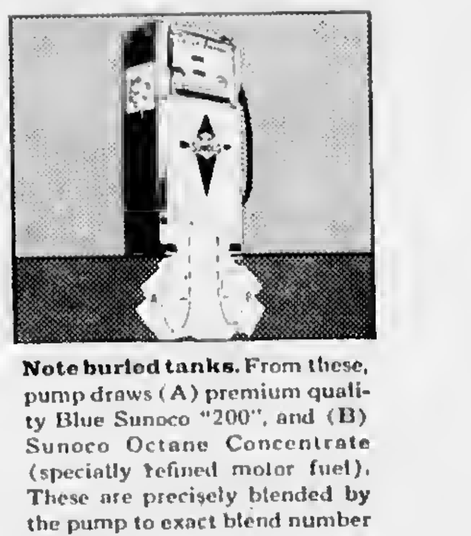
CUSTOM-BLENDED BLUE SUNOCO

Your Sunoco Dealer is the only man who has the fuels needed to fit all today's cars with the exact octane they need!

With 6 blends, you can be sure of getting an exact octane fit—a perfect performance fit. And, you'll never waste your money on octane your car can't use. And, each Sunoco blend will deliver instant acceleration, brisk passing power. You enjoy peak, premium performance with no harmful deposits — no spark plug fouling. That's Sunoco quality!

And, Custom-Blending is so easy! Just start with the blend recommended for your car by your Sunoco dealer. Next tankful, drop down to the next lower blend at the next lower price, and so on, until you find the blend that performs the best, yet costs the least!

Big power at "Regular" Price! Sunoco Custom Blend "200" means big new power for many "regular" users. It's proved higher octane than most "regular" buyers are getting anywhere else! It's higher quality . . . highest value!



Note buried tanks. From these, pump draws (A) premium quality Blue Sunoco "200", and (B) Sunoco Octane Concentrate (specially refined motor fuel). These are precisely blended by the pump to exact blend number ordered! Approved by various governmental authorities.

Only Sunoco's 6 can fit all cars!

Three Lake Cruises Schedule Stops in Charlevoix Harbor

Charlevoix will greet more than 1200 officials and executives of business concerns in three different Michigan cities during the next ten days when the Great Lakes cruise ships, S. S. North American and S. S. South American, bring members of the Lansing Chamber of Commerce, the Bay City Chamber of Commerce and the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce for visits of several hours each.

It is expected that each of the three groups will number more than 400.

Upon their arrival in Charlevoix all three groups will be greeted by the Charlevoix high school band. Courtesy cars and cabs will be at the municipal dock to transport the visitors to the local golf courses and on tours of the community.

The first group to arrive will be the Lansing Chamber of Commerce when the S. S. South American docks here at 8 a.m. Tuesday. The stop will be of five hours duration.

On Saturday, June 13, this ship will again dock here with members of the Bay City Chamber of Commerce aboard. This stop also will be of five hours duration since the ship is scheduled to arrive at 9:30 p.m. and depart at 2:30 a.m.

The group from the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce is scheduled to arrive abobard the S. S. North American at 1 p.m. Wednesday, June 17.

Each of these three groups will have ample time here for sightseeing and shopping.

Ward W. Bennett, Retired Officer In U.S.C.G. Dies

Cmdr. Ward W. Bennett, 79, retired U. S. Coast Guard officer, died Thursday at Empire where he had lived since retiring in 1940.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Kinkema funeral home in Grand Haven with burial in the Lake Forest cemetery there. The Masonic lodge was in charge and members of the U. S. Coast Guard were pallbearers.

Born at Glen Haven June 21, 1880, Mr. Bennett entered the Coast Guard service at Charlevoix in 1904. He was given charge of his first station at Beaver Island in 1917. His long career in the service included duty along the Mississippi river during the disastrous floods of 1927. He later served as commander of the old 10th district with headquarters at Grand Haven and of the 7th district with offices at Elizabeth City, N. C.

He was involved in many harrowing rescue operations including the saving of more than 500 people from the steamer, Illinois, when it went aground off Charlevoix in 1907. A total of 114 of them were brought to shore via breeches buoy, even yet the largest number ever removed from a ship by this method on Lake Michigan.

As a result of his rescue of 11-year-old Harry Tobin who had fallen through the ice on Glen Lake in 1906 he was awarded the Carnegie Medal for bravery and its accompanying $1,000.

He is survived by his wife, the former Jessie Hanshew whom he married at Charlevoix in 1907; a sister, Carrie of Grand Rapids and two grandchildren. An only son, Kentnor, died in 1938.

Venetian Festival Booth Committee Calls Meeting

A meeting of the Venetian festival booth committee has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday at the city hall by K. Byrnn Wright, chairman.

All organizations planning to have booths in East Park during the festival are asked to have a representative at the meeting. If they are not represented or have not already made reservations for space in the park, it will be assumed that they do not plan to participate.

If local organizations do not participate, outside groups who have asked to have booths here during the festival will be allowed to come in.

For the first time a new plan regarding booths is being put into effect. All organizations planning to have booths are asked to pay a $10 entry fee. They will then pay a 10 per cent of gross to the Chamber of Commerce. The $10 entry fee would be applied to this total. All funds thus derived would be used for the Venetian Festival only. Three local organizations have already paid their entry fees and requested space.

V.F.W. To Hold State Convention At Traverse City

The 32nd annual state convention of the Michigan Department of Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held in Traverse City June 25-28.

Mrs. Gerald Burke, president of the local auxiliary to the VFW and Mrs. Harley Warner and Mrs Howard Griffin, delegates will represent the local auxiliary at the state conference.

A highlight of the convention will be the presence of the national president, Mrs. Leedy Myers of Great Bend, Kans.

The main function of the state convention is to elect officers for the coming year. National officers will be chosen during the 46th annual national convention to be held in Los Angeles this fall.

Usona Lodge Sold To H. L. Phillips

The sale of the Usona lodge located at 111 Michigan ave. to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Phillips of Bay View and Grand Rapids has been announced by the former owners, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pearl.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, who have operated a tourist home at Bay View for 15 years, will continue to conduct the Usona lodge in much the same manner as the Pearls have for the past 23 years. The new owners will operate under the name of Phillips Tourist Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl plan to spend the summers in Charlevoix and the winters in California where they have spent the past few seasons.

Plan Series of Six Square Dancing Parties

Residents of northern Michigan who are interested in western type square dancing are invited to attend a series of dances to be held twice monthly during the summer under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Square Dance club.

The dances will be held at the high school band room or gymnasium, depending on the need, on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month during June, July and August

Mr. and Mrs. Don Day of Traverse City, will known instructors of this type of dancing, will be in charge of the dances.

Persons interested in joining the club are invited to attend the first dance next Tuesday. Additional information may be obtained by calling Max Novak in Charlevoix.

Park Stage Plan Up for Council Approval

Proposed plans for a new permanent park stage and its location were studied Tuesday evening at a special meeting of the city council and are on the agenda for final approval at the regular meeting of the council Monday evening.

The plans in general appeared to meet with the approval of council members, according to Mayor E. James Hiller. It may be necessary to make minor changes in the specification in order to comply with certain building requirements.

While total funds for the construction of the complete stage have not been subscribed, the Chamber of Commerce Park Stage committee believes it is justified in starting construction of the stage proper in order to have it for the band concerts this summer.

Each week has brought more contributions to the fund, altho there has been no concerted drive. This week there was a contribution from the Church of God Missionary society and three "sponsors" contributions of $100 or more from St. Mary's Catholic church, Charlevoix County State Bank, and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gilbert. There is now $1,500 in the fund, according to Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary-treasurer of the Park Stage committee.

The wood platform formerly used for a stage is reported to be unsafe for further use. The committee believes it wiser to construct the stage proper immediately for use this year rather than spend money on a makeshift stage.

Your contribution, given to Mrs. Kit Carson, Secretary-Treasurer, will help now.

The Eastporter Restaurant Opens For Resort Season

The Eastporter dining room and coffee shop, operated adjacent to the Eastporter motel at Eastport on Turch Lake was opened last week for the resort season by Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt.

The new proprietors will feature choice foods, home cooked, serving dinners, breakfasts, lunches and snacks. The restaurant will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt moved here from Chicago this spring and purchased a home in Norwood township. They had previous experience in the restaurant business in the Chicago area. Mrs. Schmidt is a former resident of Petoskey.

School to Offer Music Students Summer Course

The Charlevoix board of education will again sponsor a summer instrumental music program according to C. A. Odmark, band director, who will conduct the program which is scheduled to begin Monday, June 22.

This will mark the twelfth consecutive year the program has been in operation. Through the years it has become an intregal part of the music program.

The lessons which will be given in the high school band room are open to all instrumental music students in the Charlevoix school district. An enrollment fee of three dollars for the seven weeks session is charged. Each student will be scheduled for a lesson once per week. These lessons are either given individually or in small groups. Students enrolling in the program will be notified by mail as to their schedule time.

While primarily designed for sixth and seventh grade students, considerable interest is being shown by students in the upper grades. Mr. Odmark said he expected this year's enrollment to exceed last year's record of 103 students.

Begin Practice For Softball

The practice sessions for Class A softball teams who are tentatively scheduled to open the season next Thursday have been announced by Dean Davenport, softball director.

Beginning at 6:30 p.m. City Merchants will practice Thursday and Monday; Airport Inn, Friday and Tuesday; Freedman Artcraft, Saturday and Wednesday; American Mold, Sunday. The U. S. Coast Guard uses the practice field at 4 p.m.

A full schedule will be announced next week, Mr. Davenport said.

School to Offer Driver Training Summer Course

Though the Charlevoix high school will close Friday, 40 students will continue attending a class for the next three weeks.

They are the students who are enrolled in driver training at this time because the class would not fit into their schedules during the past school year or next fall.

Larrie Tuomela will teach the class.

GORDON MOL

JANIS I. ARBUCKLE

WILLIAM STEFFENS

Three Charlevoix Graduates to Get Degrees at Central Michigan

Three Charlevoixans will be among the graduates of Central Michigan College who will receive their degrees and diplomas at commencement exercises on the campus in Mt. Pleasant Sunday.

They are Janis I. Arbuckle, an art major and J. Gordon Mol and William Steffens, industrial arts majors.

Miss Arbuckle will receive a B. A. degree with a major in art and a minor in English. She has accepted a teaching position in the Warren public schools. She is the daughter of Mrs. Marian R. Arbuckle of Charlevoix and Keith Arbuckle of Sault Ste. Marie.

Mr. Mol will be awarded a B.S. degree with a major in industrial arts and a minor in history. He is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. He is married to the former Darlene Mason, who also has been attending Central Michigan. They have one daughter, Karen Lee. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mol have accepted teaching positions in the Muskegon school system. Mrs. Mol who is within one semester of completing her work on a degree will teach kindergarten. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mol of this city.

Mr. Steffens has gone through Central Michigan in three years including summer school. He will receive a B. S. degree with a major in industrial arts and a minor in fine arts and general shop. He has been a member of Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary educational fraternity.

Mr. Steffens is a veteran of nine years in the U. S. Air Force including a commission during World War II and as a technical sergeant in Korea. He was employed by the Service Fire Insurance Co. of Flint for three years after leaving the service before returning to college.

He is married to the former B. J. Cunningham of this city. They have three children, Gary, Karen and Kathy. He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Allard of this city.

Volunteers Work On Outboard Boat Launching Ramp

Work on the launching ramp being constructed on Lake Charlevoix south of the Ferry ave. beach continued Sunday under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Marine club according to Phil Lawrence, commodore of the club.

A total of 45 loads of rock and gravel were put into the ramp. It was used to form the approach, build up the sides and the slope into the water, latter extends into the water approximately 85 feet at a 10 degree angle. The approach is approximately 50 feet long.

The project is nearing completion according to Mr. Lawrence who said that the club was now seeking metal matting or some similar topping for the ramp. As soon as this is found the work can be completed for this season.

Lake Construction and Swanson Gravel again supplied two trucks and a loader each and the city two trucks. Drivers and operators were Dick Elzinga, Clayton Sarasin and Bob Sarasin, Lake Construction; Everett Pease, Larry Swanson and Medrick Waffle, Swanson Gravel and Jim Martin and Joe Armstrong, the city.

Others who volunteered their services were Lee Moerland, Dick Fochtman, Cliff Gregory, Jim Barnt, Glenn Pemberton, Tom and Jim Browe and Mr. Lawrence.

In announcing the progress of the work, Mr. Lawrence again acknowledge the fine cooperation of the local contracting firms, the city and club members in making the ramp a reality.

Rev. A. R. Gold to Preach Farewell Sermon Sunday

The Rev. A. R. Gold, associate minister of the First Congregational church since September 1958, will preach his farewell sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Gold, who had served previously had served several months as interim minister, returned to Charlevoix in September on invitation of the congregation and the state office of the Michigan Association of Congregational Christian churches to assume responsibility for leadership during the illness of the minister, the Rev. Harold E. Kohn. Mr. Gold, who was accompanied here by Mrs. Gold interrupted his retirement plans to return to Charlevoix from Cedar Springs. They plan to return to their home there next week.

Rev. James Sherman will arrive here from California next week to assume his duties as associate minister of the church. He will be accompanied here by his wife and their two daughters.

Kiwanis Club Votes To Buy Swimming Pool for School

Charlevoix has been assured of a swimming pool for its youths as the result of action taken Monday at the regular meeting of the Charlevoix Kiwanis club.

At this meeting the membership gave its approval to a recommendation made by the board of directors that monies in the Kiwanis Youth Fund be spent for the purchase of a swimming pool to be given to the Charlevoix public schools. The pool, as now planned, would be approximately 25 x 50 feet. It would be surrounded by a sizable border area and would be covered with a dome for year-around use. It also would be heated and would meet specifications established by the Michigan Health Department.

Earlier the Charlevoix board of education voted to accept the pool if the Kiwanis club should offer it to the school.

Present plans call for it to be built on the site of the present high school which will be razed when the new junior and senior high school is completed on the Garfield ave. site. The pool would be operated and maintained by the school.

The Kiwanis Youth Fund was established in 1952 and funds derived from the annual White Elephant sales were placed in the fund which now boasts approximately $9,000. Funds from future White Elephant sales will go to the fund until the goal is reached.

The Youth Fund which will be used for this project represents many hours of hard work by the club membership and their Kiwani-Queens who have assisted with the sales since 1952.

Frank Bird, who was named to a committee with Kit Carson, to announce the club's decision, said that those members who have worked so diligently on the White Elephant sales and the residents of the community who have contributed salable materials as well as those people who have purchased the 'white elephants' deserve a great deal of credit for making the youth project a success. In deciding to underwrite the cost of the pool, the club members feel that this project will benefit more children of all ages than any other than has been proposed.

The 1950 White Elephant committee which is currently collecting materials for next fall's sale is composed of Barney Engelhart, chairman, Kit Carson, Angus L. Fochtman, H. E. Paddock and Mr. Bird.

Schools Close Friday for Summer Vacation Period

The Charlevoix public schools and St. Mary's parochial school will close tomorrow (Friday) for the 1958-59 school year.

Classes will be resumed on Tuesday, Sept. 15.

At this time there are no major changes anticipated in the teaching personnel of the Charlevoix schools.

There will only be a half-day of school today (Thursday). On Friday buses will bring elementary students to school at 10 a.m. for class picnics. The buses will make their last trips of the school year at 2:15 p.m. Friday. Junior and senior high school students will pick up their cards at the high school between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

At St. Mary's school students graduating from the eighth grade will receive their diplomas at a special ceremony tonight. Other students will receive their report cards following the ceremony.

Players Sign for Peanut League

A total of 120 youngsters in the 8 through 12 year age group signed up for Peanut league baseball this spring according to Dean Davenport, softball manager.

During the past week try-out camps have been held with all managers attending the camps and looking over the supply of available players. An auction of players will be held following the try-outs with each manager being given 1500 points with which to 'buy' players.

The season will get underway shortly.

Bruce Henley has been obtained to manage the Zephyr Red Devils.

Allocation Board Adopts Millage

The final rate allotted 6.5 mills to the county for operational costs; eight mills to all school districts with the exception of Murray No. 1 and Bay Shore No. 3, both located in Hayes township, and one-half mill to all townships with the exception of Hayes and Norwood townships which received no millage.

Parkside Dining Room Opens for 26th Season

The Parkside Dining Room at 404 Bridge st. overlooking the yacht basin is now open for the 1959 season.

This will mark the twenty-sixth season for the popular dining room which is operated by Mr. and Mrs. William West.

The dining room features home made breads and pastries in addition to the choicest meats and fish.

The eastern section is presently being remodeled. The wooden structure which was pulled away from the brick building has been removed. A steel and glass addition will replace the old one, given diners an even lovelier view of the harbor.

Far Want of a Nail

If you had your choice of a number of communities in which to live, you probably would ask many questions about these towns before making your choice.

After narrowing the list to a few places, you probably would visit each one, to see which town appeared to be the most friendly and desirable place to live.

One question that would be uppermost in your mind would be "are the people friendly?"

An industry makes much the same type of approach when it starts looking for a place to locate a new plant, or when it decides to move.

The attitude of the people in a community toward industry is studied very carefully by an industry or business considering that area for its future home.

If the attitude is friendly and cooperative, that may be the determining factor in the decision as to which community gets the new industry or the expanded facilities of a company that finds it must have more plant space.

A good industrial climate is the business of everyone in a community. One "knocker" may spoil the favorable impression of a community by a company seeking a new place to locate.

The importance of a good community climate is the theme of an advertisement entitled "For Want Of A Nail," which appears in the Courier today.

It is another in a series of industrial development advertisements sponsored by the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department which appear in this and 318 other Michigan newspapers as a public service.

MICHIGAN WEEK is over and we've been copying the essays and poems the youngsters in our schools wrote on the theme "It's Great to Live in Michigan." We hope you'll take time to read these little stories for they reveal one thing about our kids. That they are probalby more conscious of how great this state is than most adults and we know for a fact that they appreciate the natural beauty of our great north country more than anyone else we know. The ones which will be re-printed in the Charlevoix Courier are only a few of the many written but we're sure you'll see what we mean if you will just read them. As far as we're concerned Michigan Week is worth everything that's put in it just to know what these kids are thinking.

* * *

WE'RE ALWAYS ON a soap box about this younger generation that so many people are always taking over the coals. We'd like to offer the following little story to prove again that these kids are more than alright if you will just have a little patience with 'em . . . As you well know the class that is just concluding its junior year lost one of its favorite members in a tragic auto accident last August. Perhaps these kids didn't have exactly the right words at the time to express their sympathy to a bereaved family but their actions certainly speak louder and clearer than any words ever could. They have taken from their class treasury a sizable sum which they earned themselves and placed at the grave of their classmate, Judy Dutcher, a beautiful flower-filled urn. They have gone about this without fuss and fanfare as a tribute to her. If this class should do nothing more they certainly have made their mark by this thoughtful act which they did because they wanted to.

* * *

CHARLEVOIX'LL be greeting two of the few remaining lake cruise ships, the North and South Americans, during the next 10 days. There's nothing any lovelier, to our way of thinking, than these majestic vessels proudly making their way into our harbor.

* * *

OVERHEARD at the Memorial Day parade (and passed on to us by Pete Burns). Cub Scout to a member of the firing squad from the 310th Ordnance Co: "How many BBs will that gun hold?"

* * *

AND SPEAKING of the Memorial Day parade, it seemed a lot bigger and certainly a lot more orderly than in other years. Some one said it never changes, the Memorial Day observance here. But would you want it to change? We feel that this is one of the few remaining observances left to a small town. We like it the way it is, and a few other people feel the same way.

* * *

THERE'S ANOTHER special day coming up this week and we'll bet that only a few, other than those who were there, will remember it. It's June 6, the fifteenth anniversary of D-Day, a century ago as far as history is concerned and only day before yesterday to those who remember. There'll no doubt be a memorial service at the beaches of Normandy but elsewhere there'll be little to mark this day in history. Did you ever stop to think what it might have meant had the invasion of June 6, 1944, failed?

* * *

WE WENT FISHING last week and tho' we didn't catch a thing we had a whale of a time. It all started last summer when our good friend, Jake White, got his new steel fish tug. He'd asked if we'd like to go fishing aboard some time and of course the answer was a quick 'yes'. So come perch fishing time and we take off. At the time we didn't know who was going but it turned out to be quite a party. And before the day was over there were quite a few fish caught but not by us. We did get credit for one when we noticed that a line left unattended for a minute, had a nibble. And it was a good thing too because everyone who didn't get a fish was to be tossed overboard. As it turned out, Barb White was the only one who didn't get a fish and since she was our host's daughter we couldn't very well toss her in. Probably the biggest laugh of the day when Helen Meggison, fishing out the side window of the tug, got a bite. Arlene Davis was giving her an assist in bringing her catch thru the window when they discovered an eel attached to the perch. If all the fish in the lake had taken off for parts unknown we couldn't have blamed them too much. Fay Davis was probably the top fisherman in the crowd he got so tried hauling 'em in that he wanted Jake to start the motorized lifter used for bringing in nets. When we weren't fishing, we were cruising. After five hours on the water we all made our way home and collapsed. But what a day. And the thought struck us that we who live here in Charlevoix really don't appreciate all the things we have, such as lakes full of beautiful clear water, miles of beaches, rolling hills, wooded areas and the fun of being with good friends. It's paradise as far as we are concerned. PS—Thanks for the beautiful mess of perch which the lucky people shared with us and to Jake for a most memorable afternoon.

FOR WANT OF A NAIL—

For want of a nail, the shoe was lost. And because the shoe was lost, the horse was lost . . . and the soldier was lost and, the story goes, the battle was lost.

Sometimes it is that way when the battle is a community's struggle to gain new industry. Sometimes the battle is lost for want of something it would seem every community should possess.

A community's attitude — how all of us feel about our town and the industry in our town — is one of the most important elements considered by an industrial prospect.

Our attitude must be good if we are going to win. It is everyone's responsibility. The attitude of everyone toward our present industry can be our biggest asset or our biggest liability in the community's effort to get new industry.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community grow and prosper.

Farmers is the theme of this year's camp program. Troops will adopt farm names; songs and dances will include those pertaining to the farm and camp craft will follow the same theme.

During the week Troops 5 and 7 will make pipe cleaner figures of horses; Troops 6 and 15 felt lapel pins shaped like horses and Troop 15 clothespin figures of farmers and their wives.

During the natures study program all girls will make miniature gardens using small plants found at the camp site.

Each troop will have its own camp-site on the grounds and cook over an open fire. On Wednesday all troops will join in an open-kettle cookout. On Friday night their parents will join the girls for a party and program at 6 p.m.

Assisting Mrs. Belfy, camp director, will be Mrs. L. E. Grate, camp nurse; Ann Ratigan, story teller; Mrs. Russell Dohm of Troop 5, purchasing; Mrs. Eugene Bergmann of Troop 17, craft purchasing; Mrs. Gerald Lakies of Troop 17, chairman of clean-up committee.

Other leaders who will assist are Mrs. Louis Hooper of Troop 5, Mrs. Eugene Curtis of Troop 16 and mothers of girls in Troop 7.

Mrs. Robert O. Bergmann is president of the sponsoring council. Mrs. Robert Pearl is camping chairman.

Dale Boss Graduates From Agency School

Dale Boss has been graduated from an agent's casualty insurance school conducted by State Mutual Insurance Co. in preparation for new coverage to be offered by the Flint-Based company.

He was among 34 state Mutual agents who passed the state insurance commission examination at the two-day school which has qualified him to write casualty insurance. During the school he received instruction in the intricacies of casualty, boiler and machinery, glass, crime, liability and workmen's compensation insurance. Heretofore, the company has specialized in property insurance.

F. B. Group Wants Better Marketing

The Marion Center Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dohn with 11 members and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fear, of East Jordan present.

An expanded program for the Farm Bureau was the topic for discussion. The group went on record as favoring a stronger commodity marketing program. Reports were also given by the various committees.

The meeting was then turned over to Mr. Fear who spoke on the subject of Farm Bureau Insurance. He outlined the various types of insurance available and answered questions regarding them.

The one-quarter scale duplicate of the 1911 model T Ford served a double purpose in the Saturday Frontiers Day parade for the Northern Auto Co. It not only represented an early period in the history of the automobile it also is symbolic of the year that the Northern Auto Co. was established. Wesley Weils of the local garage drove the miniature car in the parade with a typical portrayal of many 1911 drivers strutting their first automobile.

Retires After 30 Years In U.S.C.G.--Now College

Together the two men represent 57 years of service in the country's oldest military organization.

On Monday, June 1, John Kinnunen, Chief Warrant Boatswain, executive officer of U. S. Coast Guard Group Charlevoix since 1956, will retire after 30 years in this country's oldest military service.

Thus will come to a close a career marked by full, happy years during which this dedicated, quiet and unassuming man has worked his way from seaman to a permanent rank of Chief Warrant Boatswain upon retirement, a career highlighted by commendations about which he never speaks and many memorable experiences.

But as Mr. Kinnunen tells it, after 30 years, his record is a very ordinary one which started back in June 1929 when he enlisted in what was then the U. S. Lifesaving Service at Sheboygan, Wis. There were days, he recalls, when one enlisted he remained at that particular station for his entire training instead of going to [illegible] do now.

After two years at the Sheboygan station he was sent to engineman's school at Buffalo, N.Y., for six months special training. He was re-assigned to that unit and remained there until 1937 when he was transferred to the South Chicago Lifeboat Station. It was at this time that he decided to switch from engineman to boatswain's mate. In 1941 he was advanced to Chief Boatswain's Mate and named as officer in charge of the Wilmette Lifeboat Station, a post he filled until 1943 when he was assigned to a destroyer escort for convoy duty in the Atlantic-Mediterranean theatre of operation during World War II.

After a year of convoy duty which he considered the most nerve-wracking because of its monotony, he was assigned for short tours of duty at Miami, Fla., Houston and Galveston, Tex., Charleston, S. C., and Ellis Island in the harbor at New York City.

In 1945 Mr. Kinnunen was returned to duty in the Ninth Coast Guard District and assigned to the South Chicago Lifeboat Station where he was to serve until 1949 with one year with the American Graves Registration service at the Quartermaster's Depot in Chicago.

During the summer of 1949 he was in charge of the Jackson Park Lifeboat Station and then was assigned to the Group office where he served as executive officer, group commander until relieved by a Coast Guard Captain and then as operations officer.

In 1952 he was named Group Commander at Marquette and in this capacity became commanding officer of Coast Guard facilities along the busy shipping lanes of the most vicious of the Great Lakes, Lake Superior.

He left there to assume his duties as executive officer of Coast Guard Group Charlevoix in 1956.

And now that it's about to end, would he do it over again? His answer is an emphatic 'yes' with one reservation . . . he would complete his formal education and then seek appointment to the Coast Guard Academy instead of working his way up through the ranks.

"But other than that I've enjoyed my years in the service. I will always treasure the many memories I have and the friends I've made. In fact, I'm sorry I can't remain in the Coast Guard but retirement is mandatory after 30 years" Mr. Kinnunen said.

In answer to a question regarding the changes in this particular branch of the service, he said that the Coast Guard of today bears little resemblance to that of 30 years ago. "In those days," he said, " we were interested only in our own unit. At that time there were less than 9,000 men in the Coast Guard and today the number exceeds 33,000. As the service grew, the responsibilities of commanding officers increased until today a warrant officer has more responsibility than an officer did in the old days."

Mr. Kinnunen counts among his most memorable experiences not the commendations he has received but incidents which are minor by comparison.

One of these is a day in 1950 when he was awarded the privilege of swearing his only son, John R. Kinnunen, into the U. S. Coast Guard in Chicago. "It isn't every father who is accorded this honor" he remarked. His son has since completed a four year enlistment and only last February decided to make a career of the service and re-enlisted. He served briefly aboard the cutter Sundew here before being sent to electronics school in Groton, Conn.

The other incident about which he was reluctant to speak happened in August 1941 when he was stationed at Wilmette, Ill.

As he tells it: "We were on a routine mission with the 30 ft. patrol boat when I sighted something in the distance on Lake Michigan. I called the crew's attention to it but we all decided it was a seagull perched on a piece of driftwood.

"Whatever made me change my course and go out to investigate the floating object I will never know but as it turned out it was an answer to prayers . . . prayers of a young Wilmette youth and his sister who had been clinging to the bow of their capsized outboard motor boat all night. The youth told me afterward that they were about to give up when they heard us leave the station. 'I told my sister to pray as she'd never prayed before, that you would find us and you did' the exhausted boy related to me. When we pulled them from the water it was evident that they couldn't have survived much longer. I figure their rescue must have been an answer to their prayers for why else would I have changed my course?"

However, the commendations he has received have been mighty important to persons involved. Such as the time when his action, as Group Commander at Marquette, resulted in getting a breeches buoy across the bow of the Steamer Maryland which resulted in removing 22 crewmen from the stricken vessel after it had gone aground near Shot Point near Marquette Sept. 12, 1953, during a gale on Lake Superior.

Or the time in February 1936 when he and his fellow servicemen made two hazardous trips to a tug which was caught in the ice off Sheboygan, Wis., to remove crewmen, risking their own lives to do so.

Or in October 1933 when, as a surfman at the Sheboygan station, he jumped into the river without bothering to remove his clothing in an effort to save a man who was struggling in the water. His quick action was credited with saving the life of a second man involved in the accident.

And when retirement becomes a reality, what then? Mr. Kinnunen has many plans. First he'll join his wife in Chicago, the former Dorothy Glaeser whom he married at Sheboygan in 1932. He then plans to take aptitude tests offered by the Veterans Administration and eventually return to school. During his years in the service he earned his high school credits and one year's college credits through the U. S. Armed Forces Institute at Madison, Wis. "I'd like nothing better than to earn my degree. It's a shame to let those college credits go to waste and I have to do something" he says.

He hopes, too, to spend some time in his beloved upper Michigan where he was born Feb. 18, 1904, at Mohawk.

"Yes, there's plenty to do now that I'm retiring. It's just a matter of deciding which thing should have priority" Mr. Kinnunen said as an afterthought

Women's Hospital Guild Elects Officers; Plans Summer Activities

Mrs. Karl Schultz was named president of the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital for 1959-60 at the annual meeting held Tuesday at the hospital solarium.

She succeeds Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall who has served in the office for the past year.

Other new officers are: president-elect, Mrs. Floyd Brown; secretary, Mrs. Robert Foss and treasurer, Mrs. Paul Olson.

Mrs. Edward K. Shanahan was named to the executive board for a three-year term. Other members of this board are Mrs. Kit Carson whose term expires in 1961 and Mrs. Homer Nasson whose term expires next year.

Mrs. Schultz's first act as president was to name committee chairmen for the year. They are: candy, Mrs C. T. Symons jr.; hospitality, Mrs. Robert Neff; gifts and memorials, Mrs. E. D. Hawley; book and library cart, Mrs. Gordon L. Freedman; sewing, Mrs. David Fowler; holiday, Miss Frances Milner; legislative, Mrs. Jack Grubaugh; telephone, Mrs. Darrell Dinwiddie; Ways and Means, Mrs. Chester Belfy; summer flowers, Mrs. H. E. Paddock; nursing scholarship, Mrs. Shanahan, chairman, Mrs. Max Hosmer and Mrs. Louis Hooper.

Summer fund-raising projects were discussed and tentatively scheduled for the following notes: bake sales, July 2 and Sept. 4; annual fashion show and luncheon, July 14 and novelty booth, Venetian weekend. Funds derived from these sources are used to purchase equipment for the Charlevoix hospital.

A goal of $1,500.00 was set for the summer. The funds are to be used for the possible purchase of 50 thermo water pitchers and two dual control hi-lo beds.

Mrs. Saltonstall opened the annual meeting and called on officers and committee chairmen for reports.

Mrs. S. E. Coleman, retiring treasurer, reported that during the past year receipts had totaled $4,005.84 and disbursements $1,883.03 plus $1,725.52 spent on purchases for the hospital. Cash on hand at the close of the fiscal year totals $618.47 all of which will be used to pay for new dishes for the hospital now on order. There is $311.31 in the nursing scholarship fund which is supported by the sale of candy.

Mrs. C. M. Bice, chairman of the scholarship committee, reported that seven applications for the scholarship had been received. Sharon Pebbles of Ellsworth was awarded the 1958 scholarship.

Miss Frances Milner, chairman of the book and cart committee, reported that sales this year surpassed the 1957-58 sales and that a metal cupboard for storage had been given the committee, making it possible to increase the amount of stock on the cart.

Mrs. Schultz of the sewing committee reported that 6¾ dozen towels were hemmed and 17 layettes made with six being given to indigent mothers. A total of 77 puppets which are given to children entering the hospital were made during the year. The sewing project cost $123.17.

Mrs. L. E. Grate of the hospitality committee said that her committee had served refreshments during the open house last August and at other special events including the annual meeting.

Mrs. Brown of the purchasing committee said that a delivery room light, smocks and emblems for Guild workers in the hospital and geraniums for the planters had been purchased during the year.

Mrs. Schultz said that there were 102 active members, 134 inactive and seven life members.

Mrs. Hawley reported that $218.50 had been received in gifts and memorials during the year.

Mrs. James Hiller submitted a report stating that candy sales had been brisk and profit for the year was $173.30 and since 1956 had totaled $727.16. These funds support the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Ralph S. Hamilton, chairman of the holiday committee, submitted a report that favors had been made for trays in observance of all major holidays and trees decorated at Christmas time.

Frances Martin of the Ways and Means committee reported on the bake sales and the fashion show and luncheon as well as the Guild booth over the Venetian night weekend, all major fund-raising projects.

Mrs. Saltonstall, the retiring president, thanked the members of the Guild for the fine support given her during her term of office. Miss Ann Baumgartner thanked the Guild members for the many services rendered the hospital during the year.

Dick Shores Is Named by National Honor Society

Dick Shores, a junior at Port Washington (Wis.) high school was named to the national honor society recently.

Character, leadership and service in addition to scholarship determine the selections. Dick was active in the freshman science club, is a member of the senior band, a regular on the varsity football, basketbabll and track teams for two years and has served as vice president of his class of 190 members this year. He has consistently made the honor roll during his high school years.

He is the son of Hr. and Mrs. Joseph Shores, former local residents, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Shores and Mrs John Knudsen of this city.

Summer Bible School Classes To Start Monday

The annual vacation Bible school sponsored by the Barnard Reformed church will begin Monday for two weeks the Rev. Charles A. Stoppels, pastor of the church, has announced.

The daily Bible school will be held in cooperation with the Barnard Methodist church, the Rev. Stoppels said.

All children whose churches do not have a daily Bible school are invited to attend this one. Transportation to the churches will be offered to those who desire it. They are asked to call Mrs. John Klooster at LI 7-2608 or the Rev. Mr. Stoppels at LI 7-2509.

All children attending the school will meet at the Barnard Reformed church each morning and then go to the classes for their age groups in both the participating churches.

Call Two County Men for Quota

The names of the Charlevoix county draft registrants to be called for induction and for pre-induction physical examinations in June have been announced following a meeting of the draft board Monday night.

Paul A. Johnson of Charlevoix and Charles J. Stutzman of Boyne City have been ordered to report for induction into the armed services June 8 to fill the county's draft quota for the month.

Robert L. Sanford and Alvin John jr. both of Charlevoix, and John A. Lucas of Boyne City have been notified to report for pre-induction physical examinations June 17.

Local Dealer Offers Grass Killer Samples

North Country Farm Market, South Bridge st., is offering free samples of Dowpon grass killer to farmers of this area, according to Marshall F. Richards, proprietor.

"We would like to have all growers in this area pick up a sample and try it out on their own land," he said. "This is the best way we know for them to realize what grass control around the farmstead can mean."

"Dowpon offers the one really effective method of bringing problem grasses under control," Richards said. Cultivation and mowing can hold grasses back although the farmer usually winds up losing a year's production with his fields in fallow trying to bring grasses like quack or Johnson under control, he pointed out. Spraying with Dowpon can control grasses, roots and all, without taking fields out of production.

The sample can be applied with hand spray equipment or a sprinkling can. Specialized spray equipment is not needed.

MOTORISTS PAY for their own highways in Michigan.

They pay slightly under a half-cent a mile in gasoline taxes to the state and slightly under a quarter-cent in Federal taxes. This amounts to 6c per gallon at state level; 3c per gallon at federal. Then add 3% state sales tax.

In addition, there is the weight tax paid by huying annual license plates.

Motorists paid an estimated $138,000,000 in state gasoline taxes last year, a husky sum, according to any standard.

The Associated Petroleum Industries of Michigan, Inc., said the average car traveled 14 miles on each gallon of gas last year. Average consumption was 731 gallons.

• • •

WILLIAM PALMER, association executive secretary, advised motorists that the tax they paid in state gasoline taxes can be deduced from their Federal income tax.

'Motorists may be surprised at how much gasoline taxes they paid last year," he said.

The traditional average of 10,000 miles a year per car shows a $42.86 state gasoline tax and $21.43 in Federal gasoline tax payments. The Federal tax cannot be deducted.

Palmer warned that the averages are merely guides, and that actual mileage and gasoline consumption should be used in computing the tax.

If a motorist drove 5,000 miles in a year, the averages show he paid $32.14 in total gasoline taxes. This ranges upward to $128.57 if he drove 20,000 miles.

JOINT OPERATION of a television station by education and commercial interests was pioneered March 15 with the first programs of WMSB-TV and WILX-TV.

Michigan State University (WMSB-TV) broadcasts on the channel during afternoon and some evening hours, with the commercial side of the operation taking the rest of the schedule.

VOTERS WILL DECIDE April 6 whether to give the legislature power to keep state and local governments operating in time of war disaster.

Under the plan, any government wiped out by an enemy attack could be immediately replaced by legislative act to function until orderly processes are restored.

The resolution does not cover the odd prospects of a bomb landing on the capitol during a legislative session and wiping out the legislature.

• • •

MOMENTUM IS gathering behind a proposal to reduce the number of state employees, now about 30,000, by refusing to fill vacancies as they occur.

The bill would leave vacant 50 per cent of the vacancies the first year, 25 per cent the second year, until the present payroll is cut 20 per cent.

There are expected to be changes in the proposal to protect smaller agencies in which vacancies would hamper operations.

• • •

POLITICS IS GETTING its annual mid-term workout in Michigan.

Republicans are jubilant at the thought that the state's financial crisis will torpedo any chance Gov. Williams has for his party's 1960 presidential nomination.

Democrats, certain that Williams will leave the state scene after 12 years at the helm, are playing musical chairs for the top spot on the 1960 state ticket.

• • •

AT PRESENT, it seems that Paul D. Bagwell, the Michigan State University professor who gave Williams his best run in six years, is the top Republican candidate.

Democrat are taking a close look at Secretary of State James M. Hare, who led the ticket in 1958, and Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, the personable young man the party feels has a great future. Frank Blackford, another personable young man who has held numerous government positions during the past 10 years, is said to have gubernatorial potential.

• • •

WISEST REMARK YET concerning Michigan's business climate might have heen made last week by Walter Wightman, president of the Michgian Farm Bureau, at the 10th anniversary of Farm Bureau Insurance Companies. Previous speakers had referred somewhat bitterly to Michigan's reputation for having a poor economic atmosphere. Mr Wightman remarked in an offhand manner that he is proud of Michigan and that he loves living here. When it comes to economy, he said, he thought farmers feel the same way about the state as they do their farms. It is nice to be here — but it's nicer still to know they can afford to own it.

Rosquists To Sail Aboard Stockholm

Mr and Mrs. John Rosquist, who have operated the Longview orchord near Barnard for the past 17 years, are scheduled to sail Saturday from New York aboard the liner, Stockholm, for Sweden.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rosquist are natives of Sweden. They plan to spend the summer there with the former's brother and the latter's two hrothers and one sister.

They are scheduled to return home Sept. 23 aboard the liner Kungsholm.

Mr. Rosquist came to this country in 1910. As a chauffer for L. B. Block, he came to Charlevoix during the summer for 13 years before returning to purchase the Longview orchard in 1942.

Mrs. Rosquist came to the United States in 1915 on the liner, Frederick VIII and was enroute here from Sweden at the time the Luisitania was torpedoed by the German Navy during World War I.

Before sailing for Sweden the couple spent several weeks with relatives and friends in Chicago, where they formerly made their home, and Milwaukee.

The Longview orchard has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. David Rosenthall who have arrived here from Wisconsin to operate it.

- Gordon Mummert, a student at the Illinois College of Optometry is Chicago is expected to arrive Thursday to spend the summer with his mother, Mrs. Ray Shearer and Mr. Shearer.
- Mr. and Mrs. Paul. Kullander have returned here from Bonita Springs, Fla., for the summer months.

Sundew Reports

The buoy setting of 1959 came to a close this week. All the aids to navigation assigned to the Sundew were in place and working. It has been a busy five weeks but we got through safely. No injuries were incurred while performing some of the most hazardous work afloat.

We had intended getting underway around noon Monday but a forecast of high winds, which would have made mooring at Lansing Shoals light difficult, delayed our departure until 1 a.m. Tuesday. We took all the equipment and men necessary to convert the heating plant at the light from coal to fuel oil.

After unloading at Lansing Shoal in the early light of Tuesday we headed for Les Cheaneux islands. We moored at Port Dolomite after noon and immediately began setting the small buoys in that area. Because of the shallow water in the channels between the islands the Sundew cannot set most of the buoys. Our small boats and one from the Soo base go out as a team, one marking where the buoys go and the other following to place the buoys in the assigned spots. The small boats were out from sunrise until Sunset on Wednesday. On Thursday afternoon we finished the job. We refueled the Mackinac Island lifeboat station staying overnight. After getting underway early Friday, we set several small buoys enroute to Charlevoix where we arrived at 2 a.m.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

Many of the men were able to depart on a long weekend of liberty over the holiday . . . We said 'so long' to Louis Deldin BM3 who will don his civvies after four years in the Coast Guard. A hard working likable guy, he will be missed . . . Some of the crew were thrilled by the fast ride in the speed boat while in the Snows.

The moon's gravity is less than that of the earth, thus a visitor to the moon would weigh only one-sixth as much as he does normal. vates his body's center of grafeet. On the moon he could leap 21 feet with similar effort, the National Geographic Magazine says.

The precise length of the Mississippi River is not known because it is ever changing, the National Geographic Magazine says. Though the Army Corps of Engineers has done much to temper the river's whims, a 30-mile loop may still form as the result of a sand bar. At present Army Engineers estimate the Mississippi's length as about 2,350 miles.

PUBLIC
CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT

Since its introduction in 1939, the Conservation Department's public fishing site program has grown by leaps and bounds in an attempt to keep pace with the swelling public use of Michigan's lakes and streams.

To date, 727 sites have been acquired covering about 49,000 acres with a total water frontage of more than 200 miles. Nearly $2,750,000 has been spent for acquisition, development and maintenance of these sites during the past 18 years.

Streamlined automobiles and super-highways have revolutionized the recreational scene. Able to reach their favorite vacationing spots within a few hours, people have acquired a good share of shoreline on most lakes and streams.

This trend has created a problem for those with no reparian rights and, consequently, the Department's program has been magnified, both in importance and problems.

Vacationers overflowing from filled state parks and recreation areas, fishermen and other water sports enthusiasts have caused the Department to attempt a regulated, compatible use arrangement at five sites this year.

Under the experiment, camp areas will be established on sites at Carp and Pickerel lakes, Emmet county; Wiggins lake, Gladwin county; Little Manistee river, Lake County; and Sages lake, Ogemaw county. If successful, additional camp areas may be designated at other overcrowded sites.

In stressing the need for camping control, fish division chief F. A. Westerman stated, "over the last few years camping has become so popular on some sites—principally on weekends—that it has presented a real problem of sanitation and nuisance complaints from neighbors, as well as to limit parking facilities for fishermen."

Camping is permitted on approximately 475 sites, most of which are in the northern part of the state.

A salient feature of the overall program is its reduction of trespass problems over private lands. Extensive studies are made to obtain land which will not cause undue inconvenience to other property owners.

Three Sentenced In Circuit Court

Three men were sentenced and a fourth arraigned before Judge Charles L. Brown during the regular May term of circuit court here Friday.

Purl Simmons, 24, of Boyne City, a parolee, was sentenced to four to 15 years in Southern Michigan prison on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime the Corn Crib restaurant in Boyne City May 1. Judge Brown recommended that he learn a trade and have corrective surgery for a cleft palate while in prison.

Charles F. Schroeder, 17, of Boyne City, was placed on four years probation with the first year to be spent at Camp Pugsley. He had pleaded guilty earlier to breaking and entering in the nighttime the Boyne City high school and doing extensive damage. Two other Boyne City youths, Martin Massen, 19, and James C. F Watson, 21, were sentenced to three to 15 years and 28 months to 15 years respectively for their roles in the break-in.

Raymond Crandall, 19, who had pleaded guilty earlier to breaking and entering in the nighttime a Walloon Lake cottage was placed on two years probation and ordered to pay $100 costs and $25.00 fine.

Robert Waffle, 23, pleaded guilty to a charge of assual with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder when arraigned Friday. He was returned to the county jail after failing to furnish a bond of $500 bond which was continued by Judge Brown.

We're Proud of Michigan

MICHIGAN

Michigan is known as the Water Wonderland State. Here are a few things about Michigan made out of the eight letters in its name.

M is the Many tourists which vacation in Michigan during the winter and summer months. Our hometown of Charlevoix is a well known resort site. There are over 9 million year-around tourists in Michigan.

I is for the Inland lakes that are scattered all over Michigan. Besides the inland lakes there are the big lakes that surround Michigan. They are Lake Michigan, Lake Huron, Lake Erie and Lake Superior by the U.P. It is because of these lakes that Michigan is known as the Water Wonderland.

C is for the Car industry which is Michigan's most important industry. The cities in which they are manufactured are Flint, Dearborn, Pontiac and Lansing. The cars which are manufactured are Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Ford, Chevy, Buick, Plymouth, Dodge, Chrysler, Lincoln and so on.

H is for the many Highways which take you to many different beautiful spots in Michigan. In Michigan 'Highways are happy ways.'

I is for the Industries in Michigan which are important but not as important as the automotive industry. They are steel work, iron foundries and rolling mills and so on.

G is for the Great Mackinac Bridge which connects the upper and lower peninsulas together. They connect at Mackinac City and St. Ignace.

A is for All the wildlife which roams around Michigan. Some of the many wildlife animals are black bear, moose, deer, lynx, wolf, coyote, porcupine and wild game.

N is for the Natural resources which are salt, iron ore, limestone, clay, sand, gravel and many more.

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Varieties of Knowing

While laying stone steps along the brook one June evening, to our astonishment we discovered two yellow lady slippers. These lovely orchids almost gave us a start — the sort of mixed feeling of surprise and wonder one has when caught off guard by a mink or a fox which silently watches a human intruder from a covert of brush. For some reason one suddenly turns, and there the animal stands, wide-eyed and still, then bounds lightly away. So with these bright wood-orchids. For how long they had stood, one on either side the brook, I do not know. Were they there four days ago when we last visited the stream? Golden crowned and wrapped in leafy regal robes of green, could these beauteous members of woodland royalty have been overlooked?

Do plants, with some remote and primitive consciousness, below the level of gnat or omoeba, "know" when other creatures are near them? Some are heliotropic and always turn their heads toward the sun Some have a sense of touch, and quickly close upon and trap insects that venture into their blossoms. Then could plants, like lady slippers, in ever so dim and obscure a way feel and "know" about the near-passing of such a high-temperatured creature as a human being? Would the difference be felt — the margin of warmth between the cool breezes of the streamside and the 98.6 degree Fahrenheit body-heat of a man and a woman and a girl? Could those yellow lady slippers like a deer or a rabbit, have sensed our presence without our knowing of theirs?

Ordinarily we speak of knowing and not knowing as two simple absolutes, one indicating acquaintanceship with fact and the other ignorance. "Either you know it or you don't" says the teacher, catching a pupil trying to guess an answer to a question. But knowledge is not so simple a thing. It is various in kind and breadth and depth.

In recent years scientists have given much attention to the plant world and, have proven that plants are far more alive than was once reported. Their responses to stimuli have some dim kinship to what we know as consciousness. Plants react to stimuli as if they possessed some deep awareness of what is going on about them. Is this awareness a kind of "knowing?" Perhaps. But if it is, such knowledge has only a remote relationship to human perception of fact, event and method. Simple awareness, sufficient for response, begins at primitive levels, and if it is a kind of knowing it must be the rawest, most unrefined sort.

Knowledge as acquired learning of fact or skill is of a higher type and is the kind we are celebrating now at commencement time. It is important to the effective handling of life. If a person is to be a good member of his community and generation he must seek information about his town and his world, about the well-being of those about him and the shape of things in these times. He must know all he can about himself, his body and mind, his capacities and skills, his job, his family, his school and church and government. Knowledge of fact will always be incomplete and for that reason one's education ought never to end.

Knowledge of fact is not necessarily good or bad, excepting as the one who has it is good or bad. We now face the possibility that our new knowledge of nuclear power can mean the end of civilization if men with unworthy ambition mismanage it. But we also possess the hope that our new knowledge can be an unequaled material blessing if men of goodwill are good stewards of it. Factual knowledge can transform the world into a cauldron of terror or a place of plenty depending upon our use of it.

But knowing mere facts is insufficient. Knowing "how" as well as "what" is an essential kind of knowledge. A person who owns a good and rare violin possesses nothing but a museum piece of wood and gut unless he knows how to play it. It is reported that a certain manufacturer spent a small fortune attempting to repair a heavy-duty electric motor that suffered from frequent breakdowns. At last a renown expert was called in. He looked the motor over carefully, made two taps with a hammer and the motor started running smoothly and without a flaw. Some days later the manufacturer received a bill for $50.00. Indignantly he sent the repairman a notice that the bill was too high and demanded an itemized accounting of the work done. By return mail the itemized account arrived and read as follows:

For tapping with hammer	$ 1.00
For knowing where to tap	49.00
Total	$50.00

Knowing what you want is not enough, whether it is a smoothly running motor, or a smoothly running career, an improved game of golf or chess, or better marks in high school or college, or a happy marriage. You must know, too, how and where to tap. Knowing life's worthwhile goals is a good thing, but of too little consequence unless we know how to reach them.

Knowing "why" is a basic kind of knowledge, generally known as "understanding." One of the real problems of our time is that we have more learning than understanding, more facts than appreciation. Our systems of communication have been greatly expanded until we can now know what is happening in the furthermost parts of the globe within seconds after the events transpire. We know what people are doing, but our understanding has not caught up so that we can appreciate why they are doing it. Understanding is penetrating, valuable knowledge. In geometry understanding means more than reciting a theorem. It is the ability to show how earlier propositions lead to this particular proposition. In history it is the capacity to go beyond the memorization of important dates in the Civil War, such as when particular battles were fought and particular campaigns were won. Understanding is the intellectual power to trace the conditions that developed into the Civil War and the occurrences that made the loss of certain battles and the winning of others inevitable. Understanding is seeing things in terms of their connections with other things, to know why they hang together, why they came about and what their consequences will be. To understand people means not only knowing "how" they act, but "why" they act as they do. When Mrs. Albert Einstein was asked if she understood her husband's theory of relativity, she smiles and replied, "No, I don't understand it. But what is more important to me, I understand Dr. Einstein."

Wisdom goes beyond knowing "how" and knowing "why." Wisdom is a knowledge of values. It sees possessions, such as money, as means and not ends. It draws a line between momentary pleasure and lasting joy, between tolerance and indifference, between being great and being famous, between passion and love, between service and show, between what is easy and what is right. Wisdom is intellectual and spiritual good taste when confronted by a choice, so that amidst the plenteous offerings the world makes to us of kinds of work and play, of amusement and study, of eat and drink, of mates and arts, and all the rest, we choose what will be most lastingly and most profoundly satisfying.

One of the chief problems of our times is not world-wide ignorance but a wide-spread inaction concerning our best knowledge. We are much like the farmer of southeast Arkansas who was approached by a book salesman about purchasing a set of books on scientific agriculture. The old gentleman thumbed his way through the volumes and then announced, "Nope, I don't want to buy them books!"

"But, Sir," answered the salesman, "If you had these books you could farm twice as good as you do now."

"Heck, son," replied the farmer, "I don't farm half as good as I know how, now."

Is our problem that we need more knowledge or more practice?

Camp Sea-Gull Will Be Site For Girl Scouts

Camp Sea-Gull located on the north side of Lake Charlevoix will again be the site of the Girl Scout Troop Camp sponsored by the Charlevoix Girl Scout Council.

Approximately 79 Girl Scouts will attend camp this year. They will arrive at camp between 3:30 and 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Camp will close at 1 p.m. Friday. Leaders and camp personnel will open the camp Saturday afternoon.

Janet Krulik will be the waterfront director this season.

The five-day camp will be operated under the direction of a resident camp council composed of Mrs. Robert O. Bergmann, council president, Miss Krulik, waterfront director, Mrs. Lester Smith, program chairman and Mrs. Robert O. Pearl, camping chairman.

Mrs. Smith will also serve as storekeeper; Mrs. Lloyd Arnold will teach leather craft; Mrs. Ray Wood, Suji wire craft; Mrs. Leonard Burns, lanyards and Miss Krulik, waterfront activities. Mrs. George Bergmann will be camp cook.

Other leaders who will assist are Mrs. Clifford G. Riley, Mrs. Danford Gallagher, Mrs. Pearl, Mrs. Lyla Arvilla and Mrs. Jack Rader.

Mothers of Scouts will assist with the preparation of meals and in the kitchen during the week.

Plan Two Field Demonstrations on Conditioning Hay

A total of two hay conditioning field days will be held in this area next month, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

The first field day for this area will be held on Tuesday, June 9, at the Jack Peebles farm in Antrim county. Mr. Peebles farm is located five miles west of Ellsworth. The second field day for this area will be held on Tuesday, June 16, at the Mr. Weiderman farm in Emmet County. Mr. Weiderman is located at the corner of Resort Pike and Morford Road feur miles north of Petoskey. Starting time for either of the field days is 1:30 p.m.

According to Rebman, visitors will have a chance to see comparisons of conditioned and unconditioned hay.

The day before the field day, two swaths will be mowed; one will be conditioned. The morning of the field day two additional swaths will be mowed and again one will be conditioned.

Visitors will also have a chance to see from 10 to 15 different makes of hay conditioning equipment in operation.

Rebman says many farmers are interested in hay conditioning. Conditioning hay will normally reduce field curing time by 40 to 50 per cent.

Getting hay in the barn faster helps have the nutrients in the forage.

SUNDEW REPORTS

Monday morning an early start found us in Grand Traverse Bay where we set four lighted buoys. We got back into Charlevoix by evening. Tuesday was spent in loading some small buoys on deck. However, we finished in time to meet the lifeboat station in a game of baseball. We got beat so we won't mention the score.

The ship left Charlevoix at midnight Tuesday. We were supposed to go to Les Cheneaux area but had a change in plans which calls for us to continue to the Soo via St Mary's river. The weather was warm and clear Wednesday but after unloading and taking on another load at the Soo a heavy fog prevented us from getting underway Thursday. The river and locks were closed to traffic as visibility fell to less than 100 yards.

We got underway during the morning but the trip down river took twice as long as usual and it was nightfall before we reached the area of Presque Isle where we dropped anchor.

Underway early Friday morning, we set two buoys before breakfast before heading for Martin's reef light. Also set three can buoys near Round island. Our last buoys of the day were set at Ile Aux Galets. Because the fog horn there has been discontinued, two radar-reflecting bell buoys have been set there.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

A farewell to Sam Malott Sn who is now attending cook's school in Groton, Conn. Greetings to three new men. Dandido Chainus who comes to us from the cutter Storis in Alaska. His family is in the Philippines. He enlisted in 1956 along with Benny (Beunventura Dela Cruz) our other officer's steward at Sagley Point in the Philippine Islands. It's a small world . . . Richard Le Lievre SA who comes to us from boot training at Cape May, N. J The day he reported aboard we were in his hometown of Sault Ste Marie . . . and Robert Gideon who came with LeLievre. His home is in Virginia but his wife is currently living near Washington, D. C. A good time was had by everyone at the farewell party given for John Kinnunen, executive officer at the Group office who is retiring. We all wish him good luck.

Peanut League To Enlist Players 8 to 12 Years Old

A new plan to supply personnel for Peanut league softball teams was adopted at a recent meeting of league officials.

All boys in the eight through 12 age group will be asked to register for the teams. Try-outs will then be held with each youngster playing with his own age-group. A player auction will follow the try-uuts. The date and place for registrations will be announced later.

Managers for the coming year will be Del Terrill, Lloyd Cummings, John Boss, Dean Davenport sr. and Art Mort. At the present time there is a need for one more manager. Anyone interested may call Dean Davenport, softball director.

Players on the Barnard Braves and Terrill's Pirates are not eligible for the auction and are automatically on their respective squads.

Youngsters who will not be 13 years old until July 1 or later are eligible to play in the Peanut league.

We're Proud of Michigan

The elementary and junior high classes in the Charlevoix public schools participated last week in Education Day of Michigan Week by writing essays and poems on the subject: It's Great to Live In Michigan. The Charlevoix Courier, during the next three weeks, will print those which were selected as best by a committee of judges composed of Mrs. Jeanette Novotny, third grade teacher; Larrie Tuomela, sixth grade and Leonard Burns, seventh grade teachers. The latter also was general of the Education Day program in the schools.

MICHIGAN

Michigan is a wonderful peninsula. It is nearly surrounded by beautiful blue lakes. The sunset over Lake Michigan makes funny patterns on the water. The forest is very lovely with its trees and wildlife. We have nice sandy beaches and the longest shoreline except for Alaska.

We have the longest suspension bridge in the whole world.

Michigan is famous for boating, fishing and swimming in the summer. In the winter it is famous for its skiing resorts.

It's not just the beauty and sports, it's the people who live in Michigan that make it a wonderful state. We all work together and we have fun.

THE REASON I LIKE TO LIVE IN MICHIGAN

I like to live in Michigan because it has a lot of good sunshine and fresh air. If a person wants to he can live on a farm and grow fresh vegetables like potatoes, corn, beans, tomatoes, radishes, lettuce, carrots and cucumbers. I could live on a farm and raise cattle and pigs and then I could have fresh milk which would make me grow and a lot of different cuts which come from pigs and cattle.

I could have my friends over so we can play ball and a lot of other games. In the summer time the grass is so green and the lakes so pretty and clean so we can go swimming. When we go on a picnic there are lots of clean tables you can eat on. Also the grounds around the tables are clean. In the winter we can go ski sliding. I get on a cardboard and ride down a hill which is a lot of fun. There are a lot of things to do in Michigan.

Telltale Radioactivity Reveals Baffling Secrets of Life

With the aid of atomic tools, men at last are solving tantalizinging riddles of time.

How old is the earth? . . . When did the last glaciers retreat? . . . What is the earliest known agricultural village? . . . How long was America inhabited before Columbus came?

Dr. Lyman J. Briggs, Director Emeritus of the National Bureau of Standards and a Trustee of the National Geographic Society, discusses answers to these and other questions in his article, "How Old Is It?" in the August 1958 National Geographic Magazine.

In collaboration with staff member Kenneth F. Weaver, Dr. Briggs explains how the radioactivity of living things provides the key to locked-in secrets of age.

As timepieces, scientists use electronic instruments that measure the amount of disintegration, or radioactive discharge, of atoms in certain substances.

Radiocarbon, discovered in nature only in the 1930's, is the most spectacular of the radioactive materials used in such dating processes. Since it has an atomic weight of 14 instead of carbon's normal 12, it is often called carbon-14, the name also applied to the dating method.

All living organisms contain the same proportion of carbon-14. After death, organic materials lose it at the same rate.

Half of a substance's carbon-14 disappears in 5,568 years, a "half life." Half of what is left disintegrates in the next 5,568 years, leaving one fourth of the original, and so on until all the carbon is gone.

To determine the age of an ancient object, scientists compare the amount of radioactivity left against a calibrated scale based on the radioactivity of modern carbon. The difference indicates the time that has elapsed since the tested material was part of a living organism.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, the nuclear chemist who is now a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, was the first investigator to find natural radiocarbon, and to work out a method for telling time by it.

He deduced its existence by a remarkable example of scientific sleuthing. Assuming that carbon-14 originated as a result of cosmic-ray bombardment, he reasoned that it later joined with oxygen to form carbon dioxide diffused throughout the atmosphere. Plants, he knew, absorb carbon dioxide. They in turn are eaten by animals and human beings, which thus acquire radiocarbon in their tissues.

Dr. Libby discovered the rare carbon he sought in methane sewer gas, a product of decomposing organic matter. He was then ready to test his next theory — that carbon-14 disintegration could be amplified and measured with an ultrasensitive Geiger counter.

To check on the accuracy of his dating method, Dr. Libby obtained samples of ancient materials of known age from distinguished museums and archeologists. These samples, such as wood, bone, peat, and grain, he burned in his laboratory to produce carbon for the tests.

The first experiment, using wood from the tomb of an early Egyptian ruler, was disappointing. But a piece of plank from a 3,800-year-old Egyptian funeral barque brought better results. Dr. Libby's figure of 3,621 years for this was impressive.

From then on, carbon-14 dating became increasingly useful. With more sensitive measuring instruments and improved techniques for eliminating contamination, it is now possible to check the radioactivity of as little as 1/100th of an ounce of charcoal that once glowed on some pre-historic hearth.

Carbon dating has cleared up many puzzles. The last Ice Age, it shows, ended about 10,000 years ago, only half as far back as scientists had thought.

Knowledge concerning early man's crucial shift from hunting to farming has been pushed back to 7,000 B. C. — the date given charcoal excavated at Jarmo, Iraq, the oldest known agricultural village.

In America, meanwhile, says radiocarbon, men were living in Alabama's Russell Cave. And still earlier, by some 3,000 years, aboriginal hunters in the Southwest were chasing mammoths and other prehistoric beasts — a spectacular contradiction to the long held notion that Indians had inhabited the New World only a few centuries before Columbus arrived.

Carbon-14 has its practical limitations, however. Even with the most concentrated samples and delicate instruments scientists set its limit at about 70,000 years. Fortunately, to date organisms from a more distant time, there are other radioactive yardsticks, including uranium, rubidium and potassium.

Figures for the world's age have expanded steadily since a 17th- century Anglican archbishop proclaimed that creation occurred in 4004 B. C. The latest calculations, based on the decay of radioactive materials in the rocks, put the age of the solar system and that of he earth at about 4.5 billion years.

Funeral Rites Held For Mrs. T. Schwarz

Mrs. Theodore Schwarz, 74, resident of this community since 1945, died Friday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient for 15 days.

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's church Monday with the Rev. E. Francis Denay officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery. The Rosary was recited at the Winchester Funeral home Sunday evening.

Born in Germany Jan. 13, 1885, the former Angelica Behnendt came to Chicago as a young woman. In 1913 she was married to Mr. Schwarz in Chicago. They spent many summers in Charlevoix before coming here in 1945 to make their home at 208 W. Lincoln ave. Mr. Schwarz preceded her in death in 1950. She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ambrose Plamondon of Chicago Heights, Ill., and a sister, Mrs. John Hoppe of St. Louis, Mo.

District Clerks And Supervisors Meet Here Today

The 42nd quarterly meeting of the Second District Association of Michigan Supervisors and County Clerks will be held at the Charlevoix county building today (Thursday).

The one-day conference will open at 10 a.m. with Lennie Haller of Rapid City, association president, presiding.

Speakers at the meeting will include Gregory A. Shadko of the Michigan Department of Conservation who will speak on the work of the Public Fishing Site Division; Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent who will speak on Forest Products and representatives from the State Supervisors Association who are not known at this time.

A business meeting and election of officers at 2 p.m. will conclude the meeting.

Supervisors and county clerks from Antrim, Emmet, Benzie, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Grand Traverse and Crawford counties will attend the meeting.

Commencement Speaker Credits Common Men for U. S. Progress

"It was the uncommon men of vision who founded our country and the uncommon men of courage who fought to keep alive our concepts of freedom. Though that was long ago, the uncommon man, in all fields of endeavor, is still being sought" Dr. Victor F. Spathelf told the graduating class of the Charlevoix high school at the seventy-first annual commencement held Wednesday night at the high school auditorium.

Dr. Spatheif urged the graduates to strive to be uncommon citizens for in many cases commoness tends to breed mediocracy.

Employers are seeking people of uncommon character, dependability, skill, and imagination as well as excellence and if this nation is to remain great it needs uncommon people with uncommon vision and education, he said. He concluded his inspiring talk by urging the students not to be booby-trapped into commoness.

H. E. Bingham, high school principal, then presented the 61 members of the class to Robert G. Lieberman of the Charlevoix board of education who presented the diplomas.

Jill Davis and Stephen W. Wells were named to receive the third annual Robert S. Wilson awards which carry with them silver loving bowls on which the names of the recipients will be inscribed and checks for $50 each. The recipients are selected by classmates and teachers.

Ronald Koteskey was named to receive the third annual Charlevoix Kiwanis club Science and Mathematics award which was presented by A. L. Livingston, president of the club. This year the award also carried with it a check for $25.00.

Mr. Bingham then announced that Carolyn Kohn and John Bingham had been awarded University of Michigan Regents-Alumni scholarship; Stephen Wells the Michigan College of Mining and Technology high school scholarship and Jill Davis the Michigan State University board of education scholarship.

Ronald L. Koteskey presented the salutatory and Carolyn A. Kohn the valedictory. Supt. R. G. Bennett introduced Dr. Spathelf.

Special music was by the Charlevoix high schol band, the Girls' Glee Club and the Mixed Chorus, all directed by C. A. Odmark who also led the seniors in singing the Alma Mater. Mrs. Leonard Burns was the accompanist for the vocal groups.

Riders Injured in Motorcycle Upset

Richard Schoals, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schoals, is being treated at the Charlevoix hospital for a back injury sustained in a motor cycle accident south of Mancelona Friday night.

Accompanied by Frank Novotny jr., 45, Schoals was enroute to Grand Rapids when their motorcycle struck a stone on the highway and went out of control, Novotny received facial lacerations and bruises.

Selective Service Issues July Call

Three Charlevoix county draft registrants will be called for induction into the armed services in July according to Mrs. Mary Bourgoin, clerk of the local draft board.

On Monday, June 8, Paul A. Johnson, of Charlevoix and Charles J. Stutzman of Boyne City will depart for Detroit where they will be inducted into the armed forces.

On the following Monday, June 17, Alvin John jr. and Robert L. Sanford of Charlevoix and John A. Lucas of Boyne City will report for pre-induction physical examinations.

Venetian Queen To Be Named at Festival Ball

Plans for the selection of a Venetian night queen have been announced following a meeting of the Charlevoix JayCees who will handle the arrangements this year.

It was decided that the Venetian queen should not be named until the time of her coronation which is tentatively scheduled at a coronation ball to be held at the Beach Hotel during the Venetian Festival.

However, all candidates for the honor must have their names submitted to Fritz Puffpaff, chairman of the event, no later than July 1. This will be necessary because plans are underway to have a float on which all the candidates will ride in the Cherry Festival parade.

At the business meeting the group decided to have booths for popcorn, pop and boat tickets during the Venetian Festival.

A report on the sale of tickets for the boat being given away by the club was made by Bill Carey. Plans were also made to sell tickets on the boat on Wednesday and Friday nights.

The Charlevoix Marine club will meet at the new clubhouse on the waterfront at 303 Belvedere ave. at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday) according to Phil Lawrence, commodore of the group.

A brief program by G. A. Patrie and Mr. Lawrence will follow the business meeting. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Members are asked to leave their cars on Belvedere.

Hal Hill Gives Resignation to City Council

The resignation of Hal M. Hill, city superintendent here since Dec. 15, 1955, was accepted with regret at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night.

The resignation is to become effective Sept. 1.

Mr. Hill told the council that he was leaving his present position to accept one in industry. He will continue to make his home in Charlevoix.

Mr. Hill came here in 1955 from Boyne City where he had been with the Northern Michigan Electrical Cooperative. Prior to that time he had been employed by the city utility department here for 2½ years between 1949 and 1952.

In other action at the council Monday, the Park Stage committee was given permission to begin construction of footings and the stage according to plans for the structure in East Park.

The Lake Construction Co. bid in the amount of $345.50 for repairs of concrete steps at the water pumping station and the Chamber of Comerce building was accepted.

The group voted to renew the lease with Mrs. John Zeitler for the operation of the Lake Michigan bathhouse for $25.00. The bath house is to be operated under the same conditions as in the past.

The Chamber of Comerce was given permission to use the parking lot adjacent to the Model Home laundry during the Venetian festival.

Approval was given to a resolution to vacate the alleys in the block bordered by Prospect and Dixon aves., Burns st. and Petoskey ave. In giving its approval to the resolution, the city reserved an easement therein to maintain and service existing utility lines.

Bids for a police patrol cruiser according to specifications on file in the office of the city superintendent will be received at the ofice of the city clerk until 8 p.m. EST June 22.

Cletus Courchaine of the Michigan State Department of Health appeared before the council to discuss the operation of the local sewage treatment plant.

Bills amounting to $24,437.64 were approved and ordered paid. The amount included a payment of $4,695.70 for harbor improvements.

Naval Training Ship to Welcome Visitors Aboard

The U. S. S. Portage (PCE 902) will visit the Charlevoix harbor this weekend while on a U. S. Naval Reserve training cruise.

The ship, in command of Lt. James R. Wright, is expected to dock here at 4 p.m. Friday. The ship will be open for visiting from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Approximately 80 Naval Reservists in addition to the ship's crew will be aboard the Portage when it docks here.

Residents of the area are invited to inspect the ship during visiting hours Saturday and Sunday.

Parking Meters to Be Installed Monday

Parking meters will be placed in operation Monday, Hal M. Hill, city superintendent, has warned.

At the same time Dixon ave. from Michigan ave. to Meech st. will become a one-way street with traffic moving from West to East.

Bay City C. of C. Cruise Ship to Arrive Saturday

The S. S. South American will visit the local harbor Saturday while on a Bay City Chamber of Commerce Cruise. The ship will dock here at 9:30 a.m. and depart at 2:30 p.m.

The Grand Rapids Chamber of Comerce will visit Charlevoix aboard the S. S. North American next Wednesday when the ship is scheduled to arrive at 1 p.m. for a visit of several hours.

Visitors will be taken on sightseeing trips and to the golf courses via courtesy cars supplied by the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce. The Charlevoix high school band will welcome each of the cruise ships.

On Tuesday the Greater Lansing Chamber of Commerce, numbering more than 200, visited the city aboard the S. S. South American.

Two Conventions Booked This Week At Beach Hotel

The Charlevoix Beach Hotel will open this week with two conventions which will bring more than 400 visitors to this northern Michigan community, according to E. L. Kramer, owner-manager of the popular resort hotel.

The Michigan State Exchange Clubs will hold its 1959 convention at the hotel Sunday through Tuesday. The convention is expected to attract well over 200 members and guests.

Highlighting this convention will be a visit from the national vice president of the National Exchange club, Clarence McDorman of Birmingham, Ala. who will be the principal speaker at the banquet Monday evening.

LaVerne F. Scanlan of Battle Creek is the state president; E. Roger Hewitt of Lansing, vice-president; Henry W. Baker of Battle Creek, secretary; Francis P. Kirchner of Detroit, treasurer and John Riley of Trenton, chairman of the convention committee.

The Michigan State Circle of the National Circle of the Daughters of Isabella will open its state convention at the hotel Tuesday afternoon. The state president, Mrs. Margaret King of Flint, will preside at the three-day meeting at which Miss Julia McGuire of New York, national president, will be the principal speaker.

St. Mary's church here will host a coffee hour and card party for the visitors Tuesday evening. The Polly Kay shop will present a fashion show at the hotel Wednesday afternoon.

The banquet Thursday evening will attract the Right Rev. Allen J. Babcock, Bishop of the Grand Rapids Diocese, and other Catholic clergy from throughout the state.

Council OK's Proposed Plan For Park Stage

Plans for the new park stage were approved Monday evening at a regular meeting of the city council and the Park Stage committee of the Chamber of Commerce was granted permission to start construction.

The stage fund was given another boost this week with a $300 sponsoring contribution from American Mold Engineering Co., Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary-treasurer of the Park Stage committee reported Wednesday. A contribution by the Inwood Ladies Aid has been received from Mrs. John Fratrick. Contributions for the Tuesday Study club's sponsoring fund have been received from Mrs. Nell Supp, Mrs. Florine Stelter, Mrs. Cora Coulter and Miss Helen Rose Cline and Mrs. Calla E. Cline of New York.

Now that the committee has city council approval of plans, construction will be started shortly, according to committee chairman Robert Miles. There is nearly $2,000 in the fund now. This, it is believed, will be sufficient to cover enough of the cost to get the first part of the stage built for use this summer, although a definite quotation has not been submitted by possible contractors.

Preliminary estimates of the total cost of the new park stage, complete with lighting and modern controlled amplifying sound equipment, range between $10,000 and $12,000.

Those wishing to add to the fund should send their contribution to Mrs. Kit Carson, Secy.-Treas., Park Stage Committee, Charlevoix, Mich.

Resort Hotel to Install Outdoor Swimming Pool

The construction of the first Esther Williams swimming pool in northern Michigan was started Monday at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel.

The heated pool will be 20 by 40 feet in size and will be bordered by a patio of eight ft. on the east, 10 ft. on the north and south sides and 12 ft. on the west or lake side, according to E. L. Kramer, owner-manager of the hotel.

The pool will be located on property adjacent to the hotel proper off Michigan ave. overlooking Lake Michigan.

The pool will be enclosed with an attractive cyclone-type fence which is required by law.

Bright patio furniture will surround the pool which will be completed later this month.

Elect County School Directors

Mrs. Amandus Evers of Hayes township and Clayton Healey of Eveline township were elected to education at the regular biennial the Charlevoix county board of election held last week in the office of the Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, Charles A. Robinson

Mrs. Evers has been a member of the board continuously since the organization of the county school district in 1949. Mr. Healey was named to succeed G. W. Boswell who had served since 1953.

Watch for Weak Links

What do a town and a chain have in common?

All of us know the truth of that old phrase — "a chain is as strong as its weakest link."

And what is true of a chain, holds true for a community. Some towns seldom seem to get anywhere in attracting industry, while others which appear to have no more to offer in the way of industrial opportunity, location or physical assets, seem to move ahead and prosper.

Close examination usually tells the story of the difference. The town that moves ahead is the one that keeps working to replace its weak links with strong ones.

In order to be attractive to industry, a town must have a friendly and co-operative attitude toward the industry it already possesses. That's a strong link. When it comes to attracting new industry there is nothing like having a record for willingness to lend a helping hand when industry in the town needs it.

A good town for industry is usually the town that has good schools, hospitals and other facilities that mean a good place to live. It is a town where the people work together to keep it a warm and friendly place.

To have a growing, prosperous and live community, all its parts must be strong and cooperative. The factors which make up its appeal to industry must have continual attention by community leaders and others.

The need for each community to correct weaknesses that may prevent it from prospering is the theme of an advertisement "A Chain Is As Strong As" which appears on this page of the Charlevoix Courier. It is another in a series of industrial development advertisements sponsored by the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department, which appear in this newspaper and more than 300 other Michigan newspapers as a public service.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

TOO LATE for last week's paper was a story given us by our postmaster, Peter Timmer. It's one of those things that's a 'once in a lifetime' as far as we're concerned. You will remember that a Capitol Airline plane crashed at Charleston, W. Va., last month. Like most planes, it was carrying mail. The bags were retreived from the crash and taken to the home of the post office department in Washington, D.C. Among the letters in one of the bags was one mailed here May 11. The post mark, being printed, was legible but the address was not. The local postoffice has been notified of this and an effort is being made to locate the sender so the letter can be forwarded. When opened, in an effort to trace the sender or the addressee, the letter was found to contain a sum of money enclosed in a birthday card signed 'Grandmother and Grandfather.' If you know who sent such a birthday card on May 11, won't you call Mr. Timmer at the postoffice and give him the necessary info so the letter, now being held in Washington, can be forwarded to the proper person. It's a shame to do someone out of a birthday remembrance.

WASN'T COMMENCEMENT something last week? We enjoyed every bit of it but most of all the graduates. It's always a little sad when you remember that this will probably be the last time you'll see all these kids together. But everyone was so proud of 'em. Especially all those who were awarded special honors. There were a few things that made this commencement something special, as far as we were concerned. The first was the music, especially the mixed chorus which we hope will attract many, many more voices next year. Second, the special mention given our exchange student, Ruby Saunders, and third the presentation of John Bingham by his father, Harry, who has been doing this for 25 years. A proud moment and certainly a memorable one. It's things like this that sets the things that are done in Charlevoix apart.

* * *

AND SPEAKING of Ruby Saunders, as we did a paragraph or so earlier she'll be returning to Ireland next month. You will remember that we did a story on her when she first arrived in Charlevoix. At that time we asked her if she'd do another after she'd finished the school year. This she has done and you'll find it elsewhere in this week's Charlevoix Courier. As she said, she could have written twice as much but she tried to relate the things she thought you would be interested in. We hope you'll read it and see what visitors to our land think of us.

* * *

WE'VE BEEN asked to issue a plea in behalf of the class of 1960. They're looking for pictures, black and whites, that is, taken at commencement last week. According to D. C. Maltby, faculty for the annual, they're interested in pictures of the graduates on the platform and of the band and the glee clubs. If you have any usable negatives, they'd like to borrow them long enough to have pictures made. You can call Ruth Ann Riley or leave them at our house and we'll see that they're used and returned to you. Only black and white negatives can be used so please don't offer your colored film or slides.

* * *

IN THE RECENT issue of Time magazine were we surprised to see the picture of someone many of you know, a grand guy whom we had the privilege of doing a story on a few years ago. We mean Allan Harris of St. Louis who last year won the DaVinci Gold Medal and later took unto himself a lovely wife and then set off to study in Rome, a dream he'd long held. The story was about the non-beatniks who have chosen to study in the Italian city famed for its art treasurers and its beauty. We're sure you'll want to read it for yourself, so take a look on Page 66. We're indebted to Mrs. Ralph Price for calling our attention to it before we received our own copy of the weekly new magazine.

* * *

A NOTE TO the class of '29. Have you sent your reservations in for the reunion planned for Aug. 15? Our gal Friday, Hilda Brady Gibson, tells us that many of them are in so better get with it. It sounds like a wonderful deal. You won't want to miss it.

* * *

RECENTLY our good friend, Archie Wasagheshik, sent us a copy of the old Charlevoix Sentinel dated April 18, 1929. We've gotten quite a boot out of it and thought you might too. Who ever said that first division ratings for Charlevoix bands was something new? Back in 1929 our band, directed by John Ter Wee placed first at Traverse City. Among the band members are plenty of names familiar to everyone, including some who are still with the city band. Among them Ilo Helms, Glenn Heise, Marcus Roen, Ted Miller, Wally Saunders, Bill Brown, Herb Campbell, Floyd King, John Critchlow, Rex McGhan, Charles Novotny, Lawrence Korth, Frank Ross, Charles Bleha, Pat Moran, Carl Beattie, Bob Cummings, Dick O'Neill, Lee Shapton, Bob Atchinson, Virginia Block, Alice Radle, and Lilace Johnson.

* * *

THE COMMUNITY at that time was sponsoring a minstrel show for the benefit of the band for new uniforms. And the sophomore girls played the junior and senior girls for the basketball title. 'Johnny' Ripley scored 23 of the team's 29 points, and with her on the squad were Wilma Wells, Nellie Smith, Hilda Cook, Irene Bogart, Marguerite Sutton and Helen Richardson. Playing for the freshmen were Viola Stafford, Kathleen McCall, Esther Brady, Lila McMillan, Helen Burns, Marion Smith and Margaret Smith. On the sophomore squad were Angie Scott, Doris Struthers, Dorothy Struthers, Hilda Ogden, Mary Simmons, Gwen Miller and Lola Fessenden. And for the juniors were more familiar names: Clara Kelderhouse, Elizabeth Sharrow, Doris Solomon, Frances Marshall, Zola Patterson and Fern Crandall. A good many of these gals are young mothers of today. Wonder what their youngsters would say about the gym bloomers and middies that was the traditional basketball uniform of yesteryear.

A CHAIN IS AS STRONG AS—

How many times have you heard someone say:

"A chain is as strong as its weakest link?"

On the subject of a community's attraction for industry it can be said as fairly that the community is as strong as its weakest link.

A town's pulling power with industry is made up of such links as . . . labor supply and skills . . . public facilities and services . . . schools . . . all-around livability . . . reputation for productivity . . . availability of financing . . . attitude toward new industry . . . treatment of present industry . . . what present industry says about the community . . . what people of the community say about each other.

Let us look for weak links and if we find one let's work together to forge a strong one in its place.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

This ad is one of a series published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

You're Only Looking at the TOP

"Sure Is big!" exclaimed a man with awe as he viewed the ocean for the first time. "Yes," replied his seacoast friend. "And remember, you're only looking at the top!"

It's much the same with prescribed medicine. You see only the surface. Beneath it are the scientific research and production skills of the manufacturer of the drugs . . . the professional knowledge of the physician who prescribes them and the skill of the pharmacist who dispenses them.

Faculty Members Make Plans for Summer Vacation

With the closing of the Charlevoix public schools for the summer, faculty members are going to summer jobs, attending summer school or enjoying vacations.

Supt. R. G. Bennett, accompanied by Mrs. Bennett and their granddaughter, Janice Bennett, who has been visiting here for several weeks, departed Thursday for Phoenix, Ariz., to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs J. W. Bennett and return Janice to her home. They will return home later this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bingham and daughter, Mable, left this week for a visit with relatives in Gohles before returning home for the summer. Mr. Bingham will return to Camp Charlevoix as business manager.

Robert Cook, accompanied by Mrs. Cook and family, have gone to Harbor Springs where he will again be employed at Woodland Builders.

D. C. Maltby has gone to Bellaire to operate his summer resort, Northland resort on Torch Lake.

Mrs. Dorothea Badger will leave later this month on a sightseeing tour of Colorado. She plans to attend several music festivals while there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Odmark and family left Sunday on a 10-day vacation trip to New Jersey and other points of interest in the east. Upon their return Mrs. Odmark will attend the summer session at Michigan State University and Mr. Odmark will begin his summer music program sponsored by the Charlevoix schools.

Mrs. Robert Richards and Mrs. Ernest Paul will leave shortly for St. Louis, Mo., to attend a National Conference of Classroom Teachers. They will then return here for the summer. Mrs. Richards will join Mr. Richards at the Chicago Club resort for the summer.

Planning trips to Yellowstone Park and other points of interest in the west later this month are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bleha and son, John, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Courtade.

Mrs. Bessie Coleman has returned to her home in Kawadin for the summer.

A number of other teachers will go to jobs in town. Ray L. Kipke will return to Belvedere Club; Don Carey will join his father, Leo Carey, in the interior decorating business; S. E. Coleman will assume his duties as harbor master; Miss Florenz Milner will continue as librarian at the Charlevoix public library; Mrs. Frank Novotny will be at Frank's Flowers; Uno Suomela will be at Freedman Artcraft; Terry Rice will join the staff of the Charlevoix Play Camp operated by Del Terrill; Larrie Tuomela will be in charge of the Driver Training program which will be conducted by the schools this summer; Max Novak will be busy with his insurance agency; Glenn Snider and Leonard Burns will be employed in the school maintenance program and Miss Frances Milner will be at the Polly Kay Shop again.

Other members of the faculty who will devote their time to their homes will be Mrs. Snider, Mrs. Gordon Moeller, Mrs. R. G. Martin, Mrs. A. F. Novotny, Miss Arlyle Roberts, Mrs. Robert Goss, Mrs. Harold E. Kohn and Mrs. Ethel Courier.

County Road Commission Buys Equipment

The Charlevoix county road commission approved the purchase of approximately $32,000 worth of new equipment at its regular meeting Monday, according to John J. Martin, superintendent.

In addition bids for fleet, general liability and comprehensive and Workmen's compensation insurance were awarded.

Two model 451 GMC 25,000 lbs. GVW trucks were purchased from Conrad Klooster of Atwood; one Model TL 20D Tractomotive Diesel Four-wheel loader was purchased from the Earle Equipment Co. of Grand Rapids and one International Tractor with back-hoe attachment was bought from F. W. Dilworth & Sons of Boyne City. All purchases were by bids.

Normally, expenditures for equipment runs between $40 and $50,000 annually as worn out and outmoded equipment is replaced. The above purchases represents only equipment that the commission feels is necessary to lower the overall cost of construction and maintenance by replacement. Excessive snow removal costs during the past winter have made it necessary to curtail the normal expenditures for equipment as well as construction.

One 1951 International Model 1-180 truck and one 1946 Model 200 Osgood Crane will be traded in on the above purchases.

The bids of hte Auto Owners Insurance Co. for fleet insurance and general liability and comprehensive insurance were accepted.

Workman's Compensation insurance was purchased by bid from the Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

The insurences all cover a period from July 1, 1959 to July 1, 1960.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON VACATING ALLEY

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN of a meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, to be held at the time and place for the purpose set forth in the following Resolution which was duly adopted by the said Common Council at its meeting held on June 8, 1959:

WHEREAS, a Petition has been filed with the City Clerk signed by the owners of a majority of the property abutting upon the alley hereinafter described, requesting the Common Council to discontinue and vacate the alley or alleys in the block in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, bounded by Prospect Street, Dixon Avenue, Burns Street and Petoskey Avenue, more particularly described as follows:

"The land in the City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix County, Michigan, described as follows: 'Beginning at a point 181 feet North of the Northeast corner of the intersection of Burns Street and Dixon Avenue; thence South along the East line of Burns Street 16 feet; thence East to the West line of Prospect Street; thence North along the West line of Prospect Street 16 feet; thence West 140.5 feet; thence North to the South line of Petoskey Avenue; thence West 16 feet; thence South to a point 181 feet North of the North line of Dixon Avenue (which pıont is 140.5 feet East of the point of beginning); thence West 140.5 feet to the point of beginning; comprising all of the alleys in the block bounded by Petoskey Avenue Prospect Street, Dixon Avenue and Burns Street.' "

AND WHEREAS, said alleys have never been opened, used or improved and are of no use to the property owners in said block or to the City of Charlevoix and only serve to cloud the title of the parcels of land in said block and should he vacated in order to allow the full use and development of said land;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that it deems it expedient and advisable and a public improvement to vacate, discontinue and abolish the aforesaid alleys reserving to the City of Charlevoix an easement therein to maintain service its existing utility lines; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix to be held in the Council Room in the City Hall on Monday, July 6, 1959, at 8:00 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time), be and the same is hereby appointed as the time to hear any and all objections to the vacating, discontinuing and abolishing said alleys and that the Clerk publish notice of said meeting containing a copy of this Resolution for four successive weeks in the Charlevoix Courler commencing with the issue of June 11, 1959.

By Order of the Common Council.

Dated: June 8, 1959

CLIFFORD G. RILEY,

Youth Play Camp To Open Monday

The Charlevoix Play Camp for boys and girls from five through 12 years will open Monday according to Del Terrill who has operated the camp since 1952.

The camp which operates five days each week features a full program of recreation and camping. Application may be obtained by calling Mr. Terrill at LI 7-6520.

Assisting Mr. Terrill this year will be Terry Rice, Charlevoix high schol teacher and coach, Dave Schuchard, high school athlete, Mrs. Terrill, a registered nurse who will have the girls in the 5 to 7 year age group and Marilyn Novak, who is returning for her second sumer as an assistant.

The Charlevoix camp is now a permanently licensed camp under Michigan laws.

Mr. Terrill who operates hte camp is a former local high school coach who is now at Reeths-Puffer high school in North Muskegon where he was recently made athletic director.

- Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trudeau of Royal Oak spent the weekend with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt of Norwood

Trouble "Shooters"

Stretch Taylor, captain of the high school basketball team, thought up a great way to keep the new schoolyard clean.

The teachers were having trouble keeping the kids from leaving their ice cream wrappers, empty milk cartons and paper napkins in the area after lunch and after school . . . in spite of the handy trash cans.

So Stretch got the idea of equipping each can with a small basketball backboard and a sign saying "Shoot a basket." From the way the trash problem disappeared, our school should have a basketball powerhouse next season.

From where I sit, every problem needs just one good solution. For instance, it occurs to me that in getting along with our neighbors, tolerance is the solution. That means that your choice of tea should be honored just the same as my preference for a glass of beer. Makes for a "high scoring" combination in the friendship department.

Evelyn Peters, cornetist with the Charlevoix high school band, has been named to receive the 1959 the Interlochen All-State Band scholarship offered by the Charlevoix Band Parents Association.

The scholarship underwrites the cost of sending the recipient to the National Music Camp at Interlochen from June 29 to July 12. While there she will study privately and participate in the all-state band composed of more than 100 outstanding high school musicians from throughout the state. The all-state group will present two concerts on the Sunday afternoons during the two-weeks session.

The 1958 scholarship winner was Marilou VerWys.

Swansons Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swanson observed their silver wedding anniversary at a family gathering at their home Sunday.

The couple was married here June 7, 1934, and have always lived here. Mrs. Swanson is the former Alma Hartwell.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Charles (Nancy) Burdick of Detroit, Thomas of Saranac, Larry, Kevin and David of Charlevoix. They also have three grandchildren.

Skiing is an ancient mode of travel, the National Geographic Magazine says. Scientists in Norway and Sweden have found skis dating from 4,000 to 5,000 years ago. As early as A.D. 1200, Swedish soldiers were using skis in winter campaigns.

We're Proud of Michigan

Settlers in Michigan had to clear land for farming and to make room for their houses. Settlers destroyed but created too. The thing they destroyed was the trapping of furs; the one they created was lumbering. For thirty years Michigan cut more trees than any other state in the Union. From 1860 until 1890 the great hardwood forests of southern Michigan were ruthlessly chopped down. Even in 1900 the lumber industry was still producing goods worth twice as much as any other industry in the state. Some of the wood was used to make paper especially at Kalamazoo. The remains of Michigan's great forests are to be found in countless tables, chairs, desks and bookcases. About the year 1900 it became clear that these Michigan forests were not limitless. The production of timber dropped rapidly; in ten years it fell off by almost a third. Today it is less than a tenth of what it was in 1890. Only a small fraction of the original forest is left and that is mostly on the northern peninsula, far from the manufacturing centers.

Three Local Students Graduating from Ferris

WILLIAM P. GOLDEN

JANET M. TODD

DONALD HEILIG

Among the graduates of Ferris Institute who will be awarded degrees at Commencement exercises Sunday will be three local residents, William P. Golden, Janet M. Todd and Donald Heilig.

Mr. Golden will be graduated from the school of commerce with a B.S. degree in Commerce with majors in Business Administration and Economics.

A 1954 graduate of the Charlevoix high school, he was editor in chief of the Ferris publication, the Ferris Torch; a member of Sigma Alpha Delta fraternity, presently holding the office of secretary and a member of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." He was among 31 students who were given certificates of recognition at the Ferris Institute Honors banquet June 1. As a freshman student he was a member of the Ferris Institute Varsity track team.

He is the son of Mrs. Ada Y. Golden of this city and Edward K. Golden of Newberry.

Miss Todd will be graduated from the school of pharmacy with a B. S. degree in pharmacy.

A 1955 graduate of the local high school, she is a member of Lambda Kappa Sigma sorority and played oboe in the Ferris concert band for two years.

She has accepted a position in The Prescription Shop at Durand. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Rathburn of this city.

Her marriage to James R. Williams of Flint will be an event of June 27.

Mr. Heilig will be graduated from the school of commerce with a B. S. degree in Marketing. Also a 1955 graduate of the local high school.

He is a member of Sigma Alpha Delta fraternity, copy editor of the Ferris Torch and assistant editor of the publication, Ferriscope.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs Arthur R. Heilig.

Parents of the graduates are planning to attend the commencement exercises in Big Rapids this weekend.

Carolyn Miller Graduating from Wooster College

Carolyn Miller was graduated from Wooster College in Ohio Monday with a B.S. degree with a major in physical education.

Benjamin F. Fairless, director and member of the Executive Committee U. S. Steel Corp., was the speaker at the 89th Commencement of the College of Wooster.

Miss Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Miller, studied at Wooster for two years before transferring to the University of Edinburgh, Edinburgh, Scotland, during her junior year. She spent vacations and the following summer traveling through various European countries including France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Norway, England and Ireland, staying at Youth Hotels in these countries and meeting students from other countries around the world.

She returned in September 1958 to continue her studies for her senior year.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and daughter, Ellen, who returned home last week from her studies at the University of Arizona, attended the commencement exercises. Carolyn will return home with them.

Dean Fiedler Gets Degree in Music at Central Michigan

Dean Fiedler received a degree of Bachelor of Music Education with a major in Instrumental Music from C. M. U. of Mt. Pleasant Sunday. At time of graduation, he held first chair baritone in the concert band.

Dean graduated from Charlevoix high school in 1945. He attended Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, Ill. for two years. Then conducted the band of Central Lake school for two years, was at a Port Huron township school one year, after which he spent two years in the army. He organized and conducted a band in Ellsworth school for six years. He attended Central Michigan University the past year.

Dean is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fiedler. He married Evelyn Evans of Ellsworth, who is known locally. She is also a teacher. They have one son Michael Allen.

Irish Exchange Student Reviews Year In Charlevoix

Last September Charlevoix became host to its first foreign exchange student, Ruby Saunders, a charming colleen from Bangor, Ireland. Last week she was graduated from the Charlevoix high school and next month will return to her homeland after nearly a year in the United States.

When she first came to Charlevoix the Courier printed a story about her and her first impressions of this country. At the request of the Courier staff she has written the following account of her school year in Charlevoix during which she lived with Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall and daughters, Connie and Wendy.

RUBY SAUNDERS

The object of the scholarship I am on is to plant a student from a different land into an American family so that, at the end of a year, he will have a knowledge of American people and customs to take back with him; the main idea is to create understanding between countries.

Naturally, its scope is limited because the student can only experience his immediately surroundings; he cannot hope to cover the entire America. But this experience will determine his opinion of this country and the opinions of many of his countrymen and he will possibly go back with an entirely different viewpoint regarding his own country. This is taking a chance, of course, upon what the student is really like and among what kind of people he falls. Thus my opinions are wholly personal although they are as broad as I can make them.

I like America. There are many reasons why I do, some of which I will give here.

I like its openness. Never can it be said that America is a hidden country; everything is shown. To a stranger, America might seem one big propaganda-spreading country and he is right. Classes in U. S. Government and Civics are compulsory and this means any American, before he leaves high school, has a very good idea of the government and a desire to vote to the best way for himself and his country.

Before I came here I had rather a distorted impression of America, of rock and roll, terribly elongated cars, time-saving gadgets so complicated the average housewife had to take lessons in learning to operate them, divorces, hamburgers, film stars, 'drag' racing, big cities and everything one big commercialized mess. But at least I wasn't expecting to see cowboys and Indians riding across the plains brandishing guns and tomahawks as in "Wagon Train" or the remains of Al Capone's gangsters shooting it out in Chicago.

I was surprised that there could be beautiful little towns like Charlevoix and ordinary people, just like the Irish, kindhearted and eager to make strangers feel at home.

It would be unwise to compare Ireland with the U. S. but there are many differences.

The Irish climate differs greatly from the American: our average temperature in winter is from 30 to 40 degrees while in summer it is from 60 to 70 degrees; we get little snow but much rain; in fact in summer it is almost impossible to get anything but a rather soggy suntan!

The school program here offers such a different list of subjects: sports, singing, woodwork, science, car-driving; its maxim seems to be "variety is the spice of life." Irish grammer schools, with a few exceptions, offer strictly academic subjects. In American schools students seem to flit from one subject to another which is contrary to the Irish system of more advanced study. Thus the American graduate has a rudimentary knowledge of quite a few subjects while the Irish has concentrated on a special line of subjects, artistic, scientific or linguistic for many years.

The Irish school day in a girls' school I attended begins at 8:45 a.m. with eight periods of 45 minutes each. This is followed by a break of 15 minutes for milk or a snack (two bottles of milk are provided without charge for each pupil every school day). Then we have two periods more, then lunch for which we are allowed one hour. Our school day ends at 4 or 5:30 p.m.

Extras on the Irish educational program includes visits to historical places, art galleries, plays, ballets and operettas. One of the school's aims, besides creating an academic student, is to be able to endow her with some polish or refinement.

Physical education is compulsory for every girl in hte school. Because of their excellent swimming pool facilities and their nearness to the ocean, Bangor Collegiate has produced some very fine swimmers. Our sports include in summer: netball, which resembles basketball, tennis and swimming and in winter hockey.

Sports play a more important part in school life in America. I admire the spirit of this aspect of school life; especially that of the school games with the cheerleaders and the band, all out to win.

School examinations in Bangor are given each year in February. The progress of scholarship students is reported to the Ministry of Education. There are also two other very important examinations in a student's life: Junior and Senior Certificates of Education.

There are three main types of schools in Northern Ireland: first, public, primary or elementary schools; second, technical schools and third, grammar schools.

An Irish student goes to school until he is 11 or 12 years of age, and then he can sit for an examination known as the "qualifying exam" or "11 plus." If he passes this, a scholarship is awarded to him by the Ministry of Education, allowing him to pass through a Grammar school with free tuition and books. If he prefers more technical training he can go to a school devoted to the teaching of business methods and engineering. He can attend the Grammar school if he fails his scholarship examination provided that his parents finance him. After four years at a grammar school he must take another important exam, the Junior Certificate of Education, which continues his scholarship for another two years, when he must take the Senior Certificate Examination, which is almost the same as graduation in America. To obtain this he must pass in English language, one foreign language, one scientific subject and two other subjects. Each of these subjects requires six years of credit. This is the examination at Ordinary Level. Another year of study, Advanced Level, is advisable but not necessary if the student plans to go to a university.

In Irish schools there is much more formality. For example, Irish boys and girls get up from their seats when a teacher enters the room and sit down only when they are told to.

Most Irish schools require a distinctive school uniform: ours was a navy blue skirt and blazer, white blouse, silver striped tie, navy beret and gray knee socks.

More foreign languages are available in Ireland than in American schools. At Bangor, French, German, Spanish and Greek were taught. Besides these, the subjects available include English language, English literature, U. S. history, European history, geography, art, physics, science, domestic science, music and mathematics.

In Form 4, or Grade 10, the average number of subjects a person takes is 10 while in Form 7, or Grade 12, the average number is seven.

The thing that has impressed me most here is the teenagers their freedom and independence; the way they take jobs during the summer even all year round, to pay for their clothes, pleasures and future education; there is not such an independence shown in my Irish school friends. When school is over for the summer, all generally feel too exhausted to do anything but laze around!

One thing about American teenagers which is not good is their attitude toward school work. Quite a few don't seem to realize how important is to their future careers. They seem to expect to step out of school with a 'C' or 'D' average and proceed up the shining path of success.

When I first arrived in Charlevoix the teenagers impressed me very much with their maturity; a few months later I began to realize that they are just ordinary kids, the "oldness" seemed to come from their clothes, surroundings, because of their cars, their jobs and outward appearances; now they seem to be just right for the role they are playing, young people just about to begin their careers.

Graduation is over and it was wonderful to be a part of it. I have never experienced anything like it before as at home we do not have these ceremonies. Our Senior Examinations, lasting three weeks, are in June with the results being made known in August. Then, and only then, do we find out whether we have high school behind or not. Our diplomas are presented to us, with no ceremony, around the first of the New Year.

I want to thank my fellow students and friends and everyone else who may be reading this for sharing this wonderful 1959 year with me and for the part they took in making my year here a happy one. Without their co-operation, friendliness and kindness I would not think of America as I now do — a land to come back to as soon as possible.

CHEVY 7 (COUNT 'EM) 7 BESTS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES . . . In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN . . . Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE . . . Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY . . . No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM . . . Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST ENGINE . . . Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE . . . You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

The Peril of the Inconspicuous

Now begins the dry season of the year, increasing the danger of forest fires wherever trees are plentiful enough to furnish abundant fuel. Conservation departments and the forestry services will issue warnings to campers to be certain their fires are thoroughly extinguished and caution smokers not to throw away lighted cigarettes, cigars, or live ashes from pipes. Such warnings are good and necessary, since a careless camper or smoker can destroy more trees through a moment's neglect than nature can grow in hundreds of years.

If the average person were to be questioned as to what ruins the greatest number of trees in America each year, he would likely name any one of three causes: forest fires, the woodsman's saw and axe, or epidemics of diseases which sweep over vast tracts, blighting and killing millions of trees. All of these ravages are serious and important, and all of them are spectacular. The devastation is obvious and often makes headlines in the newspaper. But forestry experts say that most tree losses result not from forest fires, or lumber cutting, or from phenomenal epidemics that occur periodically and affect large areas of the forest population. The worst destroyers are inconspicuous diseases that are constantly present in timberlands and subtly kill off this tree and that one until an appalling number are destroyed. They reduce the rate of wood production, and they damage the wood by slow decay and disfiguration. A fifth of all the wood grown each year in this country is destroyed by slow, subtle and almost imperceptible causes.

Ruin in human life is worked as it is in forests — not so much by spectacular disasters as by inconspicuous factors that toil unnoticed. One reason for human failure is that we look for danger in the wrong direction. We warn our children against life's big temptations for fear they will succumb to them. But a child's greatest danger is not that a great temptation will prove his undoing, no more than man's greatest peril is that he will be killed by a spectacular stroke of lighting. Just as most people die of infections caused by invisible viruses and germs or by the breaking of a small vessel or the forming of a little blood clot, so small defects and subtle ones are more apt to bring a person down than will some dramatic moral catastrophe. The little irritations will make him fretful. The small fears will make him anxious. The little failures will drain his confidence.

Petty dishonesties and what seem like insignificant moral compromises will weaken his integrity. We say when a scandal breaks around a man and he is proven guilty, or when someone is jailed for a crime, "Now, he's ruined!" Quite to the contrary, he has merely fallen like a rotten tree. He was ruined earlier, or he would not have collapsed.

What destroys marriage? Usualy not a conspicuous act of unfaithfulness. Such obvious disloyalty is like the resounding crashing to earth of a tree in the forest. The fall itself is not the real tragedy, but rather the climax of it. It is the end result of diseased attitudes. Marriages that fail finally fall because of little things going wrong that finally make the big things go wrong, too. Petty selfishness eats at the roots, with each partner demanding what he can get rather than contributing what he can give. Often an almost imperceptible withering is caused by imperfect people insisting upon another's perfection, and the life of the marriage is sometimes slowly starved for want of mutual appreciation and honest praise. Then comes the big testing, and sometimes the shameful failure of one partner or another to be true to his vows. But before the marriage collapsed with a sickening thud, it was ruined by the gradual penetration of unobvious enemies.

Seldom does anyone lose his job because of one big blunder. Usually it is because of many little mistakes, omissions and neglects.

We do not wreck the lives of children under our care by a single false step in training them, but by countless little oversights, slips, wrong methods of teaching, and unwholesome attitudes that are hardly discernible to the persons who are at fault.

But there is glad gospel here as well as warning. Fortunately, the elements of good work just as inconspicuously and steadily as the germs of evil, the greatest and best things in this world being accomplished in an unspectacular fashion little by little, by little people, each in his own limited way and in his own limited sphere, so that at long last, even though some trees and people fall from the attack of little evils, the world is replenished and gets a new chance through the scatering of little seeds of goodness. God has ordained that all the big things in this world depend upon the little things.

W. M. U. Graduating Three Local Stuednts

BETTY M. SMITH

JAMES T. SMITH

ROBERTA SWANSON

Three Charlevoixans, Mrs. Betty M. Smith, Roberta A. Swanson and James T. Smith, will be among the 1,012 students who will receive degrees and certificates in commencement rites at Western Michigan University Saturday.

Graduates, faculty and friends will hear an address by Edward Weeks, editor of the Atlantic Monthly magazine entitled "The New Vigilance."

Mrs. Smith, one of three students graduating summa cum laude, heads her class of 1,012 students. She will receive a B.A. degree and secondary certificate with a major in Latin and minors in speech and English. She plans to teach at Portage next fall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Berg and the wife of James T. Smith, also a member of the class.

Miss Swanson, one of seven students who will receive their degrees magna cum laude, will be awarded a B.A. degree and secondary certificate with a major in Latin and a minor in Speech. While in college, she was the secretary of the Dormitory Counsel for one year and president the past year. She was Dormitory Counselor this past year. She also served on the homecoming committee for three years and was active in Latin and Speech organizations. She will teach Latin and speech at St. Joseph high school in September. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swanson who, with their sons, Carl and Guy, will attend the commencement exercises.

Mr. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Smith, will receive a B.S. degree in Industrial Engineering. He has accepted a position in a plant in Vicksburg where he was employed while attending classes at the university. His parents plan to attend the commencement exercises in Kalamazoo Saturday.

County School Superintendents to Hold Annual State Conference

Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, accompanied by Mrs Robinson, will leave this week end for Marquette to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Association of County School Administrators opening there June 16.

Mr. Robinson is first vice president of the association.

The conference and workshop are being held in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction.

Among the subjects to be discussed and clarified are transportation, school lunch, certification, finance, taxation, and the National Defense Act.

Among those addressing the group will be Dr. Charles E. Brake, Wayne County Superintendent of Schools, who will speak on his recent three-months tour of educational facilities in several European countries. He was among 20 school administrators from throughout the United States who were sent to Western Europe by the State Department to engage in a study of education.

The school administrators will also be taken on a tour of Sawyer Air Force Base at Marquette ball as well as football. David Schuchard was given an award for only basketball.

H. E. Bingham, high school principal, announced at the assembly that Ann Martin, junior, had been nominated as a candidate for the annual Achievement Awards program sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Candidates are selected on their writing ability and literary awareness. The winners will be announced in January.

Ron Vandenberg, senior, was presented with a Certificate of Merit in recognition of his standing in the second annual Mathematics Prize Competition sponsored by the Michigan Actuarial Society and 14 Michigan colleges and universities.

C. A. Odmark, head of the music department, presented a Certificate of Merit given by Central Michigan College to Marilou VerWys for participation in the Central Michigan College Honors band. The band was composed of 90 first division winners in the District Solo and Ensemble festivals held in February. The band met in Mt. Pleasant in April, rehearsed on Saturday and presented a concert on Sunday afternoon.

Evelyn Peters, junior, was presented with the annual National Music Camp scholarship offered by the Charlevoix Band Parents Association. (see story elsewhere in this issue.)

Sheriff Warns of 'Gyp' Operators Working County

Sheriff Glenn E. Rose has issued a warning to residents of Charlevoix county regarding disreputable firms who travel thru the countryside offering various services.

Only last week Sheriff Rose said he had two calls from residents who were 'gypped' by such companies who offered these services at a 'cut rate' The two calls last week were cesspool cleaners who overcharged one area resident approximately $150. The second victim was a widow who paid for a service that was not forthcoming.

"When there are so many reputable firms in the area that will back up their work with years of fine service, you are not getting a bargain from transient companies like those we have experienced in the county in recent years," Mr. Rose in urging residents to know the people they engage.

- Mrs. Oscar Smith returned home recently from a three weeks visit with relatives in Muskegon.

Rod & Gun Club Needs Used Piano

The Charlevoix Rod and Gun club has issued a plea for a used piano for use at the clubhouse.

Joseph R. Williams said that the club would consider any offer for either purchase or storage of a usable piano. Anyone having a piano is asked to call Mr. Williams.

Begin Construction of New Park Stage

Construction was started Monday on the new park stage in East Park by Lawrence Swanson, contractor. It is planned to have the walls and platform built in time to use the stage for the regular weekly concerts in the park this summer. Further work on the project will be done as contributions are received for the Park Stage Fund.

The stage will join the southeast arc of the fish pond and the stage level will coincide with the curb level of the pond. The front of the stage will measure 38 feet to include step approaches on either side of the pond. Depth of the stage is to be 12 feet and the width of the stage at the rear will be 28 feet. Under the stage will be a room approximately 12 x 30 feet for storing chairs, music racks and other equipment used by the band.

The complete plan calls for a wall at the rear of the stage and a roof, Onaway stone facings, amplifying equipment and sound control room and lighting. These features will be added as funds are available.

Contributions were received this week from Mrs. Celia Niver and Mrs. Mary Cooper, both of Boyne City, according to Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary - treasurer of the Park-Stage committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Two Conventions Booked for June At Belvedere

The Belvedere Hotel will be host to two conventions before officially opening July 1 for the 1959 season according to Mrs. Queenie Wood, hotel manager.

The Michigan Credit Bureau will meet at the hotel June 24 through 27 for its annual convention. Approximately 120 members and guests are expected for the meeting.

The Michigan Title Association will open its annual conference June 28 and continue through June 30. Mrs. J. L. Feindt of the Charlevoix Abstract and Engineering Co. is a member of the convention committee. More than 100 members and guests are expected to attend this convention.

Rev. Louis Wren Assigned to Holy Cross Church

St. James, B. I.— The Rev. Fr. Alexis Martini, pastor of Holy Cross church here since Jan. 15, is being transferred to the Franciscan Mission band shortly to resume the work he was doing earlier.

He will be succeeded by the Rev Fr. Louis Wren who is scheduled to assume his duties here June 24. Fr. Wren will come to the island from Lorain, Ohio. Since being ordained to the priesthood he has been stationed in many Franciscan parishes throughout the midwest and southwest.

REV. FR. ALEXIS MARTINI

Fr. Martini will return to his work in presenting missions and retreats, a work that will take him to most states from Ohio to California and Canada to Mexico.

In announcing his plans for leaving the island, Fr. Martini has expressed his appreciation to friends here and in Charlevoix for their thoughtfulness and kindnesses to him while he has served in the area

Withers to Open New Drive-in on South Bridge St.

A new drive-in refreshment and snack stand is scheduled to open within the next two weeks on S. Bridge st., Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Withers announced Tuesday.

The new business will operate under the name of the A & W Root Beer Drive-In with Mr. and Mrs. Withers the franchised operators in this area. The local A & W Drive-In is a locally owned unit of a national chain of about 1400 drive-ins.

Ample parking space is being provided at the new drive-in for car service along with an attractive patio. Along with the featured root beer the service will include a non-carbonated orange drink, ice cream, barbecued sandwiches and hot dogs served with a special A & W sauce.

Mr. and Mrs. Withers have been summering here for a number of years at their Pine Point cottage. During the school year Mr. Withers is an instructor of industrial art at the Hasting high school.

Local Teachers to Attend NEA Meet

Mrs. Blanche Paul and Mrs. Helen Richards, Charlevoix public school elementary teachers will go to St. Louis, Mo., later this month to attend the annual convention of the National Education Association being held June 28 to July 3.

Representing the Michigan Department of Classroom Teachers, they will be among 200 Michigan educators and representatives from all 50 states attending the national convention.

60 Boys Signed For Softball in Class B League

The Class B softball league was organized last week after more than 60 boys in the 13 thru 17 year age groups signed up for the summer program, according to Dean Davenport, softball director.

Four teams, VFW, Lake Construction, Browe Electric and Carson Lumber were formed. The latter sponsor is new.

Mr. Davenport added that there is need of adults for managerial positions. Anyone wishing to assist is asked to call Mr. Davenport.

The team rosters follow:

VFW: Barry Pierce, Morry Dixon, Roger Towsley, Larry Edwards, Dale Drost, Dan Pearl, John Tuomela, Terry Lederman, Tom Hawley and Tom Louiselle.

Browe Electric Tom Browe, captain, Denny Wojan, Bob Grunch, Joe LaBlance, Al Wojan, Terry DeYoung, Herb Cummings, Spencer Root, Stewart Verwys and Brad Ward.

Any other boy who is not on a team but wants to play in the league may contact any of the above captains or see Dean Davenport, softball director.

Line Up Teams for Junior Baseball

For the first time since Babe Ruth baseball was introduced to northern Michigan, Charlevoix will have a team in the six team league whose headquarters is Petoskey.

Sponsored by 15 local merchants, the team will begin its schedule about July 1. All games will be played at Lockwood field in Petoskey at 6 p.m. six days a week. The schedule will be announced later.

After try-outs at Kipke field, the following have been named to the hardball team: 13 year olds: Dwight Boss, Howard Harriman, Larry McBride, Guy Stutzman, Dave Novotny and Bill Marine; 14-year-olds, John Coppens, Franklin Curtis, Jim Ferguson, Bruce Kroken, John Pearl and Henry Wagner; 15-year olds: Clair DeMerritt, Don Kelly and Dick Lederman.

Coaches are Orlin Cunningham, Rev. Fred W. McNeil and Ken Cellner. Pete Burns is the business manager and Mrs. Marge Ferguson the secretary-treasurer.

Ceremonies Mark Opening Of Ball Season

The 1959 summer softball program opened at Kipke field Thursday night with veteran sponsors, Gordon L. Freedman of Freedman Artcraft and Bill VanRaaphorst of American Mold, throwing out the first balls.

Dean Davenport, city softball director, in introducing Mr. Freedman and Mr. VanRaaphorst, commended them for not only backing the softball program but for their efforts in making Charlevoix a prosperous and attractive community. Both have sponsored softball teams since the city league was organized.

In the opening game which followed the ceremony, Freedman Artcraft opened the Class A schedule with a strong 8 to 5 win over American Mold. Freedman's Bob Klooster and Mold's Nathan Boss hooked up in a real pitcher's battle for five innings before the Artcraft nine exploded for six runs and the ball game. Klooster and Bud Balch homered for the victors.

The big news of the opening week, however, was the no-hitter pitched by Ed Culbertson of the Coast Guard to dump Airport Inn 6 to 1. Culbertson had a perfect game for five innings before walking Jim Ladd who scored on a passed ball for the Inn's single run. Culbertson struck out 15 of 23 batters he faced. Dick Harju led the winner's attack with two runs.

After losing to Freedman's, American Mold bounced back to defeat the Coast Guard 7 to 2 thus serving notice that they were to be counted as a contender for the title. Both teams were deadlocked 2 to 2 until the fifth inning when Scott Supernaw doubled and Nathan Boss and Ken Balch singled to break the tie. Harju continuing his hitting for the service team, collecting three singles.

New Beauty Salon Awards Prizes

The third and final award, a portable television set, offered in the three week opening promotion of the Weathervane Beauty Salon was presented last week to Mrs. Helen Sneathen.

Other prizes awarded included a Janie cold wave to Mrs. Karl Schultz and a Benrus wrist watch to Mrs. Anna Carpenter.

Girls' Softball League Planned

Plans are underway to organize a girls softball league.

All girls interested in playing softball are asked to report at Kipke field at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. If enough interest is shown, steps will be taken to organize girls' teams and set up a schedule.

There is no age limit for prospective players at this time.

Family Escapes Serious Injury When Cars Collide

The Earl Gillispies of Frankfort escaped serious injury Monday afternoon when their car, driven by Mrs. Gillispie and traveling south on Bridge st. collided with a second car driven by Dr. James Raye, 78, of Toledo at the intersection of Bridge and Antrim st. as the latter drove his car from East Antrim st. into the southbound lane of traffic.

As the Raye car made a left hand turn into the southbound lane of traffic, it struck the Gillispie car, throwing it into a tree a few feet south of the intersection.

Mrs. Gillispie, 45, received a bruised right knee and left hip and was suffering from shock. Her husband, Earl, 51, sustained injuries of the chest and neck. Their children, Earl jr., 9 had a contusion of the nose and Patrick, 8, a head contusion. Six-year old Charlene was uninjured. All were treated at the Charlevoix hospital and released.

Dr. Raye was unhurt.

Spiritualists to Open Camp Sunday

Rev. Peter Evert, president emeritus of the Michigan State Spiritualist association of churches will be the guest speaker Sunday at the opening of the annual summer camp of the group. Services will be held at 2:30 and 7 p.m. each Sunday throughout the summer.

The new auditorium of the Northern Lake Michigan Spiritualist Camp association is located on old US-31, south of Bay Shore.

Spiritualist workers from various parts of the state will participate in the services during the summer sessions. Pot-luck suppers will be held at the camp picnic grove each Sunday at 5:30 p.m. Participants are to furnish their own table service and a dish to pass.

George Yonkman Father of Pastor Here Succumbs

George Yonkman, 61, of Grand Rapids, father of the Rev. Robert J. Yonkman, vicar of Christ Episcopal church here, died unexpectedly Thursday.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Metcalf funeral home in Grand Rapids Monday with the Rev. Frederick W. Wyngarden officiating.

A native of Grand Rapids, Mr. Yonkman was a graduate of the University of Illinois. He was a manufacturers representative in die castings and plastics.

An ardent golfer, he was stricken while on the practice range at Blythefield Country club in Grand Rapids and was dead on arrival at Butterworth hospital.

Mr. Yonkman had visited here often since his son had served as deacon and later as vicar of the local Episcopal church.

Besides his son, he is survived by his wife, Hazel L.; one granddaughter; two sisters and four brothers.

State Exchange Clubs Here For 40th Annual Convention

The 40th annual convention of the Michigan State Exchange Clubs was held in the Charlevoix Beach Hotel on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, June 14, 15 and 16, with 200 Exchangites and their ladies in attendance. Delegates attended from 37 of the 63 clubs in the state

Clarence McDorman, National Exchange Club Vice-President, of Birmingham, Alabama, was the speaker at the Monday night banquet. He gave an inspiring address on the aims and work of Exchange as a local, state and national service organizations and the many ways they serve the community, state and nation. He stressed the importance of continued service on the part of individual clubs and the application of the Exchange motto "Unity for Service."

CLARENCE McDORMAN

A report on projects in the State of Michigan was made to the assembly by F. P. Kirchner of Detroit. The report revealed that the 52 clubs who participated spent $99,563.75 on Service to Youth projects. The activities included contributions to scouting and camps, youth education and scholarships, medical care and clothing for underprivileged children and the handicapped, support of Little League baseball and other sports. Model aviation and Civil Air Patrol promotion received over $9,000.00, these being two projects endorsed to all clubs in the state by the State organization.

Golfers in the group enjoyed a golf tournament with rounds at two local clubs. Others enjoyed boating while the ladies inspected local shops which they found interesting as many of the visitors were in Charlevoix for the first time.

Elected to office for the coming year were: E. Roger Hewitt, of Lansing, president; F. P. Kirchner of Detroit, vice-president; Henry W. Baker, of Battle Creek, secretary; and Marvin M. Buck, Marquette, treasurer. The Board of Control elected are: Walter C. Morgan, Birmingham; Harry M. Askin, Marshall; Henry D. Schubert, Dearborn; Rudolf C. Hasselbach, Temperance; Ed Klebba, Royal Oak; and Willard C. Wallgren, of Saginaw. Retiring president is LaVerne Scanlan, of Battle Creek. The new slate of officers was installed by National Vice-President McDorman at the Tuesday noon meeting which closed the convention.

Island Ferry to Begin Summer Schedule June 26

The motorship Emerald Isle will start operating on the summer schedule beginning next week Thursday, James Gallagher, agent at the Charlevoix dock announced this week.

The ferry will make one round trip between Charlevoix and St. James on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, leaving Charlevoix at 9 a.m. and leaving St. James on the return at 2 p.m. Two round trips will be made on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays when the ferry will leave Charlevoix at 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Return trips will leave St. James at 12:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The weekend schedule afford tourists wishing to visit the Island a full afternoon to take sight seeing trips and return to the mainland the same evening.

Friday Last Day To File Petitions

Friday, June 19, is the deadline for filing nominating petitions for the Charlevoix board of education.

Dr. Robert G. Martin and Robert G. Lieberman, whose terms expire this year, will be candidates for re-election to their posts. Both had filed petitions at noon Wednesday.

All petitions must be filed no later than 8 p.m. Friday, June 19, to become a candidate for the three year terms.

Ask Bids on New Garage at Hatchery

Bids for a new three-staff brick garage to be constructed at the U. S. Fish-Cultural here have been asked by the regional director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service at Minneapolis.

Specifications call for construction of the garage and related work including the removal of the existing frame garage, grading, fill, sod and new concrete curbs.

Bids will be opened at 2:30 pm, D. S. T., June 29, at the Minneapolis regional office.

Traverse Shriners To Convene Here For Annual Party

The Traverse City Shrine Club will hold its annual Ladies Party at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel this weekend according to John Rathburn of the club's executive committee who is making local arrangements for the event which is expected to attract more than 200 members and guests.

The visitors will gather at the hotel Saturday afternoon and enjoy a smorgasbord Saturday evening. Special entertainment furnished by the Saladin Temple of Grand Rapids will follow. Members and guests will return to their homes Sunday.

Among officials expected for the meeting are Frank L. Dumond, potentate of the Saladin Temple of Grand Rapids and members of the divan Charles Ailes, Ernest L. Miller and Claude Goldner of Grand Rapids, Glenn Bradford of Sparta and Past Potentates, Manfred Martin of Kalamazoo and Dr. William Barney of Grand Rapids.

J. L. Gaithe of Traverse City is president of the visiting club.

Mr. Rathburn has issued an invitation to Shriners and their ladies who are visiting in the area to attend the party at the Beach Hotel Saturday evening.

CHARLEVOIX is proud, and rightfully so, of all its former high school students who were awarded their sheepskins from colleges and universities this June at graduation ceremonies across the country. And before the year is over there'll be a few nurses who will be completing their studies. So all in all, we think we're a lucky town to have so many kids who work so very hard to further their education. They and their families are to be commended for a job well done.

HAVE YOU NOTICED that Michigan flag flying from the pole outside the Weathervane Inn? It's the first one we've seen not only in town but in the area. It's a lovely flag with its midnight blue background and white emblem. Take a look at it some time.

THINGS ARE bustin' out all over, a sure sign that our resort season is just around the corner. The Beach Hotel's opened with two conventions in the first week. Their swimming pool is under construction. There's all sorts of building around the place. There is fresh coats of paint every place. And if the weather we had the first of last week holds. Ahhh, we have it made. So keep your fingers crossed and say a prayer that we do have a good summer. We could use one.

WHEN THE South American came in last week, James W. Gallagher, down on the city dock, wasn't expecting to see anyone he knew. After all, it was the Lansing Chamber of Commerce cruise and who would he know in Lansing? So when he heard someone calling "Gallagher" from the deck of the ship, he paid no attention. It wasn't until they added "Beaver Island" to their call did he look up to see Vern Hudson who has a cottage on Beaver Island. With him were a couple other fellows who's been to the island. They had the cruise commodore by the name of Dan O'Shaughnessey in tow and they wanted to take him to America's Emerald Isle. After all, with a name like that they thought he should see something of Ireland even if it wasn't the 'auld sod. The last he saw of 'em they were enroute to the airport to take the plane to the island.

DON'T FORGET that Sunday's Dad's Day. A pretty important day, we think. At least it should be, for isn't it pop who brings home that green stuff that keeps the family going, makes all the major decisions and takes care of things when they go wrong. We've never thought that he's given his proper place in the pattern of things. So won't you treat him like a king for one day in the year, at least, 'cause he's lookin' after your interests every day all day.

SAW ANOTHER sign of summer around town the other day . . . the cowboys from Camp Charlevoix . . . Don . . . whose last name completely escapes us . . . and a youngster by the name of Baily, J. R., that is, from Arkansas have been here getting things ready for the summer . . like shoeing horses, getting saddles repaired, and just all sorts of things around the stables . . . Another couple weeks and our population will be increased by several hundred as the boys and girls roll in from throughout the midwest for the camps in the area . . . Add camp personnel of at least another hundred and you find that they're a really important part of our summer population. May we say "Welcome Home" to all of you right now.

MICHIGAN'S LAKES AND RIVERS

There are over eleven thousand lakes. There are about four hundred in Oakland county alone. They range in size from the small gemlike bodies of water that are hidden in the rocks of the Upper Peninsula to the larger ones in the northern half of the lower peninsula. There are many resort homes along these lakes.

There are many rivers. In the Upper Peninsula they are swift and usually plunge over rocky ledges to form beautiful waterfalls. Most of the rivers of the Lower Peninsula are quiet running and smooth flowing. Grand is the longest river in the state. The Saginaw is the shortest and the Au Sable the swiftest. Rivers of Michigan have been important in its development. Today the rivers furnish power for various industries. Rivers such as the Detroit are important in transportation.

Marilyn Neff Weds Michael Gibbons In Nuptial Mass At St. Marys Church

St. Mary's church was the scene recently of the wedding of Catherine Marilyn Neff and Michael A. Gibbons.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon N. Neff and Dr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Gibbons.

The Rev. E. Francis Denay officiated at the double ring service during the nuptial Mass on Saturday, June 6. Arrangements of white spring flowers decorated the altar for the service.

Barry Pischner sang the Mass accompanied by Mrs. Frank Oleksy at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white lace and net for her wedding. The long fitted bodice which came to a point at the waistline featured a jewel neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was of net over crystalette. A seed-pearl tiara secured her finger-tip veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Thomas Gibbons of Big Rapids, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and Karen Neff, sister of the bride, and Mary Ann Gibbons, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of seafoam green and yellow chiffon print fashioned with scoop necklines, short puffed sleeves and full ballerina length skirts. Mrs. Gibbons' tiara was of pellow chiffon and the bridesmaids of green chiffon. They carried colonial bouquets of white spring flowers.

Thomas Gibbons of Big Rapids served as his brother's best man. Another brother, Peter Gibbons and Bryan Neff, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Seating the guests were Dr. James Gibbons of Columbus, Ohio, and Victor Gibbons of Ann Arbor brothers of the bridegroom, and David Walgren of Grand Rapids, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Neff selected a beige silk shantung sheath with matching jacket, beige feather cloche and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Gibbons, mother of the bridegroom, wore a beige dress matching flower hat and white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served at St. Mary's school hall following the ceremony. Linda Neff and Janice Kennedy of Traverse City, cousins of the bride, assisted.

After a short wedding trip thru northern Michigan, the couple will make their home at 405 Washington st. in Grand Rapids. For traveling the bride wore a blue print sheath, white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Wedding guests were present from Detroit, Flint, Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids, Big Rapids, Traverse City, Cadillac, Big Rapids and Columbus, Ohio.

Both are graduates of the Charlevoix high school. The bride attended Highland Park General Hospital School of Nursing and is presently employed at the Walgren Co. of Grand Rapids. Mr. Gibbons, a veteran of two years service in the U. S. Army, attended the University of Detroit and plans to enroll at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids.

Two Graduate From Marywood

Kathleen McCann, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Edwin J. McCann, and Margaret LaBlance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerald LaBlance, were graduated recently from Marywood Academy in Grand Rapids.

Kathleen has been a student at the academy all through high school. Margaret has attended the academy for the past two years.

Betrothed

The engagement of Merrie Carol Case to James Hootman of Grand Rapids has been announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Case.

The wedding will be an event of next autumn on Okinawa where the prospective bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Army.

The bride-elect is a 1956 graduate of the Charlevoix high school and is presently employed in Grand Rapids.

Circle Theatre To Open New Season June 30

The Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City will open Tuesday, June 30 with the Gay Nineties melodrama, "The Drunkard," and close with the famous "Tobacco Road and in between have a mixture of slap-stick and sophistication, plus a pre-Broadway try-out of a new play, according to Ruth Bailey, producer.

In addition to the heart-rending melodrama, "The Drunkard" will feature barbershop quartets, saloon piano, peanuts, popcorn and pink lemonade.

On July 7 the nine-play season officially opens with glamorous Greta Thyssen in "The Happy Time," a warm-hearted comedy of a French Canadian family; TV's millionaire, Marvin Miller, will appear in "Dial M for Murder" the week of July 14; Zazu Pitts makes her third appearance at the Playhouse the week of July 21 in the wacky farce, "Post Road." Joe E. Brown stars in "Father of the Bride" the week of July 28. Jack Barry, noted quiz show M. C. on television, will play the lead in a pre-Broadway try-out of a new play called "Yes Man" the week of Aug. 4. Gene Raymond stars in "Seven Year Itch" the week of Aug. 11; Pat O'Brien in "The Loud Red Patrick" the week of Aug. 18; Reginald Gardiner in "The Reluctant Debutante" Aug. 25 and John Carradine in "Tobacco Road" Sept. 1.

Barnett Owen will direct the shows, as he has for the past four seasons. Children's fairy tales will be presented by the Junior players every Friday morning at 10:30 a.m. at the tent theatre on State st. in Traverse City.

In Charlevoix Mrs. James Coleman is in charge of tickets and reservations and is prepared to answer any inquiries regarding this summer theater. Her number is LI 7-6684.

WHY A REFRIGERATOR?

Safeguarding the potency of certain biologicals, antibiotics, insulin and other drugs requires that they be kept under correct temperature control. To provide this essential safeguard, a glistening electric refrigerator is an important part of our prescription room equipment.

Its spotless shelves hold ample supplies of drugs that need refrigeration at the precise temperature to protect the potency of the drugs thereby assuring you of the maximum benefits from them when they are prescribed for you.

How to Sidestep Septic Tank "Racketeers"

Periodically fly-by-night septic tank cleaners work this community. They are sharp salesmen with a good stock of plausible reasons why they can give you a "special deal" while they are in your neighborhood. The "special deal" invariably is an exorbitant price and a job half done. You discover too late that you have been gypped because the operator is then in distant parts working his racket. WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Call an established business that is serving your community the year around. It will cost you nothing because dependable operators are anxious to protect you from fly-by-night gougers.

Investigate the reliability of the operator you are dealing with and don't be rushed into letting the job.

The benefit of our experience is yours free for the asking regardless of who you choose to do your work.

Cub Scouts to Spend Day at Camp Greilick

On that day 60 Cub Scouts and adults are scheduled to depart at 7:30 a.m. for the camp operated by the Scenic Trails Council for a full day of activities including riflery, canoeing, archery, boating, swimming, handicraft, Indian lore, Indian dancing and a campfire program which will be under the direction of trained camp personnel.

All Cubs and adults making the trip must bring a picnic lunch. Milk, cold drinks, coffee, candy, handicraft and other items may be purchased at the camp Trading Post.

Mr. Foster has listed the following items which all Cubs must bring: bathing suit and towel, remainder of fee (50c) and spending money, cup for drinking, Cub uniform and comfortable shoes, a waterproof jacket in case of rain and a picnic lunch.

All Cubs and Den Mothers and other adults who will accompany them must be at the Charlevoix high school at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday for the trip via school bus. The bus is expected to arrive at Camp Greilick between 9 and 9:30 a.m. and depart for home between 5 and 5:30 p.m.

Anyone having any questions regarding the trip is asked to contact his den mother.

Until about 35 years ago, many astronomers thought the outer galaxies were comparatively small objects inside the Milky Way, the National Geographic Magazine says. Big, new telescopes showed that these galaxies are of enormous size, as big as the Milky Way itself.

Flower Baskets Decorate Street

Charlevoix's beautiful flower baskets, numbering 50 in all, were placed on lamp posts along the business section last week.

This is the fifth year that the baskets have been used to make Charlevoix more beautiful.

Also on the lamp posts at the intersections of Clinton and Bridge st. are new incandescent lamps which the city in trying before purchasing. The lamps, known as luminares, have aluminum shades which divert the light down and out rather than allowing it to spread in all directions as the present globes do. The new lamps allow easier maintenance also, Hal M. Hill, city superintendent said.

On the loader which was used to place the baskets in place is Joe Armstrong. James Martin is operating the loader. Both are City Street Department employees.

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

We Gain By Losing

The principle of sacrifice is built into the nature of the universe. Virtually nothing gets a start here until something else makes room, and nothing lives and grows until something else dies.

Only as old trees yield to disease, lightning or axe and fall, making an opening for light in the leafy canopy of the forest, do young trees get a start and grow. Only as some individual plants and animals die as food for others can life go on in the universe, for nature is a system of successive incarnations, a little worm being eaten by minnow, and minnow devoured by speckled trout, and trout being consumed by man (and the cynic would add, man being eaten by the little worm, thus completing the cycle). The living world is a vast panorama of sacrifices for success, one individual gaining by another's loss. As Goethe said, "Death is Nature's expert device for ensuring abundance of life."

Moreover, everywhere in the nature of the world and in the life of man there are abundant illustrations of the principle that every individual gains one kind of success by sacrificing something else. Trees are stationary forms of life, while their plant relatives, the tiny duckweeds, are mobile, travelling great distances on lake and stream. In the plant kingdom both mobility and immense size have advantages, but a plant cannot have both. So the great plants, the trees, have renounced mobility in favor of strong roots and stability that allow for vast growth and tremendous height and girth. They have gained in dimension and might by losing freedom to move about.

Birds that can fly well usually have weak legs as does the hummingbird. Birds that have strong legs are weak flyers or cannot fly at all, like the ostrich. To gain one power they must lose another.

Sacrifice is a built-in feature of this universe.

Religionists have performed meyhem on the word "sacrifice," cutting the joy out of it and wringing it dry of its life-blood of daring and adventure. They have associated the word with anguish and long-faced piety. Sacrifice is not a dry-as-dust act of religion. It is part and parcel of all exciting living, found in the happiest people on their most joyous occasions. Always in our best and most memorable moments we are giving up some one thing that we cherish for something we love still more.

The farmer at work in his field is giving his energy, his thought, his life to the soil and its crops and flocks and herds, because he loves his land and the family it supports more than he loves comfort, ease and leisure.

The avid fisherman loves his lures. He carefully ties flies for trout fishing, and polishes the plugs and spinners he uses on bass and pike. Baits cost money, time and effort to obtain and keep in good condition. Yet everyone who fishes expects to lose his lures. When he returns from a trip to his favorite pond or stream the sportsman loves to boast of the whopper that broke his heavy nylon leader and escaped with his best Quill Gordon fly. And any night at fishing camp is incomplete without some old timer's story of the bass or pike that "stole hook, line and sinker." We make or purchase a man-made lure or living bait and cast it into lake and stream knowing full well it may get caught on a sunken log, or entangled in a weed bed, or the leader may be snapped by a giant member of the finny tribe. But such sacrifice is all a part of fishing, and we would gladly lose more tackle for the enjoyment we derive from the sport. In fishing, if fun is to increase, bait must decrease. We must lose to gain.

A wedding is one of life's most joyous occasions. Yet the moment of marriage represents a supreme sacrifice and is the beginning of an entire series of sacrifices. The ceremony signifies a revolutionary change in habits of thought and behavior in both bride and groom. All thru early childhood the girl and boy were reaching out for things they could possess for their own sakes and their own enjoyment — bottles, rattles, toys. At first everything went into the children's mouths, and later into their pockets and pocketbooks. Gradually the youngsters were taught to think beyond themselves, but until the moment of marriage they were for the most part self-oriented people. Marriage symbolizes arrival at maturity. If bride and groom mean what they say in the ceremony they can no longer be self-seeking. The groom now earns a living for two rather than one. He must think in terms of "our," our food, our clothing, our shelter, our security. So must the bride. They have sacrificed much freedom. Their freedom to think of self must decrease if the meaning of their marriage is to increase. They must lose to gain. A wedding is a moment of hearty self-giving, as is every important human event

In the arts, too, we gain by losing. Photography is more than the art of taking good pictures. Much of the effectiveness of a photograph results from careful cropping, cutting off unwanted elements in the picture. The photograph gains beauty as it loses unneeded details. Sculptoring is the art of throwing away excess clay or chipping away excess granite so that the image the sculptor envisioned can stand forth. As the mass of material decreases the piece of art grows in beauty.

Wisdom consists of knowing what to leave out of life as well as what to include.

Not only is sacrifice natural and good, but it is inescapable. Men of the pulpit confront their people with the matter of self-denial as one of choice. We must choose to deny ourselves they say, if we are to make spiritual progress. That is true, but only half the truth. The fact is we are constantly sacrificing whether or not we choose to do so. Everyone, the religious and unreligious, the good and the bad, intentionally or unintentionally sacrifices. The best things in life cost dearly but the worst cost supremely. Here is a man, for example, that no one of his acquaintances would think religious. Far from it. He seldom enters the doors of any church and he speaks the name of God more in profanity than in prayer. But he does more self-sacrificing than any saint in history. By unbridled lechery he sacrifices the respect of his family and neighbors — and his self-respect. By continual indulgence of his perverted appetites he mortgages his future health and bankrupts his moral sense so that no longer can he clearly distinguish between right and wrong. By innumerable dishonesties he has made it impossible for anyone to trust him. His frequent disloyalties to family and friends make them suspicious of even his most innocent gesture, so that they not only see through his lying but doubt him when he tells the truth. He is far from a saint, yet he is one of the best examples of complete self-denial I know, for he has sacrificed the best he could have for the worst, and the satisfactions of a life time for the pleasures of a moment. The self-denial men will practice for the sake of saintliness is nothing compared with the sacrifices they will make for the excitement of a moment!

No one understands human nature or has insight into himself until he sees that we humans are incurably sacrificial. It is a well-known fact in the practice of psychoanalysis that most patients will not regain their mental health if treated for a low fee or for no fee at all, but when charged the regular price (which is expensive) respond favorably. There is a need for sacrifice instilled deep in human nature. Regardless of our superficial seeking after something for nothing, there is something deep within us that finds cheapness intolerable and demands that we pay for what we get. In the deeper recesses of the mind we instinctively know that we ought not to gain anything without loving something. And that is one of the finest things that can be said about being human.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

SHIPPERS around the world will be asked to take a look at the price of Michigan's ferry fleet, the Vacationland, now up for sale.

The vessel is the last of the five-boat fleet which linked the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan before the $100,000,000 Mackinac Bridge was opened Nov. 1, 1957. The others have been sold at a fraction of their original cost.

The Vacationland is moored alone and lonely at the St. Ignace dock, barred by the law which authorized construction of the bridge from ever making the trip again.

* * *

TO PROTECT buyers of the bridge bonds, the law states that there can be no boat in competition with the bridge, which is being paid for by tolls.

The Vacationland now is occupied by only one watchman and a few seagulls, which used to follow the fleet between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace.

The trip, which formerly took 40 minutes in good weather, is now a 10-minute drive through the sky over the bridge.

The Vacationland, the largest of the fleet, can carry 675 passengers and 140 vehicles

Philip H. Anderson, deputy director of the purchasing division of the state department of administration, sees new hope for selling the Vacationland in the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"Now that we have the seaway and can get her out of the Great Lakes Basin, we shouldn't have much trouble selling her," said Anderson.

HISTORY WHICH helped end the war between the states a century ago will be repeated at Bull Run, Va., in 1961.

Michigan will send National Guard troops to Virginia, clad in the traditional blue, to re-enact the Battle of Bull Run as part of a historical celebration.

The request came to Michigan from Virginia Gov. J. Lindsey Almond to take part in the celebration.

To ease the fears of families and relatives of the men going to Virginia in two years, there are assurances that none of the guns will be loaded, with live ammunition at least.

His party friends and heirs apparently believe he will not be a candidate for a seventh term, but will make his stand in the national Democratic picture next year.

They have had encouragement in this belief by Williams' frequent visits to other states, his speeches on national and international problems, and other factors.

Most of his party's strategists feel that the financial plight of Michigan has wrecked his chances for a national nomination next year.

A conference of party leaders in Denver, Colo., indicated that he must succeed in overpowering the Republican-controlled legislature this year or fail for the present in the national picture.

Indications of dissent in his own party in the legislature point only to trouble for the record setting Democratic governor.

* * *

MOST OF Williams' program was scrapped by the legislature when the deadline for action arrived June 5.

It also marked the tenth year in which the legislature had refused to enact his "Seal of Quality" program for farm products a program of promotion and standardization of products.

The nation knows of Idaho potatoes and Maine lobsters and the citrus fruits of Florida and California. The Williams program was an advertising device to produce a similar effect for Michigan agricultural products.

The programs rejected by the legislature this year also include a state building authority, an atomic energy commission, an old age commission, an automation commission, an industrial park authority, and an employment safety standards bill.

Russell Cave in Jackson County, Alabama, is the most ancient home of man found so far in the southeastern United States, the National Geographic Magazine says. Primitive Americans worked by firelight in the cave at least 8,000 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoffman were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brock of Ironton.

Gerrit Jake Drenth is back in the Charlevoix hospital.

Our congratulations goes to Henry DeVries and Phyllis Walburg, who were married this past Friday in the Byron Center Christian Reformed Church.

The Baptist Church Bible School had their Bible School program Sunday night in the Eastport Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. John DeVries have moved into the late August VanderArk's home.

SUNDEW REPORTS

We got underway at 6 a.m. Monday for a fuel run. We refueled Beaver Island Grays Reef light before noon but when we arrived at Lansing Schoal light the seas were too heavy to allow the barge and small boat over the side. We anchored near Lansing Shoal until daybreak Tuesday when it was calm enough to refuel.

On our way east we stopped at White Shoals light but after taking the gasoline over and one load of fuel oil the wind once again prevented us from completing the job. We then continued toward Lake Huron.

While moored at Cheboygan the small boat look gasoline out to the 14-foot Shoal light. We got underway again at nightfall to re-fuel Poe Reef, Spectacle Reef and Martins Reef Lights. Most of the crew was up all night in order to complete the operations. We managed to get together a few men to take some acetyline tanks to a light on the north shore of Bois Blanc Island. Shallow water made it necessary for the men to wade ashore with tanks weighing up to 275 pounds on their shoulders.

By noon we were underway for Charlevoix, or so we thought. As we came abreast of Mackinac Island we received word to help the Air Force recover parts of wreckage from a plane that had gone down in waters near Georgian Bay. We moored at Mackinac Island until 5 p.m. when we got underway for St. Ignace to meet two Air Force personnel from Kinross AFB near the Soo and two civilian divers. Lt. Louis Tauzin, Airman 2/c John Ham, Harmon Knop and Truman Campbell came aboard at 9 p.m. and by 10:30 p.m. we cleared Round Island Passage bound for Manitoulin island in Lake Huron.

We moored off Green Point at Manitoulin Island at 7 a.m. and diving operations commence. Though various parts of the plane were brought to the surface during the day, the reason for the return to the area was to recover a certain vital piece of equipment from the engine. Operations were secured at nightfall. Early Friday morning the diver went down again. After the early morning fog lifted a 'copter from Kinross AFB searched the area to locate major portions of the wreckage. The small boat from the ship recovered the parachute and survival kit while the diver was able to retrieve the vital part of machinery. We left the search area after lunch and returned to St. Ignace late Friday night. We got underway in the early hours of Saturday for Charlevoix.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

A welcome to Larry Hebert FNEM, who comes to us from the Coast Guard Training Center at Groton, Conn. He has just successfully completed electrician's mate school. Prior to attending school he was stationed in New Orleans, Larry hails from River Rouge, Michigan . .. We had Roy Peron, who had never seen a crayfish before, all shook up by telling him that its bite was poisonous . . . Seems as though this was the week for animals. A bat flew into the mess deck while we were in Lake Huron . . . The first anniversary of the ship's arrival in Charlevoix passed unnoticed . . . It was just a year ago early this month that the Sundew came from Sturgeon Bay to make Charlevoix its home port.

June 8 1959

The housewives have nothing on us. We started our spring housecleaning on Monday. It was our first chance to get all hands busy cleaning, scraping and painting since February. The weather smiled enabling us to do a lot of work outside. The foc'sle has been completed and the hull also has been repainted. The bridge was scrapped and painted too.

Inside we re-did the mess deck and are now working on the passageways. New color combinations have been authorized breaking the old "white" tradition. The ship's office, sick bay and wardroom have also felt the efforts of the crew. It really wasn't a week of rest in port.

The full week in port also enabled some of the men to complete necessary medical treatment. Our supplies and equipment were checked and rechecked.

Next week is the spring fuel run and the back to Charlevoix once again to prepare for the annual inspection of the ship by a board of officers from the district office in Cleveland.

Each days activities were punctuated by intensive drills in abandoning ship, fire, rescue, man overboard, etc.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

In addition to several crewmen who have felt the urge to take a swim, Dewie took the plunge . . . Golf has now been added to the sport picture, The hot weather has effected the enthusiasts of cowpasture pool . . . A horseshoe pit is now in operation at the buoy depot, ringers are becoming more frequent.

The Corinth Canal, which separates the Greek mainland from the Peloponnesus, saves ships 150 miles of travel around the foot of Greece, the National Geographic Magazine says.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Tip From Our "Cap"

Couple of months ago, Cap Anderson traded in that fifteen-year-old rattletrap of his and purchased a new snazzy '59 model car. A real beauty, two-tone, and complete with power-everything.

But yesterday, of all things, Cap rattled into town behind the wheel of his old car. Naturally, all of us wanted to find out "How come?"

"Bought it back," said Cap, "I'm now a two-car family. I like my new car because it looks real modern—but I like this car because it's real me!"

From where I sit, all of us have certain affections that grow more a part of us with each passing year. For instance, when I think of Saturday night, I always think of my easy chair and a cold glass of beer. Your idea may be something else. But let's not ask each other to "change"—let's just respect the other fellow's preference. Agreed?

telephone lines

by LES JOHNSON, Manager

AIR ISN'T JUST something you breathe any more. It's a special substance for protecting phone cables from the ravages of moisture. By keeping the lines open, air makes your phone service more reliable. It is pumped into the cables under pressure so that even if there are leaks, water cannot get in because the air pushes out. And the air helps locate leaks. Once the area of the leak has been located by testing, the exact spot is found by applying liquid soap over the cable—the escaping air forms a bubble.

◆

NECKTIES AND TOBACCO ARE PROBABLY the most popular things that will be given to Dad on Father's Day. But if he's far away and can't be with you on Sunday, you can be sure that a Long Distance phone call would be at the top of a list of things he'd like to have. The usual low Sunday rates are in effect to help you enjoy a leisurely telephone visit. It's a fine way to please Dad, and it'll make you feel pretty good, too!

◆

BESIDES BEING FATHER'S DAY, June 21st is also the first day of Summer—time to begin thinking about vacations. But thinking alone won't make a vacation good. Only planning and preparation will do that. That's where the Yellow Pages comes in so handy. It'll tell you where to buy the diving goggles, camera film, sports clothes, sun glasses, luggage and guide books you'll need. More than that, the Yellow Pages lists hotels, motels, restaurants, theatres and other amusements, so it's the quickest way of getting to know your way around a new town. Start with the Yellow Pages and end up with a truly great vacation.

PARTING SHOTS. Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote.... More good things are lost by indecision than by wrong decision.

THE BIG REASON WHY...

OLDS COSTS LESS IN THE LONG RUN!

Beneath the glamor and gleam of the '59 Olds is hidden value that explains why Olds costs less in the long run!

Every '59 Olds gives you the Wide-Stance Chassis with a 9-inch wider Guard-Beam Frame. Every '59 Olds features cooler running Air-Scoop Brakes on all four wheels.

Under the hood is still another Olds hidden value—the famous Rocket Engine with new fuel-saving economy for '59.

Is it any wonder that an Olds is worth more at trade-in time . . . costs less to own in the long run?

See your Olds dealer. Value-Rate The Rocket. Then you'll understand why so many people are joining the Big Swing to Olds!

ORD. No. 272

The above sign warning the boating public that City Ordinance No. 272 will be enforced was placed on the Charlevoix waterfront recently by the city street crew.

The sign is in keeping with others sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, having a brown background with colorful lettering.

The city, sheriff's department and the Charlevoix Marine Club are combining their efforts to curtail the improper use and operation of small boats, especially, outboard motor boats in Round Lake and in the channels leading to Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix.

The improper use of outboard motor boats can be not only dangerous to the operator and occupants of the boat but to others in the immediate area whether in other boats or on the waterfront and we will do everything we can to make Charlevoix's waterways safe Sheriff Glenn E. Rose, Hal M. Hill, city superintendent and Phil Lawrence, commodore of the Marine Club said in a joint statement announcing the drive to cut down the improper use of boats in the harbor.

Directing the placing of the sign are Mr. Hill, far left and Leo Allard, street commissioner, far right, while (l to r) Sheridan Root, James Martin, Joe Armstrong and Dick Wells do the work.

- Billy Zeitler has arrived here from Grand Rapids where he attends school to spend the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zeitler. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Snider and children who brought him home remained for a weekend visit with the Zeitlers.

Three County Men Called for Induction

Three Charlevoix county draft registrants were named to report for induction June 30 to fill the county's draft quota for July at a meeting of the draft board Monday night.

The are George R. Casper, John C. Kirby and Elmer Larson, all of Boyne City. Casper and Kirby are volunteers.

No one will be called for pre-induction physical examinations next month.

Riding Stable Opens for Summer

A new riding stable, the Flying C Ranch was opened here last week by Art Clute who also operates stables at Walloon Lake and Boyne Mountain.

Located on the Boyne City road 2½ miles from Charlevoix, the stable is stocked with 16 horses and equipment for both western and park style riding. Mr. Clute says they have mounts suitable for all age riders and that they are prepared to give riding instructions.

The extensive area adjacent to the stable afford many interesting bridle trails.

- Mrs. Versal Shearer and son, Freddie, have arrived from Phoenix, Ariz., to make an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edwards. Another daughter, Mrs. Howard North and children who were here earlier, will return to Charlevoix this weekend. Mrs. Edwards is a patient at the Charlevoix hospital.

To Build Atomic Electric Power Plant Here

Wild rumors that have kept the community in a dither the past few weeks were exploded Friday when Consumers Power Company announced its intention to build an atomic electric plant on a 600 acre tract of land five miles northeast of Charlevoix on US-31. Speculation went on a rampage when word spread that Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Shanahan had sold the acreage to an "unknown buyer." the authentic story was disclosed in a press release from Jackson by Dan E. Karn, president of Consumers.

The recent sale of the Birchwood Ranch property was handled by the Main Realty of Cheboygan and Belding Real Estate of Charlevoix.

There are now only three other atomic electric plants of this type operating in the United States although one has been scheduled for construction near Eureka, Cal Construction of the atomic electric plant here in the area of Big Rock Point is expected to get underway soon after the Public Service Commission approves the accounting plan for the project according to B. D. Hilty, of Traverse City, division manager of the company.

Mr. Hilty and district manager Harold Fredberg of Cheboygan were in Charlevoix early Friday morning to break the news about the Big Rock Point project.

Cost of the plant is estimated at $30,000,000 or $10,000,000 more than the cost of building a conventional electric generating plant of similar capacity. The cost is nearly one-third that of the Mackinac bridge.

The reactor will be a direct cycle, forced circulation. boiling water unit capable of producing 50,000 kilowatts of electricity and will have as its primary objective the development of engineering and economic data on high power density and high spacific power. It is scheduled for operation in 1962

"In our opinion, research leading to the development of economical electric power generated by means of nuclear energy can best be carried on in connection with the actual construction and operation of an atomic electric plant," Mr. Karn said.

When informed of the company's decision to proceed with construction of the reactor, John A. McCone, chairman of the Atomic Energy commission said. "A high specific power high power density reactor is one of the essential building blocks of the United States nuclear power development program. I am pleased to learn that Consumers Power Company has decided to build a plant of this type."

The General Electric Company has been selected to furnish the nuclear portion of the project.

The plant, including the conventional power generating portion, will be constructed by Bechtel Corporation, of San Francisco, as prime contractor and engineer-constructor, with General Electric supplying the nuclear reactor, instrumentation, nuclear fuel, element fabrication and power generating equipment. Commonwealth Associates, Inc., of Jackson will provide engineering services in connection with certain facilities.

"We feel that Consumers Power Company has the responsibility of engaging in research and development work for the utilization of nuclear fuel for the generation of low-cost electricity," Mr. Karn said

"Electric use in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula is growing steadily, and there is a certain amount of extra cost involved in transmitting power into the area from generating plants to the south.

"We believe that the construction of a boiling water reactor at Big Rock Point will be a sound means of meeting the growth of electric demand in that part of the state. It will also be an important step toward our goal of producing electric energy at reasonable cost by means of nuclear fuel."

The reactor will be an inherently safe type, he said, and will incorporate the latest developments in safety and control devices.

Mr. Karn noted that the Ato-

The domed structure will house the boiling water reactor: the structure is 151 feet tall, 90 feet across; building immediately to the right of it is the conventional turbine generator part of the plant. Design by Bechtel Corp., San Francisco, with nuclear portions of plant by General Electric Company.

To Stage Men's Golf Tourney On Municipal Course

The annual men's 18-hole best ball tournament will be held at the Municipal golf course Sunday according to Keith Carey who has returned as manager for the sixth season.

Participants in this tourney may choose their own partners and play any time during the day. The defending champions who had a score of 65 were William Bennett and Homer Brady.

Entries are also being taken for the annual Frank Poole trophy tourney to be played early next month. Alvin Bennett is the defending champion of this tournament which will begin July 5. Deadline for filing entries is 6 p.m. Saturday, July 4.

A total of 40 women turned out for the first ladies day of the season Mr. Carey said. It was handicap day with Mrs. Alfred Bergmann. Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. Gordon Moeller turning in low net scores. Mrs. William Supernaw had the low gross score and Mrs. Fritz Puffpaff the high handicap.

Mrs. Carey who will assist with the management of the course and three daughters returned here last week with Mr. Carey after spending the school year at Midland.

Proposed Girls Softball Teams Bring Response

Sixty enthusiastic girls of all ages answered the call for the girls softball teams issued last week by Dean Davenport.

With so many prospective players in wide age group two leagues were formed. One league will be made up of girls in the ninth grade and under. Three teams have been organized and will play Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m.

Three other teams have been organized into a senior women's league. Marilyn Novak is organizing a team to be composed of girls still in high school; Mrs. Dean Davenport jr. and Mrs. Kenneth Balch will head a team made up of recent graduates and Mrs. James Martin is organizing a team of older players. She reported that she now has almost enough players for two teams so the league may be expanded to include four teams. Anyone wishing to play with these teams is asked to call the captains in the age group in which they would play. The senior women's teams will play at 7 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday. More information may be obtained by calling Mr. Davenport.

The girls will make their initial appearance on the diamond

Major League Scout to Hold Tryout Games

Frankfort — A two-day baseball school and tryout camp is scheduled to be held June 26 and 27 at the Lockhart Athletic Field by Ray (Red) Lucas, midwest scout for the San Francisco Giants.

Lucas has been scouting for the Giants for many years and is responsible for getting prospective baseball greats contracts in the big league.

All players from 17 to 25 are urged to keep this date in mind and to report at Lockhart Field, Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27.

Bonnie Shapton on Ted Mack Show

Bonnie Lou Shapton, teenage daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shapton of Lansing, will appear on the Ted Mack show Friday, July 3.

She is a member of a percision dance group known as the Walter-ettes of Lansing is scheduled to appear on Ted Mack television show at 8:30 p.m. Friday, July 3. Bonnie Lou, who is well known here, is the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shapton and Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Nickerson.

City Band To Present First Weekly Concert

The 40-piece Charlevoix city band will open its 1959 summer series of "Concerts in the Park" at 8:30 p.m. next Wednesday under the direction of C. A. Odmark.

The concert will be the first of 10 such programs scheduled for each Wednesday evening until Labor Day.

The band this week will be handicapped by the lack of a stage in East Park. However they will use one of the shuffleboard courts until such time as the new East Park stage will be ready for use even though it will not be completed.

The City Band, composed of volunteer musicians from Charlevoix and the surrounding area, rehearses weekly throughout the year to present these summer concerts. The band is proud of the fact that no composition is played more than once during the series which necessitates more than 110 different compositions during the summer.

The band is supported by the City of Charlevoix and its concerts are intended for the pleasure of its citizens and summer residents.

The city band made the initial contribution which 'kicked off' the drive for funds for the new park stage now under construction. The check for $100 was received from an appreciative summer visitor The band voted to set up the Park Stage Fund. The present drive is an outgrowth of this first contribution.

The band also presented a concert in March which opened the present fund drive which to date has brought in more than $2,000 toward the construction of the park stage now being built.

Harry A. Stewart Named Commander By Legion Post

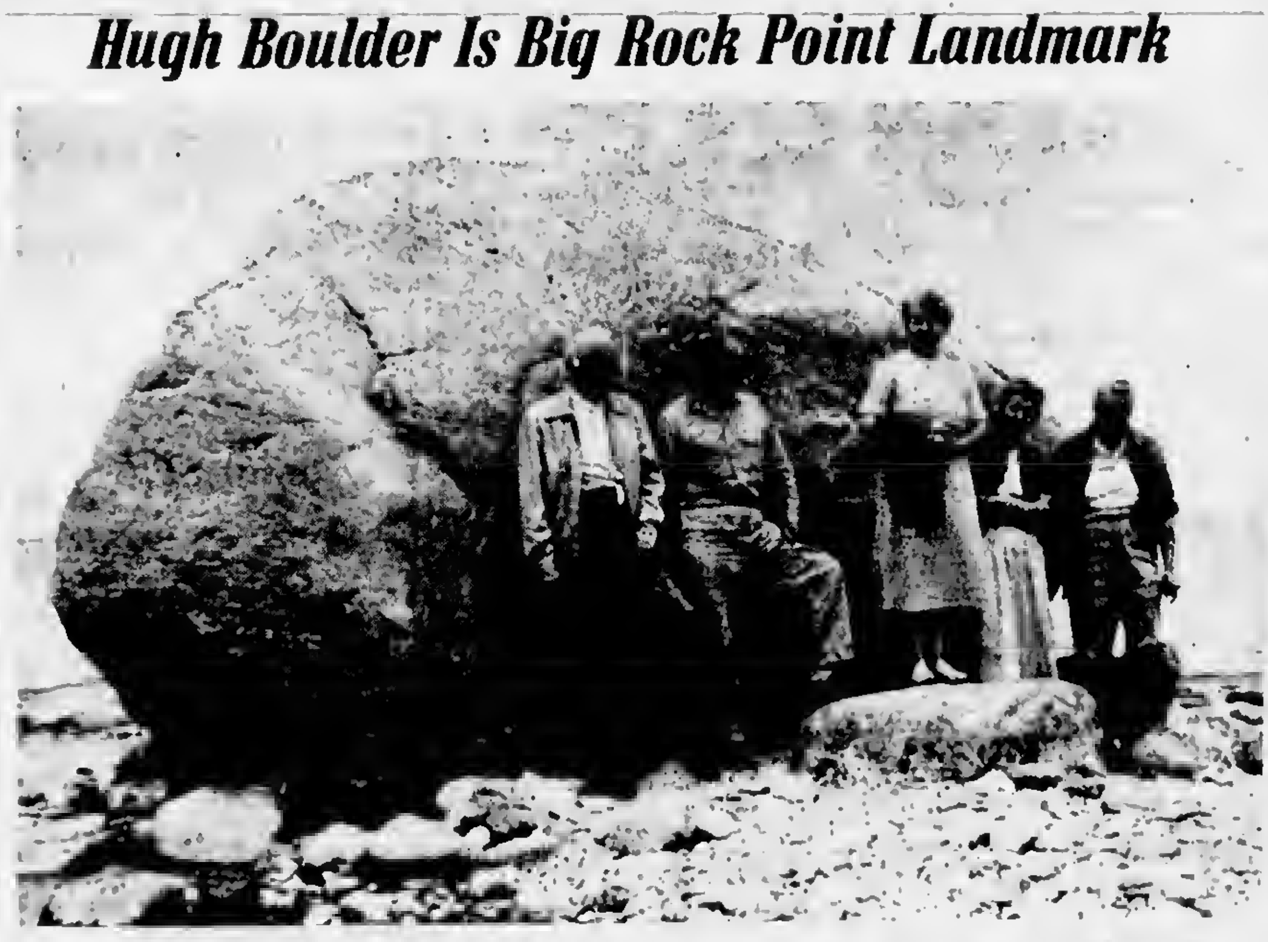
Hugh Boulder Is Big Rock Point Landmark



The huge boulder from which Big Rock Point gets its name also provides the name for the atomic electric plant to be built on the 600 acre tract of land recently purchased by Consumers Power Company, from Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Shanahan. Standing in front of the boulder are (l to r) E. J. Edwards, former manager of the ranch when known as the Waller farm, Mr. Shanahan, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. H. M. Totten and Mrs. Shanahan. During high water levels the rock is about half submerged.

New Laundromat To Hold Grand Opening Saturday

Charlevoix's first self-serve Laundromat will have its grand opening Saturday at 802 Bridge st., Robert McClelland, owner of the Westinghouse installation has announced.

The opening celebration will be featured by providing free washer and dryer service along with refreshment and favors for children, Mr. McClelland said.

Located in the building formerly occupied by Puff's Appliance Center, the building has been attractively redecorated and a comfortable lounge space, provided for patrons. Equipment includes 20 washers and five dryers all coin operated. A convenient parking space is located on the south side of the building.

The self-serve Laundromat will be open 24 hours every day of the week, Mr. McClelland said. Plans have also been made to conveniently serve the yachtmen visiting Charlevoix

Venetian Queen Represents City At Cherry Festival

Wanda Russell, 19-year-old brunet and Charlevoix's 1958 Venetian Queen, was in Traverse City Wednesday evening to represent the city in the National Cherry Festival.

Miss Russell, who attended Flint Junior College this school year, was asked to again represent Charlevoix in the Cherry Queen contest when the Charlevoix JayCees, who are in charge of the selection of the 1959 Venetian Queen, decided to announce the name of the new queen during the coronation ball planned for July 25.

Queen Wanda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Russell, has brown eyes, and hair and is 5 ft. 6 in. in height. She is a 1958 graduate of the Charlevoix high school.

Lifeguards to Start Duties on Local Beaches

Lifeguards will be on Charlevoix's main beaches in the near future, according to Hal M. Hill, city superintendent.

Jim Barry is expected to return to the Depot beach and Joe Etienne to the Ferry ave. beach. Both these beaches are on Lake Charlevoix.

William Hansen, a former local resident who has been living in Miami, Fla., will probably be at the Lake Michigan beach.

The lifeguards are to be on the beaches as soon as the weather clears and becomes warmer.

The hours they will be at the beaches and the plans for swimming instructions will be announced next week.

Free Enterprise Threatened

Public attention has been directed to the biased interpretations that peril free enterprise in a letter by Gordon L. Freedman, president of Freedman Artcraft Engineering Corp., to the editor of the Grand Rapids Press. The letter was published in the Public Pulse column. It is republished here because it presents a situation which could possibly threaten this and other communities that have not been harrassed by labor racketeers.

Editor of The Press: Recently I read in The Grand Rapids Press regarding the sixth dynamite explosion ruining a Mr. Paul B. Ross's independently-operated strip coal mine in Tennessee. In this same issue I also read of the latest exhortations of John L. Lewis. Since then I have not read or heard further whether any law enforcing agency has come to the aid of Mr. Ross.

Until strong impartial legislation is carried out in Washington, it appears that this tyrannical intimidation by the lawless unions will continue to prevail. Mr. Lewis pointed out that he is not going to "join the pack" and chase after Hoffa any time someone yells "stop thief"; that Hoffa is entitled to his chance before the law. It certainly should not be asking too much to expect a man to have his chance for protection of the law in legitimately running his business.

Since last week I have been unable to find further detail regarding this incident. It is difficult to draw any conclusions as to what is behind these bombings other than the intimidation on the part of the UMW to force an independent operator to be unionized. Although there may not be at present legal methods to protect a legitimate business proprietor, I feel that the press of our country should keep the public informed by constantly publicizing these incidents and doing a thorough job of investigation. This is an incident an enterprising reporter could work on until justice is forthcoming.

The management of business and industry is constantly developing and improving incentive plans for the workers. It is about time that there are some incentives besides the dwindling monetary rewards for the person who is shouldering the heavy responsibility of running a business. Unless there is more action towards protecting free enterprise, the business executive will cease to be interested in preserving our capitalistic system. Most labor leaders have dismally failed to help protect our democratic way of life. It will be catastrophic if the independent businessman develops this same lack of statesmanship.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

WASN'T IT GREAT having the North and South Americans in earlier this month? They're so pretty to see and the people aboard always seem to be having such a good time. We happened to meet Dick Lowenstein on the dock. He was reminiscing about the days when the Manitou, the Puritan and some of the others came in several times a week, literally loaded with passengers and freight. Those were the days one could board the Manitou at 8 a.m. for a trip to Mackinac Island where one had an hour or two before returning home at 8 p.m. But that was long ago and far away. It's great fun to remember but it's a changing world.

* * *

HAPPENED to run into Dr. and Mrs. George Buttrick on the street the other day. It's always wonderful to say hello to such wonderful people. We were happy, too, to meet the newest addition to the Buttrick family, a terrier of some kind (we can't remember what) who answers to the name of Roger tho' he has a more dignified kennel name. But Rog is a one-couple pooch and he wouldn't have a thing to do with us. Perhaps he gets that from going to Harvard!

* * *

HAVEN'T YOU enjoyed the flowering shrubs more than usual this spring. It seems to us that they were lovelier than ever perhaps because of the warm weather we had earlier. Mrs. Mina Dawson called our attention to the English hawthorn tree in the Robert Livingston yard on Antrim st. She contends and the prettiest and most perfect of all the hawthorns in town and then there was the wisteria in the DeWitt Peters' yard on Petoskey ave. and a most unusual flowering shrub in the Gordon Moeller's yard on Dixon, just to name a few. Right now the peonies are coming into their own and we noticed lovely beds of them at King Saunders (who shared some of the beautiful blush pink ones with us) and in the P. R. Ross' yard plus a lot of other smaller beds including those at the Carl Kohlers. We love 'em but we sure haven't the green thumb that's necessary to make them grow.

* * *

REMEMBER our story earlier this year about the otter in Round Lake? We mentioned at the time that we knew nothing about the fun-loving little animals. Recently we received a story on them entitled "A Happy Fella" taken from Field and Stream and sent by the Elwood Livingstons now of Naples, Fla. As you might gather from the title, the slick little animals are fun-loving and play all sorts of otter games when together. It was a most interesting story and we thank the Livingstons for sending it. Incidently, the Livingstons send their best wishes to friends here and the message that they'll be in Charlevoix come August for the class of 25 reunion.

* * *

AT ONE TIME this spring the Charlevoix Courier carried a story on a new book about this area written by a former resident, "Legends of Greensky Hill" compiled by Louise Walker, now in the English department at Western State University. Last week we received a copy sent to us by Mrs. V. Y. Tuttle, another former resident now living in Sparta. We had quite a chat with Mrs. Tuttle when she was in town a week ago and this book was one of the things we talked about. Tho' we haven't had time to read the entire book we did enjoy a few chapters of the volume written primarily for children but which makes interesting reading for adults too, especially if one is interested in Indian lore and legend as most everyone in the north country is.

* * *

WHEN MRS. TUTTLE was here she told us she had a set of negatives, made on glass plates, of pictures taken by her father, the late Mr. Harrington. She has offered them to anyone who might care to use them. We told her they were practically priceless for there are so few of those old pictures remaining. You think Charlevoix hasn't changed? If you'll take a look at some of those old pictures you'll see it's changed a great deal, especially in the past 40 years.

* * *

AND THE PLACE is going to change even more, what with the announcement, Friday of the Consumer Power atomic power plant to be constructed just five miles north of Charlevoix. The announcement Friday sure brought to a quick halt all the speculation about what was going in on the property that Ed Shanahan had sold to somebody. The funny part of it all was that no one really guessed what it was going to be. Rumors were flying fast, all of them true, of course, according to the person telling the story. But since Consumers had no operations in this community, no one came close.

* * *

IT'S HARD to realize just what the construction of the $30 million plant will mean to Charlevoix, Hayes township and Charlevoix county. We think it's going to be terrific in many ways. One thing, it's going to open up the north country to industry. Those companies which have felt there was inadequate power supply in this part of Michigan will no longer have that worry. Another thing, Consumers Power, a private industry has already purchased the property and won't be talked out of changing its mind as has been done in the past with federal projects.

* * *

HOW DID THE bass fishermen do over the weekend? A lot of people we know went to the islands but we haven't heard much about their catches.

According to the calendar summer is here. Let's hope that the next three months are as nice as it was over the weekend.

Finland's 250,000 reindeer are a year-round necessity instead of a Christmas novelty. The reindeer, which are mostly domesticated, provide the Finnish people with food, clothing, household utensils, cash income, and transportation, the National Geographic Society says. On short hauls, the animals can pull sleds up to 20 miles an hour.

Miss Kae Marie Belonga Becomes Bride of Leonard K. Burns

St. James Evangelical Lutheran church in Marinette, Wis., was the scene Saturday afternoon of the wedding of Kae Marie Belonga and Leonard K. Burns.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Belonga of Marinette and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burns of this city.

The Rev. Charles Burneister officiated at the double ring service in the presence of more than 200 guests. Bouquets of white gladioli and peonies flanked by palms formed a setting for the service.

Soloist was the bride's uncle, George Mueller, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Burmeister was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a gown of sheer white nylon organza for her wedding. The neckline was edged with pleated nylon urganza and the fitted bodice and short sleeves trimmed with appliqued lace an sequins. The full skirt featured lace panels from the waist to the hemline. Long sheer mitts complimented her gown. A fitted illusion petal cap trimmed with lace and seedpearls secured her full circular veil of pure silk imported English illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Wendy Belonga was her sister's maid of honor and Janice Burns, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of white green-flocked marquisette styled with large round collars edged with green taffeta and green taffeta cummerbunds which fell in streamers in back. Matching white mitts and hats of imported Swiss braid made with puffs of matching braid between rows of Queen's crown and small circular malme veils completed their costumes. They carried white lace fans to which mint green baby mums were attached.

Abagail Hamilton of Monee, Ill., cousin of the bridegroom, as flower girl, wore a floor length gown of yellow taffeta with a white nylon overskirt. A yellow cummerbund ended in a large bow in back. She had yellow flowers in her hair and carried a basket of the same flowers. James Belonga, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Robert Burns of Flat Rock assisted his cousin as best man. Groomsman was Michael Dieters and ushers were Charles Quist of Sheboygan, Wis., cousin of the bride, and John Kamppinen of Marquette.

Mrs. Belonga chose a white linen sheath appliqued with moss green cummerbund for daughter's wedding. White accessories and a corsage of yellow roses complimented her costume. Mrs. Burns, mother of the bridegroom, wore a light blue linen sheath trimmed with white appliqued flowers, white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

After a northern Michigan wedding trip the couple will live at 451 First st., Menominee, Michigan. For traveling the bride wore a light blue linen with a darker blue cummerbund, a matching blue coat, white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of the Marinette high school and the Cradle School of Infant Nursing in Evanston, Ill. She is presently employed at St. Joseph Lloyd Hospital in Menominee, Mich.

The bridegroom is a 1954 graduate of the Charlevoix high school and a veteran of two years in the U. S. Army. He is presently enrolled at Northern Michigan College where he affiliated with Alpha Gamma Rho and Phi Alpha Pi fraternities.

Wedding guests were present from St. Paul, Minn., Charlevoix, Madison, Wis., Sheboygan, Wis., Monee, Ill., Manistique, Mich., Beaver, Wis., Marquette, Waterloo, Wis., and Great Lakes, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs' Burns, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at the rehearsal dinner held at the Silver Dome Surf room Friday evening.

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder have announced the engagement of their daughter, Angela, to Donald Van Sergeant.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Sergeant of Coloma, Michigan.

A September wedding is being planned.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and attended the University of Miami. Mr. Sergeant is a student at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids.

The engagement of Gail Louise Kelly to Gary Lee Smith has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kelly

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith

Wedding plans have not been completed by the couple.

Both are 1959 graduates of the Charlevoix high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Green Have Returned from Honeymoon in Mexico

The couple was married recently at the Sunnyside Methodist church in Wichita Falls. The Rev. Michael Daves officiated at the service before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli. Tesa Roberts was the organist and Mrs. Marie Terrell the soloist.

The bride is the former Mary Carlson, daughter of Albert Carlson of Charlevoix and the late Mrs. Carlson. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil L. Green sr. of Wichita Falls are the parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a ballerina length gown of white satin and lace for her wedding. The fitted bodice featured a square neckline outlined with lace and long fitted sleeves. The full skirt had a harem hemline and a large bow in the back. A band of net and lace secured her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Jacqueline Koch of Ann Arbor, as maid of honor, wore a gown of Champagne lace and net over satin fashioned with a full ballerina length skirt and lace bodice and worn with a matching lace jacket and a satin cumberbund. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

Mrs. Green, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pink dress, matching accessories and a corsage of blue carnations.

A reception followed in the church parlors.

The bride is a graduate of East Jordan high school and the University of Michigan. She is presently stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base as a lieutenant in charge of the Physical Therapy Dept. Her husband is a graduate of Wichita Falls high school. He is a Sergeant in the Air Force.

Miss Joan Heilig Wedding Solemnized Saturday Morning at St. Mary's Church

Joan Heilig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Heilig, became the bride of Frederick A. Faber, son of Edward Faber of Beal City and the late Mrs. Faber, at St. Mary's church here Saturday.

The Rev. E. Francis Denay performed the double ring service during the Nuptial Mass. Arrangements of pink and white peonies decorated the altar for the service.

Linda Selvig of Byron Center was the organist and Mary Ann McLaughlin of Grand Rapids the soloist. She sang "Panis Angelicus," "Mary at Thy Feet is Kneeling" and "Ave Maria."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a gown of white nylon organza over tulle and satin for her wedding. The gown was fashioned with a basque bodice which had a camisole neckline appliqued with delicate Venise lace blossoms centered with tiny seedpearls. The short draped shirred sleeves were also accented with the lace appliques and complimented by elbow length gloves. The bouffant skirt of misty nylon organza was enhanced by scattered Venise lace blossoms. A crown of seedpearls and sequins secured her fingertip veil. She carried a white prayer book topped with an arrangement of white geranium blossoms centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Fred Streng of Beal City, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a bellerina length gown of white organdy over orchid silk taffeta. It had a basque bodice complimented by Venetian lace which outlines its princess lines and circled the waist, scoop neckline and cap sleeves.

Jean Andres of Big Rapids, cousin of the bridegroom, and Louise Carr of Sand Lake as bridesmaids wore gowns identical to the honor attendant's of white organdy over pink silk taffeta.

All wore matching headdresses and carried cascade bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Donald Heilig, brother of the brde, assisted the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Ray Simmer and Joseph Theilin, cousin of the bridegroom, both of Beal City. Seating the guests were Mr. Streng and William Golden.

Mrs. Heilig wore a blue silk print dress, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations for her daughter's wedding.

A wedding breakfast was held at St. Mary's school hall immediately following the wedding. Carolyn Stoel, Marylee Baker, Mrs. Edgar Culbertson and Betty Blissett assisted. An evening reception and dance was held at Beal City Saturday evening.

For traveling on their northern Michigan wedding trip the bride selected a black and white checked two-piece suit dress white accessories and a white orchid corsage. After July 1 the couple will be at home at 121 Waverly S. E. Grand Rapids.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and the Mercy Central School of Nursing in Grand Rapids. The bridegroom is a graduate of Beal City high school and a veteran of two years service in the U. S. Army. He is presently attending Ferris Institute in Big Rapids.

- Mrs. Edward Pusy arrived Sunday from Alma to spend several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Everts.

SMALL WONDER

So effective are today's wonder drugs that a single dose contains more cure than a bottle-full of yesteryear's medicines.

Wonder drugs, therefore, are usually prescribed in small quantities and you may feel that you are paying a lot for a little medicine. On the contrary. Your money never bought more CURE than it does today.

APPRECIATION

We would publicly like to commend Sheriff Glenn E. Rose, his deputy, Philo Sumner and the State Police for their quick action in apprehending two persons who broke into our home in our absence and took several items including an expensive watch belonging to our son, Rolland. With few clues they were able to recover the stolen items and to bring the two boys to justice. As residents of the county we feel that Charlevoix county is indeed fortunate to have such capable officers.

Softball Results

Freedmans took over the Class A league lead this week with three wins.

The U. S. Coast Guard gave the leaders a scare for a short time before going down to defeat by a score of 4 to 1. Errors gave the victors three unearned runs in the first inning. Bob Klooster continued to pitch outstanding ball as he limited the service team to one hit, a double by Dick Harju. Ed Culbertson gave the victors three scattered hits, all singles.

Freedmans had little trouble with the Airport Inn though Fritz Puffpaff's homer on the opening pitch of the game gave the Inn a brief 1 to 0 lead. Three runs in the third sewed the game up for the craftsmen. Hank Klooster had two singles for the victors. Puffpaff had three of the losers' four hits.

The City Merchants got into the win column with a well-played 3 to 2 win over the Airport Inn. Dick VanRaaphorst's single in the bottom of the sixth scored Quint Walker with the winning run. Guy Swanson and Walker had two safeties each for the winners.

American Mold remained one game out of first place by downing the Merchants 6 to 3. Three unearned runs in the first inning proved to be the winning margin.

Peanut League Champs Hold Own In Early Games

Action in the Peanut league is attracting plenty of attention this season as last year's champions, a group of hard-hitting youngsters from Barnard, picked up where they left off last fall and are again leading the league, according to Dean Davenport, softball director.

In one of the best peanut games ever played, the Barnard Braves edged the LaBlance Dodgers 3 to 1 by scoring all three runs in the fifth inning before coasting in for victory. Mike Crain's single with the bases loaded was the big blow as both teams played heads-up ball with several sensational plays marking the action.

Earlier the Braves downed the Pirates 10 to 4 after breaking a fifth inning tie. Joe Brun hit a grand slam homer in the big fifth inning.

The Zephyr Red Devils lost two lopsided games during the week, losing to the Pirates 26 to 4 and to the Cardinals 21 to 10.

The Tigers split their games, winning from the Uhrick Red Sox 7 to 6 and dropping a 6 to 5 contest to the Dodgers. In their victory the Red Sox scored all their runs in the late innings. Andy Carey had two big hits for the winners while Rick Grunch had three for the losers. Dave Norton chipped in with a home run.

In the Dodger tilt, the White Cross nine scored five times in the first two innings but the Dodgers overcame the handicap scoring three runs in the sixth for the win.

Braves	2	0
Tigers	1	1
Dodgers	1	1

Funeral Services Held Monday for Clarence Withers

Clarenee J. Withers, 67, former local resident and father of Mrs. E. James Hiller, died Saturday at the Charlevoix hospital where he had been a patient since May 27 when he was brought here via ambulance from Wyandotte where he had lived since 1940. He had suffered a stroke at his home in Wyandotte May 17.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Winchester Funeral Home with the Rev. Fred W. McNeil officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix July 2, 1891, Mr. Withers was married to the former Anna J. Alcock in Charlevoix in 1919. She preceded him in death in December 1958. He was an electrician by trade and followed this line of work here and in Wyandotte. He was a member of Wyandotte F. & A. M. lodge No. 170 and attended the Methodist church.

Besides Mrs. Hiller, he is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Edward Heideman of Corvallis, Ore.; two sons, Harry of Wyandotte and Stanley of Alabama; 14 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Rowley Williams and a brother, Harold (Pete) Withers, both of Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Curtis at Home In California Following Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Gene Curtis are now making their home at 1336 High street, Alameda, Calif., following their wedding in Mason City, Iowa, recently.

The bride is the former Myrna Ann DeYoung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver DeYoung of Mason City. Mr. Curtis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Curtis of Charlevoix.

The couple was married at Trinity Lutheran church in Mason City June 7. The Rev. L. R. Hanson officiated at the double ring service in the presence of more than 100 guests. Arrangements of white gladioli and peonies decorated the church for the service. Traditional wedding marches were played by the church organist. The soloist sang "Our True Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length gown of white lace over satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, tapered sleeves, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt for her wedding. A seedpearl tiara secured her fingertip length veil and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Carol Sue Brown, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, and Gail Ann Curtis, sister of the bridegroom, and Patricia Gerard as bridesmaids wore identical street length gowns of powder blue water print taffeta and matching headbands and carried bouquets of blue and white carnations.

William McClanaghan of Ironton assisted the bridegroom as best man. Dennis DeYoung, brother of the bride, and William Wright were ushers.

Mrs. DeYoung selected a navy shantung dress and pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Curtis mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue and white print jacket dress and white accessories. Each had a corsage of blue and white carnations.

Following the reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left on a wedding trip through Minnesota before leaving for the west coast. For traveling the bride wore a navy suit with white accents and navy accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Mason City, Iowa, high school. Mr. Curtis, a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, is a veteran of two years service with the U. S. Navy. He is currently serving as an Electrician's mate third class at the Naval Air Station at Alameda.

In Mason City for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis and daughter, Gail, and son, Gary on leave from the U. S. Navy, Mrs. Curtis mother, Mrs. Charles Reinhart, and Mr. and Mrs. William McClanaghan.

Baby Food

Within an hour or two after a whitetail fawn is born the youngster has its first taste of its mother's milk. This initial meal is taken with both the infant and the mother in a reclining position, for the fawn is usually too wobbly during its first half-day in the world to successfully stand erect and reach its mother's udder. But after twelve hours or so have passed sufficient strength has flowed into the spindly legs to enable the fawn to nurse from a standing position.

For the first few weeks of life the fawn nurses at two or three hour intervals, and for approximately two minutes at a time, filling its lean little belly with rich deer milk. The creamy liquid is superior in quality even to high-grade Jersey cow milk, possessing more than twice the solids and having nearly three times as much fat and triple the amount of protein that a Jersey can produce. Early pioneers in America attempted to domesticate deer in the hope of providing themselves with a steady supply of the whitetail's rich milk. But the experiment would not work. Doubtlessly, deer udders were too small to furnish enough milk to make the effort worthwhile, and fencing in the high jumping animals was an almost impossible task.

Long before a fawn loses interest in its mother's milk it finds tender grasses and browsings attractive. Before two or three weeks of life have passed the first timid nibbles of vegetation are taken. By the end of a month occasional acorns and other hard foods are devoured.

Most fawns are weaned shortly after reaching four months of age and some do not nurse after attaining their third month. However, a fawn may attempt an occasional nip of its mother's milk until the breeding season begins in the late fall. In the North the infantile spots of fawns usually disappear early in the fall when weaning is over. By this time large fawns may weigh as much as seventy-five pounds, being almost as large as some adult does. They are putting off childish ways and appearances, and a very few of the female fawns will mate and bear their own young in the forthcoming spring.

Childhood is brief in the whitetail tribe.

SUNDEW REPORTS

Final preparations for the arrival of the inspectors (from the district office) were made Monday and Tuesday. Jobs partially done were completed. All hands made a final clean-op beginning at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday. There was a fast switch to dress uniforms at 8 a.m. as we fell in on the quarter deck for personnel inspection by Captain Warner, head of the inspection party.

After an inspection of all compartments of the ship we got underway after lunch. Drills commenced as soon as the ship cleared the Charlevoix harbor. All hands abandoned ship as well as taking part in man overboard, fire and rescue, fire and numerous other drills. Further administrative inspection was continued Thursday.

Friday we were underway early to deliver some tanks and blocks to Lansing's Shoals light where the job of converting the heating system from coal to fuel oil is being completed. Returned to Charlevoix late Friday to spend the weekend in port. All hands were commended on the excellent condition of the ship and their condoct and execution of duties doring drills.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

A welcome to Cecil Bryant CS1 (Commissaryman) and family. Bryant arrived this last week from Hawaii where he was attached to the USCG Radio Station. Prior to duty in Hawaii, he served in the Second and Eighth Coast Guard Districts and also in Alaska. He and his family will live at 102 Wood st. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bryant were originally from Louisville, Ky. Always good news when there are advancements to report. Wally Wenzel and Bill Sistek sewed on their first crows, Wally QM3 and Bill EN1. Also Mr. Strother was promoted to Chief Machinist from Machinist. Congratulations to all. A farewell to Bib Fitz DC2 as he departs for civilian life after four years active duty.

Guild Notes . . .

The Woman's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital has completed plans for several fond raising projects to be held doring the next two months according to Mrs. Karl Scholtz, Guild president.

The first of these will be a bake sale to be held outside Puff's Appliance on Bridge St. Thorsday, July 2, with Mrs. Chester Belfy, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, in charge.

Workers for the booth which will open at 9:30 a.m. and remain in operation ontil all goods are sold, according to Mrs. Belfy who asks that anyone who could give some time to the project call her at the earliest possible date.

Plans also are being completed for the annual fashion show and luncheon tentatively scheduled for July 14. The Ways and Means committee will complete the details this week.

The Guild will also operate a booth doring the Venetian Night weekend selling novelties and candy. A second bake sate will be held later in the summer.

Fonds derived from the projects will be used to purchase equipment for the Charlevoix hospital. The Guild is currently raising money to underwrite the costs of new dishes purchased for the hospital.

Mrs. C. T. Symons jr. has ordered several new candies which are on sale at various places in the community.

Music Program Enrolls 109 Students in Summer Course

The summer instrumental music program sponsored by the Charlevoix board of education got underway this week according to C. A. Odmark, director of the program.

Open to all instrumental music students in the Charlevoix school district, the program has attracted a record enrollment of 109 students on opening day with late enrollments expected to swell the number to 120 by the end of the first week.

The sessions are held daily at the high school band room. Each registrant is scheduled for one meeting per week either for a private lesson or in a small group.

This summer program has become an important part of the instrumental music department of the local high school which has more than 200 students enrolled in its various bands. The summer session will continue for seven weeks, concluding at the end of the first week in August.

To Build Atomic Electric Plant

mic Energy Commisssion authorization bill (S 2094) recently passed by the Congress contains a provision under which the Atomic Energy Commission may furnish limited research and development assistance and waive certain of the charges for the use of nuclear fuel for projects such as that to be built by Consumers. He said the company is investigating the possibility of applying for such assistance but that no decision has been reached on this matter.

Mr. Karn said Consumers will undartake an extensive research and development program on reactor core and fuel design in co-operation with General Electric, which will contribute substantially toward the cost of this work. The goal will be to increase the plant's capacity from an initial 50,000 kilowatts to 75.000 kw through refinments and technical developments to take place over a period of 4½ years after the plant goes into operation in 1962.

The plant will have a forced circulation reactor, with external steam separation, capable of operating at pressures of from 1,000 to 1,450 pounds per square inch. The reactor will be contained within a steel capsule 151 feet tall and 90 feet in diameter. Other buildings will include the conventional turbine-generator building, offices, and shops. During the developmental period the fuel used will be zircaloy-clad uranium oxide pellets, slightly enriched.

Mr. Karn expressed the opinion that the boiling water type of reactor has reached a higher state of development than any other.

In this type of reactor, heat produced through nuclear fission converts water into steam. The steam then spins the blades of a conventional turbine-generator, producing electricity. Boiling water reactors are now in operation, he said, at the Argonne National Laboratories, Chicago, Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Pleasanton, California, with more advanced reactors of the same general type under construction at Morris, Ill., near Chicago, and Elk River, Minnesota. Another hoiling water reactor is scheduled for construction near Eureka, California.

The Consumers project at Big Rock Point will not affect the company's participation in the Enrico Fermi atomic power plant project near Monroe, where Consumers is cooperating with The Detroit Edison Company and other utility and industrial companies in the development of a "fast breeder" reactor, producing plutonium as a by-product. Mr. Karn said the boiling water type reactor planned for Big Rock Point differs considerably from the fast breeder type, and that the company stands to gain increased knowledge in the atomic field through participation in both projects.

Five Sea Scouts Leave Saturday for Nat'l Camp

Five Charlevoix Sea Scouts will be among the 30 Scouts of the Scenic Trails Council who will depart Saturday for a trip to the Philmont Scout Camp in New Mexico.

Accompanied by Harvey Griswold of Petoskey, northern district Boy Scout representative, and two other adults the boys will spend Sunday in Chicago where they will enjoy guided tours of the city before boarding the Denver Zephyr for the trip west.

They will arrive in Denver at 9:30 a.m. Monday and spend the morning touring the city before leaving for Trinidad, Colo. enroute to Philmont, N.M.

At Philmont they will spend 12 days in the back country enjoying camping out, mountain climbing and other outdoor activities.

They will leave Philmont July 19 for the return trip with an overnight stopover at the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. They will arrive home July 20.

The local Sea Scouts are enjoying this fabulous trip as the result of assistance given them by their sponsoring organization, the Kiwanis club. Most boys are earning funds for half the cost of the trip with the service club underwriting the remainder of the cost.

Barnard Braves Hold Lead In Peanut League

The Barnard Braves continue to lead the Peanut league though they have three tough games remaining before the first round is over.

The Braves had their biggest scare last week when the Zephyr Devils led 3 to 1 before Barnard scored eight runs in the sixth inning to pull out of danger before winning 13 to 4.

In the comeback game of the week, the Red Sox scored seven runs in the bottom of the 11th to edge the Pirates 12 to 11. Frank Kelly knocked in the tieing run and scored the winning [illegible] Doug Winnell allowed the Pirates only one hit.

The Pirates lost another heart-[illegible] the Cardinal [illegible] in the bottom of the ninth to win 6 to 2. In another well-played contest, the Tigers won over the Cardinals 8 to 4.

Two Bound Over To Circut Court

Two men were bound over to the next term of circuit court after appearing before Justice John Connolly in justice court here this week.

Charles F. Dexter, 21, of East Jordan, charged with breaking and entering in the night-time, waived examination and was bound over to circuit court. He is being held in the county jail after failing to furnish bond of $500. He is charged with breaking and entering the Golden Rule service station in East Jordan sometime during the night of June 24-25. The arrest was made by the State Police.

Harold J. Baxter, 49, of Grand Rapids, charged with obtaining narcotics under false names, also was bound over to circuit court after waiving examination on the charge. Bond was set at $500 which later was furnished. The arrest was made by Sheriff's department.

Plans Started For Waterfront Fair in August

Plans for the first annual Waterfront Fair to be held here August 1 have been announced by Tom Symons, secretary-manager of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the event.

Mrs. Edward Lemcke has been named general chairman of the fair at which artists in all fields of art will be invited to display their works. Assisting Mrs. Lemcke will be Mrs. Earl A. Young, Mrs. Clark Coulter, Mrs. Jack Rader, Mrs. Paul Olson, Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff and Mrs. Max Hosmer.

Mike Church, supervisor of Special Projects, University of Michigan Extension Service and D. Alexander Zawacki, head of Art Department at Central Michigan University, will be in Charlevoix within the week to consult with the committee on the presentation of the fair which already has attracted many entries in all fields.

All entries will be rated by a panel of outstanding judges if the people wish to have their entries judged.

E. L. Kramer has offered a $50 purchase prize for the outstanding ceramic entry in the Fair.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce booth on Bridge st. or from committee members.

Tragedy Awaits Careless Drivers This Weekend

With the reminder to motorists that over the years the Fourth of July has been the second worst holiday period in highway fatalities, the State Police hope the tradition can be broken this year with an improved driving record.

They are bending all their efforts toward that objective with intensified patrols and lengthened shifts.

The first holiday of the summer season, the Memorial Day weekend, showed a marked increase in the rate of deaths in the state over last year. In the 54-hour period this year 15 persons were killed, and although the same number were killed last years, it was in the longer period of 78 hours.

Last year 15 persons died in 13 fatal accidents over the Fourth in the 78-hour weekend. This year, with the Fourth falling on Saturday and the shorter 54-hour period, State Police fear many may try to squeeze too long a trip into too short a time, resulting in more accidents and deaths.

The State Police will be assisted by 129 National Guardsmen and will pay particular attention to the routes of heaviest travel and high accident rates. Pass days have been cancelled and patrol shifts lengthened from eight to 10 hours from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday. Sheriffs will have 96 Guardsmen helping them.

If the weather is good, authorities believe a new high traffic record for the holiday may be approached, which means multiplied exposure to accidents. Chances for dying in an accident over a holiday increase by about one-fourth.

"Deaths have been increasing this year, which should be a warning," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. It's up to the drivers as to whether they want a safe holiday or a bad one. But if they want a safe one there is only one way — safe driving."

Close Entries List Saturday for Poole Golf Tournament

Golfers planning to participate in the annual Frank Poole trophy tournament at the Charlevoix municipal golf course are reminded that the deadline for entering the event is 6 p.m. Saturday.

Keith Carey, manager of the course, said that entries could be made by telephone.

Entries have been slow in coming, he added, as he urged all those planning to enter to do so as soon as possible.

Pairings will be made immediately following the closing and posted later Saturday evening so the first round of play can get underway the following day.

Forty players entered the 18 hole best ball tourney Sunday. Top scorers in the handicap flight were Deano Davenport and Terry Rice who posted a score of 68; Lyle King and Bob Withers were second with a 69.

In the low ball without a handicap division Perry Smith and Bill Lusk posted a 75 followed by Lyle Miles and Bill Supernaw with a 78. The teams of Ken Cellrer and Kit Carson and Joe Etienne and Guy Swanson posted scores of 79

A total of 31 players turned out for the weekly ladies day last Wednesday. Mrs. John Swanson with 11 and Mrs. Franklin Ochs with 14 place first and second in the low putts division. Other special prices were won by Mrs. Lyle Miles, Mrs. Harold Withers, Mrs. Melvin Plum and Mrs. Edward Swanson.

C. Of C. Booth to Be Open Daily

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce information booth located on Round lake between Mason and Antrim sts. on Bridge st. is now open daily according to C. T. Symons jr., secretary-manager of the chamber.

The booth will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily except Sunday when it will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Paul Kohler has been engaged as receptionist at the booth for the summer months, Mr. Symons said.

Hospital Guild To Sponsor Fifth Fashion Show

The fifth annual fashion show and luncheon sponsored by the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital will be presented at the Beach Hotel Tuesday, July 14, Mrs. Karl Schultz, Guild president, has announced.

The style show will feature summer day time and early evening fashions as well as a preview of fall styles presented by Polly Kay Inc. and Shop of the Gulls.

Mrs. Chester Belfy, as chairman of the Ways and Means committee is general chairman of the event.

Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from Mrs. Belfy, Mrs. S. E. Soleman, Mrs. James Coleman, and at the Polly Kay shop, Shop of the Gulls and the Beach Hotel.

Empire Tool Company To Build Plant Here

A division of the Empire Tool Company owned by Don Shepard of Detroit will be moved to Charlevoix later this year it was announced Wednesday.

The company manufactures special tools for the machine tool industry. It features a widely diversified line of these special tools thus assuring year-around employment.

A new building to house the industry will be constructed on property located on US 31 North which has been made available by Hal Forbrig and the city of Charlevoix. The fireproof structure will be built this summer Mr. Shepard plans to move the industry here as soon as the building is completed.

Information regarding the size of the structure and the number of people who will be employed have not been determined at this time. However, it is understood that the plant will be large enough to allow for expansion and that the number of employees will be increased as equipment is installed.

Mr. Shepard was in Charlevoix Monday to complete the plans for moving the industry here. At that time he met with Mayor E. James Hiller, City Supt. Hal M. Hill, Earl A. Young and Mr. Forbrig through whose combined efforts the industry is being brought to northern Michigan.

Mr. Shepard has property on Lake Charlevoix near East Jordan which he plans to develop as a summer home. He made the trip to Charlevoix via company plane. The fact that Charlevoix is easily accessible by air was one of the important factors in bringing the industry here.

Torch Lake Group To Stage Annual Auction Saturday

The Upper Torch Lake Association will stage its annual auction sale at the fire hall at Eastport Saturday according to Guy McPherson, president of the sponsoring organization.

Proceeds from the auction will go to the Upper Torch Lake fire department.

Furniture, appliances, clothing and white elephants will be auctioned at the sale which is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

Postmaster General Visits Camp Charlevoix

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield pictured at the Charlevoix airport after bringing his grandson, Terry, of Flint to Camp Charlevoix for the summer season.

For the Postmaster General and Ken Smith, manager — owner of the popular camp in the north shore of Lake Charlevoix, it was a happy reunion for Terry's dad, Bud, now a Flint businessman, had been a camper here some 25 years ago when Mr. Smith was a young counsellor and the camp was operated by Lewis Reiman.

This is Terry's third summer at the camp where his father was enrolled for five years early in the 1930's.

CMU Building Science Lab on Beaver Island

St. James, Beaver Island — Construction of a natural science laboratory center here by Central Michigan University is nearing completion according to CMU President Judson W. Foust.

The new center is expected to be completed by Aug. 1. This $30,000 science laboratory is being built on a completely self-liquidating basis from Field Services projects and Alumni donations.

Much of the work done at the laboratory will be during the summer months by conference and workshop groups, short courses and researchers. Field trips also will be made during the regular school year.

There is also the possibility that the Island Center will be used as a long range research and experiment station in the future. At present most of the conservation and biological research has been confined to the campus.

The work to be carried out at the new Natural Science laboratory Center will be an extension of conservation and Nature Study that has been conducted at Higgins Lake for the past 22 years. At Higgins Lake the University has used the facilities of the Conservation Department.

Plan Breakfast Meet for Retailers Here July 30th

Representatives of the Michigan Retailers Association will be in Charlevoix on July 30 to meet with all retailers in the Charlevoix area.

Richard O. Cook of Lansing, assistant executive vice president, and Robert Boyll of Cadillac, district representative of the association, will meet with the retailers at a breakfast to be held at the Grey Gables Inn at 8 a.m. on July 30. They will speak on new and oroposed legislation which will effect retailers.

Tom Symons, secretary-manager of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, who is making the arrangements for the meeting said that this meeting should hold a definite interest for all persons who have a commodity to sell whether it is food in a restaurant, lodging for a traveler or an item to be sold over the counter in a grocery, hardware or drug store. He urged all retailers to plan to attend the breakfast meeting.

ODDS 'N ENDS

BY FRAN MARTIN

'TIS SUMMER . . not only because the calendar says so but because there's signs of the season all around us. The bright sunny days almost too hot for comfort, the crowded beaches when temperatures climb, kids looking red as lobsters or brown as berries, everyone planning picnics, cookouts, trips, greeting our summer friends who are arriving by the dozen, the arrival of the first cruisers, strawberries, swim suits in the windows up and down the street. Oh, ever so many more real signs of the season. Sure hope we have a wonderful summer and that all our visitors enjoy every day of their stay with us.

* * *

GOING OUT TO wave at the Queen, (Elizabeth, of course) as she cruises by our doorstep come Sunday? . . . Everyone's been enjoying the news of the dedication of the St. Lawrence Seaway . . . and many are realizing for the first time what it's going to mean to the Great Lakes area in years to come . . . But we're not kidding about waving to the Queen as she cruises by aboard the Brittania enroute to Chicago . . . Wouldn't be a bit surprised if some of our boatmen did make the jaunt.

* * *

THREE OF OUR Coast Guardsmen aboard one of the many small craft which are serving as escorts to the small fleet that's accompanying Her Higness' floating palace . . . They're Chief Del Reynolds, Harvey Cole and Ed Culbertson who left last week for Mackinac Island where they joined other Guardsmen aboard the island's 40 foot patrol boat for the trip to Detroit where they joined with a fleet of some 60 or so 30 and 40 foot patrol boats which will run interference and keep off uninvited spectators from the main section of the group accompanying the royal yacht . . . several Coast Guard and Navy vessels as well as English frigates .. . It should be a very impressive sight . . . As far as we can find out this will be the first time royalty has passed by since the days of 'King' Strang and his Mormon kingdom.

* * *

WE MADE THE mistake last week of mentioning the lack of bass news . . . Bud Bergmann informed us that Mr. and Mrs. Collins of the Belvedere along with their guests including six Bergmann Brothers and Dick Farmer had caught their limits on the opening weekend of the season . . . He also added that 'Doc' Collins came home with the biggest bass . . . one that weighed 4 3/4 pounds . . . And to prove that there were bass around these parts he brought us a fillet . . . and was it good.

* * *

WE'D LIKE TO take this opportunity to wish our Sea Scouts 'smooth sailing' on their trip to Philmont, N. M. . . . The Scouts, five strong, will join with 25 others from the Scenic Trails Council for the three weeks trip . . . It's the first time Charlevoix ever sent that many Scouts on such a trip and we're bustin' with pride . . . We hope they have a whale of a time . . . They've promised to send us weekly reports on their adventure so you will be reading about it and enjoying it with them . . . Elsewhere in this week's issue you will see the pictures of the quintet and the beautiful new flag they'll be taking with them to tell the world they're from Charlevoix, Michigan.

* * *

WE HAVEN'T SEEN them yet but we understand that there's a rose tree in bloom right now down at the Clarence Bartlett residence on Mason st. . . . it's called the Gale Borden rose tree . . . and that there's a second one, the Gold Cup, which will be bursting into bloom shortly . . . We've never seen a rose tree so we're looking forward to seeing these.

* * *

IT'S A LONG time from July 4, 1776 . . . a matter of some 183 years . . . probably the greatest 183 years since time began . . . Ever stop to think of all the changes in those years? . . . Let's face it . . . did you ever stop to think of all the changes in the past 25 years . . . Foremost among these are the various means of transportation that bring the entire world closer together every day . . . closer together than the original 13 colonies were . . . There's only one thing wrong . . . these all demand speed . . . lots of it . . . and too many people make like they want to circle the globe in a single weekend . . . such as the forthcoming holiday weekend . . . and that isn't exactly good especially on a crowded highway . . . What we're trying to say is this . . . for heaven's sake, won't you be careful if you have to be on the highway this weekend . . . Remember, you have to look out not only for yourself but for the other guy too . . . As long as you're doing that you'll be too busy to get involved in unnecessary things . . . We'd like to see you-all around come Monday.

* * *

MAY WE BE among the first to offer our congratulations and best wishes to a couple of our oldest couples . . . The George Meggisons who'll be observing their 66th anniversary tomorrow and the Ben Yettaws who'll observe their 61st the following day . . We think it's most unusual to have two such anniversaries in one community.

* * *

DID YOU EVER see the roses any lovelier than they are right now? . . . We noticed heavenly ones on our corner at the Peters residence . . . and we had a lovely bouquet of them when Mrs. E. J. Edwards shared her prettiest ones with us

* * *

HERE'S ONE FOR the books we think . . . It all started a couple weeks ago when Mike LaSchiva's family (Mike, you remember, is stationed at the Coast Guard Lifeboat station here) had a chance for a ride to her home in Racine, Wis. . . . It seemed like a wonderful opportunity so Mrs. L. hurried around and got herself and three youngsters all packed . . . But at 9 p.m. the night before they were to leave the ride fell through . . . Everyone was so disappointed that they decided to go by bus for a two week's visit . . . After several days in Racine they had a chance to go to Rockford, Ill., to visit relatives but before they had completed their visit two of the youngsters came down with measles . . . After recovering from this childhood disease they returned to Racine and were about to board the bus for home when all three came down with the mumps . . . Mike's getting pretty tired of being alone and he's hoping that the kids can get home this week before they get something else . . . But did you ever see it fail when kids are involved.

* * *

ON THE FRONT page of this week's paper you'll see the kind of story every newspaper loves to report . . . something new for our community . . . It's the second time in as many weeks that there's been good news for the residents of our community . . . We hope you will all appreciate the hard work that's gone into this project.

SUNDEW REPORTS

'The ship' remained in Charlevoix Monday and Tuesday. Several of the crew went to Kinross Airforce Base near the Soo for supplies on Tuesday. Those who stayed here finished out-loading spar buoys in preparation for the annual spar run.

On Wednesday we departed for the Grand Traverse Bay area to begin the replacement of spar buoys. While in the Traverse City area we placed a special buoy in deep water at the request of the Great Lakes Research Institute. They will use the buoy as a marker for placing bottles at various depths to note the rate of Photosynthesis when effected by different intensities of light.

We were able to return to port Wednesday night but were underway again Thursday morning. We replaced spars in Lake Michigan off Charlevoix. The shallow water in spots necessitated the use of the small ramp boat. After anchoring off Whiskey Island (in the Beaver group) Thursday night we finished most of the spar replacement and also completed the job of re-fueling White Shoal light on Friday. The latter job had been interrupted by rough weather two weeks before. Returned to Charlevoix at 6 p.m. Friday, remaining in port for the weekend.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

More news from the distaff side . . . Mrs Barbara Rosinski came from Escanaba. Sue and 'Ski' are living on West Garfield ave. Also Mrs. Gideon came from Virginia to join husband, Bob. They are living on Antrim st. in the apartment vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Fitz . . . Mike Eardly who has spent long days in the hospital at Detroit returned to the ship Wednesday evening just long enough to pick up orders to attend Electrician's Mate school at Groton, Conn . . . A farewell to George Lizius. He returned to Chicago with his wife after four years active duty in the Coast Guard

Community's Oldest Couple to Observe 66th Wedding Anniversary

Charlevoix's oldest couple, Mr. and Mrs. George Meggison, will observe their sixty-sixth wedding anniversary Friday, July 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Meggison were married in Charlevoix July 3, 1893, and have always resided in the Charlevoix area.

Following their marriage the couple made their home in the growing community where Mr. Meggison worked as a carpenter. In 1899 they moved to a farm in Marion township where they made their home until 1942 when Mr. Meggison retired as a farmer and they moved to their present home.

Mr. Meggison gained reknown when he was recognized by Michigan State University as a Master Farmer. His fine herd of Jersey cattle also was well known thruout the state.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Meggison are charter members of the First Methodist church here and of the Marion Center Grange. They also are members of the Farm Bureau and the Ancient Order of Gleaners.

Mr. Meggison was born in Canada, Dec. 26, 1866, and came to northern Michigan with his family at the age of 16 years. Mrs. Meggison, the former Edith Phelps, was born in Norwood township March 20, 1873, and moved to Charlevoix with her family in 1881.

The couple live alone at their Antrim st. home. Though Mr. Meggison's activities are limited because of failing health, he still enjoys visits with friends and trips in the car with his family. Mrs. Meggison is more active. She attends church regularly and does most of her own housework.

The couple has one son, Clarence B. Meggison, Republican state representative from the Charlevoix district, and three daughters, Mrs. L. E. McGhan of Charlevoix, Mrs. Grant Mudge of Detroit and Mrs. Theodore Graveran of Barstow, Calif.

They also have eight grand children and 23 great-grandchildren.

I See By The Courier . . .

- Sherri Gebeau returned to her home in Rogers City Sunday following a week's visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gebeau and Walter Taylor. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gebeau, came for her and spent the weekend. On her return she was accompanied by her cousin, C. T. Martin who will spend several days in Rogers City.
- Mrs. Ronald Shawhan and children, Kevin and Kim, of Cleveland are spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zeitler sr. Mr. Shawhan will come for them this week end.
- Margaret LaBlance is expected home this weekend from a two weeks visit in Albequerque, N.M.
- Dr. and Mrs. Russell E. Palmer returned recently from Lansing for an extended stay at their Petoskey ave. home.
- Mr. and Mrs. August Odmark arrived recently from Dearborn to spend the summer with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Odmark.
- Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rayman returned to their home in Flint Sunday after spending a week's vacation with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zeitler sr.
- Mr. and Mrs. Seth Smith and son, Vincent, of Redlands, Calif., have gone to Petoskey to spend several days with relatives before returning to their home in the west following a visit here with Mrs. Charles See and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Smith is the former Elsie See. Before coming to Charlevoix they had visited in Frankfort where they lived before going to California.
- Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hassenbusch of St. Joseph, Mo., arrived this week to spend the summer at there home at 502 Michigan ave. They were accompanied by their grandson, Jill. They will be joined here later by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Livingston and their son, Jonathan, and daughter, Eve, of Sausalito, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Sol Hassenbusch and daughter, Anne, of St. Joseph, Mo.
- Nancy Rader has gone to Oak Harbor, Ohio, to spend several weeks with her cousin, Martha Thierwechter. She made the trip to Ohio with her mother, Mrs. Jack Rader, who went to Cincinnati for Mr. Rader's mother, Mrs. Harry Rader, who will spend the fall and summer here.
- Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wenzel sr. have arrived from Chicago to spend a week with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wenzel jr.
- Sara Mae Goldberg who has been visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Ward jr., has returned to Grand Rapids with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldberg who came for her.
- Mr. and Mrs. William Bacot and family have returned to their home in Flint following a visit with the former's mother, Mrs. Daniel Bacot.

Janet May Todd-James R. Williams Exchange Vows In Candlelight Service

In an impressive candlelight ceremony solemnized at the First Congregational church Saturday evening, Janet May Todd became the bride of James R. Williams of Flint.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Rathburn. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams.

The Rev. Harold E. Kuhn officiated at the double ring service before an altar flanked by baskets of white gladinli and delphiniums and candelabra.

Roberta Swanson sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Charles Bellinger, who also played a program of wedding music and the traditional marches.

The bride, escorted by her father, chose a floor length gown of white nylon organza and taffeta fashioned with a sabrina neckline, short shirred sleeves and bouffant skirt. Appliques of Chantilly lace touched with seed-pearls and sequins adorned the neckline and formed panels on the skirt. A headpiece of Chantilly lace embroidered with seed-pearls and sequins secured her fingertip veil of nylon illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Don Bellinger of Elk Rapids, as her sister's matron of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of blue nylon organza styled with a full skirt, scoop neckline, cap sleeves, and a fitted bodice with a cummerbund effect of white lace. She wore a matching net headband and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies.

Shirley Clark of Flint and Bennie Kipke, as bridesmaids, wore gowns of yellow nylon organza styled like the honor attendant's, and matching yellow net headbands, they carried colonial bouquets of blue daisies.

Sara Lou and Judy Ann Bellinger of Elk Rapids, nieces of the bride, as flower girls, wore dresses of yellow nylon with matching headbands and carried blue baskets of yellow daisies.

John Williams of Flint assisted his brother as best man. Two other brothers, Bruce Williams and Clyde Williams, also of Flint, seated the guests.

Mrs. Rathburn selected a blue lace sheath dress, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations for her daughter's wedding.

A reception was held in Friendship hall following the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. John Elzinga, Mrs. Gordon Mol, Mrs. Dean Davenport jr., Carolyn Miller and Lorraine Heise.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will live at Swartz Creek. For traveling the bride wore a white sheath dress with blue accents, white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams are graduates of the Ferris Institute School of Pharmacy. The bridegroom also is a veteran of two years service in the U. S. Navy.

Wedding guests were present from Flint, Davison, Swartz Creek, Rockford, Grand Rapids, Elk Rapids, Bellaire, Central Lake and Evansville, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Yettaw to Observe 61st Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Yettaw, one of this community's oldest couples, will observe their sixty-first wedding anniversary Saturday, July 4.

Joining them for the occasion will be their daughter, Mrs. Ada Y. Golden of Charlevoix and son, William, of Big Rapids and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Yettaw, Jr. and four children of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Yettaw were married July 4, 1898, at a small Catholic church at Atwood which later was moved to Bellaire where it is still in use. They have always lived in the Charlevoix area since their marriage.

From 1921 until he retired in 1842, Mr. Yettaw was associated with the Charlevoix Coal and Ice Co. Prior to that time the couple divided their time between a farm in Norwood township and Charlevoix where Mr. Yettaw was engaged in several small businesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Yettaw are members of St. Mary's church. Until recent years Mrs. Yettaw was active in St. Mary's Altar Society. For many years Mr. Yettaw served on the board of directors of the church. More recently he served on the building committee of the new St. Mary's school.

The couple lives alone at their home at 707 State st. where Mrs. Yettaw does all her own work. Mr. Yettaw's activities are more limited because of failing health.

Mr. Yettaw was born in Antrim county Dec. 31, 1878. Mrs. Yettaw, the former Mary Supernaw, was born in Ellenberg, N.Y., July 23, 1877, and came to northern Michigan as a child.

Bridal Shower Held in Honor of Charlene Novotny

Charlene Novotny whose marriage to Peter Gaskin will be an event of July 11 at St. Mary's church, was honored at a bridal shower given Thursday evening by Roberta Zeitler and Evelyn Peters at the latters' home.

Twenty-two invited guests enjoyed an evening of games followed by a social hour and refreshments. The bride-elect was presented with a variety of lovely gifts.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOLS
MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

June 1, 1959

Present: Boss, Lieberman, Freedman, Martin, Bennett, Supt.

Absent: Smith, who was attending County Board of Education meeting, as this Board's representative.

The meeting was called to order at 8:07 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of May 25 were read and approved.

Dr. Martin received a call and asked to be excused.

Moved by Lieberman, supported by Freedman, that bills in the amount of $2,183.90, payable from General Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Carried: 3-0.

Moved by Freedman, supported by Lieberman, that a bill in the amount of $700.00 payable from the Building & Site Fund be approved and ordered paid. Motion carried: 3-0.

Plans were completed for the 71st Annual Commencement to be held June 3.

The SPEBSQSA organization of Barbershoppers was given permission to use the gymnasium for their convention during the Labor Day weekend with the payment of the regular fee.

The Driver Training program for the summer, for the large number of enrollees, was approved as was the appointment of Larrie G. Tuomela as instructor.

Much discussion was held regarding a sprinkling system for the athletic field, and the softball and hard ball diamonds.

Dr. Martin returned.

A report of the progress of the building plans for the new high school was made.

Dr. Martin presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, It is the primary obligation of this Board to build a new school building and make the necessary alterations of existing buildings; and

WHEREAS, because of the uncertainty of costs of the building project, which will not be actually determined until its completion, and because of the fact it has been necessary to postpone certain modifications in the alteration of the existing buildings and to eliminate entirely many desirable plans in the new building, for financial reasons; and

WHEREAS, any expenditure of funds for the City Garage might require further modifications and eliminations:

NOW THERE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Education will meet with the City Council: that the City Council is to be advised that this Board will have no way of knowing what, if any, contingent fund will be available until the completion of the building project; and that, said contingent fund should first replace those plans eliminated or postponed: and be it further

RESOLVED, that this Board will accept the responsibility of razing the said City Garage building.

Supported by Mr. Lieberman and carried: 4-0.

The Meeting adjourned at 10:55 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
GORDON L. FREEDMAN
Secretary pro tem

News Round-up at Camp Charlevoix

Camp Charlevoix started its thirty-fourth season on Saturday, June 27th with a full camp of 147 boys arriving by car, train, plane, and boat. Boys are enrolled from many states including Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, New Jersey, New York and California. The staff of sixty represents twenty - six different colleges and universities. It was a thrilling sight to see boys renew friendships started last summer. It is great to have eighteen boys in camp whose fathers were campers here years ago.

Saturday evening was given over to the annual "pillow fights" and the boys were really excited to see who was going to be knocked off the log first. Among the matches were: John Zinn, Berkley, Mich. beat C. J. Shelley, Flint, Mich.; Eddie Wilson, Grosse Pointe, beat John Bacon, Sandusky, Ohio: Bill Gross, Grosse Pointe, Mich. won from Bob Foley, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Jeff Baldwin, Birmingham, Mich. won from Andy Baldwin, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Ricki Toncray, Eaton Rapids, Mich. beat David Verdier, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Robie Plisken, Akron, Ohio, won from John DePree, also from Akron. The matches continued with more matches, Sandy Coakley, Cleveland, Ohio, won from little Georgie Steinhardt, Bad Axe, Mich.; Tom Patrick, Battle Creek, Mich. won from Tom Perrin, Cincinnati, Ohio. Roger Witherill beat Dick Topping, Akron, Ohio. Billy Speed, Springfield, Ohio, won from Tom Steffe, Flint, Mich., and Steve Martin, Decatur, Ill. beat Greg Nyland, Flint, Mich. Mark Gardner, Middletown, Ohio, won from Russell Washburn, Detroit, Michigan. Bruce Laing, Dowagiac, Mich. beat Dave Spaulding, Steubenville, Ohio; Leeds Davis, Richmond, Ind. won from Fred Bissell, Grand Rapids, while "Tug" O'Neil won handily from tall, lanky, Assistant Counsellor, Tom Richardson. The boys enjoy this annual event and usually ask for it as soon as they arrive in camp.

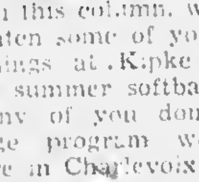
Many ooohs and aaahs were heard when the campers first saw the new sand on the beach at the dock. They were delighted that the stones had been covered with a deep sand. Parents were very pleased with this new feature, too.

On Sunday morning, the first outdoor chapel service was held with Ken being the first speaker of the season. He spoke on "Building a Reputation."

The camp was highly honored at dinner on Sunday noon when our guest was Arthur E. Summerfield, Postmaster General of the United States. Mr. Summerfield brought his grandson, Terry, to camp for his third year, and recalled that it was twenty-five years ago that he brought his son, Bud, to camp as a camper.

Sunday afternoon was given over to swim tests and physical exams.

A combined Vesper Service with all three sections in attendance was held Sunday night in the "Bigwam." After several camp songs, our Austrailian Counsellor, Alan Smith, spoke on "Australia, Its Animals and Peoples." It was most interesting and its colored slides added much to the enjoyment of the evening.



Circlin' The Bases
By DEANO

In this column, we hope to enlighten some of you on the happenings at Kipke Field during the summer softball season. Too many of you don't realize the huge program we have right here in Charlevoix. We think we have the biggest softball program in the State for the size town that we have.

A break down of the many leagues in operation shows something like this. In the men's league we have five teams or 60 men playing. In the B, or Junior League, we have four teams or 48 boys from 13 to 17 years old participating. The Peanut League boasts seven teams or 120 youngsters in the eight to twelve bracket. Then we have three young girls teams with about 45 participating. In the newly formed women's league we have three teams or 40 gals who hope to play — we can tell better after their first game. Starting next week a minor league for all youngsters not playing on a Peanut League will get organized and under way. Add these all together and you come up with a whopping total . . . 348 to be exact. What other town our size can match this?

Maybe we are beating our own drum, but if we don't who will? Perhaps this will to compete is one of the many reasons why we are fortunate to have such a fine record for producing athletes.

With all these leagues, it takes much co-operation and hard work to have everything run smoothly.

A working crew of six people is necessary for every nights games. This includes two umpires, a scoreboard boy, scorekeeper, someone on the public address system, plus a groundskeeper. Of course, the men who are the most important, and too often the least appreciated, are the umpires, who are only 50% right no matter what they call. We have a fine crew in Bruce Henley, Reverend Lewis, Gordon Mol, Jim Barry, Bill Supernaw and Tom Donaldson.

The game of the week was the long extra inning affair between Freedman and the City Merchants. The Merchants 3-2 victory produced many thrills and was no doubt, one of the best seen in many a season. The future looks good too, cause the average age of the Merchants is a young 19.

Warren Belding of the Pirates made the play of the week and perhaps the season when he made an unassisted triple play. He snagged a line drive, ran over and touched second where a runner had wandered off, and tagged the runner from first that had streaked for second on the hit.

American Mold can wrap up the tight first round race by winning from the City Merchants and Airport Inn Monday and Tuesday of next week. Why not drop up to Kipke Field and see if they do?

Justice Court News

Justice John Connolly reports the following cases which appeared in his court recently.

Richard Waffle, 28, of Central Lake, charged with furnishing beer to a minor, was fined $15.00 and ordered to pay $4.50 costs. Summons was issued by the State Police.

Clyde Gardner, 20, of Bellaire, charged, as a minor, with having beer in his possession, was ordered to pay $10.00 fine and $4.30 costs. Summons was issued by the State Police.

Donald L. Whitley, 21, charged with reckless driving, was ordered to pay $15.00 fine and $4.30 costs. Summons was issued by the State Police.

Kenneth C. Anderson, 20, charged with making excessive noise with a motorcycle, was ordered to pay $5.00 fine and $4.30 costs. Summons was issued by the City Police.

Michael McCann, 19, charged with ignoring a stop sign and driving with an expired operator's license, was ordered to pay $5.00 on each charge. Summons was issued by the City Police.

Jane L. Silberman, 35, of Chicago, charged with having no license plates on motor vehicle, was ordered to pay $5.00 fine and $4.30 costs. Summons was issued by the City Police.

Anton C. Olszewski, 60, charged with ignoring a stop sign was ordered to pay $5.00. Summons was issued by the State Police.

Brothers Take Vows at Island Retreat

Following High Mass at the Beaver Island Holy Cross Catholic church early last Friday morning, 29 young men, members of the Christian Brothers' Order pronounced their final vows of religion. These customary vows in the Catholic Church bind those who take them to the observance of poverty, chastity and obedience according to the rules of the Order. Final vows bind one for life in the service of God.

A large crowd of the Brothers' relatives, Beaver Island residents and vacationers witnessed the impressive, early morning ceremony. Throughout the traditional pagentry of the Roman Catholic High Mass, the Brothers' choir entoned the famous Gregorian chant. Immediately preceding the vow ceremony, Brother Frederick, assistant director, explained to all present the significance of the perpetual vow pronouncement they were about to witness.

Brother J. Richard, director of the group, explained that the young men thus dedicating themselves came from such distant points as Memphis, Tennessee, Kansas City Missouri, St. Paul and Minneapolis, and Chicago. Brother Bernard of the vow group hails from Escanaba, Michigan. Perhaps the most unusual feature of the ceremony even for the Brothers themselves, was the presence of three Christian Brothers, natives of Nicaragua, Central America. Brother Benildo, Brother Adalberto, and Brother Humberto entered the Order from the Collegio San Jose in Bluefields, Nicaragua.

During the past month the brothers have prepared themselves for this definitive step in their lives by a 30-day closed Retreat on Beaver Island. This year, incidentally, marks the 30th Anniversary of the arrival of the Christian Brothers on Beaver Island. Their first long retreat, held in subsequent summers, was in 1929. The silent retreat, devoted to prayer, study and meditation was conducted by Rev. Father Gilbert McCabe, S. J., of the Marquette University faculty.

The Christian Brothers form the largest teaching Order of men in the Catholic Church. Their 20,000 members with headquarters in Rome, maintain schools of all types for boys and young men throughout the world. Here in the midwest, they conduct St. Mary's College in Winona, Minnesota, and Christian Brothers College in Memphis, Tennessee. In addition, the Brothers staff 30 high schools in the central U. S. area, with an enrollment of approximately 17,000 boys. Two schools, De La Salle Collegiate and St. Joseph's High are located in Detroit. The Brothers are also in charge of Holy Name high school in Escanaba, Michigan.

Movie Presents Serious Problem Of Drunk Drivers

A motion picture, Pay the Piper, dramatizing the serious problems presented by drinking drivers will be shown at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Comunity Church of God.

The story is a drama of contemporary life, according to the Rev. George L. Majors, pastor of the church. It could happen to anynne. Pay the Piper is the kind of film every Christian who is concerned with helping his neighbor will want to see.

An invitation is extended to all to see the picture.

● Mrs. Bernie Ward sr. has returned to her home here from Little Traverse hospital in Petoskey where she had been a patient following surgery.

Betrothed

The engagement of Rochelle Ann Campbell to William D. Bennett has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Campbell of Muskegon.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alvin T. Bennett of Charlevoix and the late Mr. Bennett.

A September wedding is being planned.

Miss Campbell is a graduate of Muskegon Catholic Central high school. Mr. Bennett, a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, attended Western Michigan University and Central Michigan College. He is a veteran of two years in the U. S. Army.

Beth Pomfret and John LaBlance Married Saturday at St. Mary's

St. Mary's church was the scene Saturday morning of the wedding of Beth Pomfret and John E. LaBlance.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Melvin Jones and the late Leonard J. Pomfret. Mr. and Mrs. George A. LaBlance are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. E. Francis Denay officiated at the single ring service during the nuptial Mass. The Mass was sung by the girls' choir accompanied by Mrs. Frank Olceksy at the organ. Arrangements of white peonies decorated the altar for the service.

Given in marriage by Mr. Jones, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white embroidered organza over leaf green taffeta. A short fitted jacket with a high neckline and long sleeves was worn over the strapless gown which had a bouffant skirt. A jet headband secured her fingertip veil and she carried a white prayer book topped with an arrangement of white carnations.

Patricia Pomfret of Highland Park served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a soft yellow ballerina length gown of cotton mesh styled with a scoop neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt. She wore a matching yellow headdress and carried a buoquet of yellow and white carnations.

Steven J. LaBlance assisted his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Thomas G. LaBlance, brother of the bridegroom, and Josepn Leal of Pontiac.

Mrs. Jones chose a black and white print dress and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. LaBlance, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black and white print two piece dress and white accessories. Each had a corsage of white carnations.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and their immediate families followed at the home of the bride's parents. An evening reception was held at the Rock Elm Grange hall for more than 100 guests.

After a brief northern Michigan wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. LaBlance are making their home in East Jordan.

The former Miss Pomfret was honored at a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening given by Mrs. Robert Withers and Mrs George LaBlance at the latter's home.

Guests enjoyed games with Mrs. Melvin Jones and the bride-elect winning the prizes. The honoree was presented with many lovely gifts after which the hostesses served refreshments.

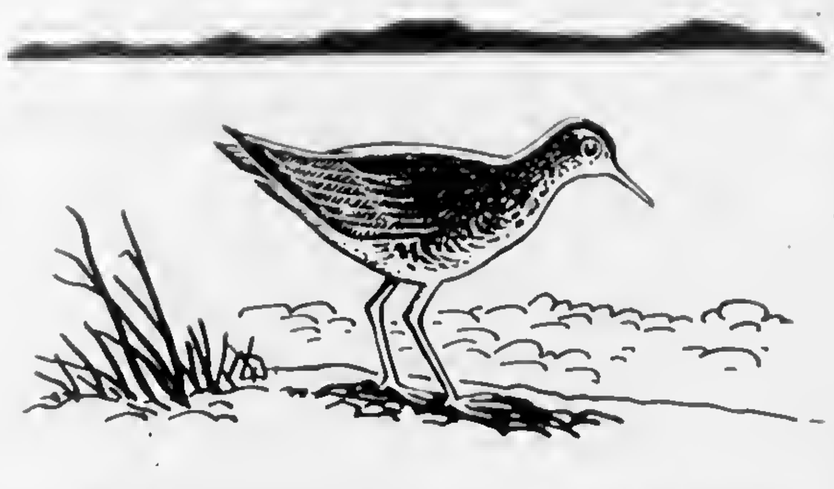
Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn



Where Heaven and Earth Meet

From where I write I look past our stony beach where sandpipers play and out across gently rippling Lake Charlevoix to the distant emerald shore where rolling hills keep communion with the sky, and I think of many other horizons, where earth and heaven meet. Beside that distant union of earth and sky just beyond these inland waters there are countless other horizons where forests rise with a constant urgency toward the sun and stars, where mountains point granite fingers at the heavens, where the timeless sea and eternal sky embrace. Nature abounds with meeting places. But the most impressive horizon I know of is a creature called "man" in whom earth and heaven meet. In human nature mingle the lowest and the highest elements we know, lust and love, self-indulgence and self-sacrifice, ignorance and knowledge, foolishness and wisdom, bigotry and humility, timidity and courage, the temporal and the eternal.

It is this dual nature of man that supplies one of the chief puzzles of religion and philosophy. The opposites in man are so intimately fused together that it is difficult to find the joints between them. Where does mind leave off and body begin? Even a trained scientist often finds it impossible to say whether a person's sickness is physical or spiritual or both. But a veterinary is less apt to have that problem with a beast or bird. When a cat or a parakeet is sick we do not say of it "It's all in his mind." We know it's in his body. However, when a boy doesn't want to go to school and complains that he's unable because of a severe headache, but later in the day goes fishing, we conclude his sickness "was all in his mind." But we can never be sure. Where body and mind mingle the point of fusion is uncertain.

Yet we are careful to maintain some distinctions between the physical, touchable, weighable aspects of human nature and the less tangible faculties of our being. If someone dares to say that brain and mind are the same, we challenge them, daring them to make a detailed chemical analysis of the mind in the laboratory as has been done innumerable times with the human brain. We are neither body or mind but both body and mind. We are neither right or wrong, but right here and wrong there. We are not so much wise or foolish as we are wise in this regard and foolish in another. Man is the meeting place of weakness and strength, of misery and grandeur, of the dust of the ground and the breath of God.

It is this double aspect of human nature that makes possible either cynical pessimism or half-blind optimism, depending upon which partial view we take— the half-truth that "man is evil" or the half-lie that "man is good." We frequently hear the remark "Human nature being what it is —" and then we are told to expect the worst. "Human nature being what it is, you'll have to look out for yourself first, or you'll lose the shirt right off your back." Or "Human nature being what it is you can't trust young people alone these days," or "Human nature being what it is, it is useless to attempt prevention of war."

Of course human nature has a powerful potential for evil. It is of the earth, and it is earthy. But that is not the entire truth about human nature, anymore than the earth is all there is of an horizon. Man, like an horizon, is where earth and heaven meet, where the lowest and the highest come together. And the highest is as much a part of the horizon as is the lowest. If Benedict Arnold, betraying his country at West Point, is demonstrating human nature, so is George Washington desparately hanging on to hope at Valley Forge, in spite of cold and blizzards and the desertion of his troops. If human nature is Al Capone of Chicago making a fortune from vice, human nature is also depicted by Charles Valiant, a French physician daring to work with X-ray before scientists had learned to protect themselves from those powerful rays, but refusing to quit his important research although his fingers had to be removed, and later his arm at the elbow, then his arm at the shoulder and at last his other arm. If human nature is John Wilkes Booth firing a bullet into Lincoln's brain, human nature is also Abraham Lincoln giving his life for the Union. So when someone points to the evil man does, and cynically asks, "But what can you expect of human nature?" I am inclined to counter "You can expect George Washington, or Charles Valiant or Abraham Lincoln." As the book of Genesis puts it "The Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." Earth is present in man, and heaven too. Dirt is there, but so is Deity. The realist does not take his choice between the two and form a philosophy from his preference. He recognizes both.

The irresponsible expressionists miss the real moral significance of the two-fold nature of human beings. The expressionists exclaim, "Enjoy yourself. It's later than you think," and advise the unrestrained acting out of every feeling and the fulfillment of every bodily urge. But sensualism and libertinism are no more the manifestations of what is in man than is prayer, or self-denial, or holiness. Meaness is no more evidence of what is in man than is magnanimity. Man is selfish and sacrificial, little and great, sensual and spiritual. Man is an horizon where earth and heaven meet. When, therefore the expressionist gives full vent to the worst that is in him, the earthly, and represses his possibilities for good, the heavenly, he is less than half a man as surely as this little earth represents far less than half of what is out there on the distant horizon, where a small world meets the greatness of the sky.

Express yourself? I should say so! You are body. Take care of it. Feed it. Exercise it. Work it. Rest it. Express it purposefully, wholesomely, in a way that will not shame you before God or man. But you are soul, too. And the soul should govern and hallow the body as the heavens dominate and bless the earth which gets its energy from the parent sun, and its light, and its rain, and its gravitational pull, and its direction — all from Above.

Great manhood and woman hood is where earth and heaven meet, and heaven wins.

Ski Club Plans to Serve Barbecue At Venetian Event

Plans for a barbecue to be held over the Venetian Festival week end were made at the annual meeting of the Charlevoix - Mt. McSauba Recreation Corp. held Wednesday.

Bob Neff, widely known for his smorgasbords, will head the barbecue committee. He will be assisted by Prof. Robert Dean of Michigan State University, outdoor cookery expert.

In announcing the plans Mr. Neff said that only Chicago prime beef would be used in the barbecue. The barbecue pit will be set up at the ski lodge which will benefit by the project.

Assisting Mr. Neff will be Frank Boss who will be in charge of grounds & pit preparation; Bill Supernaw, sales and booth to be erected in East Park and Mrs. Gregory A. Shadko who will be in charge of ticket sales.

At the annual election of officers which opened the meeting, William Fochtman was named president of the organization to succeed Dr. Robert Anderson.

Other officers and directors are: vice president, Frank Boss, secretary treasurer, Max Novak; directors, Julius Gilbert, Robert Neff, G. A. Shadko, Robert Goss and Robert Lieberman.

American Mold Climbs to Top In Softball

American Mold moved into first place in the City Softball league for the first time this season and now is a strong contender for the first round title.

The Moldmen had a busy week as they defeated Airport Inn 13 to 2 and U. S Coast Guard 13 to 0. In their game with the City Merchants they needed three unearned runs in the first inning to post a 6 to 3 win. Ken Wojan was the key factor in the wins, blasting three homers during the week.

The Young City Merchants did their hit to assist American Mold in their climb to the top by knocking Freedman from first place in the big game of the week. It took 11 innings but the Merchants finally came through with a 3 to 2 victory. Freedman's Gene Richards led off with a homer but the Merchants came back to tie the score and then go ahead in the third. Freedman's knotted the score 2-all with an unearned run in the fourth. Finally, in the eleventh, Sam Supernaw walked, stole second and third and scooted home on an error to give the Merchants the victory. Losing pitcher Bob Klooster gave up eight hits while winner Dean Davenport allowed four.

The next night Klooster pulled up lame in the Freedman-American Mold game which the latter won easily by a 10 to 0 score. Kit Carson had the only hit off the winning pitcher, Nate Boss.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By JOY GREEN

Summer residents and activities have set the pace for a round of gala events.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDonough and son, Joe, of Round Lake, Ill. are spending the summer at their North Shore cottage.

There is much activity in evidence at the Henry Allen cabins with remodeling and re-opening being done by the Allen family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hoffman of Plymouth, visited briefly on the Island.

Father Louis Wren, OFM, Conv. has arrived to assume the duties as Pastor of Holy Cross Church. He replaces Father Alexis Martini, who will return to the Mission Band with headquarters at Saint Anthony's Parish in Grand Rapids.

The King Strang Hotel has opened for the season under the management of the Olin Wanty's of Ypsilanti.

The Ted Heini's of Bay City are vacationing at their North Shore cottage.

Dr. and Mrs. John E. Ludwick of Jackson spent sometime at their cabin on Sand Bay, where Dr. Ludwick was recuperating from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gallagher and daughters are spending the summer months on the Island.

The Harbor Hills is again in operation for all miniature golf fans. Refreshments are being served at the concession stand by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roy of Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCourt of Chicago are vacationing at their cottage

Clifford, Catherine and Pamela White are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James O'Donnell.

Roger Pischner and Connie Oleksy of Charlevoix spent a short time with Roger's aunt, Grace Cole.

It was nice seeing Doc and Ann Vail amongst us for their short weekend stay.

Saturday forty-five Christian Brothers left on the Emerald Isle and were replaced on the same day by the same number, who will go on retreat at Brother Donnan Lodge for the next sixty days.

Lloyd and Eva McDonough are boasting of their fifteenth grandchild, Shawn Lloyd, born to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McDonough of Charlevoix.

Willard Pischner spent the weekend with his family. Willard is sailing on the Mackinaw Islander.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold LaShance and daughter, Judy, visited briefly on the Island. After twenty-seven years of absence Mrs. LaShance, better known as Helen Shivery, had a lot of reminiscing and re-acquainting to do.

The Emerald Isle has resumed the summer schedule. Everyone is enjoying seeing the crowds that are arriving daily to enjoy our beautiful Island.

Third Order of Saint Francis Visitation was Conducted by Father Eugene, OFM, Conv. of Mt. Saint Francis, Indiana.

The Tee Pee Wash Inn is open for the season with Mrs. Dave Wilson and children of Ferndale doing the laundry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Souter and daughter spent a week with Mrs. Souter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Larsen.

Mrs. Murray Wanty of Ann Arbor is spending a month at her Sand Bay cottage. Her husband will commute on weekends.

Vivian Gallagher was a recent visitor to the Island.

Mrs. Jack Roberts Awarded Emblems at Aquatic School

Mrs. Jack Roberts recently completed the Red Cross National Aquatic school at Owasippi Scout Camp, Whitehall, and has been awarded her emblems in senior life-saving and as a water safety instructor.

During the next two weeks she will assume the duties of life guard at the Conservative Baptist Youth Camp at Yankee Springs and will then direct a Campfire Girls camp at Rockford where she has been on the high school teaching staff the past two years.

Mrs. Roberts, the former Betty McBride, has accepted a position at the Kelloggsville high school for next year. She will teach typing and bookkeeping.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts recently moved into their new home in Grand Rapids where Mr. Roberts is employed at the South Kent County News.

Announce Summer Mass Schedules

Effective Sunday and continuing through July and August there will be five Masses at St. Mary's Catholic church every Sunday according to the Rev. E. Francis Denay, pastor of the church.

They will be at 6, 8, 9, 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. every Sunday.

Weekday Mass will be at 8 a.m. Masses on the first Friday of each month will be at 8 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Jesuit priests vacationing near Omena will assist at the local church during the summer.

Vacationland of North Offers Many Attractions For Summer Visitors

This vacationland of the North welcomes all of you to spend the summer months on relaxation and enjoy the beauty of its lakes, streams and landscapes.

Charlevoix county prides itself in the many activities it has to offer the resorter and tourist. Lake Charlevoix has the reputation of being one of the best inland fishing lakes in Michigan. Such fish as bass, bluegills, trout and pike are found in its waters. Also many of the streams are well stocked with fish to delight the avid angler. Among these streams are the Boyne River and the Jordan River. Brook Trout are found spring and summer in the county's scores of streams Rainbow and Brown Trout are also found in the lakes and various trout streams. White bass are quite prevalent in the spring whereas the angler will find small mouth bass in the summer.

At Charlevoix the tourist will find a fine protected harbor and ample dock space awaiting the yachtsman. Round Lake makes up the Harbor and is the gateway for the yachtsman to either Lake Charlevoix or Lake Michigan. A bascule bridge crosses the channel from Round Lake to Lake Michigan which opens to let various yachts through to Lakes Charlevoix or Michigan. Many yachtsman will use the harbor to do their shopping in the various year around and summer shops in Charlevoix. Lake Charlevoix offers the finest of inland cruising and sailing.

Charlevoix along with other resort communities in the area is known throughout the nation for its exclusive resorts. National magazines have done stories of some of the unique resorts in this area. They all seem to mention the large Victorian or early 20th Century summer homes with their sprawling lawns adorning the waterfront. Among these resorts are the Chicago Club and Belvedere Club of Charlevoix, and Wequetonsing and Harbor Point of Harbor Springs.

Some of the finest times in the North are to be found in this area which has been known to so many for years as "Charlevoix, the Beautiful."

Complimentary copies of this issue are presented to yachtsmen, motel and hotel guests by Charlevoix Courier advertisers. They extend a cordial welcome to you.

For an ever to be remembered cruise to historic Beaver Island, a spot of natural beauty, rich in history and legend. Once ruled by King Strang, the Island was the only kingdom ever to exist within the boundaries of the United States. Here too, lived Dr. Protar, reputed Russian nobleman in exile, who devoted the last years of his life ministering to the sick. And, on the Island still stands the building which housed the first daily newspaper printed in northern Michigan.

Accomodations on the Island are excellent for an extended vacation or a one day visit, and "Welcome to America's Emerald Isle," is the friendly greeting to the visitor.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON VACATING ALLEY

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN of a meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, to be held at the time and place for the purpose set forth in the following Resolution which was duly adopted by the said Common Council at its meeting held on June 8, 1959:

WHEREAS, a Petition has been filed with the City Clerk signed by the owners of a majority of the property abutting upon the alley hereinafter described, requesting the Common Council to discontinue and vacate the alley or alleys in the block in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, bounded by Prospect Street, Dixon Avenue, Burns Street and Petoskey Avenue, more particularly described as follows:

"The land in the City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix County, Michigan, described as follows: 'Beginning at a point 181 feet North of the Northeast corner of the intersection of Burns Street and Dixon Avenue; thence South along the East line of Burns Street 16 feet; thence East to the West line of Prospect Street; thence North along the West line of Prospect Street 16 feet; thence West 140.5 feet; thence North to the South line of Petoskey Avenue; thence West 16 feet; thence South to a point 181 feet North of the North line of Dixon Avenue (which piont is 140.5 feet East of the point of beginning); thence West 140.5 feet to the point of beginning; comprising all of the alleys in the block bounded by Petoskey Avenue, Prospect Street, Dixon Avenue and Burns Street.' "

AND WHEREAS, said alleys have never been opened, used or improved and are of no use to the property owners in said block or to the City of Charlevoix and only serve to cloud the title of the parcels of land in said block and should be vacated in order to allow the full use and development of said land;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that it deems it expedient and advisable and a public improvement to vacate, discontinue and abolish the aforesaid alleys reserving to the City of Charlevoix an easement therein to maintain service its existing utility lines; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix to be held in the Council Room in the City Hall on Monday, July 0, 1959, at 8:00 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time), be and the same is hereby appointed as the time to hear any and all objections to the vacating, discontinuing and abolishing said alleys and that the Clerk publish notice of said meeting containing a copy of this Resolution for four successive weeks in the Charlevoix Courier commencing with the issue of June 11, 1959.

By Order of the Common Council.

WHEN SUNOCO CUSTOM-BLENDS YOUR GASOLINE

your car comes alive!

Only at Sunoco can your car be fitted with the exact octane it needs to give full power most efficiently... most economically.

Sunoco's Miracle Pump Custom-Blends 6 high octane gasolines at 6 different prices. That's how your car gets an exact octane fit. And so gives peak power always... easily.

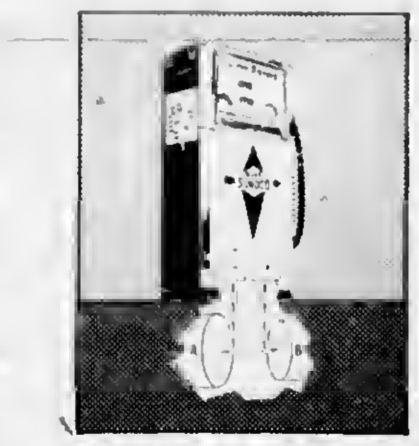
Custom Blended
BLUE SUNOCO
CUSTOM 260 BLEND
CUSTOM 230 BLEND
CUSTOM 220 BLEND
CUSTOM 240 BLEND
CUSTOM 210 BLEND
CUSTOM 200 BLEND

Heavy on "Go" but light on dough. What Sunoco Custom-Blending does is to fit your car with the exact octane it needs for lively stepping power—without making you pay for octane your car can't use. You can save up to 4¢ a gallon on premiums!

And, Custom-Blending is so easy! Just start with the blend recommended for your car by your Sunoco dealer. Next tankful, drop down to the next lower blend at the next lower price, and so on, until you find the blend that performs the best, yet costs the least!

Only because there are 6 high octane Sunoco blends... 6 different octane strengths, you can be sure of getting an exact fit for your engine! And, each blend is the finest quality motor fuel your money can buy. So, no matter which blend your car needs, you get snappy acceleration, surging passing power, and freedom from harmful deposits and spark plug fouling!

Big power at "Regular" Price, too! Sunoco Custom Blend "200" means big new power for many "regular" users. It's proved higher octane than most "regular" buyers are getting anywhere else. It's higher quality... highest value!



Note buried tanks. From these, pump draws (A) premium quality Blue Sunoco "200", and (B) Sunoco Octane Concentrate (specially refined motor fuel). These are precisely blended by the pump to the exact blend number ordered. Approved by various governmental authorities.

Ellsworth . . .
. . . Spotlight

By EDNA KOOYER

Lured north by promises of sunny, pleasant days and cool, quiet nights, visitors are pouring into Ellsworth.

From Detroit came William Clow to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Del Clow for the weekend.

Mixing pleasure with business, Rev. August VanderArk, also from Detroit, dropped in on his aunt, Mrs. Maggie Klooster, for a day last Tuesday.

Planning to spend the summer in Ellsworth at the home of Mr. Henry Elzinga are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elzinga and sons of Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Oliver ended an enjoyable three weeks visit with the Del Clows on Tuesday when they flew to Berkley, California, to visit their son William and his family.

Leaving Ellsworth to do a little visiting themselves were Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Hoeksema, daughters Nancy and Evelyn, and son Wes. They left for Grand Rapids on Saturday morning, returning on Monday. Nancy remained in Grand Rapids.

Gerrit Drenth visited Traverse City on Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. Zwaanstra returned Saturday from Lincoln Center, Iowa, where they attended the Diamond Jubilee celebration of the Lincoln Center Christian Reformed Church.

Leaving Ellsworth to make his home in Suttons Bay was Elmer Rood, who has been General Manager of Monarch Foods for thirty-six years.

Also leaving Ellsworth for a new home in Alaska were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lather and family. Mr. Lather plans to teach there.

June is the month of brides, and following that tradition, Bobbie Langford and Rod DeYoung were wed last Thursday evening.

Also a June bridal couple, but with two weeks of married life behind them. Mr. and Mrs. Robert VanHoven ended a week-long western honeymoon with a stop at the home of Mrs. Van Hoven's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie DeYoung. The couple returned to Grand Rapids on Monday.

Congratulations are in order to two pairs of new parents: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drenth, who have a baby boy, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Veltkamp, parents of a baby girl.

Get-well wishes are extended to Mrs. Grant Hastings who is in Little Traverse Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bratt attended the funeral of Mrs. Bratt's father, Mr. Klien, in Detroit last Friday.

The Ellsworth Barbecue will be held Saturday, July 4th, at the new village park. Events scheduled for the day include a horse pulling contest at 10:00 A.M., serving of barbecued sandwiches at noon, games and races at 2:00 p.m., music by the Charlevoix City band, and two softball games, Burke Dock Traverse City vs. Charlevoix American Mold at 6:30 p.m., and Empire Air Base vs. Ellsworth Chamber of Commerce at 8:30 p.m.

Officers Installed By DAR Chapter At June Meeting

Mrs. Elizabeth Mellon of Petoskey was installed as regent of the Petosega chapter of the DAR at the June Meeting held Friday at the home of the retiring regent, Mrs. Angus L. Fochtman.

Mrs. Mellon's mother, Mrs. J. F. Reusch, served as regent of the chapter when it received its charter 50 years ago.

Other new officers who were installed by Mrs. Webster of Boyne City and Midland are: first vice regent, Mrs. Fochtman; second vice regent, Mrs. Cora Coulter; chaplain, Mrs. Earl A. Young, all of Charlevoix; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. C. Conkle sr. of Boyne City; recording secretary, Mrs. W. G. Switzer; treasurer, Miss Jessie Fairfield; registrar, Mrs. E. G. Smith, historian, Mrs. Julia Porter and librarian, Miss Lela Ogersby all of Petoskey.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Don't "Check" With Red!

Red Johnson, owner of the local hardware store, likes to keep business simple—"pay as you go," says Red.

Recently, to emphasize the point, Red had a sign painted for the store window. In big red letters, it read: "Please—absolutely no checks accepted—pay in cash only."

When the sign painter had finished the sign, he delivered it to Red and named his price—ten dollars. "Very reasonable," said Red. And the next thing you know he was handing the fellow a check for ten dollars!

From where I sit, some rules we make boil down to "don't do as I do, do as I say." It reminds me of a friend who drank nothing but iced tea and criticized the fact that I preferred a glass of beer. That's not only annoying, it's intolerant. Good neighbors should make tolerance the rule with more "do" and less "say."

Says County Road Men Are Adopting Better Methods

County road commissions in the state are becoming more competitive in their operating efficiency according to Robert Scott of the Scott Engineering company of Alpena. Speaking at the weekly dinner meeting of the Kiwanis club, he briefly compared some of the extremes in operating costs. The general trend however is to revamp the operations where costs are excessive.

To illustrate his point he cited the variance in cost of laying $1.00 worth of road material. The low was 70 cents and the high $16. Fringe benefits to employees ranged from eight per cent to 22 per cent. He noted that Charlevoix county followed close to the state average in most operations.

Kiwaniqueens will be guests of the club at the dinner and program next Monday evening. The program, arranged by Barney Engelhart and Ken Smith of Camp Charlevoix, will feature a refugee from behind the Iron Curtain who is now pastor of a Methodist church in the Detroit area.

Lifeguards On Duty At Three Local Beaches

Lifeguards are now on Charlevoix's main beaches, Hal M. Hill, City Superintendent, has announced.

Jim Barry is again on the north side or depot beach; Joe Etienne is at the Ferry ave. beach and Bill Haasen the Lake Michigan beach south of the piers.

Lifeguards will be on these beaches during the hours of 9 a.m. until noon and 1 to 6 p.m. daily Monday through Saturday and from 12 noon to 6 p.m. on Swimming instructions will be given again this year at the beaches on Lake Charlevoix, the depot and the Ferry ave. locations. Youngsters planning to take lessons are asked to register at the beach at which they plan to take instructions. Registrations must be made by tonight (Thursday).

Youngsters will then be assigned to classes to be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Monday thru Thursday. Youngsters will be assigned to classes according to age and ability.

Persons using the Charlevoix beaches will be required to observe the rules established by life guards. Regulations have been instituted as a means of assuring maximum use of the beaches to all and to maintain an orderly operation at all times.

This can best be done by cooperating with the lifeguards at all times and by observing swimming limits and proper conduct.

Definite parking areas have been provided and all vehicles, including bicycles, motor bikes, etc., are to be left in these areas.

Regulations prohibit littering the beaches, throwing stones, climbing trees and other acts that create a public nuisance.

It has been pointed out that lifeguards are not baby sitters and parents are warned to take care of their own children. The lifeguards first job is to be available for any emergency.

Mrs. Robert Ross Dies Unexpectedly At Summer Home

Mrs. Robert E. Ross of Chicago, a summer resident here since childhood, died Thursday at her Chicago Club home here. She had arrived from Chicago in mid-June to spend the summer at her cottage here.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Chapel of Greenland cemetery in Chicago. Burial was in Greenland cemetery.

A native of Paris, Ill., the former Mary Lord had been coming to the Chicago club here since she was a child. She had lived in Chicago following her marriage to Mr. Ross. He preceded her in death

Charlevoix H. S. Accreditation Renewed by U. of M.

The Charlevoix high school was among 46 from throughout the state to have its accreditation renewed recently during the University of Michigan's annual accreditation program according to Kent W. Leach, director of the University Bureau of School Services.

Among the other area schools which received approval during the program were the high schools in Bellaire, Boyne City Central Lake and Ellsworth.

Graduates of accredited high schools may enroll at the University of Michigan without taking admissions tests, providing they have maintained a satisfactory academic record and have their principal's recommendation. Graduates of non-accredited schools must pass admissions tests regardless of their high school academic record.

Voters to Elect Two Directors For School Dist.

The voters of the Charlevoix school district will go to the polls Monday to elect two trustees to the board of education.

Polls will open at the Charlevoix high school at 10 a.m. Monday and remain open until 8 p.m.

The annual school meeting will be held in the high school band room immediately after the polls close. At this meeting reports will be presented by Supt. R. G. Bennett and the board of education on the financial condition of the school district and plans for the forthcoming school year ahead.

Entries Arrive For First Annual Waterfront Fair

Entries are arriving daily for the first annual Waterfront Fair sponsored by the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce according to Mrs. Edward Lencke, general chairman of the event which is scheduled for August 1.

All people who do creative art, whether it is in the field of art, writing, woodworking, rug making, pottery or any other field, are invited to enter this show which will be presented in East Park.

The work will be judged should the entrant desire or just displayed, according to Mrs. Lencke who said that several outstanding judges would be present for the show which is attracting a great deal of attention in art circles throughout northern Michigan.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce building here.

High School Band To Parade at Cherry Festival

The 60 piece Charlevoix high school band will represent Charlevoix in the grand floral parade of the National Cherry Festival at Traverse City tomorrow (Friday) C. A. Odmark, director of the group has announced.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m

The local band will leave here at 9:30 a.m. Friday enroute to Traverse City where they will present a street concert in Lay Park on Union street at 1 p.m.

The band which will make the trip will be composed predominately of members of last year's reserve band who have been practicing music for this engagement since school was dismissed last month. Included in the group, however, will be several members of the senior band who will fill out the 60 piece band. The band will appear in senior band uniforms.

The Charlevoix band has also received an invitation to present a short concert on the grounds of the Traverse City State hospital for the more than 3,000 patients. However Mr Odmark could not say Wednesday if it would be possible to schedule this concert for it would depend on how many members had to return to jobs in Charlevoix.

Announce New Airmail Schedule

Charlevoix has a new and better airmail connection according to Postmaster Peter H Timmner who said it is effective at once. All air mail leaving Charlevoix will now go directly to Pellston enroute to its destination.

Any mail posted up to 5 p.m. will go north to Pellston every day but Saturday.

The new arrangement should give this northern Michigan community much better air mail service, Mr. Timmer said.

Council Lets Contract For Paving Dixon

The Charlevoix city council, at its regular meeting Monday night entered into a contract with the Charlevoix County road commission for the paving of three blocks of Dixon ave. with bituminous aggregate [illegible].

The blocks between Nettleton and Mercer [illegible] to be paved. Last year the blocks between Mason ave. and Nettleton were paved [illegible].

Bids for a utility tractor and mower for the [illegible] street department were received from Hanna's Equipment Co. of Alanson, F. W. Dilworth & Sons of Boyne City and Conrad Koester of Atwood. They were referred to the street committee and the city superintendent for tabulation. A report will be made by the committee at the July 20 meeting.

The bid in the amount of $1,470 submitted by Uhrick Pontiac-Cadillac Sales for a Pontiac car to be used as a police cruiser was accepted at Monday's meeting. Three bids were received.

Approval was given to a resolution to vacate, discontinue and abolish the alley or alleys in the blocked bounded by Dixon ave., Burns st., Petoskey ave. and Prospect st. No one appeared for the hearing scheduled for Monday's meeting.

Bills amounting to $27,147.92 were approved and ordered paid. The amount included the transfer of account recommended by the auditors, as well as payment of utility, fuel, light and water accounts.

Fire Dept. Sent Truck to Fight Petoskey Blaze

The Charlevoix fire department was one of several northern Michigan fire-fighting units who joined the Petoskey fire department in fighting the $110,000 fire which destroyed the Frank Gruler & Sons grain elevator in Petoskey Tuesday afternoon.

The fire in the three-story structure was believed to have started by spontaneous combustion. The fire threatened a number of other business places in the area one block off Petoskey's main street.

Assistant Fire Chief Patrick Martin drove the truck to Petoskey. Others making the trip to assist were Fire Chief John Curtis, volunteer firemen Don Meggison, Jess Penn and Dan Ganeit and City Superintendent Hal M. Hill.

Two trucks from the Petoskey fire department and one each from Harbor Springs, Resort, Bear Creek and Charlevoix joined in extinguishing the stubborn blaze.

C. Of C. Invites Owners to Enter Yacht Parade

All boat owners in the Charlevoix area have been issued an invitation to enter the annual Venetian Night boat parade to be held here Sunday, July 26, according to Tom Symons, secretary-manager of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the Venetian Festival.

Cash prizes as well as trophies will again be offered to the winners in the parade.

The boat parade and a grand fireworks display will climax a weekend of events which will open Friday with the second annual Doll and Pet Show.

The festival will also feature a variety show on Sunday night for which entries are still being taken by H. B. Schofield, a band concert, square dance, coronation ball at the Beach Hotel when the Venetian Queen will be named and crowned, a soap box derby sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the 310th Ordnance Co. headed by Capt. John Barkdoll, and a number of specialty acts to be presented in East Park during the weekend.

The community will take on a festival atmosphere as booths of many descriptions appear in East Park and rides for the kiddies take over in a nearby lot.

Name A. L. Kies Superintendent Of Sewage Plant

Alvie L. Kies of Muskegon has been engaged as superintendent of the Charlevoix Sewage Treatment plant according to Hal M. Hill, city superintendent.

Mr. Kies, a certified Class C operator approved by the Michigan Department of Health, will also supervise the operation of the East Jordan plant, a Class D installation, Mr. Hill said.

Mr. Kies comes here from Muskegon where he spent seven years as an operator in the plant operated by the city of Muskegon.

He succeeds J. C. Marshall who resigned earlier this year to accept a position in Mt. Pleasant.

John Geer will assist with the operation of the local plant.

Mr. Kies will be joined here later by his wife and four children.

Merchants Win Two Games in Babe Ruth League

The Charlevoix Merchants [illegible] team which participates in the Babe Ruth league racked up two wins within the week after suffering three early loses.

On Saturday night the local nine downed Harbor Springs Kiwanis 11 to 9 and Monday night dumped Sussman's of Petoskey 11 to 8.

Bruce Kroken allowed only three hits as the Charlevoix team collected 7 hits which resulted in five runs in the fifth inning, their biggest of the evening. Dick Odmark has replaced John Pearl behind the plate. Pearl suffered a fractured collar bone in the opening game.

Though Charlevoix had seven errors in the game, Clair Demerritt pitched the local nine to an 11 to 8 win over Sussman's, allowing them only two hits. Dick Lederman tripled with the bases loaded as Charlevoix collected six runs in their big inning.

Charlevoix will meet Petoskey National Bank at 6 p.m. Friday and Boyne City at the same time Monday night. All games are played at L[illegible] field in Petoskey.

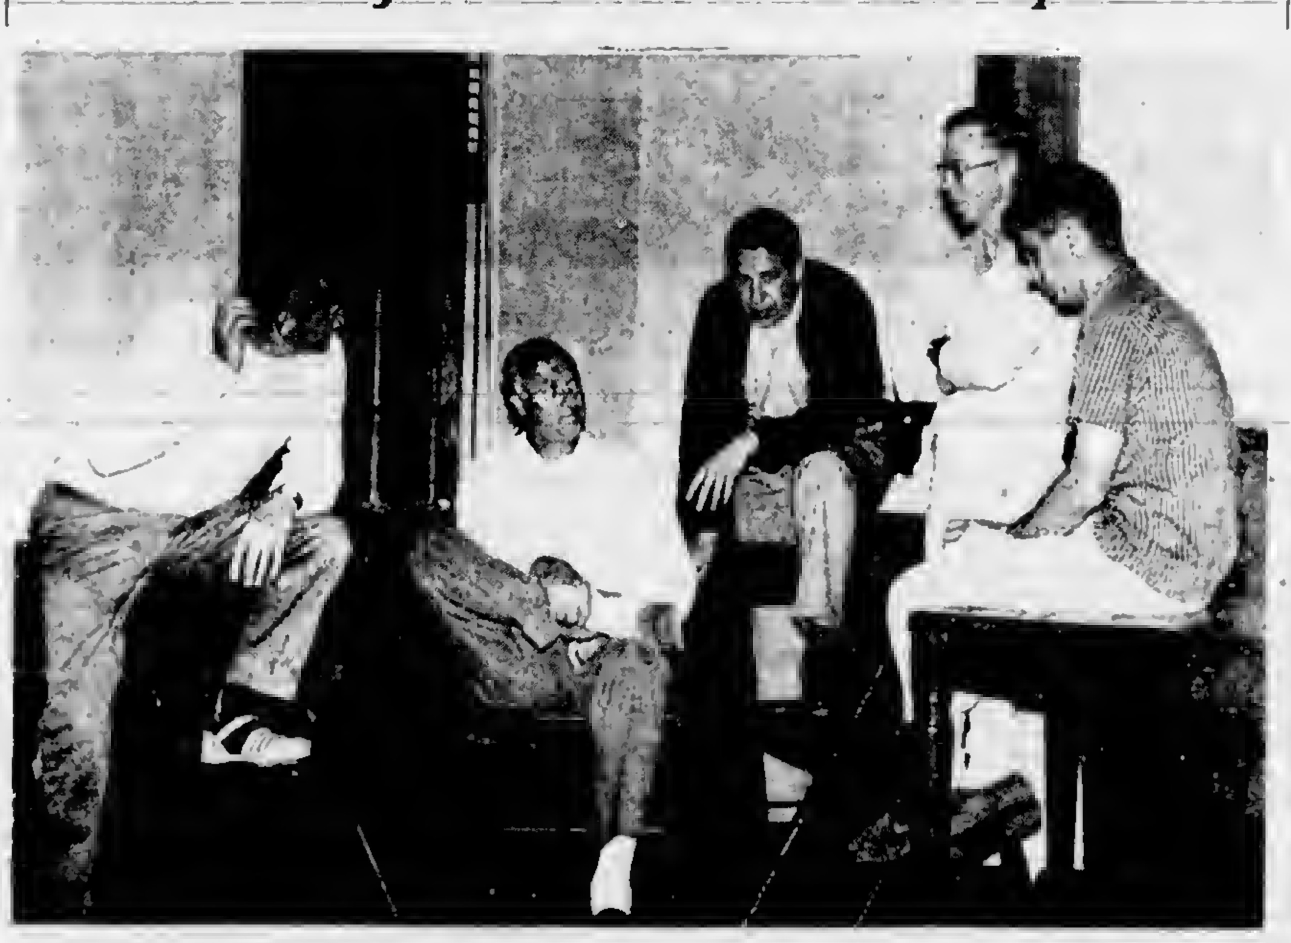
Planning Venetian Festival Barbeque



"The prime beef for the barbecue has been ordered, the pit has been prepared and Dr. Robert Dean, barbecue master from Michigan State University will be here to begin roasting the beef for the barbecue" Bob Neff (pictured third from the left in the picture above) told his committee at a meeting held recently at the city hall.

Mr. Neff is heading a committee for the barbecue sponsored by the Mt. McSauba Recreation Corp. for the benefit of the ski run.

Pictured with him planning the event which will be one of the highlights of the Venetian Weekend are (l to r) Frank Boss who is in charge of the grounds and pit, Bill Supernaw who will be in charge of the booth in East Park where the tasty barbecues will be sold, Mr. Neff, general chairman, Dr. Robert Anderson and club president, Bill Fochtman who are assisting with the fund-raising project.

Our Inadequate Airport

Why does Charlevoix have only a landing field when other cities with less apparent need construct airports adequate to meet the need of modern air travel? The question is raised in all seriousness because we are not versed in the procedure necessary to get Charlevoix on the aviation map.

The situation here reminds us, however, of the early days of the automobile. Motorists in those days would drive miles out of their way in order to travel a few miles on a nice hard and rough one-lane gravel road. Now days motorists are apt to go out of their way to avoid driving on a far better gravel road.

There was a time when the Charlevoix landing field was adequate for the traffic, but in the light of todays advance in air travel, the field rates with the gravel roads of the past. Now we find there are some visitors to Charlevoix who are forced to land on other fields because the local field is not adequate for the larger planes they are flying and there is no provision here for night landings.

We are informed that the city council has considered plans for extending the runways on the airfield. It appears now that steps should be taken to use the plans. Other cities with apparent less demand for landing facilities are leaving Charlevoix in the old gravel road class. Adequate aviation facilities may be a vital factor in the future economic development of this community.

Spreading "Liberalitis"

Recent remarks of a state senator from the Upper Peninsula offer a clue to the serious ailment afflicting our state and national government. It's "Liberalitis," an infection that got a fouthold in 1932 and has been spreading ever since.

In our reasoning liberalitis is caused by a group of liberals masquerading under the name of a political party. Their program is tax more and spend more and centralize government.

Senator Phillip A. Rahoi of Iron Mountain terms himself one of the liberals. He is serving his fourth term in the legislature and appears to carry some weight as a party spokesman. If Rahoi's remarks as printed in the Journal of the Senate, supporting a state income tax, reflect the philosophy of other liberals, he has exposed liberalism as a program of ever increasing taxation to finance ever increasing public spending. The ultimate result could be nothing less than a totalitorian state.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Slim Pickins-Up!

Slim Thomas' wife thought up a pretty slick way to get Slim to clean up their front porch.

Slim had a habit of leaving his tools there before coming into the house. And he'd always tell his Missus he'd get around to tidying up later.

So Mrs. T. nailed a large sign to the porch for all passers-by to see: "THOMAS' JUNK PILE, DUMP YOUR OLD EQUIPMENT HERE!" When Slim saw the sign he cleaned that porch so fast he was through before any junk depositors turned up. Threw the sign out, too.

From where I sit, sometimes it takes the "dramatic" to show folks they're wrong. But usually you can solve things by talking them out. For instance, my neighbor once objected to my preference for an occasional glass of beer. But after discussing it with him, he realized he was just plain intolerant. Now he accepts my choice as I accept his. What do you say we "clean up" all intolerant thinking?

Christian Brothers To Hold Annual 60-Day Meeting

The Brother Donnan retreat house, located amid the giant conifers of Beaver Island, is again the scene of the annual 60-day meeting of the Christian Brothers of the United States and Canada. The daily sessions devoted to study, meditation and conference-seminar periods are concerned with the spiritual, educational and professional-counseling roles of the Christian Brothers' Order.

Thirty-six members of the group, most of them principals of high schools in North America, have been designated by their superiors to attend this Beaver Island Retreat. Officially, it is known in the Order as the American Second Novitiate.

Coming from the New England, New York, Baltimore, New Orleans, St. Louis, California and Canadian Provinces of the Christian Brothers, there are approximately five educators representing each Province. St. Louis, Mo., is provincial headquarters for the 700 Christian Brothers in the Midwest area. The Brothers' retreat house on Beaver Island is thus included in the St. Louis Province.

The program, limited exclusively to members of the Christian Brothers' Order, follows an intensive spiritual and academic schedule. Directing the American Second Novitiate is Brother C. Luke, New York, who in recent past years has organized and directed similar sessions on Beaver Island. Assisting him are Jesuit priests from the University of Detroit, and from New York.

This 60-day meeting annually completes the summer stay of the Christian Brothers on Beaver Island. Preceding it each year are retreats of either 20 days or 30 days duration. These periods of silent prayer and meditation are devoted to the study of the principles of the religious life, and in preparation for perpetual vows by young men in the order.

News Round-up at Camp Charlevoix

Monday morning dawned warm and bright and the campers were anxious to meet the new men on the staff and to see the many and varied activities that the camp offered. Monday morning and Monday afternoon were given over to the three sections in camp being taken around the camp, seeing the activities, and meeting the men in charge.

Tuesday found the boys starting the activities of their own choice, and excitement ran high as the boys started their summer's fun. In the evening, a nice gentle rain sent everyone into the Bigwam to see the movie "The Babe Ruth Story." Everyone enjoyed it a lot.

The rains came and Wednesday was dark and wet all day long. We slept late this morning, having breakfast at nine fifteen. A large Quiz show was held for the campers and camp songs were taught the group. In the afternoon regular activities were held in spite of the weather.

Thursday morning found the laundry surrounding our totem pole. This is the favorite collecting place for our laundry on the days when it is picked up. Cabins 3, 4 and 5 left for day's trip to Bell's Bay. The men on this trip were: Andy Campbell, Dan Ross, Dick Wendt, Cary Murfin, Bill Wilson. The campers on this trip were: Tom Harper, Bob Foley, Doug Bayliff, Dan Noyes, Bill Gross, Tommy Seidman, Vesti Johnson, Jeff Baldwin, Andy Baldwin, Tommy Kraus, Mike Parsell, Freddy Matthaei, Ricki Toneray, John Haury, Randy Hoffman, Dave Verdier, Bob Royer, Mike Pliskin, and Wayne Hause. These were the first trips to leave camp for the 1959 season, and we used to not start trips until the third week. But the staff felt that if we start these trips earlier, we could give more boys more trips, and as we are all set to put the program into effect there was no reason for waiting. Cabin 10 took a day trip to Bell's Bay, too. Phil Holiday took his boys, Russel Washburn, Harry Carlson, ark Gardner, Bruce Olsen, David Arndt, and Charles Lakin. In the afternoon, the first horseback pack trip left for an overnight to Bay Shore. The boys were all excited, and Chris Klie from the riding department, accompanied Roy Dettmer and his boys, Hal Thurston, Carl Elmes, Tom Perrin, Scotty Emmons, Carl Baum, Tom Patrick and Paul Phillips.

Thursday evening we had our first all-camp cook out and the boys really enjoyed the hot dogs, and the ice cream for desert. Of course, there was other food in between those two. This was also the time when each section met to elect their captains for the Green and Grey Competition. These two sides compete the entire summer, and to be elected Captain or Lieutenant is indeed a great honor. In the Junior Section, The Green Captain is Eddie Wilson, Grosse Pointe; Lieutenants are John Haury, Indianapolis, Bob Camp, Midland. The Grey Captain is John Du Pree, Akron, with David Verdier, Grand Rapids, and Robbie Pliskin, Akron, as Lieutenants. The Intermediate Section had an election that was both exciting and close. The Greens chose Chip Coakley, Cleveland, as Capt. with "Tug" O'Neill, Cleveland and Fred Bissell, Grand Rapids, as Lieutenants. The Intermediate Greys chose, Leeds Davis, Richmond, as captain, Bill Greene Birmingham and John Deane Grand Rapids, Lieutenants. The Seniors had a very close election, as the success of either team depends largely upon these boys. The Senior Greens picked George Smillie, Ann Arbor, as Captain, with Bill Vandenbelt, Ann Arbor and Ace Hoyt, Akron, as the lieutenants. The Senior Greys chose Dave Smith, Grand Rapids, as Captain, and Hank Holste, Wilmette, and John Baird, Ann Arbor as Lieutenants. The first event in the competition is the Annual Fourth of July Track Meet. More of this later.

On Friday, Cabins 1 and 2 took a day trip to Bell's Bay for a day of swimming and fun on the beach. Eric Henricks and Kerm Krueger and their Assistant Counsellors, Hugh Campbell and Jan Nyland took the following boys on the trip: Ricki Royer, C. J. Shelley, Jeff Weber, Bill Fraim, Tommy Arndt, John Zinn, Steve Steketee, Bobby Beel, Bob Camp, Eddie Wilson, Chris Olsen, John Bacon. In the evening the First Council Fire was held and as is tradition, this is the Initiation of the new campers into the Tribe of Charlevoix. The new campers are blindfolded and led by the old campers along a line of march through the camp and off into the woods to the secret Council Ring. Ken meets the group, and after the fire is lighted the 1958 spirits were dug up and Ken read several of the messages the boys of last summer wrote. The activity men gave short talks regarding their activities. It was a most impressive ceremony and one that the boys will remember with pleasure for years to come.

The FOURTH OF JULY dawned warm and bright and excitement was felt throughout the entire day. Regular activities were held in the morning. O, yes, we slept late again, breakfast at nine fifteen. In the afternoon, the Annual Green-Grey track meet was held, this being the start of the all-summer competition between the two teams. It was a well arranged track meet with some of the winners being Wes Orr, Bruce Laing, John DuPree, George Smillie, Bob Pliskin, Lauren Coltrin, Tommy Kraus, Steve Hack, Bill Washburn, Dave Smith and Bill Gross. The Greens won two points to the Greys one point. As is the custom here each Fourth of July, we have a buffet supper out along the shore. Helen and Joe Shaw our cooks, prepare beef over a charcoal fire, hanging huge beefs on a spit over the fire. It was a marvelous meal, with each boy having four or five sandwiches of thick slices of this delicious beef. Watermelon topped off the meal. This is always a meal to remember and the boys and staff really loved it. A movie was shown in the Big wam after which an elaborate display of fireworks was shot off from the dock. The boys were seated on the sand and to close the display, each boy was given a box of sparklers to light. It was a very fine closing to a wonderful day.

On Sunday morning, Bill Townsend, Director of Activities was the speaker at Chapel, presenting an Old Testament story. In the afternoon, the first Water front Afternoon was held with swimming, canoeing, races and even a watermelon scramble. This was a Green-Grey event, too, and as the Greys won two points to the Greens one point, which brings the total scores to 3 points each. Some of the winners in the days events were: Tom Kennedy, Dave Smith, Bob Lakin, Don Law, Dick Daley, Bill Vandenbelt, John Foley, Hal Thurston, Denny Van Orman, Chris Nyland, Bill Green and Leeds Davis.

Sunday evening, Vesper Services were held for all three sections. Ken Peters was the speaker for the Senior group.

New Science Center On Beaver Island

St. James, B. I. — Central Michigan University's new natu- [illegible] laboratory center overlooking Sand Bay on the northwest side of this northern Lake Michigan island, will soon be completed according to President Judson W. Foust.

The $30,000 center is of cinder block construction and features dormitory sleeping accomodations for 40 persons, conference rooms, a kitchen and a dining room. It will be used on a full schedule by Central Michigan students and faculty for about five months of the year.

Central Michigan University obtained the 40 acres of land on Beaver Island on a dollar basis from the Conservation Department in the early 1940's. The land is being built on now as a part of Central's expansion program since becoming a university.

According to University officials, the island center is an ideal location for carrying on conservation education or research in the fields of wild life, stream control and water life due to the abundance of inland streams and lakes and varieties of animal and plant life.

It is also conducive to intensive research and study since it is away from the hub-bub of city life. However, the island does have daily communication with the mainland by ferry steamer from Charlevoix as well as by air via chartered plane.

The Island center is being built on a completely self-liquidating basis from Field Services projects and alumni donations.

There is a possibility that it will be used as a long range research and experiment station in the future. At present most of the conservation and biological research has been confined to the university's campus at Mt. Pleasant.

The work to be carried out at the new center will be an extension of conservation and nature study that has been conducted at Higgins Lake in the past.

Much of the work done at the laboratory will be during the summer months by conferences and workshop groups, short courses and researchers. Field trips will also be made there during the regular school year.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Larsen were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Alver Hoxie of Traverse City. Mrs. [illegible] is a former Irene Tillie.

Longitude (length) and latitude (breadth) are ancient terms. The Mediterranean is long from west to east and comparatively narrow from north to south. Since the entire world for the early Greeks consisted of this sea and the fringe of land around its shores, it was natural for them to think of east-west measurement as length and north-south measurement as width, the National Geographic says.

Best Room!
JUST ONE OF 7 Big Bests Chevrolet OFFERS you over any other car in its field!

Take a tip from the experts . . . In their own words . . . and from on-the-record facts and figures: More than ever, Chevrolet gives you more than any other of the leading low-priced three! More room to relax in, for instance. A sampling of official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* makes this clear. Chevy front seat hip room, for one thing, is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. And Chevy even offers more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars!

Best Brakes Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR†-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

Best Style It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

Best Engine Every motor magazine has given Chevrolet's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: ". . . surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

Best Ride MOTOR TREND magazine calls Chevy ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." You'll be able to tell this yourself instantly, once you take the wheel.

Best Economy No doubt about this: two Chevrolet 6's won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car, 22.38 miles per gallon—with Powerglide.

Best Trade-In Check in any N.A.D.A.‡ Guide Book. Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

Circlin' The Bases

By DEANO

The wives of ballplayers have finally rebelled in Charlevoix. No longer are they softball widows. No more sitting home night after night while the hubby plays or watches softball. They have gotten into the act themselves. If you're still confused why not drop up to Kipke Field tomorrow (Fri.) and see what we mean.

Three women's teams have been formed and after one game each, all three teams are still around and as eager as ever to play. Friday the older mothers—at first we called them the old mothers but it didn't go over too big—will take on a group of younger mothers. Of course there are a few who don't fall into the mother category, but they are anxious to play ball and do a good job.

In the first meeting between the two teams — who are formally called Northern Auto and Paul Reed — the older moms came out on top with a 10-9 win. Game time is 7:00 p.m.

It's funny how one family will produce so many athletes. Numerous examples of this can be found in all the leagues in Charlevoix. Just in the Peanut League the Dodgers have three Uhrick brothers and two LaBlances on the team. The Tigers can almost field a team of Careys, boasting four. However only three are brothers. The Red Devils have two Tilch brothers and the Cards two Heeres'. Add two Meggisons and two Strethers to the Devils line up and you can see where a coach could get mixed up.

The Braves have the Crains, Smiths, and Potters, while the Pirates have the Terrill, Goldstick, Korn and Belding boys.

Add three Marmes, of which two are brothers, and sprinkle in the Thomas brothers, three Grunches, a couple Livingstons and you have quite a congregation of brother combinations.

Maybe in this huge number we'll find another family like the famous Carey family. What a blessing-huh?

We figure we have as strong a league as any town around. Our local teams have played a couple outside teams and so far have done very well. Freedman beat Home Dairy of Petoskey, who are one of the strong teams in the Petoskey league, and American Mold, even without their ace pitcher Nate Boss dumped Burke Coal Dock of Traverse City. The Burke Team is in first place in Traverse.

Busiest man in the whole program — outside of yours truly—is, Joe Armstrong. Joe manages the Lake Construction team in the Junior League, helps handle the Northern Auto nine in the women's loop, and plays for the Coast Guard in the Men's league.

Pat on the back goes to the Peanut League managers who devote at least two evenings a week and sometimes several hours during the day to their teams. This hard-working group includes Art Mort, John Boss Del Terrill, Bruce Henley, Lloyd Cummings, and Dean R. Davenport.

Game of the week was the Braves-Red Sox tilt which the Sox won 3-2. The Braves loaded the bases in the last inning with no one out but heads-up playing by the Sox prevented any runs from scoring.

Think one man can keep 18 women calm, and happy? Drop up and see how the umpire does it when the old(er) Mothers tangle with the young moms.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office, in the City of Charlevoix in said County, on the 7th day of July, 1959.

Present, Honorable William T. Downs, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of Raymond Cole, deceased.

Grace Cole, widow of said deceased, having filed in said court her petition praying that said Court adjudicate and determine who were at the time of his death the legal heirs of said deceased and entitled to inherit the real estate of which said deceased died seized.

It is Ordered, That the 27th day of July, 1959, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition;

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, once in each week for three weeks consecutively, previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

William T. Downs,
29-30-31x Judge of Probate

Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn

We Are Made For Struggles

This is a world of struggle. It was not meant for ease. The earth, an insignificant appearing particle of cosmic dust whirling among giant stars, represents a limited habitation for human kind. Nearly three-fourths of the earth's surface is covered with the waters of seas and lakes. Burning desert sands, inhospitable mountain sides, and forbidding Arctic and Antartic ice occupy another large fraction, so that the habitable zones are greatly reduced. Moreover, even when man finds a fair climate and good soil, his days are troubled by droughts and floods, inclement weather, pestiferous insects, all manner of diseases and accidents. Then, to these man adds his own brands of strife between nations and races, between political parties and urban neighborhoods, between rivals for community esteem and coveted positions of honor.

Much effort is invested in making the earth habitable, decreasing the frictions among men and providing an easier way of life. Look at our inventions. See the long list of gadgets that pour from our factories and notice how many are intended to replace muscle with machine and effort with ingenious equipment. Much of the scientific genius of modern man is employed in freeing man of work and effort, discomfort and pain and fear. One of the chief goals of man seems to be to eliminate struggle.

Yet struggle is a built-in feature of the world and of man, and if your chief endeavor becomes that of making life easier rather than nobler, we shall but succeed in making our characters weaker and set them in disharmony with the nature of the universe. We are made for a contest with opposing forces, and we need it as surely as the herring gulls drifting past our windows require the resistance of the air in which to fly and as certainly as bass in Lake Charlevoix need the resistance of the water against which they push when they swim.

Morality requires a resisting medium. Without temptation there can be no virtue. Politeness, which is attention to another's interests and needs, represents a victory over our resisting self-interest. Giving our worldly goods to a needy cause or person indicates triumph over the human tendency to hoard our goods. Self-surrender to a great cause denotes conquest of our opposing lust for freedom from discipline and restraint. If character is "the sum of all that we have struggled against," we shall always need trouble in our world if we are to have any real virtue. There can only be heroic greatness where obstacles are equally great, for what is Samson without Philistines opposing him, or David without his Goliath, or George Washington without his Revolution, or Lincoln without his struggle against Civil War? What is a saint without a temptation to sin? What is Christ without His Gethsemene and His Cross? Eliminate struggle and you exhaust life of its vitality and much of its meaning.

One reason for our twentieth century veneration of athletes is that we have attempted to strip life of its risks, and now we find we must put the dangers back where we found them — at the heart of existence. Either we do so by direct involvement, such as in thrill rides on roller coasters, or gambling, or speeding on highways, or we do so vicariously by letting another face the danger and then identify ourselves with him. If life is not hard enough to challenge our courage or rugged enough to test our hardihood we devise sports that supply the deficiency — football and boxing, tight-rope walking and mountain climbing, diving from high boards into deep water, jumping hurdles, and all the rest.

We complain about the uncertainty of life in this day of high speed on the highways and lament the toll of dead and maimed taken by traffic accidents. But, as if traffic had become too tame for us, men race automobiles at perilous speeds on Memorial Day at the Indianapolis Speedway with an awareness that some one is likely to be killed or injured. And thousands pay to witness the hazardous race, many considering the event a failure if there is no grim accident resulting in a spectacular death. Human nature requires some satisfying dangers. We either seek a challenge and meet a test, or we identify ourselves with someone else who is doing so. He becomes ours — "my hero" — and we feel victorious when he wins or grieve when he loses. We are made for a struggle.

Parents need to recognize that this struggle principle is deeply imbedded in our offspring. We hurt our children beyond measure when we rob them of life's challenges by giving them too much so-called security. In the past one hundred years we have moved away from the farm and into the city, away from "chores" that occupied a youngster's attention and time and tested his muscles and ingenuity. J. Edgar Hoover, an authority on juvenile crime, recently cited youth's need of interesting things to do when he quoted one youngster as saying, "Just remember it isn't the urge to deliberately do something bad that leads a boy or girl into crime. It's the urge to do something." We maim the souls of the young when we deny them tasks to perform in the home and the yard. We cripple their spirits when we provide them with excessive protection from lifes rigors. We want our children to be courageous, but we attempt to remove from them the testings on which courage is exercised and grows. We want our children to be wise, but we attempt to manage every aspect of their lives so that they make no mistakes, while it is from the proper management of mistakes that wisdom grows. By removing stimulation and challenge from the young we frustrate their growth.

One chief fault with the church's present appeal to the world is that church leadership is so frequently unconscious of the human need for challenge. The appeal is too often to softness, and the church received a soft and unenthusiastic answer. How foolish in an age when people are seeking for excitement to present an unexciting religion! How stupid when the world aches for the tension of stock car races, a tied score in a baseball game, or a rugged duel between champion-caliber football teams for the church to advertise its central message as "How To Get Rid of All Tensions" and "How To Relax." It is small wonder that some people regard the churches as secondary bedrooms where they can supplement Saturday night's sleep! The early cure was no sedative, but a stimulant producing men that turned the world upside down. The function of religion is not to secure for man the easiest kind of life, but the highest and fullest; not to give us easier burdens, but stronger souls.

There are wrongs in our world that should be righted. There are great deeds to be done, high ideals and values that should be realized. Within us there are capacities for zeal, enthusiasm, and fervor that will either be spent on the best or the worst, but one way or the other, they are certain to be spent. We have energies that must be released and they will be expressed in some kind of activity, either for good or evil. We are filled with emotions that are meant to accomplish something, and they will be either well-directed or misdirected. We are made for response.

Here are a few struggles worth our while:

1. To be non-comprising concerning our moral principles in these times when individualism is widely discountenanced and compromise has become a religion;

2. To avoid excessive busyness with little things so that we might have time for big things (such as to avoid reading trivia so that we might read great literature and to avoid small talk so that we might converse on mighty themes)

3. To keep some goals just beyond our present reach rather than within easy grasp, like loving those who hate us rather than only those who love us in return;

4. To keep our attention on the questions "How good is it?" "How lovely?" "How enduring?" and "How wortby of my lasting devotion?" in a generation that tends to ask only "How much does it cost?"

5. To beat the person we were yesterday, improving upon his understanding and patience, his charitableness and hopefulness and his service to the world.

6. In spite of all the appearance to the countrary, to keep in mind, as Jesus did, that people are worth living and dying for.

These goals are only a few of the many worth striving for, but they are enough to keep you busy the rest of this week, or the rest of your life.

Life is a big fight and a thriller! Good luck and a mighty victory in your struggle!

Vacationland of North Offers Many Attractions For Summer Visitors

Pictured above is a typical summer scene of Charlevoix's inland water harbor in Round Lake adjoining the City Park. Over 800 craft, from small cruisers to palatial yachts will visit Charlevoix during the summer.

This harbor makes an excellent gateway between Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix. The harbor and channels connecting these two lakes are deep enough so large size vessels may pass from Lake Michigan to Lake Charlevoix. Among these vessels is the beautiful S. S. North American.

Many yachtsmen will use the harbor to do their shopping in the various year around and summer shops located in Charlevoix.

Airview of the Charlevoix yacht basin. Few, if any, on the Great Lakes can compare with it.

Highlight Your Vacation!

Visit . . .
Historic Beaver Island

For an ever to be remembered cruises to historic Beaver Island, a spot of natural beauty, rich in history and legend. Once ruled by King Strang, the Island was the only kingdom ever to exist within the boundaries of the United States. Here too, lived Dr. Protar, reputed Russian nobleman in exile, who devoted the last years of his life ministering to the sick. And, on the Island still stands the building which housed the first daily newspaper printed in northern Michigan.

Accommodations on the Island are excellent for an extended vacation or a one day visit, and "Welcome to America's Emerald Isle," is the friendly greeting to the visitor.

The New Motorship 'Emerald Isle' offers the most popular cruise on Northern Lake Michigan and a visit to America's Emerald Isle.

A Student's Theme About Michigan

PEACEFUL MICHIGAN

I could write a dozen or more themes about Michigan. I could write about her industries, the bustling cities, the sporting areas, the camping facilities, the wonderful farming country, the beautiful parks, the historic markers, and so many more.

But I have chosen a more peaceful side of Michigan. There are not figures or facts, just the plain truth True, there are many peaceful looking places in the parks or even in out of the way camping sites. But what about the places that most human eyes never see. The secret glens with small bubbling streams, the small coves that are hidden from sight by huge boulders and dunes. These are hardly ever seen or admired so why not tell people about them. Then they can find out that Michigan has even more beauty than they had realized and be proud that she has kept some of the things secret for special moments. Even now these places are growing fewer because of modern progress but if you take the time to look you will find many spots to be alone and meditate with your thoughts.

Have you ever had the feeling, while just roaming, that you suddenly are in a place of calm and quiet, unpenetrated by the worldly sounds. In that you have come upon a beautiful glen where only Mother Nature herself could dwell because of its natural loveliness. Sometime you might wander into a cove where together with the wind in the pines and the waves beating on the shore a melody is heard like nothing ever composed before. These moments, though they are very few, weave an enchantment about Michigan not soon forgotten. Where ever you travel afterwards or however many your frustrations be in this busy world of ours, you will always look forward to the time when you can find yourself in Michigan.

Solicit Talent For Venetian Festival

Plans for the annual Venetian Night Festival to be held here the last weekend in July are shaping up according to Tom Symons, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

At the present time talent for the variety show to be presented in East Park Sunday, July 26, is being sought. Anyone who can sing, dance or do a specialty act is asked to contact H. B. Schofield, chairman of this division of the festival.

Use "For Sales" for results.

Scouts Enroute to Camp Philmont

Charlevoix's five Sea Scouts, Darrell Sommerville, Jack Rader, Tony Genia, Al Arvilla and Stan Martin, departed via chartered bus from Petsokey for a trip to the National Boy Scout Camp at Philmont, N. M.

They were among 30 Scouts from the Scenic Trails Council making the 16-day trek to the west.

They will spend 12 days on the trail at Philmont and then spend a day at the U. S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., before returning home July 16.

Sale of the Mencarelli lodge, 501 E. Dixon was announced last week by Irma L. Scheid, realtor. The new owners are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Kenyon and five children.

Mr. Kenyon has been employed as superintendent at the Freedman Artcraft Engineering Corp.

The Kenyons come here from Hastings and expect to be located in their residence about July 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller left Friday for Long Island, N.Y. to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Clair S (Bud) Webster and family. Capt. Webster is with the New York Yacht Club for the summer.

Life Resident Of Ellsworth Dies Suddenly at Home

Ellsworth — Funeral services were held Wednesday at Pilgrim Holiness church for Lewis Taylor, 56, who died unexpectedly Monday at his home here.

Mr. Taylor was born in Ellsworth, Oct. 25, 1902, and was a life resident of the community. He had been an employee at the shale pit of the Penn-Dixie Cement Corp. for the last 19 years.

Surviving are the widow, the former Edith Leigh of Hastings; two daughters, Mrs. William Dustin of Central Lake and Arlene at home; two sons Neil of Plymouth, Wisc., and Glen of Mt. Pleasant; two sisters, Mrs. Earl Greene of Tecumseh and Mrs. Rhoda Evans of Ellsworth; three brothers, Ralph of Cedar Springs, Ernest of Grand Rapids, and Robert of Ellsworth.

The Rev. W. L. Silvers officiated at the services. Burial was in the Ellsworth cemetery.

To Play Two-Ball Foursome Sunday At City Course

A husband and wife two-ball foursome tournament will be held at the municipal golf course at 3 p.m. Sunday Keith Carey, course manager has announced.

This event has been one of the most popular of all special events held at the course in the past.

Last weekend pairings for the Frank Poole trophy tourney were made. With 40 entries a number of first round byes were necessary, Mr. Carey said.

First round pairings are as follows with only one played off at this time: Herb Schofield defeated Joe Etienne, jr. 3-2; Bob Anderson vs Lyle Miles; Tip Riley vs Bob Miller; Des Milligan vs Perry Smith; Dave Fowler vs Jim Lawyer; Bob Pearl vs Bob Livingston; Alvin Bennett vs Keith Miles and Bruce Henley vs Pat Hawley.

Third round play is scheduled to get underway July 18.

Newsboy Wins Chicago Trip

Jim Bergmann, 14 has been awarded a trip to Chicago by the Grand Rapids Press.

The local Press carrier left Charlevoix Tuesday for Grand Rapids where he joined other carriers for the trip via chartered bus to Chicago where they were to spend the day visiting points of interest. He is scheduled to return to Charlevoix Friday.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bergmann.

Contestants for Venetian Festival Queen

Which one would you select as Charlevoix's 1959 Venetian Queen?

That is the choice a panel of out-of-town judges must make next week from this group of Charlevoix's loveliest, all candidates for the Venetian Queen who will rule over the 1959 Venetian Festival.

They are: (l to r) Susie Grate, Susie Duerr, Kathy McCann, Carrie Duerr, Carol Belfy, Sandy Richardson, Joyce Krulik and Kaye Ward.

School Band Participates in Floral Parade

The Charlevoix high school band directed by C. A. Odmark was in Traverse City Friday to participate in the annual Grand Floral Parade of the National Cherry Festival.

The 54 piece group gave a very creditable account of themselves according to Mr. Odmark. In addition to marching in the parade the band presented a concert in Lay park at 1 p.m. and a 30-minute concert for the patients at the Traverse City state hospital at 7 p.m.

The latter concert, according to Mr. Odmark, was a very impressive and sobering experience for the band members, many of whom had never realized the tremendous size of the state institution or the number of patients cared for there. The hospital has more than 3,000 patients, many of whom gathered on the lawn behind the administrative meeting for the concert. The appreciation of the patients themselves as well as the administrative staff will long be remembered by the members of the band.

The trip was made via school buses which left Charlevoix at 9:30 a.m. and returned at 9:30 p.m.

Church Group Plans Annual Smorgasbord

The third annual summer smorgasbord will be held at the dining room of the First Methodist church Thursday, July 16, Mrs Melvin Plum, president of the sponsoring organization, the WSCS has announced.

The smorgasbord will feature a large variety of home cooked foods.

Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m and continue until all are served.

Mrs. Harold Totten and Mrs. Lyla Arvilla are co-chairmen of the kitchen committee Mrs. Kenneth Sweet will be in charge of the dining room Mrs. R G. Bennett! Mrs. Leslie Everts and Mrs. Totten are serving on the publicity committee.

One of the lovelies pictured above will be crowned 1959 Venetian Queen at a coronation ball to be held at the Beach Hotel Saturday July 25, under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix JayCees.

A panel of judges will meet with the candidates at an informal meeting scheduled for Friday evening and make their choice at that time, according to Fritz Puffpaff who has been named chairman of the Queen's committee by Don Brown, JayCee president The judgest choice of the 1959 Venetian Queen will not be made known until the magic hour of 11 p.m. Saturday when she will receive her crown from the retiring queen, Wanda Russell.

Judges for the queen's contest will be Cynthia Harlan of WWTV Cadillac. Bob Mills of WTOM Cheboygan, Jack Behan of WMBN Petoskey and Jim Doherty of the Petoskey News Review.

The coronation ball will be one of the highlights of the forthcoming Venetian Festival to be held here July 24-25 and 26.

Music for the ball will be the Blue Notes of Grand Rapids, a six-piece dance combo widely known not only in the Grand Rapids area but throughout the midwest. Directed by Bill Watkins, the orchestra is composed of a group of musicians who form the nucleus of the Saladin Shrine band of Grand Rapids which appeared here last year. While this group was here last year many local residents enjoyed their playing at a jam session at the Argonne. Nick Hamilton, well known local drummer, will play with the combo when they appear here.

Tickets for the ball which promises to be one of the outstanding social events of the summer season are now on sale by the Charlevoix Jaycees.

Annual Bazaar At Congregational Church Is July 22

The annual 'Christmas in July' bazaar and luncheon sponsored by the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational church will be held at the church Wednesday, it was announced this week.

The luncheon which will feature a choice of ham or turkey will begin at 11:30 a.m. and continue until 2 p.m.

The bazaar will begin at 10 a.m. and continue throughout the afternoon. Featured will be gift items of many kinds, baked goods, jams and jellies.

Church to Sponsor Color Pictures of African Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Wilson of Ironton will show films of a trip they made to Africa last fall at the Ironton Congregational church at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 16.

Proceeds from the event will go to a fund for a new organ for the little church which serves the community of Ironton.

Mr. Wilson, retired executive vice president of the Goodyear Rubber Co., accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, inspected his company's holdings on the dark continent on the trip which took them to all the major colonies on the dark continent. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson offer an interesting commentary on the films which they took while on the trip.

It will be remembered that the Charlevoix Courier ran a series of letters written by the Wilsons during the tour

To Hold Burial Rites Saturday For Emma M. Bird

Graveside services for Miss Emma M Bird, former local resident who died last Saturday at Swedish hospital in Seattle, Wash., will be held at the Brookside cemetery at 10 a.m. Saturday. The Rev. James Sherman will officiate at the commital service.

The body will arrive Friday from the west and will be at the Winchester Funeral Home until the hour of the service.

Miss Bird who had taught in schools in Walla Walla and Seattle, Wash., for many years, had been in failing health for the past two months.

A native of Ironton, she had been reared from childhood by the late Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Bartlett. She was a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti. She had lived in the west for many years.

Soap Box Derby To Be Sponsored By Reserve Unit

A Soap Box Derby will be held during the annual Venetian Festival it was announced this week.

This year's event will be under the direction of the 310th Ordnance Company headed by Capt John Barkdoll. The Reserve unit with headquarters here has assisted with the Derby for several years.

This year's Derby will be open to youngsters 10 through 14 years of age.

Their vehicles must be made by themselves, must have wheels no larger than 12 inches in diameter, weigh no more than 75 pounds and have adequate steering and braking mechanisms.

Youngsters throughout the county are invited to compete in the Derby. Valuable prizes to be announced later will be offered.

Application blanks may be picked up at the Chamber of Commerce building anytime after Saturday.

All entries must have their parents permission to participate. Approval blanks to be signed by the parents will be found on application blanks.

Schedule Second Annual Canoe Race

The second annual canoe races will be held on Round Lake again this year as part of the Venetian Festival.

Boys and girls in the 8 thru 15 year age group are invited to participate in the event to be held Saturday morning under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce.

Application blanks for event which will feature a variety of races may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce building. Deadline for filing entries has been set at 5 p.m. Friday, July 24.

Everyone in the area interested in canoeing is invited to enter these races.

Plan Substitute Date for Concert By City Band

If inclement weather necessitates the postponement of this week's Concert in the Park Wednesday night, it will be played at 8:30 p.m. Thursday according to the director, C. A. Odmark.

Concerts have been rained out for the past two weeks.

The Charlevoix city band which weekly presents Concerts in the Park for the entertainment of the local residents and summer visitors will make its first appearance on the new Park Stage which is nearing completion, Mr. Odmark said.

Two Incumbents Re-elected to School Board

Two incumbents, Dr. Robert G. Martin and Robert G. Lieberman, were re-elected to the Charlevoix board of education Monday in an election which attracted only 54 voters.

Each received 53 votes. They were re-elected for terms of three years each.

At the annual meeting which followed, Supt. R. G. Bennett reported that the plans for the new junior-senior high school being drawn up by Gordon Cornwell of Traverse City would be completed later this month. The board of education would then advertise for bids for the structure which Mr. Cornwell has assured them would be ready for occupancy by September 1960.

It was also revealed that the bonds totaling $995,000 had been sold and the money invested and drawing interest.

Albert H. Smith of the board of education reported that the Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion, whose post home is located on Garfield ave. where the new school is to be constructed, is not interested in trading their present building for the Washington school on the north side. Legion officials did say, however, that they would be interested in selling their present post home to the school district.

Frank Oleksy spoke briefly to the 16 residents of the school district who had gathered for the meeting, stating that he believed the $10,000 which the Kiwanis club was giving the school to underwrite the cost of a swimming pool could be put to better use. It was then brought out that the local club had offered a swimming pool to the school and not the funds with which to purchase it.

At the organizational meeting of the board which followed Mr. Lieberman was elected president to succeed John L. Boss; Gordon L. Freedman, vice president; Albert H. Smith, secretary and Dr. Martin, treasurer.

Arraign Five At Special Term Of Circuit Court

Five persons, including a local couple, were arraigned here Monday during a special term of circuit court at which Judge Charles L. Brown presided.

Two young East Jordan men, Louis E. Ouimet, 20, and Charles F. Decker, 21, pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering an East Jordan service station in the nighttime. Their cases were referred to the probation department for investigation. They were returned to the county jail after failing to furnish bonds of $500 each.

Everett Jeffery, 35, and his wife, Louise, 36, pleaded guilty to charges of neglecting and abandoning their seven children who range in age from 13 months to 13 years. They were remanded to the county jail after failing to furnish bonds of $100 each while their cases are being investigated by the probation department. The children have been placed under the jurisdiction of probate court and placed in boarding homes.

Charles P. Gallagher, 76, of St. James, pleaded guilty to a morals charge His case was referred to the probation department for investigation Bond was continued at $1000 He was returned to the county jail after failing to furnish bond.

All will be sentenced at a later date.

Plans Progress for Three Day Venetian Festival, July 24-26

Charlevoix is busy preparing for the major event of the summer season — the Venetian Festival scheduled to open Friday, July 24, and continue through Sunday, July 26.

The Venetian boat parade on Round Lake at dusk Sunday evening will climax a three-day festival filled with entertainment galore from the opening event Friday afternoon, the second annual doll and pet parade, to the fireworks display following the boat parade Sunday night.

A horse parade through the business district will follow the doll and pet parade. A firearms demonstration will be held in East Park after this event.

A softball game at Kipke field and the Venetian Queen Contest at the Beach Hotel under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix JayCees will conclude Friday's activities.

Canoe races on Round Lake Saturday morning will open the activities the following day. An exhibition by the National Gymnastic Champs and another demonstration of fire arms by the State Police Saturday afternoon will be followed by a band concert in East Park and a softball game at Kipke field Saturday night. The 1959 Venetian Queen will be named and crowned at the coronation ball at the Beach Hotel at 10 p.m. Saturday.

A big street parade will open the Sunday activities. This will be followed by the presentation of the 1959 Venetian Queen and her court in East Park, an exhibition by the National Gymnastic champs and a fire arm demonstration by the state police.

A variety show beginning at 7:30 p.m. in East Park will be followed by the Venetian Boat parade on Round Lake. A brilliant fireworks display will climax the festival Sunday night.

And while all these things are going on East Park will take on a carnival atmosphere as booths offering a variety of goods, novelties and other items are operated by local organizations.

Entries in the Venetian Boat parade are still being accepted. Cash prizes and trophies will again be awarded to the winners. Entry blanks are available at the Chamber of Commerce building.

An added attraction this year will be rides for the youngsters. This attraction will be erected in the parking lot adjacent to the laundry.

To Close Entries Friday for Annual Golf Tournament

Play in the third annual City Championship golf tournament will begin this weekend at the municipal golf course according to Keith Carey, manager of the club.

Entries in the popular tourney will be accepted until Friday night when pairings will be made. The tournament will be played in four flights, as in the past. Defending champions are: championship flight, Bob Wallace; first flight, John Swanson; second flight, Charlie Dennis and senior flight, Jim Lawyer.

Golfers wishing to compete in this meet are asked to call or stop at the club house before Friday night and register for the event.

Bob Livingston defeated Bob Pearl 9-8; the defending champion, Calvin Bennett was downed by Keith Miles in 19 holes; Pat Hawley def. Bruce Henley 3-2; Ken Cellner def. Al Bergmann 6-5; Lyle Auce def. Chuck Bennett 2-1; Bob Anderson def. Lyle Miles 2-1; Guy Swanson def. Byron Wright 3-2; Dave Coatta def. Bill Lusk 1 up; Tip Riley def. Bob Miller in 21 holes.

Fifty-five golfers are entered in the Ladies division of the city championship tournament which was scheduled to begin yesterday (Wednesday). This will be played in four flights.

Mr. and Mrs. William Supernaw posted a low gross of 45 and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson a low net in the husband and wife two-ball tourney in which 28 couples were entered. The event was played Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Supernaw posted the low gross and Mrs. William Supernaw the low net in the ladies day tourney held Wednesday in which 33 players were entered.

Expert to Prepare Special Barbecue For Ski Benefit

Prof. Robert Dean, Barbecue master from Michigan State University, will arrive here early next week to supervise the preparation for the barbecue to be held over the Venetian weekend according to Bob Neff, local chairman for the event which will benefit the Mt. McSauba ski run.

A work bee was to be held at the site of the barbecue, the ground near the ski lodge Wednesday night, under the direction of Frank Boss. Everything must be in readiness for Mr. Dean who will supervise the preparation of the barbecue pit and barbecuing of the prime beef which has been 'special ordered' for the event.

Mr. Neff, widely known for his ability as a chef, is busy with the spices and other ingredients preparing a special barbecue sauce for those who may wish it. The recipe used for the sauce is said by Mr. Neff to be a secret one handed down in his family for many years.

Tickets are now on sale under the supervision of Mrs. Gregory A. Shadko. These tickets offer a special price on the luscious treat to be prepared by Mr. Dean.

Pig Raisers to Hold Meeting At Court House

A feeder pig meeting has been set for Thursday evening, July 16 at 8:30 p.m., according to Ed Rebman, County Agricultural Agent. This meeting will be held at the court house at Charlevoix.

The discussion will concern the proposed feeder pig program for Northern Michigan. Many farmers are interested in raising feeder pigs as another source of income. Michigan needs a good source of high quality feeder pigs. Farmers interested in this program should plan on attending this meeting.

These slides will illustrate the feeder pig program in operation in that state. They will show the sorting, grading, pick up, and other parts of the Wisconsin system.

Coming Events

July 16 — Program of colored pictures taken by Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Wilson on African tour, Ironton church, 8 p.m.

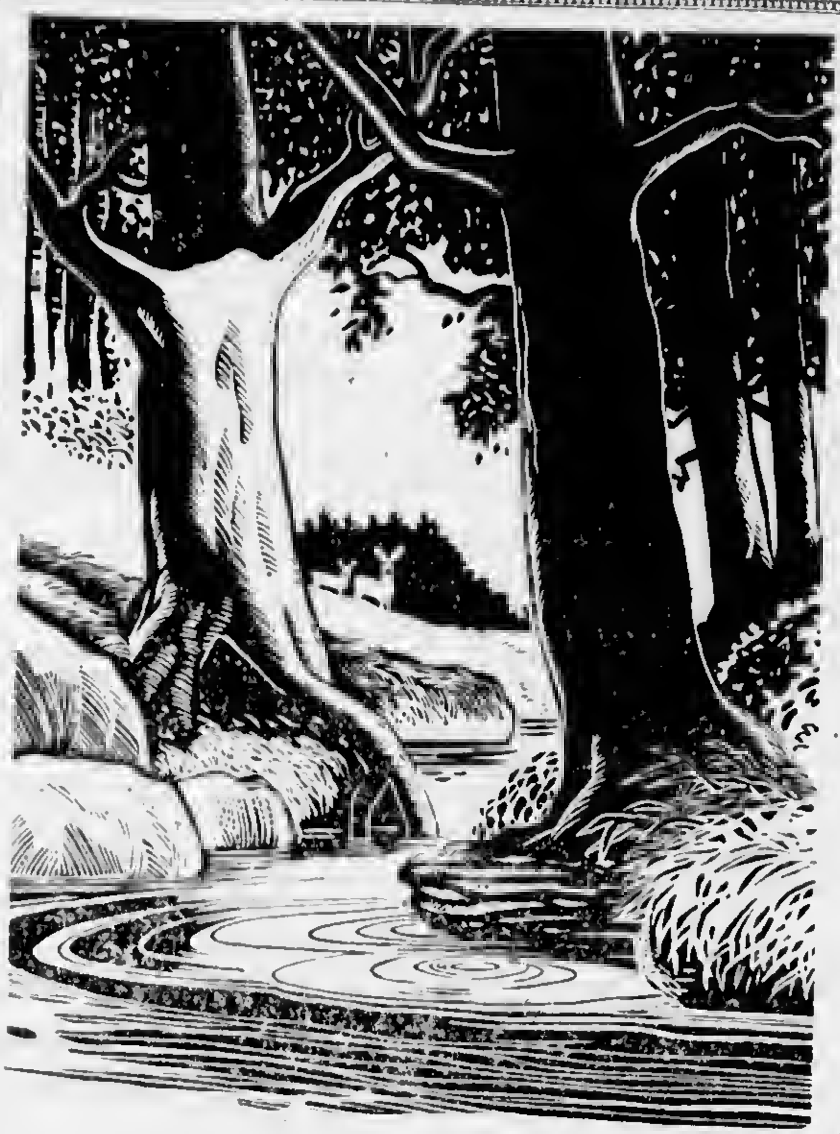
Adventures in Understanding

Notes from a northerner's diary

By Harold E. Kohn



The Quiet Spirited

Where the amber waters of our woodland stream run deepest they are most quiet. Where the brook is shallowest, it babbles.

People, too, are generally quietest where they are deepest, and noisiest where they are shallowest.

A lady complained to me, some days ago, about the treatment she received in a certain dress shop in another city. It wasn't that she was intentionally abused, or treated with indifference. Quite to the contrary, she was overwhelmed with frantic attention, and swarmed over by clerks who called her "Honey," "Deary," and "Darling" and constantly fawned over and flattered her. And all of this frenzied attention was given by utter strangers. What offended the customer was the superficiality of the saleswomen. They were babblers. They were using terms of endearment to make a commercial transaction and using words of love superficially. What distinctive words of affection would they have left to use on those most dear to them, their sweethearts, husbands, or their children? Real affection is seldom rash or gushy, nor does it hasten toward some desired reward, like a sale. Affection is a deep and quiet pool of appreciation, care and respect, and desire for another's happiness and ultimate welfare, and clamors for nothing in return.

Sentimentality babbles, running in noisy turbulence over shallow souls. We see and hear it where people easily become misty-eyed over the plight of their fellow-men without ever performing a generous loving deed to help them. But genuine goodwill is found in quiet, kindly, thoughtful behavior, and lies action-deep.

When anyone attempts to impress you with his education and culture by the use of long words and affected accent, you can be certain he is not convinced that his education is thorough or his culture deep. Ostentation is a proof of a shallow mind and impoverished soul. One office manager had to let a new stenographer go. He explained his action, saying, "It is too bad. She had a lot of polish, but it was all on her nails." Sometimes intellectual polish is just about that superficial; it's all in appearances, and a snowy vocabulary may serve to disguise meagerness of thought. A large vocabulary is good if it is not showy, noisy, ostentatious, if the big vocabulary is used for carrying big ideas. Nonsense babbles. Wisdom runs in quiet pools.

Beware of the person who boasts of his virtue, his humility, his faithfulness, his sincerity. When someone frequently emphasizes, "Now I'm sincere about this," we naturally wonder why he needs to make the claim. Why the distinction." . . . Sincere about this?" Are there things he is insincere about, and why? Real virtue does not need to be declared. It will announce its own presence in its own quietly convincing way. Ralph Waldo Emerson once said of a braggart, "The louder he talked of his honor, the faster we counted our spoons." Of course! A loud and boastful honesty is certain to be shallow, and cannot be trusted. Profound honesty needs make no ringing claims. Like a pool in the forest, it can afford to wait discovery. It's in no hurry. It's not going dry.

The noisy things of earth are the little things, like the cicada —those raucous locusts that sing on hot July afternoons, and the brook babbling over boulders. The silent things of the universe are deep, like pools and ocean abysses, and big like distant mountains, vast like the Milky Way.

Some of us might stand more chance of greatness if we practiced more hours of silence. As a prophet of long ago once said, "In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength."

Don't forget the annual "Christmas in July" bazaar and luncheon at First Congregational church Wednesday, July 22. Luncheon with choice of ham or turkey $1.00. Serving 11:30 a.m. til 2 p.m. Bazaar from 10 a.m.

Cunningham-Sniegowski Exchange Vows at St. Mary's Ceremony

St. Mary's church was the scene Saturday morning of the wedding of Sandra L. Cunningham and Ronald J. Sniegowski of Ludington.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orlin V. Cunningham of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sniegowski of Ludington.

The Rev. Fr. E. Francis Denay officiated at the nuptial Mass before an altar decorated with arrangements of blue and white delphinium and pink gladioli. Mrs. Frank Oleksy was the organist and accompanied Barry Pischner who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a floor length gown of lace and net over satin for her wedding. The gown was fashioned with a semi-scooped neckline outlined with lace, long pointed sleeves, a fitted bodice that came to a point at the waist and a bouffant skirt. A pearl crown secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and a white prayer book and rosary.

Barbara Johnson of Ludington, as maid of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of pink chiffon fashioned with a round neckline, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt and a matching pink head-dress. Her cascade bouquet was of pale blue daisies and carnations. Mary Schuchard of Charlevoix and Joyce Woodworth of Ludington, as bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to the honor attendants in pale blue chiffon and matching blue headdresses and carried cascade bouquets of pink daisies and carnations.

Arthur Sniegowski of Ludington assisted his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Leonard Nagel and Thomas Neuman, both of Ludington.

rMs. Cunningham selected an aqua linen dress and beige accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Sniegowski, mother of the bridegroom, chose a tan and brown print dress and matching jacket and white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

For traveling on their wedding trip to the upper peninsula the bride wore a navy and white linen suit and white accessories. After July 16 the couple will be at home at 407 Loomis st. in Ludington.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of the Charlevoix high school and attended Davenport Institute in Grand Rapids. r. Spiegowski is a 1956 graduate of St. Simon's high school in Ludington and is presently employed at Dow Chemical Co. there.

Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

Chanute's Technical Training College is the pioneer technical training school in the Air Force. Thousands of men and women, including officers, airmen, soldiers, sailors and civilians annually receive training in the more than 80 courses taught by the institution. The Chanute school's stature has so grown in recent years that today it is widely recognized as one of the most important contributors to the overall defense effort.

Sgt. Hamilton, who entered the U. S. Air Force in 1952, came to Chanute from McConnell Air Force Base in Wichita, Kans. A graduate of the Charlevoix high school, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Hamilton sr.

- Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trudeau have returned to their home in Royal Oak after spending a week with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt.

Langfor-DeYoung Vows Exchanged At Church Wedding

Ellsworth — Bobbie Langford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Langford of Farmington became the bride of Rodney DeYoung at a quiet ceremony performed June 25.

The Rev. Douglas VanGessel of the Atwood Reformed church officiated at the service at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John DeYoung.

Deanne DeYoung, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. Robert Drenth assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Betrothed

The engagement of Janis Irene Arbuckle to H. Dale Glass has been announced. Parents of the prospective bride are Mrs. M. Bartlett Arbuckle of Charlevoix and Keith Arbuckle of Sault Ste. Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Glass of Zeeland are the parents of the future bridegroom.

The bride-elect is a 1959 graduate of Central Michigan University. Mr. Glass, a veteran of four years service in the U. S. Navy, attended Mexico City College and Central Michigan University and plans to enroll at Wayne State University in September.

'49 Graduates to Hold Reunion

The Class of 1949 of the Charlevoix high school is planning a tenth reunion later this month it was announced this week.

Heading the committee, planning the reunion are Mrs. Richard (Sally Swinton) Nelson of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. William (B. J. Cunningham) Steffens of Flint who are spending July in Charlevoix.

Efforts are being made to contact all members of the class for the reunion which is scheduled for July.

SUNDEW REPORTS

Our destination Monday was the Soo. We arrived there late in the afternoon. After staying overnight we took aboard a small house with quarters for dellvery to the lifeboat station at Ludington, We gol underway early Tuesday and at dusk we neared Lansing Shoals light, pausing long enough to take on board a small boat also to be delivered to Ludington. We ran through the night, arriving at Ludington 9 a.m. Wednesday.

After off-loading the house and small boat, we departed for Frankfort where we picked up a fire pump for delivery to Charlevoix. The winds picked up and sort of pushed and rolled us to Charlevoix where we moored at sundown.

Thursday was clean-up day. It was moved up a day because of the holiday routine on Friday. Saturday was dress ship day once again.

Underway on Sunday again but this time it was strictly for pleasure. The Captain intended taking dependents and guests out to see the Britannia. However, fog in the Charlevoix area necessitated a change in plans. The Britannia went to the north and west of Beaver Island while we cruised down Lake Charlevoix and a short way out into Lake Michigan.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

A welcome to three new seamen: Bob Belinger reported aboard for two years active duty. He hails from Chicago. The other two men are from Michigan, Bob Ballard from Bay City and Gordon Brodie from Detroit . . . Ken Anderson CS3 was discharged. He returned to Chicago . . . Ed Haley Sn was admitted to the Charlevoix hospital for what we hope is a short stay . . . On Friday evening a ship's party was held at one of the roadside parks north of Charlevoix. Somehow the outside air adds flavor to hamburgers and hot dogs . . . You weren't seeing double over the weekend. Floyd Black Leaves Mail Route After 37 Years of Service

Floyr Black, veteran rural carrier, (right) receives his last batch of mail from Postmaster Peter Timmer. Floyd Black is retiring after serving 37 years as mail carrier on Charlevoix's Route 2. Story at left tells of the many experienees he underwent since he delivered his first mail in 1922.

* * *

Floyd Black, veteran postal employee, has retired after serving more than 37 years as rural mail carrier on Charlevoix's Roote 2.

Mr. Black assumed his duties on the route which extends from Charlevoix to Ironton and back across Marion township to the Marion Center road in mid-winter 1922. Within two weeks he had what he considers one of his most memorable experiences.

It was Feb. 14, 1922, when he took over his duties from Clarence Miller who had served the route for many years after the veteran carrier and his wife, who also was his substitute on the route, decided to go to Florida to make their home.

On February 22 northern Michigan had one of the worst sleet storms in memory. Everything was covered with 18 inches of ice, telephone lines were down and all trains were halted until the ice could be cleared from the tracks. As a result not only Charlevoix but all other communities in the area were without mail service for 10 days. When the first mail did get through it came to Petoskey via the old G. R. & I. railroad and a horse-drawn sleigh was sent to bring it to Charlevoix. There were stacks of newspapers and countless bags of mail that had piled up in Grand Rapids during the storm. It seemed like days, he recalls, before all the mail was delivered.

In March the north country had another sleet storm but this time it was isolated for only five days.

"When you've experienced a winter like that or one like the one of 1934-35 when the temperature drooped to 40 degrees below zero, then the winter we had last year was mild by comparison thoogh it was the most severe in many years" Mr. Black said.

Those were the days, he went on, when a rural mail carrier had to use a horse and sleigh from November until April and a car the remainder of the year.

His first car, he recalls, was a Model T which he used from May through October or until the storms came and in those days no effort was made to keep the roads open for winter traffic other than the horse and sleigh.

When he first became a rural carrier his mail roote was 28 miles long. Today it is 39.5 miles bot is basically the same the post office offers more service to rural patrons than in the past. Never is the carrier more than eight miles from town on the route.

Until the late 1930's little effort was made to keep all roads open throughout the winter. It wasn't until 1937 that Mr. Black was able to use a car all winter to service the route. Until then he used his car for part of his route and a team and sleigh to cover the 'back roads' section.

Though his earliest experiences as a roral carrier are his most memorable Mr. Black says that he has many though none as outstanding as those early storms. Like all rural carriers he has served in many capacities, assisting people by picking up groceries or medicines in the early days, repairing a washing machine or some other important piece of machinery or giving his patrons a tow in cold weather or through a snow bank.

When he first became a carrier he lived in town. However, on Oct. 6, 1923, he was married to the former Mary Gates of Alba and they moved to their present home in Marion township. This necessitated leaving home long before daybreak in order to get to town in time to sort the mail and start the job of delivering it. There were few times that he was unable to make the trips.

For the first time in more than eight years he missed a day last winter because of weather and had to remain in town overnight for the same reason. During the area's last storm in March, he snowshoed to town, the first time in many years that he had found it necessary to do this.

Bot all that is over now for Mr. Black who received his permanent appointment as carrier just two weeks after he assumed his duties.

Now he's going to do all the things he's wanted to do and never had time for . . . work his 120 acre farm and devote more time to horse-pulling contests. His team of horses, one of his most prized possessions, weigh better than two tons. He has entered them in competition throughout the state and in the national contest at Centerville. Now he feels he will have time to really enjoy this sport. "I can really take my time for I won't have to hurry home and get the mail out the next day" he said.

Mr. Black is a native of Charlevoix. He was born here May 19, 1893, and during World War I served with the 16th Cavalry at Mercedes, Tex., where the unit patroled the U. S. Mexican border on horseback. After 18 months in the service he retorned here and a few years later began his career with the U. S. Post Office Department.

As a carrier he served under five postmasters including the late George Finucan, the late George Weaver, Clarence B. Meggison, J. M. Foster and Peter H. Timmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Black have four daughters, Mrs. Arthur (Jean) Drenth and Mrs. Robert (Maxine) Drenth of Ellsworth, Mrs. Richard (Mary Lou) Johnson of Elmhurst, Ill., and Mrs. Edward (Shirley Ann) Wilbur of Kalamazoo. They also have 11 grandchildren.

WE HEARD ABOUT A WOMAN who was trapped on the second floor of her house recently by a burglar. She peeked down the stairs and saw him ransacking the house but couldn't call police because the only phone was on the first floor. So she kept very quiet upstairs until the burglar left with all her valuables. Our subscriber was poorer but wiser for her experience. She bought an upstairs extension telephone the very next day. A telephone in your bedroom is not only a convenience. It's a security measure as well.

OUTOOOR TELEPHONE BOOTHS are really handy to have around—so much so, in fact, that a vacationer was found living in one in the resort town of Carolina Beach, N. C. He had set up housekeeping with an old broom, a small oil stove, a frying pan, cooking oil, eggs and cheese. There seems to be no limit to the convenience of these outdoor booths. But at the request of those who were waiting to make a call, our friend was encouraged to do his homesteading elsewhere. Folks in Michigan, incidentally, are never far from a public telephone. Michigan Bell has over 4,000 outdoor booths conveniently located along the state's highways and byways.

SONG WRITERS have been inspired by the telephone ever since 1877, just a year after its invention by Bell. That's when two marches, a polka and a solemn piece called "The Wondrous Telephone" were published. More than 70 song titles have appeared since then, many of them using the rhyme of "alone" and "phone" or "telephone." Now a new Columbia record album with songs by Polly Bergen is available. It carries the over-all title of Irving Berlin's 1924 hit, "All Alone by the Telephone"—something you needn't be any more with friends and family just a quick call away.

Novotny-Gaskin Nuptials Solemnized At St. Mary's Church Saturday

Charlene Marie Novotny became the bride of Peter Logan Gaskin at a double ring service during a nuptial Mass at St. Mary's church Saturday morning.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Erwin C. Belfy jr. and Mr. and Mrs. James Gaskin.

The Rev .E. Francis Denay celebrated the Mass before an altar decorated with pink gladioli and blue delphinium. Mrs. Frank Oleksy was the organist and Mrs. C. D. Geiken the soloist.

Given in marriage by Mr. Belfy and her father, Charles Novotny of Petoskey the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white re-embroidered nylon marquisette nver tissue taffeta for her wedding. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice, square neckline, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt. A beaded crown secured her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and blue forget-me-nots.

Patricia Belfy, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a ballerina length of white nylnn scattered with sprigs of yellnw flowers and a matching yellow headdress and carried a colnnial bouquet of yellow daisies.

Sally Cross and Louise Holm, as bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to the hnnor attendant's with pink and hlue flower sprigs respectively, and matching headdress. They carried colonial bouquets of pink and blue daisies, respectively.

Carl Triolio of Chicago assisted the bridegroom as best man. Michael Belfy and Donald Falling were groomsmen. Richard Southwood, cousin of the bridegroom, and Keith Mort seated the guests.

Mrs. Belfy chose a light blue linen sheath dress and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Gaskin, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue figured dress and white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast for the bridal party and their immediate families was held at Liston's restaurant. An afternoon reception attended by more than 100 guests was held at the bride's home. Assisting were Mrs. Ivan Whitley and Mrs. William Novotny.

The couple was honored at a reception given Sunday evening in Petoskey by the bride's father, Charles Novntny, and Mrs. Novotny.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Gaskin will make their home at 306 West Upright ave. in Charlevoix.

Wedding guests were present from Grand Rapids, Detroit, Chicago, Mancelona, St. James, Oden, Petoskey and Bay Shore.

A rehearsal dinner Friday evening was hnsted by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Southwood, uncle and aunt nf the bridegroom.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brun have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Marie, to Nathaniel Herriman.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grunch.

Wedding plans have not been completed by the couple.

The bride-elect is a 1959 graduate of the Charlevoix high school. The prospective bridegroom attended the Elkton high school and is a veteran of two years service in the U. S. Army.

Former Residents To Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Cnoper, former local residents now living at Sault Ste Marie, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, July 25.

The occasion will be marked by an open house at their home at 304 Nolte in the Soo on July 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper were married here July 24, 1909, and made their home in Bay City and Charlevoix before going to the Soo 22 years ago. Mr. Cooper, a native of Charlevoix, is a retired mechanic. Mrs. Cooper is the former Dernice Depeel of Ludington.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Alger (Mildred) Vought of Alpena. They also have five granddaughters and five great-grandsons.

Grangers Invited To Pomona Party At Wilson Hall

Pomona Grange has invited all subordinate Grange members to a dancing party at the Wilson Grange hall Saturday evening, Mrs. Charles Weisler, Pomona secretary has announced.

The party will be held at nine p.m., following the 8:30 p.m. business meeting to Pnmona.

Features of the party will include the sale of a mystery box and other entertaining events. Those attending are asked to bring sandwiches, cake or cookies for a potluck lunch.

Don't forget the annual "Christmas in July" bazaar and luncheon at First Congregational church Wednesday, July 22. Luncheon with choice of ham or turkey $1.00. Serving 11:30 a.m. til 2 p.m. Bazaar from 10 a.m.

Garden Club to Entertain at MacDowell Home

The spacious grounds and home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacDowell will be the setting next Tuesday afternoon for an open house sponsored by the Charlevoix Garden club. Mrs. MacDowell, president, and members of the club will be hostesses to members of the Sequonota club, the Chicago club, the Belvedere club and other summer residents nf the area and other invited guests.

Dr. Edgar Musselman, noted authority on birds and nature will be the guest speaker. He will speak nn his favorite subject "Birds." Dr. Musselman is a resident of Quincy, Ill., and a member nf the Sequonota club.

Another feature of the afternoon entertainment will be a short concert by members of the Charlevoix high school hand, directed by C. A. Odmark.

The occasion is not a benefit, Mrs. MacDowell points out It has been planned only to afford the guests an opportunity to hear Dr. Musselman and enjoy an afternnnn outing at the MacDowell home.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDowell reside six miles from Charlevoix on the north side of Lake Charlevoix on the Boyne City road. The hour is two p.m.

Guild Notes . . .

Reports on various activities of the Guild made up the major part of the program at the regular meeting of the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital held recently.

The recent bake sale sponsored by the Guild netted $84.30 with several other contributions yet to be made.

The library cart which also features sundry items for the convenience of hospital patients is being operated three times a week with sales climbing, according to a report made by cart chairmen, Mrs. Gordon L. Freedman and Miss Frances Millner.

Miss Milner who also is in charge of holiday favors reported that favors had been made for the major holidays in the past month. Pipe cleaner men, waving miniature flags, were used for Flag Day; firecrackers made from a roll of candy were used for the Fourth of July and cigars wrapped in colorful paper for Fathers Day.

The Flower Committee, which goes to the hospital several days each week to assist with caring for the patient's flowers, is now operating regular. Mrs. Robert G. Martin is in charge of a committee of volunteer workers.

Mrs. C. T. Symons jr. reported that candy, which is sold by the Guild to raise funds for its nursing scholarship fund, has been placed in 17 places in the city. The sales for June totaled $146.27 Mrs. Symons was authorized to order new candies.

Mrs. Glenn Krohn of the Style Beauty show has sold flowers from her garden to patrons at her shop and turned the proceeds over to the Guild. To date she has contributed $20 from this project.

Plans for the sixth annual fashion show and luncheon were also completed at the meeting as members assumed the responsibility for ticket sales and reservations. Tickets were distributed and arrangements made for reservations which were taken by Mrs. Robert J. Yankman and Mrs. Max Hosmer.

It was reported that the new dishes had arrived and were now in use. The Guild is underwriting the cost of new dishes for use on the patients trays.

Funds from the annual fashion show and luncheon will be used to purchase thermo-pitchers for use by the patients.

Spiritualists to Hold Special Camp Services

Two special services will be held Sunday at the Northern Michigan Spiritualist camp at Bay Shore to welcome Jewelle Buckner, president of Michigan Spiritualist Association of Churches.

The 2:30 p.m. service will be preceeded by a pot-luck dinner at the camp grounds one mile south of Bay Shore. A strawberry social will be held at 5 p.m. and the special evening service at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speaker for the two services will be Lauretla Wayne, daughter of Mr. Buckner.

Postman Ready For All Hazards, Mail Delivered

"Neither rain nor sleet nor dark of night shall stay these carriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds" is the motto of the postman.

Last week another hazard was added to this impressive list. It was wind and water in the form of a west wind blowing down Pine river to Round lake which snatched a letter from the hand of veteran postman, Walker Miles.

Never in his 27 years with the department had he anything like this happen but he arose to the occasion.

After trying to find a boat in the area, he called Jim Bellinger who sent one of his employees, Doug Bergmann, via motor boat, to retrieve the letter which, by this time, had floated along on the current to the Chicago club area on the north side of the lake.

Though a bit moist, the letter was delivered to the Charlevoix Lumber Co. after only a brief delay.

Draft Board Calls One for Examination

One Charlevoix county draft registrant, Raymond C. Kuzmik of Boyne Falls, was named to report for a pre-induction physical examination Aug. 18 at a meeting of the draft board held Monday night.

No one will be called for induction next month.

Three registrants, George Casper, John Kirby and Elmer Carson, all of Boyne City were inducted into the armed services July 1 to fill the county's July draft quota. No one was ordered to report for pre-induction physical examination this month.

Babershoppers Stage Harmony Picnic

★

Harmony rang through the cedars on the east side of Oyster Bay last Sunday afternoon when members of the Charlevoix chapter SPEBSQSA (Barbershoppers) and their families picnicked at the Paul Kohler cottage "Peek-Holer."

Mr. Kohler, president of the chapter, and Mrs. Kohler were host and hostess. They were assisted by a refreshment committee including Chairman Tom Carey, Richard Donaldson, Rex Davis, Bob Gill, Charles Bennett, Ralph Hess jr., Hal Hill, Harold Muth and Henry Dombrowski.

Visiting guests included Mr. and Mrs. Loton Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Dryer of Boyne City, Miss Mona Davenport, Dr. and Mrs. Lyle D. Ance and children, Carl Kohler, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Newby and daughter of Kalamazoo, Mrs. Richard Hillman and two children of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. August Odmark of Dearborn, Don Wright of Petoskey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carey of Chicago and a number of residents of the Oyster Bay resort area.

Harmony by impromptu groups congregating about the grounds provided entertainment for the oldsters while the children enjoyed swimming and games provided by the host and hostess.

Refreshments included a variety of cold cuts of meat, salads, relishes, hot and cold beverages.

A short business meeting of the various committees responsible for staging the Barbershop Jamboree over the Labor Day weekend was held. Outstanding quartets of the state are being contacted to provide the program for the event.

Don't forget the annual "Christmas in July" bazaar and luncheon at First Congregational church Wednesday, July 22. Luncheon with choice of ham or turkey $1.00. Serving 11:30 a.m. til 2 p.m. Bazaar from 10 a.m.

Highlight Your Vacation! Visit . . . Historic Beaver Island

For an ever to be remembered cruises to historic Beaver Island, a spot of natural beauty, rich in history and legend. Once ruled by King Strang, the Island was the only kingdom ever to exist within the boundaries of the United States. Here too, lived Dr. Protar, reputed Russian nobleman in exile, who devoted the last years of his life ministering to the sick. And, on the Island still stands the building which housed the first daily newspaper printed in northern Michigan.

Accommodations on the Island are excellent for an extended vacation or a one day visit, and "Welcome to America's Emerald Isle," is the friendly greeting to the visitor.

The New Motorship 'Emerald Isle' offers the most popular cruise on Northern Lake Michigan and a visit to America's Emerald Isle.

Softball Results

During the week they slipped by the City Merchants and whipped the Airport Inn to cinch the title. In the game with the Merchants they pushed across three unearned runs in the first inning on three merchant' bobbles and Nate Boss pitched a one-hitter for a 3-0 win. Dave Schuchard collected the only hit off Boss.

Four runs in the first inning climaxed the Mold-Inn game. The Mold's Joe Beaudoin singled with the bases loaded to give the winners the lead they never lost. Four Inn runs in the third on Bob Darbee's three run homer tightened the game but five Mold runs in the final two frames provided them with their seventh win.

Freedman edged the City Merchants 4-1 to cop second place. Bob Klooster was the big difference as he tripled home one Freedman run in the first and hit a three run homer in the fourth. Then he squelched a Merchant rally by striking out the side with the bases loaded in the sixth inning.

Freedman edged the Airport Inn by the identical 4-1 score during the week. Hank Klooster drove in two runs with a third inning single Bob Darbee continued his fine hitting by collecting two safeties for the losers. Louie Mason paced the winners with two singles.

Charlevoix Is Home Port for Sally-Jan II

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Elliot and daughter Sally and Jan, summer residents from Sterling, Ill. ,try out their new 42-ft. Constellation Chris-Craft cruiser, "Sally-Jan II," recently purchased from Capt. Alfred Brow, proprietor of Brow Marina. The cruiser was built at the Algonac plant where Mr. Elliot accepted delivery and brought the craft to her home port in Charlevoix.

The Elliots have been summer residents of Charlevoix for the past nine years and vacation at their summer home at 204 Belvedere. Mr. Elliot is president of Midwest Food Services, Inc.

News Round-up at Camp Charlevoix

The second week of camp started off with our annual visit by Paul Gach, Grosse Pointe photographer who has been coming to our camp for the last twelve years to take the camp pictures. Boys were all dressed in their Sunday whites and section, cabin, and activity pictures were taken.

Tuesday found Mr. Gach taking more pictures until the afternoon when the trips department went into action and six cabin groups were out of camp by supper time. Dick Thompson and Tom Jennell took their boys on a canoe trip down to Young's State Park. The boys on this trip were: Dean MacVicar, Roger Wetherill, Stephen Hack, Stephen Wardrop, Dick Topping, Craig Finch, Dick Daley, Richard Flaningham, Bob Lakin, Lee Maindenberg, Fred Tucker, Charles Sullivan and Gil Haynie. Cabin 21, our oldest boys in camp, under the leadership of Lyle McAuley, took a horse back overnight with one of our cowboys, J. R. in charge. These boys were: Tom Kennedy, Dave Smith, Clark Davis, Bill Washburn, Denny Van Orman, Lauren Coltrin, and George Smillie. Fisherman's Island was the camping site for Kent Gibbs and his boys, who were: Jim Harper, John Baird, Grant Washburn, Chris Nyland, Geoff Smith, David Roberts and Chris Olsen (Bay City Chris Olsen). Nick Cameron and Ken Peters took their boys down to Eastport to the State Park. The boys were: Scott Gregory, Ralph Miesei, Genrge Steinhardt, Sandy Coakley, Jeff Tupper, Tom Zinn, Tom Steffe, Jerry Mason, Walton Silver, Bill Wilburn, Keith Harrison, Doug Tassell and Bob Crowley. The trips men had a busy day and by nightfall had driven 220 miles getting boys located.

On Wednesday, more cabins took to the hills and Dick Wendt and Bill Wilson took their boys hy haywagon and the big team up to Bay Shore. These boys were Tommy Seidman, Vesti Johnson, Jeff Baldwin, Andy Baldwin, Tommy Kraus, Mike Parsell, Freddy Matthaei, Wayne Hause, Mike Pliskin, Robert Rnyer, Dave Verdier, Randy Hoffman, John Haury and Richard Toneray. Bill Fors and Tom Richardson took cabin 11 down to Eastport. These boys were Tommy Coolman, David Spaulding, Bruce Lang, Richard Moon, Nick Noyes and Billy Speed. In the evening the All Camp Night Program was a very exciting Capture the Camper. This is an event in which the campers hide somewhere on the camp property, 340 acres big, and the counsellors try to catch them. The sides getting the least number of men caught, win the points in the Green-Grey competition. The Greens won two points while the Greys won one point, bringing the score to Greens 5 Greys 4.

Thursday Eric Hendricks and Kerm Kreuger took their boys to Bells Bay for the day. Richard Royer, C. J. Shelley, Jeff Weber, Bill Fraim, Tommy Arndt, John Zinn, Steve Steketee, Bob Beal, Bob Camp, Eddie Wilson, Chris Olsen, John Bacon, took this trip. Cabin 19, with Phil Jacobs as counsellor, left on a horseback overnight trip. The boys were Don Law, Arthur Brown, Mike Grass, Tom Rike, Don Shipp and Wes Orr.

On Friday morning the cabin groups announced the names of the boys whom they had chosen to be their representatives on the camper-council. The boys elected to this polict-making group are: John Zinn, John Bacon, Bob Foley, Tommy Seidman, John Haury, Bill Orr, George Steinhardt, Keith Harrison, Terry Summerfield, Harry Calson, Tommy Coolman, Hal Thurston, Dick Topping, Leeds Davis, Jim Schmidt, Bob Lakin, Chris Olsen (Bay City), Hanke Holste, Mike Grass, Bob Henry, and Tom Kennedy. In the afternoon David Karns took his cabin of boys on a horse back overnight trip, the boys being John Mabley, John Deane, Roy Lange, Stephen Horvat, Alan Schaeffer, Jim Schmidt, and they had a delightful time.

We had several parents in camp on Saturday, and activities went along as usual, so that parents could see their boys in action. It was a warm, sunny day, and everyone was very excited when the tug pulled a barge to our waterfront to pull out ten huge pilings which have been there thirty one years. The boys lined the shore to see how it was done, and everyone was amazed at the ease with which these huge pilings were pulled out of the lake. In the evening we had our first "Skit Night" with cabins 5, 6, 14, 15, 20, 21, putting on short skits that the cabin groups had arranged. Cabin 5 with Bill Wilson as the leader gave a skit called "A Day in School" and Wayne Hause was the teacher. The boys in this skit were: Mike Pliskin, Bob Royer, Dave Verdier, Randy Hoffman, John Haury, and Richard Toneray. "Russian Band Stand" was the skit given by Gene Ackert's cabin group. The Assistant Counsellor, Marty Burk, did a great job as the Russian "Dick Clark" and the boys were: John DuPrée, Robert Pliskin, Ned Stilwell, Bill Orr, Doug Fox, Franklin Roberts, and Bill Crowley. "School for Draculas" was the skit that Mike Bazany's cabin put on. Jnhn Mothershead was the Head Dracula while the boys in the school were: Bill Green, Chip Coakley, "Tug" O'Neill, Leeds Davis, Fred Bissell, and David Frederick. Cabin 15 with Dave Karns as the counsellor gave "Pine Trees," a skit revolving around the first few hours in camp. Alan Schaeffer was especially good as the mother bringing her son to camp for the first time. The others in the play were: John Mabley, John Deane, Jim Schmidt and Stephen Horvat. Cabin 20, Buzz Fender's cabin put on a skit on "FBI". The three "ladies" were especially good (??), Bill Vandenbelt, Ted Schmidt and Bob Henry. The other members of the cast were: Doug Lane, John Harmon (very tough), Phil Huber and Freddy Gagel. Cabin 21, with Lyle Macauley as counsellor gave a skit involving the editors of Mad Magazine. It was difficult to imagine that these odd looking people were our campers. Bill Washburn was the narrator (pantomime to a record) with the other "MAD" Editors being Tom Kennedy, Dave Smith, Clark Davis, Denny Van Orman, Laurin Coltrin and George Smillie. The evening ended with the boys singing "Taps."

At Sunday morning Chapel, Bill Wilson, counsellor of cabin 5, was the speaker. His subject was "Character." There were several parents attending our chapel service and we were very pleased to have them as our guest. At our Sunday noon dinner we all settled back and heard one of our assistant counsellors Marty Burke played a piano solo, two movements of a Mozart Sonata. The boys were greatly impressed, and helps a great deal to have boys hear good classical music once in a while.

Sunday afternoon there was more Green-Gray competition in several sports, swimming, sailing races, baseball games, archery, riflery, tether ball and tennis. Every boy in camp competed in one sport and they all seemed to enjoy helping their team win. The Greens wnn 2 points while the Greys won one point. The Greens now lead 8 to 5 in the season competition. Vespers were held nn Sunday evening with Phil Holiday giving a very learned talk on "Tolerance."

The cabin representatives met in the afternoon Sunday and decided upon the charities to which we will send our chapel collections. Much good is done with the chapel collections, the Carnival proceeds, and the money taken in at the Rodeo refreshment stand. Through the years, several thousand dollars have been given to worth causes, selected by the boys themselves.

Reservations by Vacationers Here Brings Reunion

A telephone call for reservations for rooms at Miller's Northern Guest House on Petoskey ave. one day recently resulted in the reunion of cousins who had not seen each other for 40 years.

The call came from Ludington but until the guests arrived here Mrs. Esther Miller, who is operating the House for the fourteenth summer, did not know that the caller was none other than a cousin, Mrs. Libby Kantor of Huntington Park, Calif., who had stopped for a visit with close friends in Ludington. After they had told her Mrs. Miller was in Charlevoix, she called for the reservations and surprised her.

It was quite a reunion with Mrs. Kantor, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hoffman and two children of Northbrook, Ill., staying for a week instead of one day as they had planned.

Sea Scouts Send Report Enroute to Camp Philmont

Five Charlevoix Sea Scouts departed July 4 via chartered bus from Petoskey for a 16-day trip which would take them to Philmont, N.M., where they are to spend 12 days on the trail. They are among 30 Scouts and three adults from the Scenic Trails Council who are making the trek.

Jack Rader, secretary of the Charlevoix Ship No. 211, has sent the following account of the first leg of the trip.

Monday, July 6

We left Charlevoix at 9:30 p.m. Saturday with 16 boys from Petoskey, Boyne City, Alpena, Alanson and Charlevoix. We picked up the remaining 15 in Mancelona, Kalkaska and Cadillac. Mr. Kryger of the Kryger Furniture store had some cold pop and cookies in the store so we could refresh ourselves before continuing.

While in Chicago we took in such sights as the City Zoo, International Trade Fair and the Museum of Science and Industry.

When we were getting ready to return to our train from the museum, we found that, Bill Johnston of Cadillac was missing. Larry Schumacher of East Jordan went to look for Bill but he had only been gone five minutes when we found Bill . . . asleep in one of the back seats of the bus.

When the bus finally got to Union Station I was in for a surprise. Dad (Jack Rader sr.) had flown down with Mr. (Gordon) Freedman and Mr. (Robert) Neff to take Teri (Freedman) down to her train which she will take to Denver.

While we were on the train some of the boys met some girls going out to camp near Denver. We finally had to be called out of their car. We made it to Denver without any major mishaps.

(Other Charlevoix Scouts on the trip are Tony Genia, Al Arvilla, Darrell Sommerville and Stan Martin.)

Parents Attend Funeral of Son

Mr. and Mrs. John Piet returned recently from Detroit where they had been called earlier by the death of their son, Edward W. Piet, 43, on April 18.

Funeral services were held April 21 at the Frontczak funeral home with Brother Kalesa officiating. Burial was in Oakview cemetery in Royal Oak.

Alger A. Dean, 71, Former Resident Dies at Cadillac

Alger A. Dean, 71, father of Mrs. Harvey Hamilton and a former local resident, died Wednesday at Cadillac where he had lived since leaving here in 1950.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Lincoln ave. Baptist church in Ionia with the Rev. Vern Wessman of Cadillac officiating. Burial was in Highland Park cemetery at Ionia.

A native of Ionia, Mr. Dean had lived there until coming to Charlevoix in 1945. While here he was active in the Baptist church.

Surviving are his wife, Rilla; two daughters, Mrs. Hamilton of this city and Mrs Ivy Montgomery of Cadillac; two sons, Alber of Traverse City and Fred of Grand Rapids; nine grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; three brothers and two sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Walton of East Jordan were in Cadillac Friday to attend a prayer service.

- Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wycoff of State st., have had as their guests the past week their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wycoff, and son of Eaton Rapids and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sims, and son of Elkhart, Ind.

Latest Book by Kohn Favorably Reviewed by 'Trib'

The latest published book of essays "Thoughts Afield" by the Rev. Harold E. Kohn, recently was favorably reviewed by Alfred C. Ames for the Magazine of Books, supplement in the Sunday edition of the Chicago Tribune. The book is composed of selected essays originally published under the same title in the Charlevoix Courier.

The reviewer comments that the author is a thoughtful, observant, reverent man, making good use of his opportunities. He also noted the appropriate illustrations in black and white drawn by the author.

Each of Mr. Kohn's first three books, "Feeling Low?", "Through the Valley," and "Pathways to Understanding," have been purchased by book clubs. His latest book, "Thoughts Afield," is now being considered by various book clubs, according to the publishers, Eerdmans of Grand Rapids.

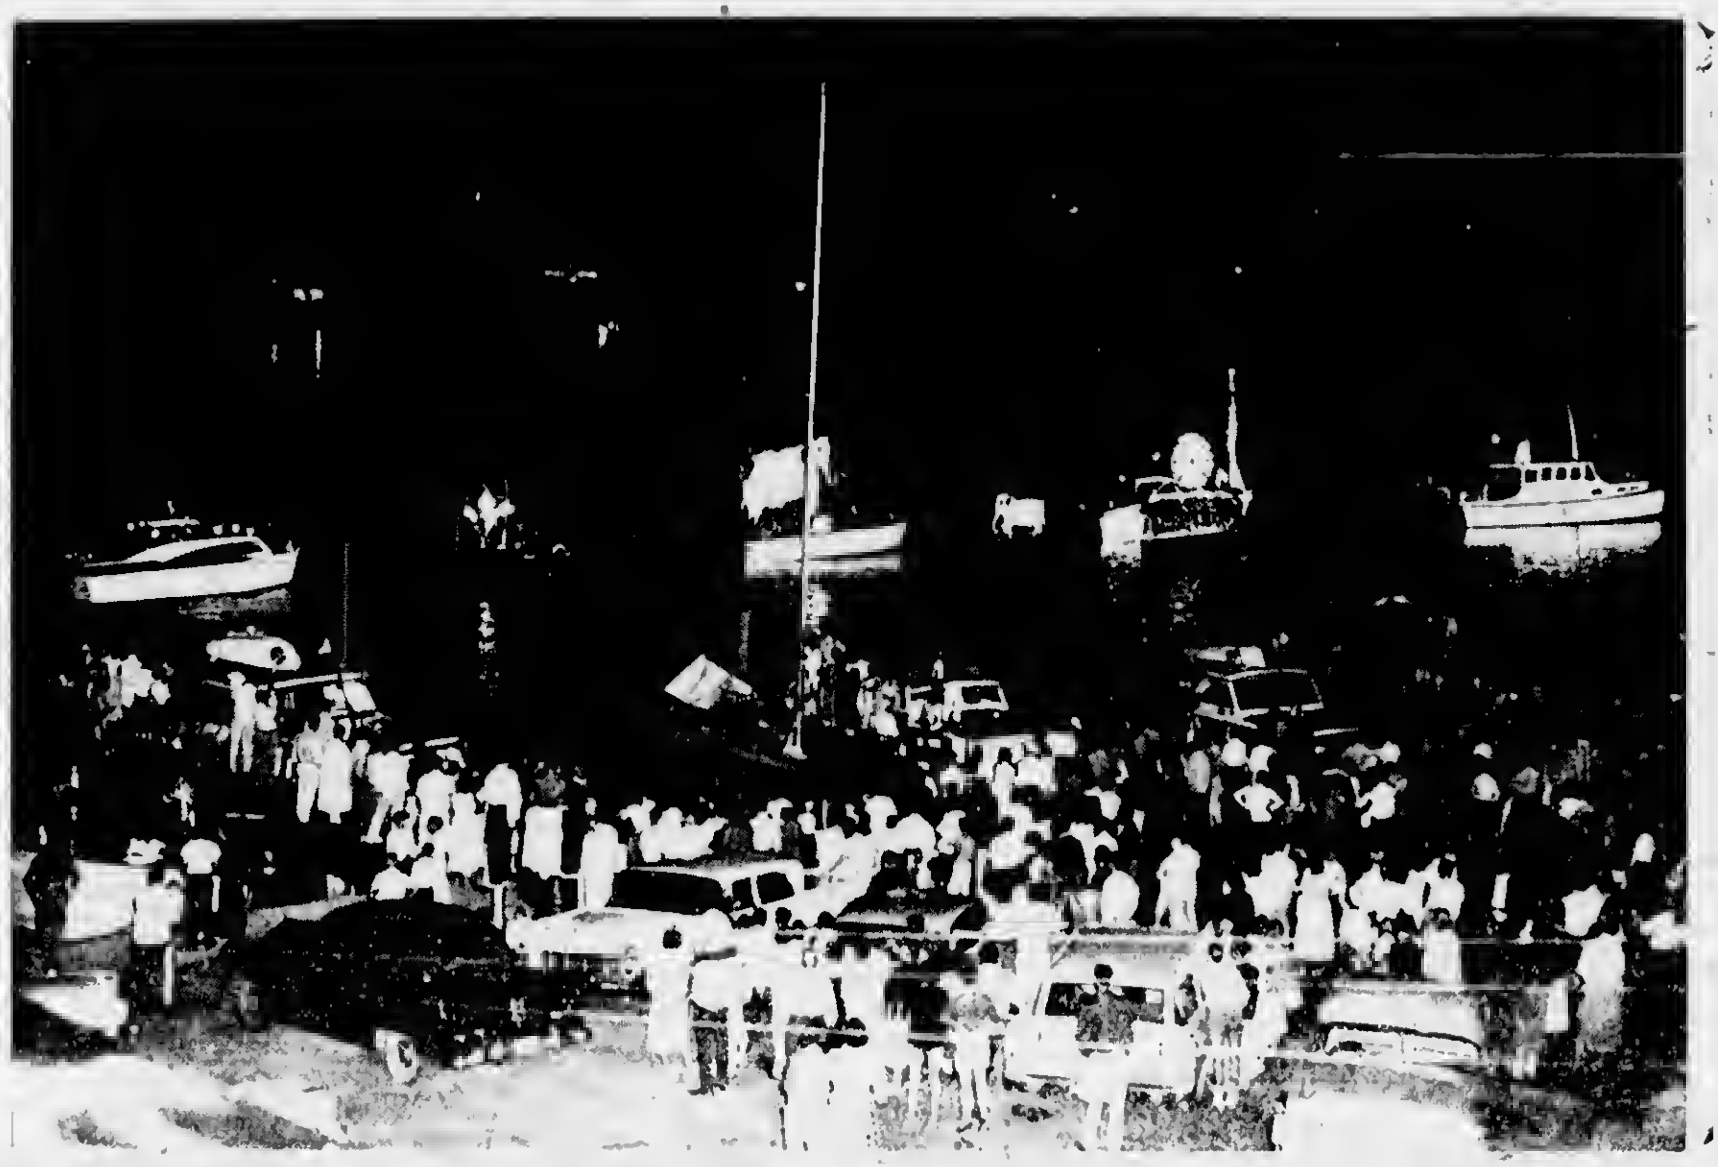
Annual Venetian Festival Opens Friday



First night pictures of the spectacular Venetian boat parade were made last year by Bob Miles with the use of flood lights. Crowds lined the dock and packed East Park from there on to Main Street as the beautifully decorated and lighted craft glided about the yacht basin. Photo courtesy of Bob Miles.

Shallow Water Dive Injures Manton Youth

A Manton youth who suffered a spinal cord injury after diving into shallow water in Lake Charlevoix was taken via ambulance to the University hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment Friday night.

The youth was Jene Sosenko, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sosenko, who suffered the spinal cord damage when he apparently struck his head on the bottom of the lake after diving from the small pier at the depot beach on Lake Charlevoix. He was paralyzed as he came to the surface following the dive and was pulled from the water by his traveling companion, Thomas Waite, 17, also of Manton. He was taken to the Charlevoix hospital via ambulance for examination and x-rays. Dr. L. E. Grate, attending physician, said there was damage to the spinal cord which resulted in the paralysis but no apparent fractures of the vertebrae in the neck. His condition was said to be serious but not critical.

He was transferred via Winchester ambulance to the University hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment within two hours after the accident which occurred about 7:15 p.m. Friday

Waite told Police Officer Earl Crandall who investigated that he and Sosenko were returning to their homes in Manton from a bicycle trip to the Straits of Mackinac when they decided to go for a swim before settling down for the night. He went on to say that Sosenko was the first to discard his outer clothing and run out on the 30 ft. dock from where he dived in Waite said he was still on shore when he realized something was wrong as Sosenko came to surface, struggling to keep his head above water without making any effort to swim. He rushed into the water in his clothing and pulled his friend from the water. Other people on the beach offered assistance and called the police who in turn called the ambulance.

Waite accompanied the injured youth to Manton where his parents joined Sosenko for the trip to Ann Arbor.

Mr Crandall said the water at the end of the pier is only 26 inches deep.

Heirlooms and Antiques to Be Sold at Auction

An auction sale of collectors items and antiques will be held at one p.m. Saturday at the VFW building on Petoskey ave., Tom Demaroukas, owner of the collection has announced

The Demaroukas collection of heirlooms and antiques includes museum pieces, figurines, Havalin china, lithographs, vases, Wedgewood pictures and furniture.

Jeffrey Loper Killed by Car On Northside

Jeffrey Arnold Loper, 2½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold V. Loper was killed Friday afternoon on Petoskey ave. as he ran into the street after a toy whistle and was struck by a car driven by Fred Wright, 68, of Grand Rapids.

The accident occurred in front of the home of Mrs. Mabelle Graves at 206 Petoskey ave. where the child and his mother had stopped to visit enroute from their home at 907 Bridge Street to the northside beach. They were about to leave the Graves residence when Mrs. Loper called to the child who was playing on the lot near the street. It is believed as he started to run the whistle flew out of his hand and he continued to run through the tall grass to the street to retrieve it according to Joseph L. Smith, who investigated the accident. The front right fender of the Wright car struck him as he ran into its path.

He was rushed by ambulance to the Charlevoix hospital where he died a few minutes after being admitted. Death was due to a compound comminuted fracture of the skull and extensive brain concussion, according to Dr. Robert G Martin, coroner and Dr. L. E. Grate, family physician.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Winchester Funeral Home with the Rev. Robert J Yonkman officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loper of Ellsworth; his maternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs. Marvin P. Stewart of Lake Washington, W. Va., and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Alice Workman of Hurricane, W. Va.

Following the accident Mr. Wright and his wife, Grace, 66, were admitted to the local hospital for treatment of shock. They were discharged to their home in Grand Rapids Saturday morning.

Two Youngsters Lose Lives in Water Mishaps

Two small children were drowned in separate accidents in waters near East Jordan recently while visiting in the area.

The first victim was seven-year-old Lawrence Woodley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duayne Woodley of Havana, Ill., and grandson of Mr. and Mrs Ernest Nixon, former local residents now living in Lewiston, Ill., who fell into the Jordan river while trying to cross it on a beam which extended across the river. This happened July 8.

The second youngster was Michael E. Jones, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Columbus, Ohio, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jones, former residents who are now caretakers at the Allen estate on the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix. He drowned Thursday while wading near a dock on Allen's point.

The Woodley child and his cousins, Ronald 9, and Gary 7, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Roberts, were walking along the Jordan river near the temporary bridge outside the city when he attempted to cross the river by walking on a narrow beam. He apparently slipped into the water from the beam. His cousin's cries for help were answered by workmen at the nearby new bridge. They searched the river bottom for several minutes before recovering the body. Efforts to revive the boy were unsuccessful.

Besides his parents and grandparents, he is survived by two sisters, Melanie, 5 and Sanda, 3.

The body was returned to their home in Havana, Ill., for funeral services and burial

The Jones child was wading off Allen's point with his sisters, Kathy, 10, and LeAnne, 9, when he disappeared in the water. Sheriff Glenn E. Rose who investigated said the child apparently stepped into a hole near the end of the dock where the body was recovered by an East Jordan fireman, Donald Dixon, who assisted in the search.

He also is survived by his great-grandmother, Mrs. E. R Jones of Norwood.

Services were held at the Watson funeral home in East Jordan Friday. The body was returned to Columbus for burial.

Community Chest Meeting Planned

The annual Budget and Admissions meeting of the Charlevoix Community Chest will be held at the high school band room at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 5, according to Hal M. Hill, Community Chest president.

All agencies who have participated in the past and several prospective member agencies have been notified by letter of the meeting and asked to send representatives to answer any questions regarding their budgets. Any budgets must be mailed to the secretary, Mrs. Gerald Left no later than Aug. 3.

Agencies which participated in the 1959 Red Feather drive were Scenic Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts, Charlevoix hospital, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Michigan United Fund, City Recreation, Charlevoix Service Organization, Charlevoix Association to Aid Retarded Children, the Emergency and Community Nurse.

Others members of the Community Chest board of directors are: vice president, Franklin Ochs, treasurer, Lawrence Feindt, Mrs. Dean Davenport, Mrs. Carl F. Kohler, Karl Schultz, Mrs. J. K. Reed and Fred deCastro.

Business People To Be Guests of Mich. Retailers

Representatives of the Michigan Retailers Association will meet with area businessmen at the Grey Gables Inn at 8 a.m. Thursday, July 30, Tom Symons, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce has announced

Richard O. Cook of Lansing, assistant vice president and Robert Boyll of Cadillac, district represnetative of the association, will address the retailers of the area at the coffee and doughnut meeting. They will stress current legislative action backed by the association and its effect on the retailers of northern Michigan.

The meeting is of definite interest to all persons in the retail business whether it is the service station, motel, restaurant or retail stores. All business people are urged to attend.

Band Presents First Concert On New Stage

With a show of excitement or elation the Charlevoix city band presented its first concert last week Wednesday on the partially completed new permanent stage at East Park. Immediately before the concert, however, Director C. A Odmark uncovered his emotions when he remarked, "This is the day I have been waiting for."

During an intermission in the concert the Rev. Fred McNeil gave a report for the Park Stage committee, reviewing the progress to date and told the audience, of at least 1,000 persons, what remained to be accomplished.

Following, in part, is the report of the committee presented by Rev. McNeil.

"Since the first meeting of the committee was held last winter, $2,200 in contributions have enabled us to contract all labor and materials necessary to the present state of completion as a 'minimum use' stage with ample storage room underneath, at a cost of $2,600. This means that we have spent $400 more than our income, but such expenditure is more than justified by its completely eliminating the need to replace the no longer usable wooden stage at a cost of a few hundred dollars.

"From the outset the committee realized that a park stage, to be used by many groups for a variety of presentations, including concerts, recitals, drama, Venetian Nights and other special programs, must be highly func-

Boat Parade-Fireworks To Climax Three Day Program Sunday Night

Charlevoix is poised for its annual Venetian Festival this week end as various committees complete details for the many activities which have been planned for the entertainment of the thousands of visitors who are expected to start arriving Friday for the major summer attraction of the north country.

From the opening event, the Doll and Pet Parade in East Park Friday afternoon to the Venetian boat parade on Round lake and the brilliant fireworks display over the lake Sunday evening, visitors will enjoy a diversified program planned under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce for the entertainment of young and old folks.

A surprise celebrity was added to the program this week with the announcement that Joe E. Brown, who was seen here last week in the Academy Award-winning film "Around the World in Eighty Days" would be here to serve as master of ceremonies for the Sunday evening variety show scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in East Park. The veteran Hollywood actor will appear here thru the cooperation of Ruth Bailey of the Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City where he will appear next week in "The Father of the Bride."

A number of entries have been received for the always-colorful Venetian boat parade to be staged on Round Lake as darkness falls Sunday night. These boats are decorated with colored lights in a variety of themes that are guarded secrets until the parade. The boats will assemble in Lake Charlevoix under the direction of Bob Hamilton and will enter Round Lake via the upper channel.

Judges for the boat parade will be Max Hinkel of the West Michigan Resort and Tourist Association, Kenn Haven of Station WPBN-TV, and Jim Peyton of Station WTOM-TV Cheboygan. The judges, Joe E. Brown, the Venetian Queen, city and festival officials will attend a dinner at Grey Gables Inn at 6 p.m.

Mr. Brown will leave the dinner for East Park to serve as master of ceremonies for the variety which will be presented from the new park stage. Among the acts to be featured on the show will be Bonnie Shapton of Lansing who appeared recently on the Ted Mack show in New York, the Dixieland Stompers of Bellaire, Mrs. Lee Moerland soloist, the Camp Charlevoix Mummers, a barbershop quartet and a barbershop chorus. The show will begin at 7:30 p.m. and continue until time for the parade. H. B. Schofield, chairman of the show, will introduce Mr. Brown.

The Venetian Queen and her court will also be presented during the show. They will then leave the park to join the judges aboard the 54 ft. power boat, Trident II, owned by Mr. and Mrs. P. H Danly which will again serve as the queen and judges boat. Mrs. Danly will host the group in the absence of Mr. Danly who is in Japan on business.

The Venetian Queen will be named Saturday evening at the Coronation Ball at the Beach Hotel. Eight candidates vying for the crown are: Sue Grice, Carrie Dugas, Kaye Ward, Kathy McCann, Sandy Richardson, Joyce Kralik, Carol Baffy and Sara Dwyer. Wanda Russell, 1958 Venetian Queen, will crown the queen at the Coronation Ball at the hotel Saturday. Judges will be Johnny Williams of WPBN-TV, Bob Mills of WTOM-TV Cheboygan, Jack Behan of WMBN Petoskey, Jim Doherty of the Petoskey News-Review and Cynthia Harlan of WWTV Cadillac. The judges will make their selection and the results will be kept secret until 11 p.m. Saturday when the name of the 1959 Venetian Queen will be announced at the ball which is sponsored by the Charlevoix JayCees headed by Don Brown. Fritz Puffpaff, chairman of the Queen's committee, will introduce candidates and Miss Russell.

Music for the ball will be by the Blue Notes of Grand Rapids a six piece combo widely known throughout the midwest. Tickets for the ball may be obtained from the JayCees.

The 1959 Venetian Queen will receive a variety of gifts from more than 20 local retailers.

The Venetian Festival will open at 2 p.m. Friday with the Pet and Doll parade in East Park. A third division has been added this year, a 'dress-up section,' for those children who are past the doll stage and do not have pets. Winners in all three groups will receive cash prizes. All entries

Planning Water Front Show

The Waterfront Fair was the topic of conversation when this group met in East Park recently.

The Fair in which artists of all kinds have been invited to participate will be held in the park Saturday, Aug. 1.

County Farmers Get Cost-Share Benefits from ACP

Sixty-one Charlevoix county farmers last year received federal assistance for their participation in the agricultural conservation program, according to a report by Carlton H. Smith, chairman of the county committee.

The report showed that 17 farmers established 170 acres in permanent type grass; 14 received cost share payments for rotating grass or legumes on 197 acres; 25 farmers planted more than 60 acres of trees; and five were paid for building ponds.

Funds are still available for cost sharing projects under the agricultural conservation program Smith said The federal allocation to the county for the program last year was approximately $29,000 with approximately $9,000 budgeted for administrative costs and $20,000 for cost-sharing payments.

The Dominated Majority

There were 150 growers of wheat in Charlevoix county last year but only 14 of them will be permitted to vote today on the wheat referendum to decide if a marketing control program will govern the 1960 wheat crop. The other 146 are not eligible to vote because they have an assigned quota of less than 15 acres although they are permitted to plant and sell up to 15 acres without the benefit of support prices.

The wheat program controls marketing in 39 states. Many of these states, like Michigan, have only a small percentage of growers eligible to vote on the referendum. The result is the growers in the wheat belt virtually dictate the program to the growers in the fringe states despite the fact that an opposition vote of just over one-third of the eligible voters can terminate wheat marketing restrictions.

It all adds up to a strong minority dominating a weak majority with a total disregard for the rights of the majority. What's the result? Government hands out token payments to the little growers and taxes him to the hilt to assure the wheat barons a tidy subsidy.

Retired Teacher Vacations Here To Visit Friends

Allen F. Greenman, graduate of the Charlevoix high school class of 1897, and Mrs. Greenman are spending a month here to renew old acquaintances and reminisce of early days.

Following graduation from high school, Mr. Greenman taught in community school districts while working on his life certificate. He will be remembered by students who attended the Norwood, Atwood, Clark and Antrim schools at the turn of the century. He also taught at Boyne City before going to the University of Michigan to study for his A.B. and M.S. degrees. He majored in science and mathematics and served as principal and superintendent of various state schools during his career.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Greenman are retired and reside in Bay City where they are now active as curators for the Bay County Historical Museum. Mrs. Greenman devoted her life to the ministry.

During their stay here they are residing at 220 Mason st. Mr. Greenman will welcome the opportunity to visit with former students and friends.

SUNDEW REPORTS

We returned last week to South Fox light to complete removal of all equipment. Before the buoy run last fall we had begun removing things from there but weather prevented us from completing the job at that time. After many years of being a manned light, South Fox Island light has joined the growing list of the more economical un-manned light stations.

Wednesday and Thursday were supposed to be "underway days" but high winds made the transfer of gear from Ile Aux Galet light to the ship via small boats impossible.

On Friday the wind slackened and we spent all day loading the buoy deck with everything from paper clips to generators. We returned to Charlevoix in the evening and spent the weekend in port. We will return next week to Ile Aux Galet to complete the removal of gear. That light will then join South Fox island light as an un-manned light station.

While in the vicinity of South Fox island we set two newly painted buoys, bringing the old ones back for re-painting.

As a follow-up to our recent trip to Lansing Shoals Light station when we took men and equipment to the light for the change-over from coal to fuel oil, we delivered several thousand gallons of fuel oil. Enroute there we also stopped at White Shoals and Greys Reef light stations. We were in again by evening.

Tuesday was another big moving day as the last of the supplies and equipment were removed from Ile Aux Galet light station which will now be an un-manned silent sentinel guiding the up-bound steamers in Lake Michigan.

Wednesday and Thursday were also busy days as we continued our scrapping and painting aboard the ship.

On Friday we left for Mackinac Island to re-fuel the Lifeboat Station there. Ship traffic was so heavy that we had to anchor in the harbor. In addition to the fuel we left a 4,000 gallon tank there.

Sunday evening the ship departed for the shipyard at Sturgeon Bay. It will be there about two weeks. While the ship is in Sturgeon Bay there will be no Sundew report. We hope that the weather will be as beautiful in Sturgeon Bay as it has been in Charlevoix.

SUNDEW SCUTTLEBUTT . . .

Congratulations to the newlyweds. Mr. and Mrs. John Massey are now residing on Petoskey ave. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hart have an apartment on East Hurlbut ave. John Glenn QM2 took an unscheduled swim in Lake Michigan's cool blue while loading gear at South Fox island. Heavy seas were reported all the way to Charlevoix. We now have a sports enthusiast who has taken up golf, swimming and horseback riding in a few short weeks. How easily strong men are influenced. The number of golf widows is increasing as the season waxes strong. Roy Peron SN was transferred to the cutter Yeaton based at Groton, Conn. We will miss his and his Impala too.

Looks as though taking a dip in the big lake is becoming a habit. Chief (Roderick) Bassett took the plunge this past week at Ile Aux Galet attempting to 'ride' the large tank out to the ship. Another new man has arrived to join the crew. He is Charles Hanshaw FNEn who just graduated from Engineman's school at Groton, Conn. His home is in Coldwater, Mich. We had the pleasure of processing him during his entrance physical examination in Chicago a year ago. Small World! Hal Ellis Sn will soon be receiving his mail somewhere in Alaska while Ernie Pelon DC3 will be heading for Hawaii.

Note: News about another promotion is forthcoming but Warren Toussaint who writes this column regularly for the Charlevoix Courier is a modest guy and didn't include it in his report. Last Thursday he received word that from now on he'll have the rate of Hospital Corpsman, first class.

Artist's Preliminary Sketch of New Lodge

Weathervane Lodge, now nearing completion is expected to open about Aug. 10, Julius Gilbert, president of Pines, Inc., builders of the new lodge announced last week. Ralph Gillman, formerly associated with the Perry Hotel, has been engaged as manager.

The double tier of units, including two suites and lobby, are built around a square patio with an entrance at the northwest corner from Dixon and Michigan avenues. Native stone masonry dominates the exterior walls accented by California red wood sections and large glass windows in each unit. The top tier of units open on to a balcony. The iron railing along the balcony which continues completely around the spacious patio presents a Spanish atmosphere, somewhat like Old New Orleans modernized. Balconies on both the upper and lower tiers everlook Round Lake on the south side.

Three stone towers enclose circular iron stair cases leading to the balcony. The circulars stairs were specially cast for the Weathevane Lodge at the East Jordan Iron Works. Elevator service also will be available.

Units will be furnished semi-modern with two double beds in each room. Interiors will be either ash, mahogany or walnut paneling with full glass for the outer walls. Each unit has a tiled bath.

All rooms will have telephone service through a central switch board along with latest model televisions.

Other features of the lodge will include a solarium roof for sunbathers, a functional lobby with huge fireplace and a social lobby where planned recreation will be provided for the guests.

The lodge will cater to small conventions and other groups. Plans are to remain open the year around offeriog adequate facilities for winter sports followers and others during the winter months.

James Marshall of Traverse City is architectural designer of the lodge which will cost approximately $500,000. The contractor is Harry Watson of East Jordan.

Pines, Inc., builders and owners of the lodge, is headed by Mr. Gilhert as president. Directors are Earl A. Young, Kit Carson, Robert Bridge, Dr. G. B. Saltonstall, Donald Welling of Detroit aod Albert Stein of Chicago.

- Miss Clara Weiderman has returned to Detroit following a week's visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Dutcher. The latter's daughter, Mrs. Mitchell Szczpanski and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Dutcher, all of Detroit hrought Miss Weiderman here and remained for a brief visit.

I See By The Courier . . .

- Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Osborn and children, Cindy and Roy, of St. Louis, Mo. are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Osborn of 107 Park ave. Other guests who will arrive this week are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mullen and six children of LaGrange, Ind.
- Mr. and Mrs Peter Leet and daughter, Stephanie, have arrived from Grosse Ile to spend two weeks with Mrs. Leet's mother, Mrs. Milo Kane and Mr. Kane and her grandmother, Mrs. Dora Hamilton. Mr. Leet is drill master of the Grosse Ile Naval Drill team known as the Tars and Rifles who appeared in a recent parade in Windsor, Ont., honoring Queen Elizabeth and at the National Cherry Festival.
- Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs Ray Ashdon were their daughter, Mrs. Daniel Dalton and daughter, Joyce who returned to their home in Detroit after spending a week here and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ashdon of Chicago who spent the weekend here. The latter's daughter, Andrea, who had been visiting her grandparents, the Ashdons and Mrs. Henry Partridge, returned home with them.
- T-Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas Jackson and three sons arrived Friday from Alexandria, La., to spend a 30-day leave with Mrs. Jackson's mother, Mrs. E. A. Mock.
- Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wagner and son, Bob, of Owosso, visited last Wednesday and Thursday with the former's aunt, Mrs. Marie McCall.
- Mrs. Louis Orlowski sr left Sunday for Des Moines, Iowa, for a two weeks visit with relatives there and in other Iowa cities. On Sunday she plans to attend the first Mass of a cousin, Father Columba Kelly, a priest in the Benedictine Order, which will be celebrated at Williamsburg, Iowa.
- Mr. and Mrs. Don Shumsky and grand-daughter, Susan Reaves, of Detroit are spending several days with Mrs. Shumsky's mother, Mrs. Marie McCall.
- Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goss have returned from a week's trip to Duluth, Minn and west to North Dakota.
- Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pop of South Gate, Calif., are guests of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gibelyou. They are former residents of this community and are enjoying visits with their many old friends.
- Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Lahive of Ferndale were weekend guests of her brother and ssiter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Totten.
- Mrs. Peter McCauley and Mrs. Mary Parker of ontiac are visiting the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Dhaseleer.
- Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nawrocki, former Charlevoix residents now living at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., are vacationing here to visit former friends. Mr. Nawrocki is lightkeeper at the Shwrood Light Station.

Plans have been made for a reunion July 25 of the Frank Coatto family to be held at the East Jordan trailer park.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bodley have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Irene, to Ernest Ray dePas.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ignes DePas of Wilson, Michigan.

Wedding plans have not been completed.

The bride-elect is a 1957 graduate of the Charlevoix high school and has completed two years at Ferris Institute. Mr. DePas is a 1954 graduate of Powers at Ferris Institute.

Would Publish Names of Persons Getting Welfare

Names of persons receiving welfare aid should be published each month by the Welfare department. That is the opinioo of the Marion Center Farm Bureau following a discussion by the grouo on the topic, "Are We Doing Well in Welfare Progress in Michigan?"

The community group further suggested the Welfare department should "investigate each case directly and carefully" and "the Welfare department should be an elected office."

Mr. and Mrs. Vern McGhan were hosts at the monthly meeting of the Marion Center group. The next meeting of the group will be a beach picnic Aug. 19.

Mrs. Herbert R. Fox Condition Better

Mrs. Florence Fox who underweot surgery a week ago Tuesday at Munson hospital, Traverse City, for a hip injury suffered a year ago is recovering rapidly according to friends who visited her this week.

Surgery immediately following the injury dio not prove satisfactory and since that time she has been confined to her home and dependent on crutches and other mobile aids. Saturday she was able to place weight on the leg and walk with the use of crutches.

Trade Salutes RCA Victor 2-In-1 Stereo

Camden, July 16 — Old-timers in retailing are hard pressed to recall any merchandise that has been so enthusiastically received as RCA Victor's Stereo Newsmakers for 1960.

"Push-button tuning, remote control, power up to 87 watts, AM-FM stereo tuners, it's the outstanding line of this year . . . and any year," a leading dealer said yesterday.

Great credit goes to RCA Victor's imaginative 2-in-1 concept —typified by The Mark VIII. It will give listeners truly fine stereo as a single compact unit—or the "left-hand speaker system swings out, lifts off for full-range stereo. "This is the stereo my customers have been looking for and seen. I can really go to town with a large, Midwestern dealer commented, "because it will give every customer exactly the [illegible] he wants . . . a turntable that fits his home."

RCA Victor's 2-in-1 stereo will come in the most-wanted finishes and styles. Call Putt's Appliance Center for full details—today!

LANSING OBSERVER

By FRANK G. MORRIS

Editor's Note — The comments of the Lansing Observer do not necessarily reflect the opinion or policy of the Charlevoix Courier.

A lead editorial in the Sunday edition of the Detroit Times flattered the Lansing Observer column by taking issue with the writer on the subject of a state income tax vs. a sales tax.

The gentle robuke was flattering because the top space on the editorial page of the Sunday Times is a sacred spot usually reserved for battles against Communism, one-man grand juries and vivisection.

The punch lacked the usual fire of the Times, probably because the editor is a very close friend who taught me nearly all I know about the newspaper business, including ways of getting fancy expense accounts past the business manager.

This Detroit editor is one of the most brilliant newspaper writers of our generation, and one of the last of the nation's conversationalists. It is my good fortune to sit with him at least once a week, for he is blessed with the power to cleanse the brain and purify the spirit.

The editorial scoffed at a statement in the Lansing Observer column that the legislative stalemate over taxes is "a determined clash between forces defending two radically opposed principles of government." It mentioned that I also wrote that "the issue is whether the will of the people shall rule."

The editorial — and another a few days later — proposed that the State Senate be apportioned on a population basis to let Democrats run the whole shebang.

My editor friend (and mentor) works these days in an air-conditioned office. There is a rug on the floor, a picture of William Randolph Hearst on the wall, and an extra desk loaded with books stolen from the mails when the book editor did not get to work on time.

When I first knew this editor he worked without a tie or coat and with his shirt sleeves rolled. The only air conditioning he knew was a trip to the fire escape for a cigarette, the fire marshal having banned smoking in the building.

Altho he didn't really like Alf Landon, he warned the voters in 1936 that re-election of Franklin Roosevelt would lead to the death of the freedom that had made this nation great. He wrote that if Landon were defeated, we would plunge toward a new form of governmental dictatorship.

No one should know better than this editor that he was right.

Twenty years ago my editor friend could slip a deserving reporter a ten buck raise. He could weed out the incompetents on his staff. When the big story broke, he could thrill to the loyalty of a staff which would work excitedly for 36 hours or longer without sleep to keep his newspaper on top, grateful that they were a part of it all.

Unless he slyly cheated on the union, my editor friend hasn't been able to pass out a merit raise since World War II.

He can not hire a young reporter without consent of the union.

When the big story breaks, his men watch the clock and leave for home when their eight hours are up. They can be persuaded to stay and help get out the paper only if paid time and a half.

Out in the alley where the delivery trucks are loaded Jimmy Hoffa takes care of all hiring and firing.

And if an ad arrives from New York already electrotyped, the printers re-set the ad and throw the new type away.

Under this principle, the UAW could force GM and Chrysler to build and discard one automobile for every car these companies import from Europe.

My editor friend knows that the profession he loves — the profession that has been his life and mine since boyhood — has been destroyed.

He knows that union pressure has killed newspapers throughout the nation, including the valiant Grand Rapids Herald last year.

The unions grew at a time when they were needed. But power can reach a destructive point where service ends and domination begins.

My editor should think about that extra one per cent payroll tax that all newspapers are forced to pay to the Michigan Employment Security Commission because of unemployment last year in the auto industry.

The tax will be doubled soon because of the State Supreme Court opinion in the Ford case.

He should think, too, about Gov. Williams' boast that he has brought 1,500,000 new citizens to Michigan since he squeezed thru the first recount in 1950.

About 240,000 of them are unemployed today, not counting the steel strikers, and never will find jobs. That's about a half million votes.

These voters are for an income tax because they never will pay an income tax. They are not a guide to the will of the taxpayers.

That's what I was talking about when I wrote that this is a show-down fight between two radically opposed philosophies of government.

I am going to discuss these matters with my editor friend Friday night when we will turn an electric fan on a cake of ice in a wash tub to provide our air conditioning.

All-Star Peanut League to Play Venetian Night

A Peanut League All-Star game will be held Saturday evening at 7:30 as part of the Venetian Festival. Ellsworth will send an All-Star team which will meet the Charlevoix Peanut League All-Stars.

Players who will represent the Charlevoix league are: Andy Carey and Jim Racignol of the Tigers, Chuck Thomas and Ken Parish of the Dodgers, Tom Maxwell and Spike Mort of the Cards Dave Norton, Rick Grunch and Doug Winnell of the Red Sox Warren Belding and Chip Terrill of the Pirates, Mike Brun and Ed Holm of the Braves, and Larry Hutchingson and Steve Ager of the Devils.

Eleanor Gallagher Guest of Honor At Bridal Shower

Miss Eleanor Gallagher whose marriage to William Glen McDonough has been set for July 25, was guest of honor Wednesday evening at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Frances E. Left. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Emil Pischner and Mrs. Henry Supernaw.

Miss Gallagher opened her gifts under an aqua and pink umbrella in the presence of the 25 guests. A social hour and refreshments followed.

Band Presents First Concert

tonal in terms of the best lighting and audio projection, yet sufficiently beautiful to enhance an already beautiful park. Therefor, what you see before you is only a beginning. Much more must be done before any one of our thousands of full time and part time residents who take pride in the accuracy of the name, "Charlevoix the Beautiful," can put his stamp of approval on the stage as satisfactorily completed.

"Therefore, we are ready to begin phase number two, installation of the audio-visual contral booth and completion of the beautifying stone work, at an approximate cost of $2,600. Your quick arithmetic indicates that $3,000 are needed to meet present obligations and carry this through. Our faith that your interest in this project is genuine dictates that phase number two should begin immediately as a minimum goal to be met by Labor Day of this summer.

"The sooner we accomplish phase number two, the sooner the final phas of a weather proof roof and the best of lighting and audio facilties can be completed, resulting in the finest structure of its type in Northern Michigan."

The committee is attempting to complete the entire project by voluntary contrbutions. It is probable that free will offerings will be taken at future concert. The committee, however, has been very emphatic on emphasizing the words "free will." It is not their intent to in anyway discourage attendance at the band concerts. They will just appreciate any offerings that are made by those who appreciate the only regular band concerts held in Northern Michigan.

Donors of $100 or more wll be recognized on a bronze plaque which will be mounted on the completed park stage.

Robert Wexstaff Attends Insurance Consultant School

Robert Wexstaff of Traverse City recently completed an insurance consultants training course at the New York office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. He is now assigned as consultant to the Traverse City district for the company.

Representing the company as a consultant, his work is principally devoted to assisling businesses with various busness insurance problems. In addition to the Traverse City district, Mr. Wexstaff is franchised by the company to serve as a consultant throughout the state.

First Waterfront Fair Creating Interest in Area

Interest in the first annual Waterfront Fair in which artists of all kinds have been invited to exhibit their works is mounting according to Tom Symons, secretary-manager of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the show.

Thirty-one entries in a variety of art fields had been received Wednesday and many more were expected before the day of the fair, Saturday, August 1.

Mrs. Edward Lemcke, general chairman, said that artists and persons who enjoy various handicrafts as a hobby throughout the north country have been invited to enter the show which will be held on the rolling terraces of East Park overlooking Round Lake. Charlevolx's Waterfront Fair is being planned so these people may exhibit their works of art for the pleasure of residents and visitors to the area.

Mrs. Lemcke went on to say that this should be a very exciting and rewarding experience for the artists.

Persons particpating in the Fair may have their entries judged if they request it on the entry blanks which are available at the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce.

Along The Fairways

At Municipal Golf Course

Because of the Venetian Festival, no special events have been planned for this weekend at the municipal golf course Keith Carey, who manages the course has announced.

However, on the following Sunday, Aug. 2, there will be a mixed two-ball foursome event in which all golfers have been invited to participate.

Forty-six players entered the annual city championship tournament. They have been paired in four flights with play scheduled to begin this week.

Defending champions are: Bob Wallace in the championship flight; John Swanson, first flight; Charlie Dennis second flight and Jim Lawyer, senior flight.
